

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVI.—NO. 43.

NEWTON, MASS., AUGUST 3, 1888.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

Real Estate.
Mortgages.
Insurance.
Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.
OFFICES
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

CLARKSON.

Patent Re-issued August 13, 1878.
HEIGHT OF FRONT Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.
HEIGHT OF BACK Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.
No. 929.

F. MURDOCK & Co.,
Newton - - Mass.

All the Latest Styles in Stock.
Lion Brand Linen Collars & Cuffs.

We Shall Offer During the Next Week

The Balance of our Stock of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,
at a great reduction to Close Them at Once.

CALL EARLY FOR A CHOICE. Only a few left of the Embroidered Flouncings which we have been selling so cheap for the past two weeks.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & CO.,

Agents for American Steam Laundry Co.

Bacon's New Block.

Established 1860.
A. J. MACOMBER.
WATCHMAKER, JEWELLER
—AND—OPTICIAN.

64 ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON, MASS.
Everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention and low prices.

C. E. WHITMORE, D. W. COOLIDGE.
C. E. WHITMORE & CO.
BROKERS.

Stocks & Bonds, also Grain & Provisions.
131 Devonshire Street, Boston.
Rooms 18 and 19. Private Wires. Telephone.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook,
BANKERS,
35 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
HENRY E. COBB, ARTHUR L. SWEETSER,
CHARLES E. EDDY, C. H. WATSON,
571 ARTHUR F. ESTABROOK

E. A. W. HAMMATT,
Civil and Consulting Engineer,
Office 5 Pemberton Sq., Boston,
Room 29.
Surveys and Plans for the construction of Water Works and Sewerage Systems; House Drainage and Landscape Work.

FREDERICK F. MOORE, M. D.
(Harvard Medical College, 1876.)
Specialty: Diseases of the Rectum
(Piles, Fistula, etc.)
Residence and Office: Thornton street, near Washington street, Newton. Hours, 8 to 9 a. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
Boston Office: 11 Mt. Vernon street, opposite Hancock St. Hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. 5171

CHAS. A. FARLEY,
Piano & Organ Tuner.
The Ivers & Pond pianos for sale or exchange at the lowest prices on easy terms of payment.
Address P. O. Lock Box 22, Newton.
Residence, Washington St. 24 from Hovey.

—[ESTABLISHED 1849.]—
BRAZER & PRADÉ.
Ecclesiastical and Domestic DECORATORS
IN OIL AND FRESKO.
24 Hayward Place. - Boston.

TO LET.
Waverly Ave. near Washington st., Ward 7,
Small house of 6 rooms, bath and laundry, all improvements. Possession May 1, 1888. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston, or J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. 2811
Subscribe for the Graphic.

PLUMBING.
REMOVAL.

Timothy J. Hartnett,

has removed to

Brackett's New Block,
Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton,

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed. Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others.
The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.
First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.
Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision.
Contractor for gas piping. 35 1y

—TO—Horse Owners!

New Stable, Centrally Located.
99 and 101 Warren Street.

Within one block of Providence Depot, Public Garden, and near Elliot Street. Open Day and Night. Special attention to Baiters. Stalls for eighty horses, and ample room for carriages.

JOHN GRAHAM, Prop'r.
BOSTON.

Children's Hair Cutting

AT
JOHN T. BURNS'
COLE'S BLOCK, over H. B. Coffin's Store.

We wish to state to the Public that we will take Special Care of the CUTTING OF CHILDREN'S HAIR, and also with every other branch of our business.

N. B.—LADIES' SHAMPOOING done at their homes at the moderate price of 75 cents.

Mrs. CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Williams Street, off Centre, NEWTON.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC now has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST, a larger CIRCULATION, and a larger number of readers than any other Newton paper. Its circulation is constantly increasing, and it gives nearly double the amount of local news and reading matter furnished by any other Newton paper.

NEWTON.

—Mr. C. W. Page is at Farmington, Ct.
—Mr. U. C. Crosby and family are at Ipswich, Mass.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at Francis Murdock & Co's.

—Mr. J. E. Daniell is visiting in Augusta, Me., for a few days.

—Mrs. E. L. Soule is at Cousen's Island, off the Maine coast.

—Miss Lizzie Hayes is at Weymouth, Mass., for the summer.

—Mr. T. O. Loveland and family are at Hotel Conant, R. I.

—Mr. Frank H. Burt is at the Twin Mountain House, N. H.

—Mr. Frank Bacon and wife have returned from Magnolia.

—Mr. Hugh Hamill of Nonantum has been granted a pension.

—Mr. Otis Childs is spending the summer at Kennebunk Beach.

—Mr. C. H. Brackett is enjoying the season at North Branch, N. H.

—The Misses Desmond are at Hampton, N. B., to remain until October.

—Mrs. T. H. Davis and her sister are visiting relatives in Machias, Me.

—Mr. Frank L. Wheeler has returned from his visit to the White Mountains.

—Mr. A. B. Stephenson and family are at the East End hotel, Hull.

—Miss Margaret Saltonstall is at the Jackson Falls House, Jackson, N. H.

—Miss Grace B. Weed and Miss Hattie W. Rice are at Canterbury Depot, N. H.

—Miss Etta Ramsdell is spending her vacation of two weeks at Littleton, Mass.

—Mrs. N. L. Ripley and W. L. Ripley are spending the summer at Osterville.

—Dr. Porter and wife of Lowell were here on a short visit to friends this week.

—Rev. H. G. Spaulding and family are at the Moosilauke house, Breezy Point, N. H.

—Mr. A. I. Paine of the GRAPHIC has been spending his vacation at Truro, Mass.

—Mr. George W. Croby and family are at the Jackson Falls House, Jackson, N. H.

—Mrs. Irving Davis and Miss Emma Hoyt will spend the summer at Machias, Me.

—Lieut. George C. Apple of Co. C. has been appointed acting adjutant of the 5th regiment.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Edith Page to Mr. Chas. A. Brown of Auburndale.

—Mr. J. Wallace Goodrich returned this week from the Newton camp at Hoker-ness, N. H.

—Mr. Arthur Lane of Gardner, Mass., is here on a week's visit to his uncle, Mr. George Lane.

—Mrs. Dr. J. F. Frisbie left on Monday for the Kearsarge House, North Conway, to remain a month.

—Mr. Charles H. Pierce is improving, although he is still confined to his bed by the effects of his fall.

—Rev. Charles A. Allen of New Orleans will preach in the Channing Church next Sunday morning.

—Ex-Alderman Powers and wife left this week for Lake Umbagog, N. H., to remain until September.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Stetson are at Brunswick, Me., and Mr. Frank O. Stetson is at Nashua, N. H.

—The Morrills of Watertown defeated the Juniors of the same place, Wednesday, by a score of 21 to 4.

—Mr. A. J. Gordon arrived in Boston Sunday on the Cephalonia. He has been abroad for several months.

—Mrs. Dr. D. K. Hitchcock, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, is now somewhat more comfortable.

—Mr. John Brimblecom, assistant city clerk, leaves next Monday for a two weeks vacation at Lake Umbagog.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rane of New York are visiting their son, Samuel Rane, at his residence, Newtonville avenue.

—Mrs. John A. Evans and family have returned from Hovey Neck, where they have been spending their vacation.

—Mrs. T. B. Hitchcock arrived on Thursday from Amherst, and is staying for a few days at Dr. D. K. Hitchcock's.

—Mrs. Dr. Field and Mr. Eliot Field left on Thursday for the Oak Hill House, Littleton, N. H., to remain until October.

—Representative Walworth has some State agricultural reports, which he would be glad to send to any one wishing them.

—Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peterson will make a two weeks visit to their old home in Duxbury, where their son is now living.

—Mrs. Dr. Bartlett and Mr. Gale of Hotel Hunnewell left this week for a drive to Newport, where they will make a short visit.

—Mr. C. L. Litchfield has returned from his vacation trip which included a tour of New York and Saratoga and a sail up the Hudson.

—Councilman Hamblen and family leave North Scituate on Saturday for a two weeks' visit at the Sunset Hill House, Littleton, N. H.

—Rev. W. A. Lamb arrived home Sunday from his extended tour in Europe. He came over in the Cephalonia and had a pleasant voyage.

—The 7.05 express through Newton Thursday evening, stopped at the Centre street crossing, and was delayed about five minutes, owing to a hot box.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wheelock arrived home on the Cephalonia, in company with Rev. Mr. Lamb and family, Mrs. Rawson and Mr. A. J. Gordon of Newton.

—Miss Mary Sloan, clerk in Francis Murdock & Co's store, has gone to Salem for a few days. She will also visit Connecticut during her absence.

—Rev. Dr. Shinn will be absent during August and Rev. Percy Webber will preach at Grace church the first three Sundays in August. He is said to be a brilliant speaker.

—Mr. Charles E. Eddy was in town one day this week, having returned from his drive to Great Barrington, as far as Westboro, where he will spend the next two weeks.

—Mr. Kirke W. Hobart and family are at the Ocean Beach Cottage, Hull. During July Mr. H. B. Allen and family, Miss L. A. Ferry and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. B. Huff were also guests at the Cottage.

—A large number of Newton people attended the funeral services in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth, in the Methodist Church, Newtonville, last Sunday afternoon.

—The following are the preachers at Channing Church during August: Rev. C. A. Allen, Aug. 5; Rev. J. H. Crooker, Aug. 12; Rev. Calvin Stebbins, Aug. 19; Mr. W. F. Greenman, Aug. 26; and Rev. E. F. Hayward, Sept. 5.

—Welcome B. Beal went to Turner, Me., this week to see his mother and sister who are both dangerously ill. His mother is suffering from a natural cancer and his sister is suffering from a cancer resulting from injuries to her back in being thrown from her carriage.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke and family left this week for York Beach, to remain until Saturday, when they go to Weirs, where Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke is to preach on Sunday. On the 7th they go to the Randolph Hotel, near Bethel, and on the 22nd to Bethel, Me., to remain until the first week in September, when they return home.

—The reunion of the 32nd Mass. Regiment, to which Newton's Co. K. belonged, will be held at the Point of Pines, August 6th. Of the survivors there are now living in Newton, Col. L. E. Kingsbury, Capt. E. Cousens, Amory Hall, James Cahill, Thomas Dolan and A. C. Dearborn; Captain Geo. A. Hall is in the West, and Lt. Tufts is in St. Louis.

—The Rev. Percy Webber, who is known throughout many sections of the West as a wise and able minister, is spending the summer in this church, morning and night. His sermons last summer in this church were unusually forcible. The office of a minister in the Episcopal church is that of a special preacher or holding continuous services. Mr. Webber has been very successful in this work.

—Work on the Morse Field Drainage System, under the supervision of Engineers Noyes and Learned, is progressing nicely. Up to date 300 feet of 20 inch drain pipe on Viter street has been laid, and excavation for the smaller sewer pipe has been commenced. Mr. George Scott of Boston has charge of the construction, and has 15 men employed on the work. The men are all residents of Newton and Watertown and are taken in the ratio of 4 from the former and 3 from the latter place, which is in proportion to the sum appropriated by the city and town.

—Mr. Howard B. Allen went west two weeks ago on a business trip and the Wichita, Kas., Daily Eagle of July 26th, has this notice of his visit to that city: "Mr. Howard B. Allen, receiving teller of the New England Trust Co., of Boston, one of the strongest corporations in the country, is spending a few days in Wichita, Kan., on the invitation of Mr. George C. Strong, whose guest he is. Mr. Allen is decidedly pleased with Wichita. He likes everything he has seen, and the city has presented to him a succession of surprises in the way of advancement and solidity he had never dreamed of." On his return trip Mr. Allen will stop at Kansas City, Chicago, Washington and Philadelphia.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th Mass. Regt. during the early days of the late civil strife are looking forward with pleasure to the eighteenth annual reunion of the Regiment Association in Cambridge, Tuesday, Aug. 28. The survivors of the regiment will meet at the hall of the Wm. H. Smart Post, 573 Main street, Cambridgeport, where they will join the members in a morning cup of coffee and a social lunch. At 11 o'clock the business meeting of the association will be held in the hall of Post 30. At 2 p. m. dinner will be served for comrades and the hosts for the day in Union Hall, Cambridgeport, after which Mayor Russell will deliver the address of welcome. Other speeches will be given by comrades and distinguished guests.

—The Newton men who enlisted in the 10th

NEW BOOKS.

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL'S POLITICAL ESSAYS.

The volume of Political Essays by James Russell Lowell, which Houghton, Mifflin & Co. have just published, consists of articles on political questions, which he has written during the past 30 years for the Atlantic Monthly and North American Review. Only one of them "The Place of the Independent in Politics," is of recent date, the others going back to questions which the war emphasized, if it did not create. One reads them now as history, but they still have the charm that attaches to all of Mr. Lowell's writings. His profound conviction can not fail to influence the reader, and one feels that he is listening to an honest man, who takes a liberal view of public questions, and is not limited by any narrow party creed, or by any desire to attract attention to himself.

In the war articles, it is evident that Mr. Lowell took a statesman-like view of the issue from the first, and while Mr. Seward was assuring foreign governments that the war would change nothing, Mr. Lowell wrote in the Atlantic his opinion "that the war we are entering on cannot end without some radical change in the system of African slavery." His view proved to be the correct one. He must be given great credit for his labors in behalf of the Union, and in the Atlantic he did much to hold the educated minds of the North right on the main issues of the war. Such ante-bellum compromises as those which attended the management of the American Tract Society; the critical election of November, 1860; the opening of the Rebellion; Gen. McClellan's report of operations; the causes and consequences of the Rebellion; the alternative offered between McClellan and Lincoln in November, 1864; the reconstruction period; and Andrew Johnson's performances on the stump furnished Mr. Lowell with the themes of these political essays.

In all of them it is the sincere and disinterested writer, acting from no personal motive, and all of them are the expression of lofty principles and high ideals of citizenship.

On reading over these essays, one can not help contrasting them with the speeches and addresses of the men now prominent in public life, especially in regard to the sincerity of purpose, the breadth of view, and the devotion to principle. Of course they were written in another time, but they show the difference between a statesman and a politician; one whose views take in the whole country and one whose views are limited by his own party. Mr. Lowell represents in politics the days when Webster and Everett and Wilson, and a score of other great men were at the head of affairs in Massachusetts, and when the state had an honorable prominence in national affairs, that it does not possess to-day. The youth of to-day, who are anxious to become good citizens, can not learn how to perform their duty better, than by a study of such essays as these, and it is only necessary to look them over to be convinced of Mr. Lowell's patriotism and political wisdom.

The closing essay is the vigorous address he recently delivered in New York, in which he holds up to the light some of the worst abuses in our modern politics, with all the clearness, force and humor that forms the unfailing charm of his writings. In it he says that we are ceasing to produce statesmen and are bringing forth politicians. "The tricks of management are more and more superseding the science of government. Our methods force the growth of two kinds of politicians to the crowding out of all other varieties—him who is called practical, and him of the corner who is called ideal. One trades in that counterfeit of public opinion which the other manufactures." "I believe that there is as much of the raw material of statesmanship among us as ever there was, but the duties levied by the local-rings of majority-manufacturers are so high as to prohibit its entrance into competition with the protected article." "We have revived the English system of rotten boroughs, under which the electors indeed return the candidate, but it is a handful of men, too often one man, that selects the person to be returned." "It is not the saddest feature of our present methods, is the pitfall which they dig in the paths of able and ambitious men, who feel that they are fitted for a political career, that by character and training they could be of service to their country, yet who find every avenue closed to them unless at the sacrifice of their principles, and which gives them a claim to what they seek." "We think no impartial observer of our politics would dissent from these views, or from the fact that there exists the greatest necessity of reform, if the purity of our government is to be maintained."

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

This is described as a fiction number. The two illustrated articles are devoted to "Rivers and Valley," as Prof. N. S. Shaler is best able to set them forth, and to Mr. M. N. Foreney's "American Locomotives and Cars." The latter article is a phenomenal treatment of a subject that has the widest interest. The popular interest of the rest of the number is almost entirely confined to fiction. Miss Jewett describes, with her accustomed fidelity, a "Fair Day" in New England. Miss Maria Blunt is the author of a love story of the Rhode Island coast, which turns on an exciting episode which is described with fine appreciation of the tenderest of emotions. Mr. Stevenson who is now one of the best advertised writers in two hemispheres, adds a chapter to his previously published book, called "An Inland Voyage," in which he tells in a light and amusing way the story of an adventure with a French provincial magistrate. Miss Octave Thane, who is one of the very best of our short story writers, gives a dramatic account of the events which followed a dynamite outrage growing out of a labor dispute in Arkansas. Mr. Stimson, in the serial of "First Harvest," changes the scene of the story from the Hudson to the coal regions of Pennsylvania. Mr. Henry James brings his characters in "A London Life" into a complex situation, which they will be relieved from in the September installment, which will be the end of the story. The poems in the number are written by Helen Gray Cone, A. Lamman and Thomas P. Conant. (Scribner's Magazine, New York; Charles Scribner's Sons.

WIDE AWAKE

All boys will enjoy the story "Saved on the brink," by Macdonald Oxley, with which the current number of Wide Awake opens, and boys and girls alike will have fun over James Otis's "A Necktie Party" which follows it. One of the most beautiful things in the number is by May Kendall, an English writer. It is entitled "The Temple of Music," and teaches the lesson that "the who loses his life shall find it." In "The Elephants of an Indian Prince," Miss Risley Seward offers the young folks an entertaining elephant article written from the own experience in Asia. "Pets in Artist Life," by Eleanor Lewis, has some beautiful picture and some amusing anecdotes. Edward Everett Hale writes about Boston Common as it was in revolutionary days, and the article has Henry Bacon's famous picture of "The Boston School Boys and General Gage." Dr. Garnett of the British Museum has a witty Chinese story amusingly illustrated. Mrs. James T. Fields contributes a long suggestive story, "A Helping Hand," written for young women just from school. "Double Roses," the serial by Mrs. Sherwood, and the training-ship serial by Mrs. Crownsfield and continued. Margaret Sidney contributes a charming poem, "The Little Town-Maid," which is a most pathetic appeal for a universal "Country Week." There are many other attractions. Published by D. Lothrop Company, Boston, at $2.40 a year.

GLEANED FROM EXCHANGES.

SNEERS AT INDEPENDENTS.

[Hudson Enterprise.] There is a disposition on the part of some of our exchanges to sneer and fling mud at the men who have come back into the Republican ranks, as though their going out of the party four years ago was a great and unpardonable crime and would forever bar them from entering in to the enjoyments and emoluments of the "grand old party" again. Some of the best and purest men of every party have gone out of them in pursuit of something better. If they are willing to come back into the party, under new leaders, why sneer at them? We need "political saints" who can see nothing good outside their own party, and who brand as "backsliders" the men who have dared to differ with them.

NEARLY A MODEL GOVERNOR.

[Adams Freeman.]

Governor Ames is rapidly recovering from his recent illness and it is announced with authority that he is a candidate for re-election. And why should he not be? He has given Massachusetts two terms of most satisfactory service. He has been pretty nearly a model governor. Not a speech-making governor, but a sensible, every day man, conducting the affairs of the state in just the same shrewd business-like manner that he exercises in his own private enterprises. That's the kind of a man we want for a governor.

THE NINTH DISTRICT.

NEWTON'S TRIUMPH VIRTUE.

[Boston Advertiser.]

A ninth district politician says that an amicable arrangement has been made whereby Newton will present a solid front for one of her citizens for the republican congressional nomination. The gentlemen named are L. T. Burr, L. C. Wade and S. L. Powers. The three agreed that Newton shall give all her strength to whichever one of them has the better chance for being nominated by the vote of the delegates from the rest of the district. By this amiable understanding there can be no fear of domestic unhappiness among the republicans of Newton.

A GRANGER CANDIDATE.

[Springfield Republican.]

Friends of Arthur T. Brigham of Marlboro, master of the Massachusetts grange, who was a member of the Legislature last year, suggest him as a possible candidate for the republicans of the 9th district. A critic who writes this combination intimates that Farmer Brigham is paying too much attention to the social duties of his position. Such criticism shows how much the Washington reporters can do to color popular views with regard to the work of a congressman. Mr. Brigham has labored earnestly to promote legislation in which the farmers are interested, and the national lecturer of the Patrons of Husbandry advises the farmers to look for such a man, irrespective of party lines. Mr. Brigham, who is a clean-cut man and good speaker, probably does not dissent from that doctrine. The congressman from the ninth district was in Boston Saturday. He said that he had once decided not to be a candidate for re-election, but he has been urged by so many of his political friends that he is in doubt what to do.

Cure Yourself.

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps, by post. Address A. P. Orinway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Miscellaneous.

Sympathizing friend—"I don't see how you can live on the slender income that you get from your paper. I should think that you would starve." Country editor (sadly)—"Oh, but you must remember that I have a patent inside."

Caller—"Does Miss De Guize live here?" Bridget—"Yis, sorr." Caller—"Is she at home?" Bridget (who has received her instructions and thinks she is following them)—"Yis, sorr, she's at home, but she ain't in."—[Albany Journal.]

She didn't try: Mr. Caudle—"Doctor, I want you to put up a powerful sedative for my wife; give me the best specific for insomnia you know of." Doctor—"What's the matter? Can't she sleep?" Mr. Caudle—"Yes, I guess so; but I can't."—[Burdette.]

Various Englishmen who have visited our shores remark upon the beauty of our scenery and regret that we have no ruins. (Richmond Dispatch.) America can have all the English ruins it wants. They come over here with their titles to marry American heiresses.—[N. O. Picayune.]

At the recent visit of the Maine executive council at the State prison a woman under life sentence for murdering her husband made an appeal for pardon. In a moment of absent-mindedness one of the honorable councillors seriously asked the woman if she had a husband living. —[Lewiston Journal.]

Homer Smith—"Zola does not seem to be doing very good work of late." Shakspeare Jones—"I never knew that Zola ever pretended that there was much goodness in any of his work."

New to her: Mr. Gotham (at the ball game)—"Do not Welch's curves, Miss Breezy, remind you of Hogarth's line of beauty?" Miss Breezy (from Chicago)—"Well, really, Mr. Gotham, I never saw Hogarth pitch."—[N. Y. Sun.]

Mark Twain is quoted by the Washington correspondent of the Independent as commenting upon the humor which General Grant displayed in his autobiography. "It had to be cut out constantly. The silent general's faculty for giving the character of his subordinates in a few telling words had constantly to be cut down and suppressed. It would not do in a book that had so much history in it. You call Mr. Burdette and me great humorists," said Mr. Clemens, in his earnest, energetic way to a friend. "It is a mistake. General Grant was the great American humorist—he was full of it—dry, sometimes, as a pith, but always pithy; not keen comment and sarcasm, but genuine humor. It wouldn't do, you know; they could not leave it in; it had to be ruthlessly slaughtered, more's the pity. History has its martyrs, and that manuscript was one of them."

Just Married.

How loving they are; this is always a sure sign. After the first year sometimes it don't hold good. When Charles comes home to you groggy and cross, snapping and snarling, unable to feel the nice dinner you have cooked, and feels as if there was a ton of pig iron in his stomach, he is troubled with dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitters is the only medicine that will cure him.

—YOUR—

SUMMER HOUSE!

Yes, and winter house too, will be all the more pleasant with the addition of a few of the beautiful new artotype

ETCHINGS and ENGRAVINGS

Framed in the new styles of Ornamented Oak.

MOULDINGS

$3.00 to $8.00 each.

Call and see them.

A Special Feature

Of my Business is

Restoring Old Engravings

And other Pictures to their original perfection, and

Regilding Frames

No matter how badly stained by age they may be, and my prices are very low for the service—also by adding to, or taking from old frames, I can give them an entirely different appearance.

Do not discard Frames or Pictures that you think are gone by, but come in and see what I can do with them, and how little it will cost to make old Picture Frames New.

EBEN SMITH,

182 Lincoln Street, Boston.

Near Boston & Albany Depot.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you. $1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Do you suffer with that tired and all gone feeling? If so, use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you.

Operatives who are confined in the mills and work shops, clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS. It never fails to cure.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are always run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will feel better for it.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3-cent stamps to A. P. Orinway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

White, Cross & Co.,

Successors to

C. C. MOULTON & CO.,

Fine Clothing.

THE STAR SHIRT WAIST.

Just received a large assortment of NEW STYLES of the above Celebrated make.

White, Cross & Co.,

592 Washington Street, Boston.

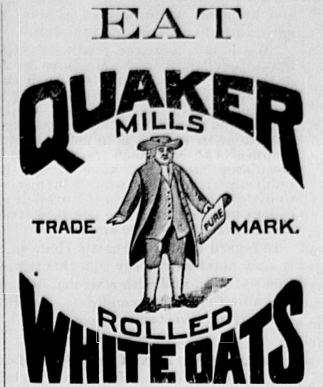

Up one flight.

T. F. CLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c.

Washington Street, Newton.

FOR BREAKFAST.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Dress Cutting School.

The science of dress cutting, draping, and basting taught by the advanced system, by

Mrs. D. B. HODGDON,

Cor. Centre and Jefferson Sts., Newton.

TERMS—$12 for the system, and $1 a week for draping and basting. Each pupil can bring a suit of her own and have it properly made.

Linings cut and basted for 50 cents, and paper patterns cut for 25 cents.

J. H. Nickerson,

West Newton, Mass.

- Clothing -

Is now prepared to furnish your Spring Suits from the Latest Styles of Goods, made to order or ready made as you may desire.

Some Special Choice Patterns for SPRING OVERCOATS.

Call and see us before purchasing. We shall be glad to show you our goods.

March 1888.

WALTHAM STEAM LAUNDRY,

CORNER CRESCENT AND MOODY WALTHAM

THORP & MARSH, PROPRIETORS

Goods left at Boynton & Marsh's, Newton; V. Sullivan's, Newtonville; A. L. Gordon or Lewis Rich, West Newton; Bird & Wall or J. W. Davis & Co., Auburndale; J. T. Thomason Upper Falls; E. M. Peck or H. S. Williams, Newton Centre, will be taken and returned promptly free of charge. Telephone No. 7679

GEO. W. BUSH,

Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER,

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes, And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

HORSES FOR SALE.

— BY —

C. G. TINKHAM.

AUBURNDAL.

NEWTON COAL CO.

—SUCCESSORS TO—

HILLS, BULLENS & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

COAL & WOOD

Family Orders a Specialty.

OFFICE, ELIOT BLOCK.

Branch Office, Cotton's News Stand, Newtonville.

I. W. PEARSON, Manager.

BRADSHAW, Agent for Newtonville.

GIVEN AWAY!

— THE —

POPULAR MONTHLY MAGAZINE

"COTTAGE HEARTH"

Subscription Price $1.50.

To induce consumers to use our "ELECTRINE SOAP," (a pure white laundry soap) and our "KITCHEN AND HAND SOAP" (the best scouring soap in the market), we will send the "Cottage Hearth Magazine," for one year, free to your address, on receipt of twenty-five wrappers of either Soap, or both combined.

Chas. F. Bates & Co. 159 MILK STREET, BOSTON, Mass. 35

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR.

5 Tremont Street, Boston.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, 491

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE.

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR - AT - LAW

(Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)

40 Bedford St., Boston.

Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY.

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

113 Devonshire Street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.

Residence, Newton. 38-1y

EDWARD W. CATE.

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

113 Devonshire St., Room 52.

Residence, Newton.

GEORGE W. MORSE,

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

28 State St., Room 45, Boston.

Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

SAMUEL L. POWERS,

Counsellor at Law and Master in Chancery.

Mason Building, 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Newton. 14

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,

Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.

Residence, Newtonville.

Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,

NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection. 5-

MILLINERY.

Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and general assortment of

French and American Millinery

Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.

Crape always in stock and special attention given to orders for Mourning Goods.

"Old Cape made New by Shriver's patent process." Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS,

Eliot Block, Elmwood St.,

Newton.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

CEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 3

W. B. YOUNG,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE AGENT.

NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES.

Land furnished and houses built to suit on easy terms.

Office, 25 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

ATWOOD & WELD,

Real Estate & Insurance Agents,

Appraisers and Auctioneers,

51 Sears Building, BOSTON. Telephone 1847.

600 Centre St., J. A. MACA (PLAIN). Telephone 8857.

Newtonville Office, Dexter Block.

LEWIS L. P. ATWOOD. A. SPALDING WELD.

CAMBRIDGE LAUNDRY.

NEWTON OFFICE:

3rd door from Post Office. Work done well and promptly. Work taken Monday to 2 p. m., and returned Thursday night. Received after Monday and up to Thursday, returned on Saturday. Holland and lace curtains a specialty.

S. K. MacLEOD,

Carpenter and Builder.

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty.

Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library

Residence, Boyd Street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 650, NEWTON, MASS.

F. G. BARNES & SON.

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.

AUCTIONEERS FOR REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

a large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: No. 27 State Street, Boston, and Brackett's Block, Newton.

E. P. BURN

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 7009.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

FOR THE SUMMER.

Subscribers to the GRAPHIC can have their papers mailed to any address for the summer without extra charge. Those who are not subscribers, can have the paper sent to any address three months for 50 cents.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The campaign for the governorship is progressing with considerable fervor, and Gen. Draper's workers are being heard from in all parts of the state. They are manufacturing a spontaneous and enthusiastic demand for his nomination, or endeavoring to. The Boston Transcript, in commenting on this, says:

"He has workers everywhere—or rather men everywhere who are working for him—whether, as these workers profess, they are laboring disinterestedly and for the glory and welfare of the Commonwealth, or, as some allege, in payment of substantial favors, received or anticipated, the fact remains that nearly all the active politicians, the men who fix caucuses and engineer booms, are either shouting Draper at the top of their lungs or are gently breathing that spellful name into listening ears."

It is also reported that Messrs. Draper and Haile have pooled their issues, and have each contributed a handsome lump sum towards their mutual expenses. The sum must evidently have been a handsome one, but Gen. Draper can afford it, as he is a rich man and his business, although not as remunerative as Mr. Carnegie's, is still a very profitable one.

The spectacle is not a particularly pleasing one to those who remember the way in which former Massachusetts governors have been chosen. In the old Bay State, at least, it has not been usual to nominate a man simply because of his wealth, or because he thought that he would like the office. The Republican party has too much at stake to make such a descent at the present time, and as far as we can ascertain the sentiment, the voters in Newton are in favor of the usual third term for Governor Ames. Even those who opposed his first nomination are now advocating his renomination, as he has made an excellent governor, and there is no good reason why the usual practice should be departed from at this time.

Gen. Draper has even less claim to the office than Mr. Ames had when first chosen, as the latter had served as lieutenant governor, and therefore had had some experience. Gen. Draper, on the contrary, has never even served in the legislature, but seeks to obtain at one leap the highest office in the state. This is contrary to the usual course and justly so, for the governor of Massachusetts should know something about legislation, and have proved his fitness by his service in a lower capacity.

There seems to be no exigency at this time requiring a change, and if there is to be a change, there are a score of men at least, who have a greater claim to the honor than Gen. Draper, men who have served the state faithfully and well in a lower capacity. There is Lieutenant Governor Brackett, for example, who is in the direct line of promotion, or Congressman Crapo, or Speaker Noyes, or a dozen others, whom the millionaire manufacturers of Hopedale are trying to crowd aside. If General Draper wants an office let him try for the legislature, and so work his way up to the governorship.

MORE INFORMATION WANTED.

(Milford Journal.)

We are groping around a good deal these days after information, and some how or other the city of Newton seems to be a charmed point with us. Will our good brother of the enterprising and always racy and interesting GRAPHIC please give us information on these two points: 1st—Did Hon. Levi C. Wade bolt the regular Republican nomination of Hon. J. W. Candler for Congress, this year that gentleman was defeated, and did he (Mr. Wade) give his ballot and influence for the election of Col. Lyman, the Democratic-Independent nominee? 2d—Is Hon. Isaac T. Burr opposed to or in favor of a system of protective tariff for this country?

We have no doubt the GRAPHIC will give us full and accurate replies to these two queries, reliable information being our only object.

We will give the information with pleasure and are glad that the Journal is interested in the matter, as it shows that the chances are in favor of a Newton man's receiving the nomination.

To its first inquiry, it is possible to give an explicit answer, and we supposed that our Milford brother had this in mind when he was worrying for fear that Mr. Wade bolted Blaine. It is true that Mr. Wade bolted Mr. Candler, as he and a good many other strong Republicans did not think that Mr. Candler was a suitable person to represent this district. There were so many that held the same view that Mr. Candler was defeated, as he would be again. It is rather ancient history to go back six years in politics for an objection to a candidate and if the Journal can find no other objection to Mr. Wade, it should turn about and support him, as he is conceded to be one of the ablest men in the district, and his bolting of Mr. Candler shows that he is both courageous and conscientious. If the politicians had a more wholesome dread of bolters, we would have better nominations.

As for the second query, Mr. Burr is still a private citizen, he has not even consented to be a candidate, or said that he would accept a nomination if it was offered him, so that it may be rather impertinent to discuss his views upon the tariff or upon any other question. He cannot be consulted, either, as he is absent in the West. Nevertheless the GRAPHIC has always felt that a great injustice was done him in the contest for delegate to Chicago. It was falsely whispered about that Mr. Burr was a free trader, and a mugwump, when neither assertion was anything near the truth. Mr. Burr has always faithfully attended the Republican caucuses, has always voted the Republican ticket, and has been a Republican from conviction.

As for his tariff views, they are the same as were held by Henry Wilson, who was considered a strong protectionist, or as were advocated in the Republican national platform of 1884. He is not a "free whiskey" protectionist, if that is what the Journal means, but we should say that he is just as much a protectionist as Senator Allison of Iowa, who is now drawing up a tariff reform bill in the National Senate, and as the great majority of the intelligent men of business in the district. He is as far removed from being a free trader as he is from being a mugwump, but being an intelligent business man, and also a conscientious Republican, he does not change his views at every election, but when his party has for years proclaimed that the tariff should be reformed, he believes that the party should live up to its professions.

It might be added that if there had been more Republicans like Mr. Burr in the House, they would have done something more than simply oppose the Democrats, and Senator Allison would not have found it necessary to persuade the Senate to sit all summer, in order to make up a bill that should have been made by the Republican representatives.

In conclusion, we would respectfully ask the Milford Journal, why, if it has such a pious horror of bolters, does it threaten to bolt Mr. Wade's nomination. We had always judged from its utterances on the subject, that it believed that it was the duty of a Republican to support any nomination made by his party, no matter what was the nominee's character, or by what means he obtained the nomination. Now if the Journal is to turn round and justify bolting, its readers will have good reason to think that the end of all things political have come.

"ABSOLUTELY FALSE."

The following curious statement appeared in the Boston Advertiser Wednesday:

"The statement of a ninth district politician, which we published yesterday, to the effect that if any one of the three congressional candidates from Newton should appear to have a decided lead in the towns of the district, the other two would withdraw in his favor, is confirmed by reports which we have received from other sources. Of the gentlemen named Mr. Burr was four years ago solidly supported for the nomination by the Newton delegates and would be very acceptable to the business interests. Mr. Wade has had a short but brilliant career in politics, which he temporarily abandoned for the lucrative fields of railroad law, and Mr. Powers has been president of the board of aldermen of that city. It is urged against Mr. Powers that he is a young man, but his friends reply that he is older than the present democratic representative from that district, and they claim that a young man's campaign is necessary to redeem the district to the republicans."

In regard to this it is only necessary to say that the Advertiser was misinformed, both by its "ninth district politicians," and by "the reports it received from other sources." Hon. Levi C. Wade, when questioned about the dispatch, said that it was "absolutely and unqualifiedly false." He had held no conversation with either of the other two gentlemen mentioned, and had been too much immersed in his railroad business to give any attention to the campaign. Mr. Burr is out of the city, but from other sources it is learned that he has entered into no such "amicable arrangement," and probably never even heard of it. Mr. Powers has spoken to neither of the other gentlemen about such an arrangement, so that the report had really no foundation.

It might be said, also, that any such pooling arrangement would be simply suicidal, as the most simple politician would acknowledge. The delegates would refuse to be disposed of in any such fashion, and the whole district would combine to defeat such a trade. It is very probable that the whole story was manufactured by some outside politician, who hoped in this way to defeat the nomination of any Newton man, and we are surprised that the Advertiser, when all three of the men named have their offices within a stone's throw of its office, should have allowed itself to be imposed upon.

The Advertiser on Thursday attempted to correct its statement by saying "We did not intend to imply in the paragraph which we published yesterday that any understanding existed among the three candidates from Newton, but rather that the sentiment for harmony was strong and general among their supporters and doubtless among the gentlemen themselves." This might be called a partial retraction.

The Boston Post, in commenting upon the Advertiser's statements, says that the latter paper has been "busy itself and amusing well-informed people" by spreading the rumor, and it adds:

"We do not, however, credit the story that either Mr. Wade or Mr. Burr would in this year of grace make any such bargain, and we shall be surprised if they let the imputation go without denial. Among the good things the Independents have done in politics is to make, in Massachusetts at least, such trades and dickers disreputable. But none of our Republican friends need trouble themselves to divide the garments of the present excellent member from the ninth district. Mr. Burnett is there to stay."

In regard to Mr. Burnett's chances, it is only necessary to say that this is presidential year, and with a strong and acceptable Republican candidate, Mr. Burnett will have to stay at home.

SENATOR ALLISON of Iowa is receiving the credit for forcing the Senate to take up the question of reducing the surplus, and construct a bill that will stand as the exponent of the Republican policy. In this the Senator will represent the sentiment of the people. The reform or "readjustment" of the tariff, as some of the papers like to call it, is a public necessity, and is demanded by the people. The do-nothing policy of the Republicans in the House was not very creditable to their political wisdom, and if the Senate had followed their example, the party would have labored under great difficulties in the coming campaign. Evidently Senator Allison has heard from the voters at home, and his action entitles him to be called the leader of the Senate, if not the leading statesman in the Republican party. Gen. Harrison, as is shown by his recent speeches, is in favor of a wise policy of tariff reform, and the reduction of the surplus with due regard to the preservation of our protective system, and in this as in other respects his speeches show a good understanding of the needs of the country.

A Good many people hope that the next time Representative Slocum is down for a speech at a banquet or flag raising, he will be given a position among the first. At the Republican banquet he made one of the most brilliant speeches of the evening, but the hour was so late that he could not be reported. The same thing was true at the Newtonville flag-raising, and many of the auditors had become tired out and left the hall. There is one reform that should be insisted on at political rallies in the campaign, and that is that when there are four or five speakers, no one of them should exceed half an hour. A short, sharp speech is much better than a long one, and it is perfectly useless for one speaker to attempt to give the history of the Republican party and all its great deeds and great men in detail in one evening.

ALDERMAN JESSE GOVE, the original Blaine man of Boston, is suspected of not being a very enthusiastic civil service reformer. In fact, in a discussion of the civil service commission in the Boston board of aldermen, this week, he alluded to civil service reform as "a damnable fraud." This is rather strong language but it only shows the sentiment of the average politician towards reform, when in some unguarded moment they drop pretences. Mr. Gove is the chairman of the Republican ward and city committee of Boston and has in other ways gained a prominence which make his utterances a matter of regret to most Massachusetts Republicans, who believe in reform and do not believe in such leaders as Mr. Gove.

THE BOSTON ADVERTISER office has had another reorganization and Herbert S. Underwood, for some time the able Washington correspondent of the paper, has been appointed managing editor of the Advertiser and Record. He is a very bright newspaper man and a marked improvement in both papers' will be confidently looked for, and will be very welcome to the readers of both papers.

If one is to believe all the reports that appear in the papers of both parties, each of the campaign committees will have a surplus larger than the one in the national treasury before many days. From the reports, $10,000 checks are as common as blackberries, and $100,000 checks are not unknown. The "boys" ought to be able to lay up enough to keep them warm this winter.

It is rather amusing to find one of the Boston papers opposing Mr. Beard's nomination to Congress because he did not protest against that silver plank, although he was on the committee on resolutions. The idea of Mr. Beard's being unsound on any question relating to currency or finance is the funniest thing yet developed in the canvass.

It is reported that Jay Gould and Dr. Norvin Green have come out for Cleveland. Now if Gould can only be persuaded to give Cleveland a banquet, his defeat will be assured.

MARRIED.

LOUIE-McDONALD—In Newton, Aug. 2, by Rev. W. A. Lamb, John Francis Loud and Sarah Mary McDonald, both of Newton.

SYLVESTER—RUGG—At Sterling, Mass., July 31, by Rev. J. H. Whitmore, Herbert F. Sylvester of Newtonville and Carrie H. Rugg of Sterling.

DEAN—MARTIN—In Newtonville, July 2, Othello E. Dean and Celia L. Martin.

DIED.

TAYLOR—In Newtonville, Aug. 1, infant son of John J. and Bridget Taylor, aged 3 mos, 11 ds.

DEVER—In Auburndale, Aug. 1, infant son of Caspar L. and Maria E. Dever.

GREEN—In Newton Lower Falls July 31, Joseph P. Green, aged 24 yrs, 6 mos.

HENNESSEY—In Newton Centre, July 30, Mrs. Margaret Hennessey, aged 47 yrs.

RAY—In Newtonville, July 30, infant son of Joseph O. and Zelia Ray, aged 3 mos, 12 ds.

McDONALD—In Newtonville, July 28, Rose Ann, daughter of John and Rose McDonald, aged 2 yrs, 6 mos.

MULLEN—In Newtonville, July 26, Robert F. son of Thomas and Catharine Mullen, aged 2 yrs, 10 ds.

BEICHER—In Newton, July 26, Charles N., infant son of Thomas and Annie Beicher.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FOR SALE—A light express wagon, in good order. Apply to Charles F. Rand, 417 Centre street, opp. Public Library, Newton. 43 1t

FOR SALE—A small upright refrigerator, in excellent condition. Apply to Charles F. Rand, 417 Centre street, opp. Public Library, Newton. 43 1t

WANTED—By a young lady, permanent board in a private family, easy walking from station preferred. Address I. T. Graphic office. 43 1t

BOARD WANTED—Room and board for a man, wife, and child 8 years old. Wages one or seven. Address box 675 Newton. 43 1t

FOR SALE—A second-hand covered buggy in perfect repair; Hall's make, cost $400; price $100. Call on W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 43 3t

LOST—In 9:02 train from West Newton to Boston, July 26, a silk umbrella with silver handle and monogram "L. B. F.". Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at F. L. Felton's, Chestnut street, West Newton. 43

TO LET—A nice tenement in Newtonville. Rent $11 per month. Apply to D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street. Telephone 4178. 43

FOR ONE YEAR—Furnished house to let at West Newton, in September, 7 minutes walk from railroad station. Address P. O. Box 261, West Newton. 43

TO LET—In Webster Park, West Newton, a nice sunny house of nine rooms, possession given immediately. Inquire of Robert Bennett, West Newton. 42 1t

FOR SALE—A nice family cow, part Dutch, part Jersey. Address P. O. Box 95, Newtonville. 42 2t

RARE OPPORTUNITY—A party giving up housekeeping offers for sale all the furniture, carpets, curtains, etc., at a bargain. Been used little over a year. Also house to rent; is very near depot. Address P. O. Box 206, Newtonville. 42

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Three medium sized houses, with nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, at very reasonable rates. Address P. O. Box 261, Newton. 27

ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

DR. FIELD

After July 31st, will give up his house on Franklin Street and occupy a suite of rooms at
MRS. FRANKLAND'S,
Centre Street, near Franklin.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Thomas J. Rafferty of Newton has made application to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen for a Junk License. I. F. Kesteven, City Clerk.

SHIRTS —FOR THE— CAMPAIGN!

Faithfully adapted for use of any "platform." "Free Trade" prices, but carefully "protected" garments. "Constitutional Prohibition" of all imperfect work or material. "Internal Improvements" constantly encouraged. "Civil Service Rules" honestly employed. Masculine voters of all parties "without distinction of race or color" prominently noted in well-made, good-fitting and reliable SHIRTS. Excellent shirts, $1.50. Very Best Plain shirts, $2.00. Finest Dress Shirts with Collar and Cuffs attached, $2.25. With Fine Plaid or Embroidered Bosoms, $2.50 to $3.00. If not convenient to call at my office will meet customers at any place in Newton or Boston.

E. B. Blackwell,
43 THORNTON STREET.

BUTTER.

WELLINGTON HOWES
Offers Newton people the choice of the two most famous creameries in the country.

-Otter Brook- CREAMERY

butter comes from Lancaster, N. H., fresh every week, packed in five pound boxes and nothing better can be had.

Maple City CREAMERY

butter comes in 20 lb. tubs, and is the genuine Otter Brook article. Other good brands of CREAMERY and DAIRY BUTTER can also be found at

Newton City MARKET,

Centre St., Opp. Public Library, Newton.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

THE GREAT TOURIST ROUTE TO ALL THE Health and Pleasure Resorts

EASTERN AND NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND, CANADA AND THE PROVINCES, WINNEPESAUKEE, SUDBURY, CAMPLAND, DEPIERRE MAGOG, ST. JOHN, RANGELY AND MOOSEHEAD LAKES.

White Mountains, Mt. Desert, Green Mountains, And all Beaches North of Boston.

MONTREAL AND QUEBEC, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX.

EXCURSION TICKETS.

Good going and returning until Oct. 31, are on sale at the Principal Offices of the Company.

RATES FROM BOSTON:

Alexandria Bay, N.Y., $18.50	Gloucester, 1.50	Milton, 3.50	Ipswich Beach, 3.50
Albany, $18.50	Greenland, 2.50	Montreal, Can., 16.00	St. Albans, Vt., 12.00
Alton Bay, 3.50	Hampton, 2.50	Montpelier, Vt., 9.50	St. Johnsbury, Vt., 10.00
Amherst, N.H., 2.40	Haverhill, N.H., 5.90	Plattsburgh, N.Y., 11.00	Scarboro, N.H., 4.25
Ashland, N.H., 5.90	Highgate Spgs., Vt., 12.50	Mt. Wash. gton, N.H., 17.00	Highgate Spgs., Vt., 12.50
Bar Harbor, all rail, 11.50	Hillsboro, N.H., 4.25	Newbury, Vt., 8.65	Stowe, Vt., 4.25
Bethlehem, N.H., 11.50	Ipswich, 1.30	Newport, N.H., 5.50	Swansea, N.H., 5.50
Bridford or Sacot, 4.00	Isles of Shoals, 11.00	Newport, Vt., 12.00	Swanton, Vt., 12.50
Bristol, N.H., 4.50	Jefferson, N.H., 5.50	North Conway, 6.50	Tilton, N.H., 4.00
Burlington, Vt., 11.50	Keene, N.H., 5.50	North Hampton, 5.40	Twin Mt. Ho, N.H., 10.75
Canaan, N.H., 5.50	Kennebunk, 3.50	No Woodstock, N.H., 7.70	Warren, N.H., 7.69
Centre Harbor, 4.00	Kennebunkport, 3.50	Norwich, Vt., 6.75	Weirs, N.H., 4.00
Crawford Ho., N.H., 11.00	Laconia, N.H., 4.00	Old Orchard, 4.00	Wells, Vt., 3.40
Crawford's, 10.50	Lake Village, N.H., 4.00	Ossipee, 5.00	Wells River, Vt., 8.90
Colebrook, N.H., 12.30	Lancaster, N.H., 10.75	Peterboro, N.H., 4.60	Wentworth House, 4.00
Conway, 6.25	Lebanon, N.H., 6.25	Pine Point, 4.10	West Ossipee, 5.50
Dublin, N.H., 5.00	Lisbon, N.H., 9.75	Plymouth, N.H., 6.30	Whitefield, N.H., 10.50
East Lebanon, N.H., 6.10	Littleton, N.H., 10.00	Portland, Me., 18.00	White River J., Vt., 6.40
East Salisbury, 2.00	Madison, 5.60	Portsmouth, 3.00	Wilton, N.H., 2.75
East Wakefield, 4.80	Magnolia, 1.30	Beverly Farms, 1.00	Wolfsboro, N.H., 4.00
Enfield, N.H., 6.00	Manchester, Mass., 1.20	Profile House, N.H., 13.50	Woodstock, N.H., 7.40
Fabyan's, N.H., 11.00	Maplewood, N.H., 11.20	Quebec, Can., 18.00	Woodstock, Vt., 7.50
Franklin, N.H., 4.25	Marblehead Neck, .50	Rockport, 1.75	Woodville, N.H., 8.90

*Good only while steamer is running on Lake Winnepesaukee, from about the middle of June to the middle of October. *Good only between June 15 and October 15.

FAST EXPRESS TRAINS LEAVE BOSTON.

Western Div. Station, Haymarket Sq. Lowell System, Boston & Lowell Station

For Lake Winnepesaukee, Wolfboro and Centre Harbor, at 8.30 a.m., and 1 p.m.

For Portland, Bangor and Bar Harbor, at 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays for Rockland, Castine, Southwest and Bar Harbor. ly of Pullman Vestibule Parlor Cars, in which an extra fare is charged, 9.15 a.m. arrive in Bar Harbor 5.35 p.m.

For Kennebunkport, Old Orchard and Seabrook Beaches and Portland, 7.30, 8.30 a.m., 1, 4 and 6 p.m.

Eastern Division Station, Causeway St.

For the White Mountains and Lake Winnepesaukee, North Conway, Crawford's and Fabyan's, 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m.

For Bar Harbor, at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

For Portland, Bangor, St. John and Halifax, at 9 a.m. and 12.30 and 7 p.m.

For the Beaches, 9.30 a.m., 12.30, 3.15 and 7 p.m.

STEAMBOAT TRAINS.

Leave Causeway street station at 12.30 and Haymarket Square station at 1 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, for Eastport, Calais, and St. John, and Haymarket Square station at 6 p.m. and Causeway street station at 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays for Rockland, Castine, Southwest and Bar Harbor. Parlor and Buffet Cars on all above trains and Sleeping Cars on Night Trains.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, BOSTON, 218 Washington Street.

JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agt.

CHARLES F. RAND, AUCTIONEER.

REAL ESTATE. MORTGAGES. INSURANCE.

Office, No. 417 Centre st., Newton, Opposite Public Library. OPEN FROM 7 O'CLOCK A. M., TO 7 P. M. Properties in Newton and Allston a Specialty.

At Boston office, No. 113 Devonshire street, Room 23, (Minot's Building), from 10.30 to 11.45 on Tuesdays and Fridays only—through July and August.

Estates for Sale. Houses to Rent. MONEY TO LOAN.

Storage—Furniture

I have 20 rooms in Cole's Block, also 10 rooms in Brackett's New Block, opposite the Public Library, fitted up with lock and one key only to each room, which is held by the occupant. These rooms are to rent at all prices from $1.50 to $5.00 per month; no better places for Storage in this City.

If in want of rooms to store Pianos, Organs or furniture of any kind call and examine them.

CHARLES F. RAND, Real Estate Office.

Charles F. Rand.

PRIVATE TUITION

—FOR THE—

SUMMER.

Mr. Edward H. Cutler,

Washington St., Newton.

Chas. F. Rogers,

BRACKETT'S BLOCK,

NEWTON, MASS.

Machine Stitching, Button Holes, and Hand Sewing.

All orders executed promptly. Residence, Washington street, opposite Hovey.

Subscribe for the Graphic.

Branch Store, Nonantum.

A. J. Macomber,

WATCHMAKER, JEWELER and OPTICIAN.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Mr. G. N. Pinkham and family are at the Aloha on Winthrop Highlands.

—Mrs. D. K. Fitch and son have gone to Willimantic for a short vacation.

—Mr. J. F. C. Hyde has sold an estate on Court street to Mr. J. G. Lyford.

—Mr. J. F. Curtis is enjoying a few days at the Atlantic House, Nantasket.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hall have gone to Cross Hill, Me., for a few weeks.

—Miss Mollie B. Forbes is summering at the Pocasset House, Pocasset, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kingsbury are at the Sea Shore House, Old Orchard Beach.

—Dr. Hunt has rented his house on Lowell street to Mr. L. F. Norman of Boston.

—Mr. A. E. Bartlett and family have gone to Millwood Farm, Mills, for the season.

—Postmaster Turner has added a handsome new clock to the post office fixtures.

—Mr. H. P. Dearborn of Central Market is enjoying his vacation at Provincetown, Mass.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at J. V. Sullivan's.

—Mr. A. P. C. Griffin is enjoying his vacation at Rangeley Lakes.

—Mrs. Charles A. Kellogg is spending a few days at Bristol, R. I.

—Mr. E. Smead is away on a short visit to Greenfield, Mass.

—Mayor Kimball and wife left today for a visit to his old home in Westboro.

—Mrs. E. N. Boyden is at Randolph, Vt., for a few weeks.

—Miss Emma Sibley has gone to the Green hills for an outing.

—Miss Anna Huntress has returned from a short visit to Worcester.

—Miss Macdonald of Jersey City is a guest of Miss Dockendorf this week.

—Mr. M. N. Smith has sold his residence on Walnut street to Mr. W. P. Mullen.

—Mr. E. W. Bailey has gone to Falmouth where his family are spending the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sisson start Monday on a two weeks' tour through Rhode Island, visiting Newport.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis and Mrs. G. W. Pope start for the Rangeley Lakes Saturday for a two weeks' stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chaloner are at Plymouth with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. White for a few days.

—Messrs. S. K. Billings, Harry O. Sisson and Albert T. Sisson start Monday on a fishing trip around the Dead River region, Round Mountain Lake and Seven Ponds, Maine.

—Miss Mary B. White has returned from West Arichat, N. S., after spending a year and a half at Acadia, Academy, one of the leading academies in the Provinces.

—Mrs. Keene and Miss Amy Lacker are enjoying a trip through the White Mountains.

—Mr. Charles T. Pulsifer arrived home from Europe Monday after a few months' absence.

—Dr. Otis E. Hunt and wife, who have been at Moosehead Lake, go to Bar Harbor next week.

—Mr. W. S. Slocum, our genial representative, is enjoying a few days' rest with his family at Cottage City.

—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wheeler are receiving congratulations from numerous friends. It is a boy.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo P. Curtis are receiving congratulations from numerous friends. It is a boy.

—Mr. W. F. French of Otis street is spending a few weeks at his father's home in Palmer, Mass.

—Prof. J. B. Taylor of Central avenue has gone to Nantasket and will be absent for about a month.

—Mr. C. A. Rice, the popular clerk at Mrs. Williams' pharmacy, is spending his vacation in West Dowd, Me.

—Mr. W. F. Chapman and family have returned from Nantasket, where they have been spending their vacation.

—Mr. W. L. Parker and Miss Mary L. Parker are among the recent arrivals at the Highland house, Bethlehem.

—The eight young ladies of the H. D. L. Club are at Pawtucket under the chaperonage of Mrs. Snook of Newton.

—Alderman Chadwick and family, Clifford Kimball and Miss Lelia Vose are at Bradford, Vt., for two weeks.

—The Misses Sarah and Lydia Hill have returned from Nantasket where they enjoyed a brief season of pleasure.

—Mr. M. C. Davy and family left here Wednesday for Kennebunk, Me., where they will pass their vacation.

—Messrs. J. C. Fuller and French have rented Dr. Newton's cottage house on Howard street to Mr. H. L. Pike of Boston.

—Dr. Talbot and wife of Bellows Falls, Vt., are here on a short visit to their son, Dr. Talbot of Walnut street.

—Workmen were engaged Tuesday in laying a new pipe connecting with the fountain in front of the Methodist church.

—Mr. E. C. Gilman has gone to Europe on a business trip, accompanied by Mr. Lamson of the Lamson-Storrs Service Co.

—Mr. J. T. Hill has just added a handsome new Goldard buggy to his livery stock and also recently purchased two new horses.

—Mrs. W. C. Gaudet and family started this week for York Beach, Me., where they will remain during the remainder of the summer season.

—Miss Marcia E. Batchelder, the assistant at the post office, has returned from Quisset, Mass., where she has been spending her vacation.

—Mrs. E. H. Pierce with her two daughters, Misses Blanche and Hattie Pierce, are enjoying their vacation at Kennebunk Beach, Me.

—One of the beautiful floral tributes at the Westworth memorial service in the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon was the gift of Miss Nellie Simpson. It was an exquisite pillow of pinks.

—Thomas Kennedy, a son of Patrick Kennedy, residing at the corner of Crafts and Clinton streets, was bitten by James Eagan's dog Monday, receiving slight wounds. The dog was shot by Officer Burke.

—Mr. L. H. Cranitch leaves for Washington, D. C., Thursday, for a short pleasure trip. His brother, Mr. R. F. Cranitch, will conduct the business during his absence.

—The semi-annual meeting of the Newton Firemen's Relief Association was held in the truck house, Wednesday evening. The usual routine business was transacted.

—The Syracuse Courier of July 30 publishes a full account of the memorial address delivered by Rev. E. N. Packard, in Plymouth church, Syracuse, Sunday, in recognition of the character and life of the late Mrs. W. E. Wentworth.

—Officer Bosworth's activity in capturing the Waltham men who sneaked away on their bicycles, and Mr. E. N. Packard, in Plymouth church, Sunday, in recognition of the character and life of the late Mrs. W. E. Wentworth.

—Mr. Alexander Chisholm of Washington Park returned this week from a visit to her daughter, Rev. Mrs. Foster, at North Adams. During her absence she also visited her son, Dr. Chisholm, of Bennington, Vt.

—The Newton ideals (champion 17-3-4 year old club of Eastern Massachusetts), will play the strong Elmwoods of Allston on the Magnolia grounds, Newtonville, at 3.30 p. m., Saturday Aug. 5. Batteries Noyes and Bassett, Elmwoods; Harkins and Norcross, Ideals.

—Riggers came out from Boston, Tuesday and arranged the halliards for the Harrison and Morton flag. A hole was cut through the roof of Leavitt's Block and a short wooden staff erected. The line was then run to the flag staff, just above the cross tree, one of the men climbing the pole and drawing up the wires with a rope.

—Mr. Herbert F. Sylvester, Master of the Clafin School, was married on Monday at the home of the bride, Miss Carrie H. Rugg, one of the assistants in the Clafin school. Mr. A. Sylvester, wife and daughter of Newtonville, and Miss Mason of Newton Centre were present, besides a company of relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester have gone to New York on a short trip, after which they will spend several weeks on Cape Cod. They received a large number of valuable presents.

—The following members of the Newton Outing Club attended the memorial services in honor of the late William E. Wentworth, who was a member of the club: C. A. Kellogg, president; A. A. Gilman, vice-president; H. A. Vose, secretary; G. B. Strat, treasurer; J. E. Atkins, F. L. Tainter, George F. Williams, John F. Payne, Walter J. Osgood, A. T. Sisson, Edward L. Lemon, S. K. Billings.

—Thos. Woodfin, the night man at the Walnut street crossing, went out to ride with his family Sunday and narrowly escaped a serious injury. While passing through Newton Highlands he was run into by a horse and carriage, the animal jumping into his team and damaging the carriage. The shaft of the other carriage passed directly in front of his wife and child, who narrowly escaped being jammed in the collision.

—The hunting grounds of the Norim-bega tribe were infested with delegations of visiting red men, great chiefs and sachems at the kindling of the camp fire last Friday evening. The hunter, warrior and chiefs degree were exemplified by the great warriors of Kitchamankin tribe of Dorchester. Mr. Emilo was the candidate and at the conclusion of the ceremonies were the war paint and decorations of his tribe. After the degree work the "injuns" enjoyed their customary corn and venison and smoked the calumet of peace. The new regalia were worn for the first time and looked exceedingly rich and tasteful. The following were among the prominent redmen present: P. G. Williamson, S. L. Lord, J. E. W. Backus, F. L. Lesch, C. S. Bussell, O. A. Pike, F. E. Judkins, C. W. Morgan, E. E. Burdon, E. F. Palmer, J. F. Williamson, G. M. Davis, of Kitchamankin tribe, Dorchester; C. H. Kimball, Wm. M. Carey, James A. Cook, L. S. Stevens, S. F. Jones, of South Boston tribe; E. S. Howland, J. A. McCauley, G. L. Smith, Boston tribe; J. Seaver, G. F. Richardson, F. Mills, Algonquin tribe, Allston, and others.

WEST NEWTON.

—Mr. Joshua Blake is at Rye Beach.

—Rev. J. L. Evans is visiting here this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Pratt are at Poland Springs, Me.

—Mrs. A. S. Glover is at Cohasset for a brief visit.

—Mrs. A. W. Bennett is at Marblehead for a few weeks.

—Mr. J. W. Carter and family are summering at Newport.

—Miss Manie and Arthur Howland are at Kennebunk beach.

—Mr. William H. Bacon is at the Great Head Hotel, Winthrop.

—Mrs. S. P. Burton, Jr., is at the Fiske House, Old Orchard Beach.

—Mr. V. E. Carpenter and family left this week for Bar Harbor.

—Mr. F. N. Wales and family are at South Portsmouth, R. I.

—Mrs. L. F. King is at the Seashore house, Old Orchard Beach.

—Mr. Thos. Star has moved into Mr. Clary's house on California street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irwin Travelli are at the Ocean house, Newport, R. I.

—Mr. George E. Allen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis for a few weeks.

—Mr. Harry Whittlesey of Cherry street is spending a few weeks at Saybrook, Ct.

—Prof. Elwell and family of Amherst are spending a few weeks with Alderman Nicholson.

—Mr. Nathan C. Pike has resigned his position as senior deacon of the West Newton Baptist church.

—The board of health will meet in regular session in the aldermen's room, Tuesday afternoon next.

—Mr. George F. Newell, who purchased Mr. Harvey Brown's house, Webster street, moved in with his family this week.

—Mr. S. F. Cate spent the Sabbath at his cottage in Marshfield, Mass., where his family are passing the summer season.

—Mr. George M. Chase and family of Chelsea start Saturday for Philadelphia to be absent for about a month.

—Mr. Wm. L. Sheldon has been appointed one of the committee on campaign documents of the state Republican league.

—Mrs. Ober, who has been suffering from rheumatism so badly the last ten weeks, is improving slowly and is able to ride out.

—In the police court the past week there have been 27 cases, 5 for drunkenness, 6 for disturbing the peace, 4 for assault and battery.

—Mr. Harvey Brown has gone to New York state on a two week's visit to his brother, who is extensively engaged in hop raising.

—Mr. Joseph Arnold of Cross street is building a handsome new residence in the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's have left for Kennebunk, under the chaperonage of Mrs. White.

—Contractor Hackett is engaged with a gang of men in opening up a new street, extending from Prince street towards the B. estate. It will open up a lot of fine building lots.

—Rev. S. T. Beckley of Philadelphia, formerly assistant pastor at Dr. Neal's church in Boston, will preach at the Baptist church on Sunday.

—The highway department has just completed the building of a new catch basin at the junction of Washington and Highland streets.

—The officers of Loyalty Lodge, 154, I. O. G. T., will be installed at the next meeting, to be held in Knights of Honor Hall, Friday evening, August 10th.

—Mrs. Lizzie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philomene Stacy and one of West Newton's most popular young ladies, is here on a short visit to her parents.

—Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Mary Howland, Miss Edith Farley and Miss Alice Angier, the "six" 80's

BY ADELAIDE ANNE PROCTOR.

"IN THE CORNER OF THE HOUSE-TOP."

BY AGNES FARLEY MILLAR.

friend Leslie Hinton calls "a five-cent dress"—that is to say, one of those absolute bargains one finds sometimes at the shop I am speaking of.

In the Duval's restaurant where I lunched were two men sitting at the table next to mine. I had casually looked at them and thought them Frenchmen of

I taking off his overcoat now. "Oh! sorrow's crown of sorrow," he was in evening dress!

How intensely stupid of him to com to avoid if possible. So I gave up my room in the Rue Bulot—dear little room it had never seemed so snug and cosy—and took a much smaller and cheaper one in a street turning off the Boulevard Saint Michael (familiarily called the house, close by which is, or was, a kiosk kept by an apple-cheeked old lady, from whom I sometimes bought a paper. I determined to ask her. She seemed rather surprised at my question, but after the fashion of her country-women

What I had to tell Reuben, as we sat on the bench, you already know; what he told me was this—he had had to give up Stammerham. Owing to the prolonged agricultural depression in England he 7 Appleton St.

BOSTON.
 Telephone 491 3—

PLUMBING
Steam and Hot Water Heating.

BOSTON.
Telephone 491 3—

OUR BEAUTIFUL NEIGHBORS.

89. Indian Tobacco, Lobelia inflata.
 90. Milkweed, Asclepias cornuti.
 91. *Dock, Rumex sanguineus.
 92. Horseradish, Erigeron Canadense.
 93. Cichory, Cichorium Intybus.
 94. *Burdock, Lappa major.
 95. Roman Wormwood, Ambrosia artemisiifolia.

Europe. Egypt.
 WEST NEWTON, July 28, 1888.

XIV.
 Like our collection of last week, this list offers us no general subject for discussion, and is quite varied in its character. We will therefore again give you a special introduction to each of them in turn.

Indian tobacco is a most virulent poison. Some years ago there was a prominent school of quack medicine practice known as Thompsonian, which made great use of this plant. It is strongly emetic, sudorific and expectorant in its action, and they were able to produce results very speedily. Our well known Cardinal Flower forms one of the species of this genus, and these wise men gave it the name of High-bella, to distinguish it from the Low-bella. Our specimen has pale blue flowers growing in a leafy raceme; the tube of the corolla cleft nearly to the base on one side; the calyx of a swelling ovoid shape which gives the plant its botanical name.

The Milkweed probably needs no introduction, as it is very common, and its pods with their contents of long silky fibres attached to the seeds, are well known. The genus takes its name from Esculapius, the fabled god of medicine, but it is not known to possess any important medicinal character. The flowers show a very curious arrangement of stamens, pistils and petals all united in a complex manner by a crown of nectaries and by masses of pollen.

R. sanguineus is an English tramp, like the more common Curled Dock, and can be distinguished from its equally homely and unattractive relative by the fact that its lower leaves have distinctly reddish veins, while the flower (2) clusters are not mingled with leaves, and are farther apart.

E. Canadense, is one of a numerous family of which we have already met several members. It is very variable in size, ranging from five inches to five feet in height, according to the richness of the soil in which it dwells. The flower heads are formed on the same plan as those of the Daisy, but they are very small and exceedingly numerous. It is one of the few plants which we have sent back to Europe, to make a slight return for the great number of troublesome weeds which we have thence received. It is a very persistent flowerer, and does not cease to open its mean looking little blossoms until November frosts have thoroughly paralyzed its vital force.

The pale blue flowers of the Cichory are becoming unpleasantly numerous in our fields. As it is sometimes used as a substitute for, or an adulteration of coffee, perhaps the best way to get rid of it would be to deliberately cultivate it for that purpose. It would not be long before some special worm would be found to eat it up, blight would affect it, drought would kill it off, and we could then calmly allow it to meet its fate. Its name goes farther back into the realms of ancient history than that of any other flower we have. In the very earliest times of hoary Egypt we find it called "Chikoureyeh"; then in old Greek it became "Kikora"; and the only real change that friction, or two thousand years of use has caused, is the softening of the first letter into the form Cichory. Such a survival of a common name is exceedingly rare, and we can recall no other instance of so perfect a retention of the same sound during so great a lapse of years.

The Burdock, with its rough, woolly and ill-scented leaves, is one of the coarsest and most homely of all our weeds. But as we often find a beautiful little child in the hovel of the roughest and most ill-favored, so we find here; the unsightly heads of the cluster-like blossoms contain the most delicate and beautiful little pale purple corollas, half hidden by the coarse spines of the involucre. We have also in this homely plant, one of the most successful methods for the dissemination of seeds. Every boy knows what burrs are, and so, to their discomfort, does almost every one of our domestic animals. We can recall the time when throwing burrs was great fun until they got into our own hair; then it ceased to be interesting, or rather the interest became of quite a different character.

When special methods for spreading the seed are used, it is quite a shock to find in this case the whole head of flowers is so formed that it is carried away in bulk. Each of the little leaf-like scales of the involucre ends in a tiny but strong hook, and under a microscope this hook can be seen to be set with small recurved teeth, which give it still greater clinging power than the hook alone would have. When the seeds are ripe, the stem of the flower cluster becomes very brittle, and any animal coming in contact with the burr, involuntarily and unwillingly becomes an agent for scattering the seed of this unsightly plant.

Ambrosia artemisiifolia, or "the food of the gods with leaves like the Goddess Diana." Surely this should be some wonderfully fragrant and graceful blossom; else why should the botanist whose nomenclature is usually descriptive have selected this name, it is quite a shock to our nerves to find that this beautifully named plant is known to ordinary people as rag-weed, as hog-weed, as bitter-weed or even in its most euphonic shape as Roman Wormwood. The flowers are greenish and inconspicuous, in little shell-shaped involucre clustered in terminal racemes. The stamens and pistils are in separate flowers, but both are on the same plant, and the pollen is carried from one to the other by the wind. The leaves are almost worthy of their name, for they are very beautifully divided, are quite smooth on the upper surface and of a delicate pale green beneath. In spite of the leaves, however, the whole plant has a decidedly unpleasant aspect, and it is so troublesome and widespread a weed that no one can have the hardihood to say anything in its favor.

Nothing is more essential to good health and happiness than a good vegetable spring tonic, and Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is the Tonic to use.

Wages no Object.

Women (to tramp)—"Can't ye get any work to do?"
 Tramp—"Yes, ma'am; I was offered a steady job by the old agricultural expert who lives just beyond the forks of the road."
 "Woman—"That's Mr. Hayseed. What did he want you to do?"
 Tramp—"Ma'am, he wanted me to get up at 4 in the morning and milk 17 cows, feed, water and rub down four horses, clean the stables and then saw wood until it was time to begin the day's work."
 "Woman—"How much did he want to pay ye?"
 Tramp—"I dunno; I didn't stop to ask."—[The Epoch.]

A Case of Mistaken Identity.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
 The two men had occupied the same seat in a railway coach for half a day, and the train had reached its destination. "I am indebted to you, sir, for an agreeable conversation that has relieved greatly the monotony of a long journey. May I ask your name?"
 "Certainly. My name is Sullivan."
 (Jeocosely.) "Not Mr. Sullivan of Boston?"
 "Yes, I reside in Boston."
 "What! not—"
 (Haughtily.) "No, sir; I am a college professor."
 "Beg pardon. Permit me to introduce myself. My name is Crowley."
 (Smilingly.) "Not Mr. Crowley of New York?"
 "Yes, New York is my home."
 "What! not—"
 (Hotly.) "No, sir! I am the president of a bank, sir."
 (Coldly.) "Good-day, sir!"
 (Frigidly.) "Good-day!"

Personal Reflection—"Aw, Cholly, I haven't seen you out lately with Miss Flossie. Anything the matter, old boy?"
 "Yes, Alfried. She insulted me the other day, and I've dropped her."
 "Insulted you, Cholly? How?"
 "Showed me a little pig that she had twined to sit upright and suck the head of a canne, bah Jove!"—[Chicago Tribune.]

A teacher in a public school says that it is sometimes extremely difficult to obtain a young child from the arms of his parents. In one instance a little boy was asked what his father's name was and gave the surname. He was asked what the rest of his father's name was and said he did not know.

Well, said the teacher, "what does your mother call him?" The boy promptly replied:
 "She sometimes calls him a old crank."
 —[Albany Journal.]

A Narrow Escape.

"Yes, I had a very narrow escape," said a prominent citizen to a friend. "I was confined to my bed for a year and my friends gave me up for a consumptive's grave, until I began using Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, and here I am, sound and hearty." You will find it for sale by all druggists. Price 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

- Anderson, W. The Pictorial Arts of Japan; with a Brief Historical Sketch of the Associated Arts, and Some Remarks upon the Pictorial Art of the Chinese and Koreans. R 8.20
 This valuable work just added to the Reference Department will be of especial interest to all interested in Japanese art.
 Besant, W., and Rice, J. Ready-Money Moriboy; a Matter-of-Fact Story. 67.337
 With Harp and Crown. 67.335
 Boissier, G. Madame de Sevigne; trans. by M. B. Anderson. (Great French Writers series.) 92.64
 The editor of this series states that the volumes in course of publication will contain precise information touching all the work, and the influence of each of the writers who have conquered a place in universal literature.
 Bonnet, D. Les Ecrivains Celebres de la France, ou Histoire de la Literature Francaise depuis l'Origine de la Langue Francaise jusqu'au XIXe Siecle. 45.80
 Les Ecrivains Modernes de la France. 45.81
 Chamberlain, N. H. The Autobiography of a New England Farm House; a Romance of the Cape Cod Lands. 61.655
 Encyclopedic Dictionary; a New and Original Work of Reference to all the Words in the English Language, with a Full Account of their Origin, Meaning, Pronunciation and Use. 215.83
 Hale, E. E. How the Lived in Hampton, a study of Practical Christianity, applied in the Manufacture of Woolens. 82.142
 The author thinks this essay on the relations of the capitalist and the workman will be more generally read if presented in narrative form.
 Harrison, A. A Counsel of Perfection, by Lucas Malet. 62.601
 Horn, Geo. The Margravine of Baireuth and Voltaire; translated by Her Royal Highness, Princess Christian. 56.268 Consists principally of the correspondence between the Margravine and Voltaire, with explanatory remarks and comments on the letters by Dr. Horn.
 Kotzebue, A. von Der Gerade Weg der Beste; (with) Peter Schlemihl's Wunderbare Geschichte, von A. v. Chamisso; [also] Nur ein Geiger, von H. C. Andersen. 41.26
 Molloy, J. E. The Life and Adventures of Peg Woffington, with the Pictures of the Period in which she Lived. 2 vols. 92.512
 Peres Galdos, B. Trafalgar [in Spanish]. 42.62
 Reclus, E. The Earth and its Inhabitants; Africa. Vol. 3, W. Africa. 107.92
 Trumbull, G. Names and Portraits of Birds which Induce various names; with Descriptions. 105.242
 The author has selected about sixty birds which he considers specially interesting to gunners. He first gives a picture of the bird, then the scientific name, and afterwards a minute description of the bird in plain English. Then come the various names given the bird in different localities.
 Weld, Isaac, Jr. Travels through the States of North America, and the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, during 1795, 1796 and 1797. 2 vols. 34.295
 E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.
 Aug. 1, 1888.

HAY FEVER sufferers ought to know of its efficacy. Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me as a preventive to Hay Fever. Have been using it since the 9th of August and have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Almsworth, Publisher, Indianapolis, Ind.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.

LIBERAL HOUSE FURNISHERS,
 827 Washington St., 827
 BOSTON, MASS.

Having pre-eminently secured New England patronage thro' the worthy medium of first-class goods, low prices, and square dealing, we beg to assure the general public that nothing in future, "as in the past," shall be left undone on our part to meet a continuance of that esteemed patronage to which we are so well accustomed and extremely thankful for.

We propose at all times to keep our friends posted on prices, a few of which we append to show the progress we are making in arranging and pulling down the price of goods.

Chamber Furniture.

A beautiful Black Walnut Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, with best Italian Marble Tops. This set has been in good demand at the moderate price of $50.00; present mark down price, $39.00.
 A splendid Ash Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, in brick demand all thro' the Spring, at $25.00, we are now selling to close out at the unusually low price of $19.00.
 Also a large variety of Ash Chamber Sets from $15.00 to $50.00, together with over 200 Sample Sets of Chamber Furniture, on one of our Hall Floors, for inspection, consisting of Walnut Mahogany, Cherry, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., ranging in price from $10.00 to $1,000.00.

Parlor Furniture.

A magnificent Parlor Set in Hair Cloth, consisting of "8 pieces, mind," made up for our Spring Trade, and freely sold at $70.00, to close out we sell out at $39.00.
 Also an immense stock of Parlor Furniture, Odd Chairs, Couches, Divans, &c. We exhibit on one floor alone, over 175 different styles of Parlor Suits, together with a 100 different kinds in Easy Chairs, Divans and Couches, covered in Leather, Plush, Brocatelles, Cretons, and all the popular coverings.

Carpets.

Scotch, 3-Ply, extra heavy, to out-vie or at least compete favorably with best Brussels or Tapestry, 88c., regular price $1.25
 All Wool Superfine Carpets, 50c., regular price $1.00
 English Tapestry Brussels, 48c., regular price $1.00

We have a very large assortment of Window Shades, Lace and Drapery Curtains, Poles and Fixtures, Ranges, Stoves, Crockery, China Ware, and General House Furnishing Goods, which we are determined to reduce in stock regardless of cost price.

Items of Interest Not to be Overlooked in the Purchase of Furniture.

21. Know well the character of the house before you buy.
22. Look well to the quality of the goods in a sunlit room.
23. Make sure the goods are as good as those of B. A. ATKINSON & Co.
24. Make sure the prices are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & Co.
25. Make sure the terms of contract are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & Co.
26. Never buy anywhere until you have called to 827 Washington St. We pay fares, deliver goods free, and give you in present, a lovely picture, on ancient Jerusalem. We give you besides, best bargains, and best goods in the United States. Terms, Cash or Installments.

The name we hold we've won by worth,
 By worth intend we too.
 To make that name e'en greater still,
 In cheaper goods for you.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.

FOR INTERNAL
 —AND—EXTERNAL USE.
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Cures Diphtheria, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, Bleeding at the Lungs, Hoarseness, Influenza, Hacking Cough, Catarrh, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Chronic Diarrhoea, Kidney Troubles, and Spinal Diseases. We will send free, postpaid, to all who send their names, an illustrated Pamphlet, and those who send for it will ever after thank their lucky stars. All who order direct from us, and request it, shall receive a certificate that the money shall be refunded if not abundantly satisfied. Retail price, 35c. 6 bottles, $2.00. Express prepaid to any part of the United States or Canada. 1 S. JOHNSON & CO., P. O. Box 2118, Boston, Mass.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the
NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY.

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight; Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.
 Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; 3 bottles for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 8238. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

CATARRH
 ELY'S
CREAM BALM
 Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Alleviates Pain and Inflammation, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
 A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

HAY-FEVER Try the Cure
 A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

Newton National Bank
 NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:
 From 9 A. M., to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
 On Saturdays, from 9 A. M., to 2 P. M.
 JOSEPH N. BACON, President
 B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

C. G. NEWCOMB, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton 9.30 a. m.; leave Boston 3 p. m.
 NEWTON ORDER BOXES: Newton City Market, Post Office. BOSTON OFFICES: 25 Merchants Row, 125 Congress Street, 164 Franklin Street. Post Office address, Box 430, Newton.
 Personal Attention Given All Orders.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION
 Piso's Cure for Consumption is also the best Cough Medicine.
 If you have a Cough without disease of the Lungs, a few doses are all you need. But if you neglect this easy means of safety, the slight Cough may become a serious matter, and several bottles will be required.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Office in the Newton National Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, President.
 JOHN WARD, Vice President.
 MISS SANNAXA M. DUNCKLEE, Treas.
 COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT:
 George Hyde, Willard Marcy, J. E. C. Hyde, J. E. C. Hyde, Clerk.

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS.

BOSTON OFFICES: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 35 Court St. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.
 NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's, Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.
 Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m.
 Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

NEWTON.

Elliot church. Until the new meeting house is completed, services in Elliot Hall at 10.45 a. m., and at 7 p. m. Sunday School at 9.30 a. m. Young People's Meeting at 8 p. m.
 Channing church (Unit), cor. Vernon and Eldridge sts., Rev. F. R. Hornbrook, pastor. Service at 10.45 a. m. Sunday School at 12. Evening Service at 7.30.

Baptist church, Church street near Centre. Preaching at 10.45. Sunday School at 12.15. Mr. Stephen Moore, Supt. Young People's Meeting at 6.30. General meeting 7.30. Prayer meeting, Friday at 7.30 p. m.
 Church of Our Lady Help of Christians (Roman Catholic), Washington st., Rev. M. Dolan, pastor. Masses at 8.30 and 10.30. Vespers at 3. Sunday School at 2 p. m.

Methodist church, cor. Center and Wesley sts., Rev. Fayette Nichols, pastor. Services at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School after morning service. Grace church (Episcopal), cor. Eldridge and Church sts., Rev. Dr. G. W. Shinn, rector. Sunday Services 10.45 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.
 No. Evangelical church, Chapel st., Rev. J. L. Evans, acting pastor. Preaching at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School at 3. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30. Young People's Meetings at 6 p. m., Sunday evening.

Newton Y. M. C. A. Praise Service 3.45 p. m. Regular service 4 p. m. every Sunday at Elliot Hall.

The Good Will Association, Good Will Hall, Bacon's new block, opposite Bank Building, Washington street. Bible school 9.30 a. m., Sunday. Preaching and social meeting 2.30 p. m., Monday. Special meeting for Christians 2.30 p. m., Thursday. Social religious meeting 7.30 p. m., Thursday. Temperance meeting, 7.30 p. m., second and fourth Saturday of each month.

NEWTONVILLE.

Universalist church, Washington park; Rev. R. A. White, pastor. Services at 10.45 a. m. Sunday School at 12.15. Conference and prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7.30. All cordially invited.

New Church (Swedenborgian), Highland ave.; Rev. John Worcester, pastor. Service at 10.45, followed by Sunday School. All are welcome.

Methodist Episcopal church, cor. Walnut street and Newtonville avenue. Rev. Geo. S. Butters, pastor. Preaching at 10.45. Sunday School at 12. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6.45. Evening service at 7.30. Strangers are welcome.

Central Congregational church, cor. Washington st. and Central avenue; Rev. Pleasant Hunter, pastor. Services at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School at 12. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor Society meets at 6.30. Strangers welcome.

WEST NEWTON.

Second Congregational church, Washington st.; Rev. H. J. Patrick, pastor. 10.45 Sunday, service with preaching. Sunday School at 12. P. m. Evening service at 7.30. 1st Sabbath, 7.30 p. m. 2d Sabbath, Children's at 6. 3d Sabbath, Prayer or Preaching, 4th Sabbath, Praise, Tuesday, at 7.30 p. m., Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Friday, 7.30 p. m., Church Prayer Meeting.

Baptist church, cor. Washington and Perkins sts.; Rev. O. D. Kimball, pastor. Preaching at 10.45. Prayer Meeting at 7 p. m. Sunday School at 12.10. Services Tuesday and Friday at 7.45 p. m.

First Unitarian church, Washington st., near Highland st.; Rev. J. C. Jaynes, pastor. Services at 10.45. Sunday School at 12.

St. Bernard's church, Washington st.; Rev. L. J. O'Toole, pastor. Sunday services: First Mass at 9. Second Mass at eight. Sunday School at 9. High Mass at 10.30. Vespers at 4 p. m.

Myrtle Baptist church, Auburn st., near Prospect; Rev. Jacob Burrell, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 2.45.

ACBURNDALE.

Congregational church, Hancock st. and Woodland avenue; Rev. Calvin Cutler, pastor. Services 10.30 and 7.30. Sunday School after morning service. Young people's meeting at 6.30. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30. Missionary Concert on the first Sunday evening of each month. Sunday School concert on the second Sunday evening.

Church of the Messiah (Episcopal), Auburn st.; Rev. H. A. Metcalf, rector. Holy Communion, 8.30 except on first Sunday in month, when at 12 m. Sunday School, 9.30; matins and service at 10.45; evensong, 5. Friday, evensong 7.45. Holy days during the week. Holy Communion, 7.30; evensong, 5.00.

Centenary Methodist church, Central st.; Rev. W. R. Knox, pastor. Preaching services at 10.45 and 7.45. Sunday School at 12. Young people's meeting at 6.45. Prayer meeting Friday 7.30.

NEWTON CENTRE.

First Congregational church, Center st.; Rev. T. J. Holmes, pastor. Services at 10.30 and 7.

Baptist church, at Associates' Hall; Rev. Lemuel C. Bartles, pastor. Preaching at 10.30. Bible classes, adult and young men's, at 12. Sunday School at 3 p. m., A. W. Armstrong, Supt. Praise service and preaching at 7.30 p. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7.45. A cordial welcome to all at these services.

Methodist church, Rev. Wm. R. Clark, pastor. Preaching at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 7.30. Missionary concert the first Sunday evening of each month. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.45. The public are cordially invited.

Unitarian church, Rev. Horace L. Wheeler, pastor. Morning service at 10.45; Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 7 once each month, announced the preceding week. Strangers are always welcome.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

Congregational church, cor. Lincoln and Hartford sts.; Rev. George G. Phillips, pastor. Services at 10.30 and 7. Sunday School at 11.45.

St. Paul's (Episcopal), Walnut st.; Rev. Carlton P. Mills, rector. Sunday services at 10.45 a. m., and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 12.15 p. m. First Sunday of each month Holy Communion at evening service. Sunday School at 4.30 p. m. Evening Prayer at 4.30 p. m. instead of 7.30 p. m., as on other Sundays.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

Second Baptist church, cor. Chestnut and Ellis sts.; Rev. B. L. Whitman, pastor. Preaching at 10.45 and 6.30. Sunday School at 12. Friday evening meeting at 7.30. Seats free.

Methodist church, Summer st.; Rev. John Peterson, pastor. Morning service at 10.30, followed by Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 6.30. Communion service first Sunday in each month, at close of morning service. Class Meeting on Tuesday and Prayer meeting on Friday evening at 7.30.

Regular service each Lord's Day, at the Church of Yahveh; L. T. Cunningham, pastor. At 10.30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Communion service. First Lord's Day in each month, at the afternoon preaching service. Seats are free, and all are invited.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

St. Mary's church, Rev. W. G. Wells, rector. The Holy Communion in the chapel a. m., except first Sunday in the month when it is in the church at noon. Sunday School 9.45. Morning service and sermon 10.45. Evening prayer and sermon 3.15 p. m. Other Holy Days 9 a. m. in the chapel with Holy Communion. Friday 7.30 p. m. in chapel, service with address.

Methodist church, Rev. A. P. Sharp, pastor. Preaching at 10.45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 12. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

CHESTNUT HILL.

S. Andrews, Rev. Prof. H. D. Nash officiating. Sunday services at 10.45.

The Red Man

is an eight page monthly of standard size published at the

CARLISLE INDIAN SCHOOL

and printed by

INDIAN BOYS.

It is an exponent of the principles of Indian training in civilization and of Indian character;

It gives the position of the Government upon Indian matters; and over-looks the field of Indian work;

Gives the news of the Carlisle school and the progress of the Indians in English composition;

Gives details of the planting out system which proves the adaptability of Indians to white men's ways;

And keeps always to the front the future of the Indian—citizenship.

Terms of subscription, 50 cents a year. Single copies, five cents.

Address: THE RED MAN, Carlisle, Pa.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

JOB OFFICE,

Removed to

Washington street,

Opposite the

Newton National Bank.

Is now prepared to do all kinds of

JOB PRINTING in a superior manner.

NEW

TYPE and MACHINERY

HAVE BEEN ADDED,

And the work is done by competent and experienced workmen.

Come and see samples of our work before sending your orders to Boston.

All kinds of PAMPHLET WORK and the FINEST GRADES of Printing a specialty.

—AT THE—

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, is agent for the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Mrs. Chas Grant is at Bethlehem, N. H.
—Harry Bates is at the Kearsarge, White Mountains.
—Miss Hattie Forbes is in Norwood making a visit.
—Dr. Cook of Crescent avenue is very dangerously ill.
—Miss Sparhawk of Jackson street is still quite ill.
—Mr. Mellen Bray has returned from his European trip.
—Mrs. H. S. Williams and child are at Nantasket Beach.
—Mrs. Joseph Foster and daughter are at Middleborough.
—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Barrows are at Old Orchard Beach.
—Mr. D. W. Brownell is enjoying his vacation at Bangor, Me.
—Mr. A. K. Pratt and family are summering at Bar Harbor.
—Miss Susie Arnold has gone to Brunswick, Maine, for a few weeks.
—Councilman Read and family are at the Mountain House, Princeton.
—Miss Grace E. Dyer is spending part of her vacation at Ocean Spray.
—Mrs. Hodge of Crescent avenue is quite ill with malarial fever.
—Mr. and Mrs. Amos E. Lawrence of Beacon street are at Seal Harbor.
—Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stevens have returned from Monument Beach.
—Miss Anna and Miss Belle Bassett are at North Scituate for two weeks.
—Misses Anna and Belle Bassett of Parker street are at North Scituate.
—Mr. Charles Everett's aunt, Mrs. Mathers of Boston, is visiting at his house.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Davis are spending a few weeks in the Catskills.
—Mr. Arthur Evans of Boston is staying at Mrs. Bowen's on Summer street.
—Miss Grace Howes is visiting an aunt in Boston Highlands for a short time.
—The Rev. Mr. Barnes takes his vacation in August, after next Sunday.
—Dr. Mary E. Bates and Mr. Fred Bates are at the Grand Central, Bar Harbor.
—Mr. Stanton Loring and family are spending their summer at Sunapee Lake.
—Mrs. Gardiner Colby celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday on Saturday last.
—Mr. Newton Crane is spending a week at Hyannis with Mr. Joshua Baker's family of Newton.
—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wales are in Colorado. Mrs. Wales is in rather poor health.
—Dr. and Mrs. Corden returned the first of the week from their carriage drive to Portsmouth.
—The Misses Baldwin of Nashua are visiting at Mrs. Samuel Baldwin's on Knowles street.
—The Crystal Lake Base Ball Club have played fourteen games with different clubs, thus far, winning twelve.
—Mr. James, Cutler of Knowles street will soon take his summer vacation at Saratoga Springs.
—Mrs. Reuben Stone, of Oak Hill, has returned from a five weeks visit to her former home at Berkeley.
—A brother of Mr. Guy Lamkin is occupying his Newton Centre residence during his absence in Europe.
—Mr. Benjamin Hammond and Master Hosmer Hammond have been spending a few days at Mattapoisett.
—Mr. Carleton E. Snell and Elliott Coners of Washington, D. C., are spending a few weeks at Newton Centre.
—Mr. Lawrence Mayo of Homer street left on Wednesday with his family for his cottage at North Scituate.
—Mr. and Mrs. Amory Wainwright of Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, have taken a cottage at Mt. Desert for the summer.
—Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe of St. Louis are visiting her mother, Mrs. Gardner Colby on Centre street.
—Mrs. Chapin, formerly of Newton Centre, has been visiting friends here this week.
—Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mayo and family left on Wednesday for North Scituate for the season.
—Miss Emma Giles of Parker street intends leaving tomorrow for Hyannis, Mass., where she will pass two weeks.
—It is rumored that Mr. C. A. Seabury is negotiating with a gentleman with a view to selling out his drug business.
—Mrs. Avery Baldwin of Cypress street, and daughters, are on the coast of Maine, for the month of August.
—The remains of Mrs. Samuel Stone, formerly of Oak Hill, were brought here from Free-town on Wednesday for interment.
—Mr. Learned with his son, and Mr. Lane and his son Herbert Lane, have returned from their trip to St. Andrews.
—Rev. Dr. Clark of the Methodist church exchanged pulpits last Sunday with the Rev. Mr. Barnes of the Baptist church.
—Messrs. Wm. Armstrong, H. F. Boothby, Frank Giles and P. Hanson are on the steamer Longfellow, for Provincetown.
—F. O. Lancaster, driver of Steamer 3, is making a trip through the state of Maine. He will visit Nova Scotia during his absence.
—Mrs. Gould and children of Centre street intend leaving tomorrow, August 5, for great Bear Lake, in Portland Harbor.
—Mr. Luther Paul with his eldest son and daughter left the middle of the week for Mt. Desert, where they will spend ten days or more.
—Mrs. Charles Grant left on Wednesday for the Centennial House in Bethlehem, N. H. Her daughter, Miss Louise Grant, is in Laconia, N. H.
—There was an interesting discourse on Sunday evening at the Baptist church by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Barnes. The subject was "Forgotten opportunities."
—Miss Thompson, who has been visiting Mr. Charles A. Peck's family, returned to her home in Maine, on Thursday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Chester and their daughter Miss Minnie Chester, go to Cottage City on Saturday of this week.
—Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Loring made a short visit home this week, and we are glad to see that Mr. Loring's health is much improved.
—Mr. and Mrs. Steven V. A. Hunter and family of Lake avenue are at the Breezy Hill house, Lisbon, New Hampshire.
—Master Edward Winslow who has been visiting his great aunt on Jackson street, left for his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., to-day.

—Mr. Robert Gardiner with his family started this week for St. Andrews, N.B., where they intend to stay into September.
—Rev. Theodore J. Holmes and family returned on Wednesday from North Scituate where they have been keeping house.
—Messrs. Farrell, Richardson, Muldoon, Snow, Williams, McWain, Stevens and others all on their way to New York next for Swampscott and along the coast.
—The younger Mr. Camp of Pelham street has returned from among the mountains of North Carolina, where he went in the spring for his health, which is greatly improved.
—The Rev. Edward Brainin of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly pastor of the Baptist church here, has been in Europe since May. He is now in Switzerland and expects to be home in September.
—Prof. Shailer Mathews of Colby University, Waterville, Maine, is visiting his parents at Brookline. Prof. Mathews was graduated from the Baptist Seminary here two years ago.
—A young men's Democratic Club is on the tapis and a preliminary meeting for the purpose of organization will be held in the near future. It is proposed to hold meetings and discuss the issues of the campaign. The subject will form the subject of principal interest.
—Mr. George H. Chambers was a surprised man Tuesday evening when he went to get his buggy, only to find that it had mysteriously disappeared. It seems that he kept it in the rear of his barber shop where other teams are kept and that a boy named Werthebe had taken it by mistake and drove off. Mr. Chambers walked home in a perturbed state of mind in the rain and the buggy turned up all right at about 11 p. m.
—The Rev. Dr. Clark of the Methodist church preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning, from the text Isaiah 61:1. His name shall be called wonderful. The Messiah as wonderful is the first thought. Typical things in the old testament foreshadowed the coming of Christ. Peculiarly noticeable points in the character of Christ were given. Prophecies in the old testament had been fulfilled. Shall we doubt the fulfillment of statements in the new in regard to the future. Christ was wonderful in his character, wonderful in his philosophy, the choicest minds of to-day gather up their best minds are overtopped by the actual in the life of Christ. We can only say Wonderful.
—Through the efficient work of Sgt. Huestis and Officer Fletcher, three boys who have been picking the pockets of people and rifling clothing at Crystal Lake, were brought to justice. The names of these young offenders are James Hogg, Ernest Daniels and Jeremiah Hooley. It had been going on for some little time and suspicion was directed towards the three youngsters mentioned. The case was worked up and the boys were brought into court Wednesday afternoon. They were arraigned on five indictments for larceny from different persons. His Honor Judge Park, after hearing the evidence and giving the lads some kindly counsel, found them guilty and had their cases placed upon probation on payment of the costs. The officers say that Hogg has been guilty of numerous petty thieving offences.
—Messrs. F. H. Hovey and M. H. Wildes of this village, who played in the late Ridge till Tennis Tournament at Wellesley, again entered in singles and doubles in the Wright & Olinson Tournament, at New York, which took place this week. For the first round Wildes drew Weedon, but after some plucky playing was defeated, 6-3, 8-6. Hovey was unfortunate in drawing H. W. Wood of the Staten Island Club, who won last year's tournament at Newport, and is also champion of the New England states. But Hovey surprised everyone by his splendid showing, giving his opponent a hard fight in the first two sets. Hovey opened the first set by winning the first two games, but Slocum came up with him, and they kept at even up to five all. Hovey then made a brace, and by good play won the next two games and the set. In the second set Slocum went in to win, while Hovey appeared worn and tired, partly on account of sickness. Hovey's play seemed lifeless, compared with his previous work, and he won but two games of the set. The third set was also won by Slocum without much difficulty, giving him the match, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2. Mr. Hovey can be congratulated, however, upon his excellent standing, as Mr. Slocum is one of the best tennis players in the United States, and we do not doubt that if Mr. Hovey had been in condition he would have made a hard fight for first place.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mr. Almon Blood is dangerously ill.
—Mr. and Mrs. Ryder are in Maine.
—Madame Phipps left this week for Prospect, Conn.
—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Moore have returned from Lebanon, Me.
—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. May returned home from Provincetown this week.
—Madame Logan is expected to visit her son, W. T. Logan, during August.
—Mrs. George May, who is at Provincetown, we hear is improving in health.
—Miss Margaret Strong of Waban, Prof. Thayer.
—Rev. Mr. Phipps and wife have gone to Waterville, N. H., to spend the month of August.
—Mr. and Mrs. Flint of Boston are spending the summer at Waban, at her father's, Mr. W. C. Strong's.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Greenwood have gone to spend a few days at the Cliff House, Bald Head, Ogunquit, Me.
—Rev. T. K. Noble, D. D., of San Francisco, Cal., will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday.
—Mr. F. E. Pendergast has gone to Lake Superior, and as a civil engineer will superintend the building of a canal.
—Rev. C. P. Mills and family have returned from Williamstown, where they have been visiting for the past month.
—Hon. S. C. Cobb arrived from Pensacola, Fla., on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb expect to be at the White Mountains in August.
—Miss Laura Galacer is visiting Miss Grace Whittemore at Manchester this week. She will spend next week at Hull with Miss Emma Pond.
—Mr. C. P. Clark, Jr., and Master Lancaster P. Clark, have gone to Brownfield, Me., where the other members of the family have been the guests of Mrs. Breslin, Mrs. Clark's aunt.
—The pulpit of the Congregational church will be filled during the absence of the pastor as follows: Aug. 5th, Rev. Thomas K. Noble, D. D., late of San Francisco, Cal.; Aug. 12th, Rev. Wm. G. Poor of Padua, Kan.; Aug. 19th, Rev. Thomas E. Bliss, D. D., of Denver, Col.; Aug. 26th, Rev. Pleasant Hunter, Jr., of Newtonville.
HAY FEVER sufferers ought to know of its efficacy. Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me as a preventive to Hay Fever. Have been using it since the 9th of August and have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, Publisher, Indianapolis, Ind.

FLAG RAISING AT NEWTONVILLE.

Continued from First Page.
lips, William Lloyd Garrison, Charles Sumner and Henry Wilson, and he declared that, while there were many types of Republicans, i. e., those who had seen Anthony Burns marched through Boston's streets when the campaign cry was a free vote, free speech and Fremont. There were those who voted for John A. Andrew, those who had fought for their country, and those who had gone over to Cleveland four years ago; he was and always had been what is known as a black Republican, and he was not ashamed to acknowledge it. He alluded to the enthusiasm of former campaigns and to being one of the men who was standing out in front of the Boston Journal office among the thousands of others when the bulletin of Governor Andrews' re-election was put out, and remarked that he among others was embraced by his nearest neighbor, and to his surprise found that that gentleman was the war Governor himself, who had wandered down town to hear the news. The enthusiasm of those days was simply phenomenal. After comparing the presidential nominee with his predecessors, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield, who rose from humble surroundings, the first to be the emblem of an enslaved race and the second to be the greatest military captain of the age, declared that Harrison was much the same stamp of man, and in referring to the Republican platform he believed it was so sound and broad that all Republicans could stand upon it. He then went on to read the conditions of things in England as related to him by a business man of Boston recently returned from that country. He said all the papers there were urging Cleveland's re-election; that money is being sent over to this country to insure such a result, because free trade and advance English interests, I know, he said, the Democratic party are attempting to shift this terrible load, but they can not gain the fact that their tariff bill is a step towards free trade. The result of free trade will reduce wages here materially and will benefit only the English manufacturer and the English markets. The war of bullets of 25 years ago has been changed to a war of ballots of to-day, and as they attempted to subjugate the North then so are they making the same attempt now. The emblems of the campaign are the stars and stripes, the glorious stars and stripes, and contrasted with the bandanna, an emblem of an old man's filthy and disgusting habit. Every Republican, he concluded, should be alive to the issues of the hour.
The same principles are involved in the present campaign as were in the one in 1860. The Democrats say that they are only reducing the tariff, but I tell you gentlemen that this talk is only the entering wedge for free trade. A gentleman who is extensively engaged in the boot business told me that taking off the duty would mean the ruin of his business, and he would be obliged to go out of business," he said, "for it would be impossible for me to carry it on successfully in competition with the English dealers, who have already sent drummers to this country, believing that America was soon to be a free trade country. This gentleman said the van and accepted of the offer some 75 men who are skilled in that particular business. With the advent of free trade they would be thrown out of employment. Other business would be affected and the result would be disastrous to the laboring classes. Men who would be obliged to take $1.50 or $2 in order to compete with the English market. Men who had been accustomed to living comfortably if not luxuriously would find themselves in reduced circumstances. It seems to me that the argument need not be long. If we ally the Democratic party to elect its candidate, we shall eventually get free trade and the argument of the Democratic politicians that they do not favor free trade but seek to reduce the power of the monopolist as against the wage earner is a mere matter of fact the party has no such intention. The banner that the Democrats are marching under—and by the way what is that banner; (applause)—it is not the banner under which Grant led the forces to victory that the stars and stripes might have supremacy; it is not the banner of a free man and a colored man's life at Gettysburg. There are patriotic men in the Democratic party, but it is by their fruits that we know them. We judge them by their deeds and what they have done and we are consequently afraid to trust them.
I have one word for the Republicans who were out four years ago, because they favored civil service reform and looked upon Grover Cleveland as the man who would carry out that principle. It reminds me of a story that I have heard of a man noted for his stinginess. In passing along one day, he met a woman with a child who had lost a color and needed $1. to pay for the child's christening. He gave the woman a $10 bill and said, "Here, my poor woman, get the child christened and return me the change." She did so and brought him back nine silver dollars. Later, this man was met by a friend who was surprised to note his smiling face and asked him the cause of his happiness. "Why," said Smith, (we will call him Smith), "I have done three charitable acts, I relieved the distress of a poor woman, saved a soul from purgatory and got nine good dollars for a counterfeiter. These are my three good deeds." The man who went out four years ago occupied a similar position. In return for their good money however, they have received only the counterfeit.
Cleveland said he was going to turn the rascals out, but he has appointed 137 rascals to the Mills bill and has used his power to place thirty-five of his relatives into snug government positions. When a Republican president appointed a relative to any office, the Democrats shouted loud and strong, but as a record for that sort of appointments, Cleveland has not been surpassed by his predecessor.
Chairman Pierce called upon W. F. Slocum, Esq., alluding to him as one who would have recollections of the campaign of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." Mr. Slocum said that during the campaign referred to he was a doubtful day had not passed, and he was yet in his teens. He remembered little of the presidential struggle, except the great enthusiasm which was the prevailing feature of the contest. The speaker then spoke of the issues of the campaign of 1888. He alluded to the Mills bill and said, "that a southern committee with a southern chairman had undertaken to strike down the American system, the protective tariff so far as it can effect the interest and industries of the northern States. They had reported and passed the bill through the lower house of Congress. The bill was framed by the democracy and strikes from the protected list every kind of product of our northern farms, wool, lumber, vegetables, etc., while it protects southern sugar by a duty that bears heavily on every householder, a duty of 65 per cent., and southern rice, an essary article of food, by a tariff of 100 per cent.

A brilliant speech was also made by Representative W. S. Slocum, which we were unable to report owing to the lateness of the hour. It was the gem speech of the evening.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Mr. C. E. Hussey is expected to return from California this week.
—Mr. B. D. Clarke of New York is making a visit at his home for a few days.
—It is now the first of August and the Eliot station is not opened yet; but it can't be far off, and perhaps it will be the better appreciated when it does come.
—Rev. Mr. Peterson is spending the week at his cottage at the Sterling Camp grounds, but will be at home the last of the week and officiate as usual next Sunday.
—There was a large audience present at the Baptist church on Sunday evening last, to listen to Rev. B. L. Whitman. At the close of the sermon, the gift of baptism was administered in a very impressive manner.
—There was a false alarm of fire on Wednesday morning, box 63 being rung in about 2 o'clock, calling the fire department to that locality in a pouring rain. It seems that we have among us some one who is bidding very high for a term in the house of correction.
—On Saturday evening of last week intelligence reached the village of the death of Mr. Thomas Truesdell, who for forty years was a resident among us. He had been in poor health for some time, but was able to be about, and was thought by his friends to be good for a number of years. Although he has been away for about two years, yet he was still considered one of us, and the news of his death was a sudden and startling message. He was of a very social disposition, and made friends wherever he went. His funeral took place on Monday at the chapel in the Newton cemetery, and his remains were quietly laid away in the family lot. He was a member of the Home Lodge of Odd Fellows, and a delegation from the lodge took charge of the body and buried it with the honors of the order.

WEST NEWTON English and Classical School.

Thirty-sixth year begins Wednesday, September 19th, 1888. Family and individual instruction. Prepares for College, Scientific Schools, Business, and for an intelligent and honorable manhood and womanhood. Send for catalogue to Nathaniel T. Allen, West Newton. Refers to any parent or guardian whose children have been in the school. At home Tuesdays in August. 42

Misses ALLEN Vernon Street. Will open their Boarding & Day School

For girls and young ladies, Sept. 23th. The common and higher English branches thoroughly taught. Special advantages in the study of Language, Literature, Music, Drawing and Painting. Students specially prepared for a collegiate education. Circulars with full information sent on application. 39 is ready to receive pupils for the summer. Class commences July 16th. Studio, Beacon Street, Waban. Visitors Welcome. P. O. Address, Newton Highlands.

Vacation Class. PAINTING & DRAWING MISS IDA COLLINS

MR. CUTLER'S Preparatory School for Boys.

Second Year, 1888-89. For terms and other information apply to or address Mr. E. H. CUTLER, Washington street, Newton. Early applications are respectfully requested.

City of Newton.

Registration of Voters, 1888.

Special Election, Ward 4, Sept. 4, 1888.

To Fill Vacancy of One Councilman in Place of Theodore W. Gore, Resigned.

Notice is hereby given to all persons in Ward Four, to present themselves for registration, and that the Registrars of Voters will hold a session for the registration of voters, and to correct and revise the list of said Ward Four. At the Court House, from 10 o'clock P. M., SATURDAY, AUGUST 25th, 1888. No names can be registered after 10 o'clock, P. M., AUGUST 25th. All persons whose names are not on the existing list must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on the day above mentioned, presenting a receipt for said list of 1887 or 1887. All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register. If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby and must present the father's naturalization papers. Every male citizen in Ward 4 of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the State one year and in the city of Newton six months prior to Sept. 4, 1888, and who has paid a State or County tax assessed upon him either in 1886 or 1887, and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at the election to be held in said Ward, September 4th, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight. GEORGE E. BRIDGES, GEORGE H. HOLMES, REGISTRARS OF VOTERS. ISAAC F. KINGSBURY. Newton, July 28, 1888. 43 44

Pearmain AND Brooks,

Stock and Bond Brokers, (Members Boston Stock Exchange.) 51 State St., Boston, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly executed. Correspondence solicited. Good bonds and mortgages on hand for immediate delivery. 25,3m SUMNER B. PEARMAIN, L. LORING BROOKS.

No Other Line Does It!

SARATOGA.

FOUR EXPRESS TRAINS Daily (Sundays excepted,) via Hoosac Tunnel Route, From Boston to Saratoga. 25 Miles Shorter than Any Other Line. Through the Lovely Deerfield Valley, And around the Shores of LAKE SARATOGA.

DAY EXPRESS. Elegant Parlor Cars attached. Leaves Boston 8.30 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 3.15 p. m. Stops at Athol for dinner. NIGHT EXPRESS. Palace Parlor Car attached. Leaves Boston 11.35 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 7.25 p. m. TROY EXPRESS. Sleeping car to Troy. Leaves Boston 11.00 p. m.; arrives at Saratoga 9.50 a. m. Breakfast Troy or Saratoga.

For Tickets, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, apply at the Company's Office, 250 Washington street, or Ticket Office.

Fitchburg Railroad

Passenger Station, Causeway street, Boston. J. R. WATSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

Private School.

Miss L. M. FRIEND and Miss E. M. COOK Will open their private school on Pelham St., Newton Centre, Sept. 10, 1888.

TERMS: $15 a quarter. Languages extra. 38 3m

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE, ARSENAL ST., WATEROWN.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS DIRECTORY

ROBERT BLAIR, (Formerly A. W. Snow.) PRACTICAL PLUMBER.

Having had 16 years experience in the business, satisfactory work is guaranteed. Estimates given. Shop corner Centre and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands. Residence, Station St., Newton Centre. 5-ly VIRGINIA F. BRYANT, M. D. NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

Office hours until 10 A. M., and after 5 P. M., at former residence of S. D. Whittemore, Corner Forest and Chester streets. A few patients can be accommodated with board and rooms. Boston Office, 192 Boylston Street; Hours 3 to 5 P. M.

To all Whom It May Concern.

The undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of Newton and Ward Six in particular that he has opened a custom boot and shoe shop at Basement, opposite Sumner Street.

Where he is prepared to make to order on the shortest possible notice Ladies' and Gents' Fine Boots and Shoes; also repairing of all kinds done first-class. His expenses are comparatively nothing and he intends to give the benefit to his customers. Here are some of his prices: hemlock soles and heels, $1.00; Union Leather, $1.00; oak tan, $1.25. Patches at all prices; rubber work done at short notice. All work warranted to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

T. FINNEGAN.

NEWTON CENTRE Boot & Shoe Store.

Established 1874. All repairing done inside of ten hours. G. E. BARROWS, 4 Farnham's Block, Newton Centre.

WM. G. SAUER, CONTRACTOR.

For Mason Work, Cellars, Drains, Cesspools, Wells, and other like work. Call on or address at Newton Centre. 40T

GARDEN HOSE.

If you want a good article buy Atherton Rubber Co.'s Warranted Hose. For sale by dealers throughout Newton.

Atherton Rubber Co.

26 A Kingston Street, Boston. 42

NEWTON CENTRE DIRECTORY.

J. C. FARRAR, BLACKSMITHING AND—

CARRIAGE PAINTING. Beacon Street, Newton Centre. 3

Armstrong Brothers

Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's BOOTS AND SHOES, at prices which defy competition. Repairing done in first-class fashion and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early. CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE. Next door to Dr. Noble's.

For Oak Grove Farm Cream,

leave your orders at KNAPP'S

Tuesday and Friday mornings. Diamond Creamery butter, the best made, in 5 and 8 lb. boxes and by the single pound.

The best Potatoes, Webb's Excellent Canned Corn, Emerson's unrivalled Tomatoes, carefully selected Teas and Coffees, delicious Evaporated Apples, the nicest Cheese, Fresh Eggs, Salt Pork and Fish. As good Flour as you want for $5.75 per bbl. Fertilizer in large and small quantities, etc. In fact if you want good goods at low prices call on

W.O. KNAPP & CO.,

Station St., near the Depot.

D. W. BROWNELL, Beacon Street, Newton Centre, Mass.

Manufacturer and Dealer in Fine & Coarse Harnesses Of every description. Trunks, Travelling Bags, Horse Clothing, &c. 3

A. A. SHERMAN & CO., DEALERS IN

Provisions, Vegetables, Fruits, Butter, Lard, Pickles and Canned Goods. FARMHAM'S BLOCK, Newton Centre. Orders taken at the house daily if desired. 3

S. L. PRATT, Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.

Cor. Beacon and Station Streets, Newton Centre. Carriages for Weddings, Funerals, Parties, &c., furnished at Short Notice. Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

WETHERBEE & Co., NEWTON CENTRE, Newton Highlands and Boston

Extension. Boston offices, 75 Kilby St. and 11 Harrison ave. Order Boxes—Newton Highlands Post Office and Newton Centre Post Office. Hours—Leave Newton Highlands at 8.30 o'clock; Newton Centre at 9. Boston Office at 2. Furniture moved with care. 3

FIFE'S LOW RATE EXPRESS.

Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston. Packages, Freight, Furniture, Jobbing of all kinds. Trunks to or from Boston 25 cents each. Boston offices 25 Merchants Row, 38 and 39 Court square, and 77 Kingston street; Newton Highlands, at post office; Newton Centre, cor. Beacon and Station street. GEO. H. FIFE, Prop. Residence Norwood avenue, Newton Centre. 3

A. H. ROFFE, HAY and GRAIN,

LIME, CEMENT AND DRAIN PIPE. Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre. TELEPHONE 8215. 3

JOHN J. NOBLE, (Established 1868.)

Registered Pharmacist; Cor. Centre and Pelham Sts., Newton Centre. Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Patent Medicines, Brushes, Combs, Sponges, Etc., Etc. Physicians' Prescriptions Carefully Prepared. 3

STAMMERING AND OTHER DEFECTS OF SPEECH

Corrected by Mrs. E. J. E. Thorpe, PELHAM STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

CHAS. KIESER, Plumber & Sanitary Engineer.

Jobbing and Repairing a Specialty. All work receives my personal attention and is promptly executed.

Station Street, Opposite Beacon. Residence Parker, near Boylston St., Newton Centre. P. O. BOX 237. 41

F. L. BALDES, Hair Cutter,

White's Block - Newton Centre. Orders promptly attended to. 41

DR. W. W. HAYDEN, DENTIST.

Pleasant Street, Newton Centre.

Faneuil Hall MARKET.

George F. Richardson, White's Block.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVI.—NO. 44.

NEWTON, MASS., AUGUST 10, 1888.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

Real Estate. Mortgages. Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.
OFFICES
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

CLARKSON.

Patent Re-issued August 13, 1878.
HEIGHT OF FRONT
Above Button Hole
1 1/2 inch.
HEIGHT OF BACK
Above Button Hole
1 1/2 inch.
No. 929.

F. MURDOCK & Co.,

Newton - & Mass.

All the Latest Styles in Stock.

Lion Brand Linen Collars & Cuffs.

We Shall Offer During the Next Week

The Balance of our Stock of

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,

at a great reduction to Close Them at Once.

CALL EARLY FOR A CHOICE. Only a few left of the Embroidered Flouncings which we have been selling so cheap for the past two weeks.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & CO.,

Agents for American Steam Laundry Co.

Bacon's New Block.

Established 1860.
A. J. MACOMBER.
WATCHMAKER, JEWELLER
—AND—
OPTICIAN.
64 ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON, MASS.
everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention and low prices.
C. E. WHITMORE. D. W. COOLIDGE.
C. E. WHITMORE & CO.
BROKERS.
Stocks and Bonds, also Grain & Provisions.
131 Devonshire Street, Boston.
Rooms 18 and 19. Private Wires. Telephone.
Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook.
BANKERS,
33 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
HENRY E. COBB. ARTHUR L. SWEETSER.
CHARLES E. EDDY. C. H. WATSON.
731 ARTHUR F. ESTABROOK.

E. A. W. HAMMATT,
Civil and Consulting Engineer,
Office 5 Pemberton Sq., Boston,
Room 29.
Surveys and Plans for the construction of Water Works and Sewerage Systems; House
Drainage and Landscape Work.

FREDERICK F. MOORE, M. D.
(Harvard Medical College, 1876.)
Specialty: Diseases of the Rectum
(Piles, Fistula, etc.)
Residence and Office: Thornton street, near
Washington street, Newton. Hours, 8 to 9 a. m.,
7 to 8 p. m.
Boston Office: 11 Mt. Vernon street, opposite
Hancock St. Hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. 5171

CHAS. A. FARLEY,
Piano & Organ Tuner.
The Ivers & Pond pianos for sale or exchange at the lowest prices on easy terms of payment.
Address P. O. Lock Box 22, Newton.
Residence, Washington St. 2d, from Hoey.

—THE—Misses ALLEN
Vernon Street,
Will open their
Boarding & Day School

For girls and young ladies, Sept. 25th.
The common and higher English branches thoroughly taught. Special advantages in the study of Language, Literature, Music, Drawing and Painting. Students specially prepared for a collegiate course.
Circulars with full information sent on application.
Subscribe for the Graphic.

PLUMBING. REMOVAL.

Timothy J. Hartnett,
has removed to

Brackett's New Block,
Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton.

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal superintendence as in the past.
Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.
Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at office for inspection and information of house owners and others.
The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.
First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.
Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision.
Contractor for gas piping. 35 1y

Horse Owners!

New Stable, Centrally Located.
99 and 101 Warrenton Street.

Within one block of Providence Depot, Public Garden, and near Eliot Street. Open Day and Night. Special attention to Baiters. Stalls for eighty horses, and ample room for carriages.

JOHN GRAHAM, Prop'r.
BOSTON.

Children's Hair Cutting

AT
JOHN T. BURNS'
COLE'S BLOCK, over H. B. Coffin's Store.

We wish to state to the Public that we will take Special Care of the CUTTING OF CHILDREN'S HAIR, and also with every other branch of our business.

N. B.—LADIES' SHAMPOOING done at their homes at the moderate price of 75 cents.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Williams Street, off Centre, NEWTON.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC now has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST,
a larger CIRCULATION, and a larger number of readers than any other Newton paper. Its circulation is constantly increasing, and it gives nearly double the amount of local news and reading matter furnished by any other Newton paper.

NEWTON.

—Shirts for the campaign. See page 8.
—Lion brand collars and cuffs at Francis Murdoch & Co's.
—Rev. F. B. Hornbrooke is at Gorham,
N. H., this week.
—Mr. J. W. French is at the Crosby House, Osterville.
—Richard Morrissey is building a new house on Gardner street.
—Col. Albert A. Pope will spend August and September in Europe.
—John H. Harwood is with E. E. Blake at New London, N. H.
—Mr. W. W. Cropley and wife are at the Randall House, North Conway.
—Mr. H. N. Hyde and wife are summering at New London, N. H.
—Mr. J. E. Lawrence is at Lawrence cottage, Ocean Bluff.
—D. B. Baker and wife are at Whitmarsh
cottage, Ocean Bluff.
—Mr. M. Kidder and sister are at Hotel
Nantasket for a few days.
—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wetherbee are at Cottage City for the summer.
—Miss H. S. Batchelder is among recent guests at the Oceanic, Isles of Shoals.
—Mr. J. H. Hills was among recent guests at the Sea View House, Cottage City.
—Miss Maria Daniel is at the Grove Hill House, Kennebunk Beach, Me.
—Mr. Clarence A. Marshall has gone to Waterville, Me., for a few weeks.
—Mr. and Mrs. George Flint leave tomorrow morning for the Rhineland.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whitman are at the Intervale House, Mt. Washington.
—Mr. J. Henry Bacon enjoyed a pleasant fishing trip to Nantucket this week.
—Mr. H. F. Wellington is spending a few days at North Falmouth, Mass.
—Officer Emerson is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Provincetown.
—Mr. Walter Barney is spending his vacation at his home at Nantucket.
—Mr. W. A. L. Alexander is spending his vacation at the Veranda House, Nantucket.
—Mr. Walter B. Swift is registered at the Mountain View House, Franconia, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cate left on Monday for a two weeks' visit to Saratoga, N. Y.
—Charles D. Kopner is spending his vacation with his parents at Port Royal, Pa.
—Miss Marion Holbrook is at Marblehead with her friends, the Misses Lovejoy.
—Mrs. T. B. Hitchcock and Miss Maria Hills left this morning for New London,
N. H.
—The flag at the armory is suspended at half mast in memory of the late Gen.
Sheridan.
—The black-eyed clerk at Howe's market is at Idsweh, camping out with a party of friends.
—Mr. J. T. Langford and family are stopping at the Breezy Hill House, Lisbon,
N. H.
—The Newton Ideals play a game of ball with the Hardings of South Boston, Saturday.
—Charles F. Rand reports the sale of the Methuen estate to Thomas M. King of Baltimore, Md., for $12,500.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Warner have returned from Ipswich, Mass. Mr. Warner's health is much improved.
—Mrs. J. T. Lodge with maid and children are stopping at the Iron Mountain House, White Mountains.
—Miss Nellie M. Flint of Hotel Hunne-well is spending a fortnight's vacation at her former home in Athol.
—Mr. E. P. Burnham and wife started this week on a ten days driving trip to New Hampshire.
—Mr. J. E. Trowbridge and family are at Conway Centre, in the White Mountains, for August.
—Judge Robert C. Pitman has been chosen to preside at the Prohibitory State Convention.

—Last Saturday, the Franklins of Waltham were defeated by the Morrills of Wal-tontown by a score of 21 to 4.

—Jewett street is being put in good condition by the highway department and the gutters are being repaved.

—Mrs. George Savin and her daughter, Miss M. Alice Savin, are the guests of Mrs. C. A. Barrows, Glover, Vermont.

—Rev. Joseph N. Crocker of Madison,
Vt., will preach at Channing church next Sunday morning. All are cordially invited.

—Miss Mary Shannon, accompanied by her niece, Miss Sarah P. Wingate, are at the Sharon cottage, Ledge Lawn, Mt. Desert.

—Mr. C. N. Brackett received three prizes for peas and one for pears, at the Horticultural Society's show in Boston last Saturday.

—Dr. Shinn's address through August will be at Hubbardston, where in case of need he can be reached by telegram or letter.

—Mr. H. J. Wood's new house, corner of Washington and Channing streets, is well under way. It will be a pretty and substantial dwelling.

—Postmaster Morgan is securing a brief rest, although on duty in the morning as usual. He will enjoy a trip to Pawtucket, to-day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses R. Emerson of Brighton Hill are at Pigeon Cove. Mr. H.
C. Emerson of Amherst College is spending his vacation here.

—Mrs. Levi B. Gay and Harry N. Gay returned Wednesday from a visit to Poland Springs. They leave Monday for a few days at Magnolia.

—Mr. David W. Farquhar did not go to New York with the Blaine delegation, as some of the Boston papers announced.

—During August, Miss Beck, the soprano of the Channing Church quartette will be away on her vacation, which will be passed at Brant Rock.

—Welcome Beales has returned from Turner, Maine, where he was called by the illness of his sister, who died Saturday.

Church of the Messiah, West Newton, Mass.
From the South West.

We lay before our readers this week a perspective view of the proposed Church of the Messiah of West Newton and Auburndale.
The chapel at the right hand is already completed, and has been in use some seven years.
At the last Easter meeting, the Vestry were directed to consider the matter of enlarging the chapel or of commencing a church, as the capacity of the chapel is insufficient for the growing congregation.
A committee was appointed to consider the matter in behalf of the vestry, and reported that "it is inexpedient to alter or enlarge the present chapel; but that it is expedient to build a church connected with the present chapel, and in conformity with plans submitted with the report." This report was adopted, and a building committee appointed with power to raise and disburse money, and to proceed with the erection of a church as fast as money can be secured for the purpose.
It is hoped to lay the foundations and build the cellar and underpinning up to the top of the floor this year, and to complete the outside of the building the year following. The Parish have on the premises sufficient dressed freestone to complete the church; and they have also courage and good hope of seeing the speedy accomplishment of their purposes.
The style adopted is "Early English gothic," modified by the somewhat more free treatment of the nineteenth century.
The principal entrance is through the tower on the south-west angle of the church, and is connected with another entrance in the chapel by a cloister extending the length of the south side. The tower is 16 feet square and 63 feet high. On the south-west corner is a staircase turret terminating in a pinnacle surmounted by a cross 96 feet from the ground. The church is 77 feet by 42 feet with a chancel at the east end 21 feet by 14 feet. The seating capacity of the building will be 450 adults.
Provision is made for an antiphonal choir next the chancel. The exterior will be of Connecticut freestone with string courses of Long Meadow stone, and belts and arches of pressed bricks.
The interior is intended to be finished in oak and pressed brick of different colors.

His mother is no better. Mr. Beals has the sympathy of the community in his affliction.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and two sons, Edward and George, left this morning for a three weeks trip to Lake George.
They return by way of the White Mountains.

—W. F. Knapp has been wonderfully successful during his English tour, and in a 100-mile contest he broke all the records from 30 miles to 100. Crocker acted as one of the pace-makers.

—Dr. Shinn is preparing another course of Sunday evening lectures for the coming autumn at Grace church. The success of the two preceding courses has been very gratifying.

—Dr. Beckley, pastor of the Beth Eden Baptist Church of Philadelphia, will preach at the Newton Baptist church on Sunday and Dr. J. B. Thomas the remainder of the month.

—The rate of taxation last year was $15.80. This year it has been reduced to $15.20, the assessors having found nearly $600,000 in new property. The valuation has not been made up but has increased owing to the addition of taxable property.

—Enquiring people may be glad to learn that the frame work built on the space between the new Eliot church and the Centre street sidewalk is to furnish the carpenters a place for working the long and heavy timbers to be used in the church interior.

—Mr. Francis Kendall and wife accompanied by two ladies while out for a drive a few days since were upset at the corner of Bridge and Watertown streets. The occupants of the carriage were all thrown out, but fortunately escaped injury.

—George A. Reed, one of the Boston &
Albany passenger train conductors, and a member of the Framingham board of selectmen, has been unanimously elected clerk of the board, in place of Charles H. Fuller, who has resigned to enter the Boston custom-house.

—From a score or more of applicants the trustees have selected Sanford L. Cutler, late principal of Lawrence Academy at Groton, as principal of South Academy.
Mr. Cutler is a graduate of Amherst College class of 1885, and has taught at Groton three years. He has signified his acceptance.

—Rev. Bradford K. Pierce, D. D., the recent secretary of the Trustees of Boston University, has been requested by the board to give special personal attention to any of the friends who may be inclined to assist in the fuller endowment of the institution. To such he holds himself in readiness to give the amplest information.

—Mr. Daggett is a severe critic and his strictures upon Capt. Kennedy and his command have been the subject of more or less comment in military circles. It would have been wiser for some one better known in the true militia and one too of more mature years and experience, to have undertaken the task of pointing out deficiencies in the education or management of a superior officer.

—The veterans of the 32nd regiment held a reunion at the Point of Pines on Monday last. Col. Francis J. Parker was present and invited his comrades to a dinner at the hotel. Col. Kingsbury and Thomas
Dolan represented the Newton members.
The reunion was a very pleasant one, although the veterans were saddened by the death of Gen. Sheridan, and hearty eulogies were paid to his memory and appropriate resolutions passed.

—Brighton Hill has been the scene of some pleasant evening concerts. They have been given on the grounds of Dr.
Bartlett, Mr. Marshall and Mr. Sawtell, and last evening on the Clafin estate.
An excellent orchestra furnished music and a large number of people were present, many driving from a distance. The three residences on the estate occupied by Messrs.
Wells, Allen and Whitmore were tastefully illuminated with Japanese lanterns.

—Mrs. F. W. Gaskill of Boston, Miss E.
M. Mack of Broadhead, Wis., and W. M.
Baker made the ascent of Mount Washington on Friday, walking up the railroad track from the base to the summit. Mrs.
Gaskill was accompanied by her little dog
"Jill," who is probably the smallest specimen of the canine race that ever climbed to such a lofty elevation as Mount Washington. Miss Mack and Mr. Baker made the descent on foot, returning by a special express train to the Mount Pleasant House, where the party are staying. The day being pleasant the trip was much enjoyed.

one of the party being the worse for their exertion.

—The sad death of Frank M. Robinson in Boston, Wednesday morning, removes a former well known Newton man, who was at one time one of the most popular young men in this city. He formerly conducted the cigar and stationary store now occupied by A. V. Harrington, where he was successful in establishing a good, paying business.
His genial manners won him many friends,
and his popularity seemed to be universal.
Unfortunate circumstances have cast a shadow over a life that was evidently full of promise, but those who knew him never will remember his more happy days and recall many of his pleasant characteristics.
The deceased was 38 years of age.

—Friday evening last Mr. James Eggleston, the late manager of the American Express company in New England, was surprised upon his return from a drive to find that several of his old employees had taken possession of his house during his absence, and replaced the furniture of his library with a beautiful and costly set of antique oak, elaborately carved, consisting of a book case, desk, four large easy chairs, upholstered in leather, a massive library table and a clock. The best picture of the company's history and the friends of the American Express Company was a letter begging the acceptance of the present, and expressing the sorrow of the donors at his resignation from the position he had so long occupied with them, and signed by nearly 200 of his old employees in Boston and throughout New England.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke preached at the Unitarian Grove Meeting at Weirs on Sunday, and the following sketch of his sermon appeared in the Boston papers: "He took for his text I. Corinthians, xv., 46.
The speechless dead upon the way. According to the best picture of the natural preparation for a clearer view of the spiritual. A good body is a means toward a truer view of life. Nature does not conceal, but reveals God. The best picture of heaven is painted in the hues caught from the life around us. The best picture of God comes from what we know of the love and faithfulness of Christ. The more perfect man the more complete the revelation of God in him. But the natural is only the preparation. The spiritual is the aim of all that we are and all that we do. The spiritual is not least because so few shall realize it.
The best things in the order of existence come last. We need not fear the attention given in our time to the natural. It must aid in a large conception of the spiritual in a larger thought of God. This universe is filled with the life and purpose of God, and whether we teach the humblest duty or the loftiest thought we are on our way. If we are in earnest, to the knowledge of Him in whom we live, and move, and are."

REPUBLICAN FLAG RAISING.

REMARKS BY HON. W. B. FOWLE, W. E.
WEBSTER AND OTHERS.

The Republicans of Auburndale threw out a Harrison and Morton flag in the square, Thursday evening shortly after 8 o'clock. The wire on which the flag was suspended runs from two poles, one on Lexington street and the other at the end of the railroad bridge. When the flag was drawn out, three cheers were given for the stars and stripes, and three more for Harrison and Morton. It was expected that the Newton city band would render appropriate selections, as it had been engaged by the committee in charge, but for some unaccountable reason the musicians failed to appear.

After the exercises in the square a fair-sized audience gathered in Auburn Hall and listened to remarks by several gentlemen. Hon. William B. Fowle, ex-mayor of Newton, presided and made a short address. He alluded to the issues of the campaign, and said that he believed that the Republicans were entering into a contest that would and could only result in one way. He had always believed that if the issue of protection and free trade was brought before the people, free trade would be sunk so deep that it could never be resuscitated. In this campaign we are called upon to act upon this question, and I believe that it will be settled by the enlightened votes of the people, who know that their interests are not best subserved by any free trade policy. A large percentage of the labor vote will be thrown for protection, and I believe that Harrison and Morton will be elected. In regard to Harrison, we may speak of him as a man who has done all he could for his country.

Hewent to the front and fought for the preservation of the Union. He has been efficient and brilliant in all capacities, level-headed, never extreme on any one point, but just and fair upon all questions. He is a man whom we should be delighted to elect to the office of President of the United States. (Applause.)

The speaker then gave some reasons why many of the laboring men of the country would vote the Republican ticket. He said that America was the attractive point for the laborer from all parts of the world, for the simple reason that laboring men were better off here than in any other country on the face of the earth. In America laborers received better pay, secured a better living and better homes. It is a condition that may be attributed to the fact that we possess the best market in the world, and we keep it for the benefit of our citizens. This state of things we propose to continue, and we will, therefore, receive the support and encouragement of laboring men.

Mr. W. E. Webster of Newton Centre was the next speaker. In opening his remarks he said that every Republican would be on the tapis from now until election, and must be ready at any time to give his reasons for the faith within him.
The Republican candidate, Benjamin
Harrison, comes from good old stock, and it is an old saying that blood will tell. It is not my purpose to go into his ancestry, for it is sufficient to say that none among them all were more distinguished in the qualities that make up a man, in ability or patriotism, than the Republican candidate for President of the United States. When he was a candidate for Governor of Indiana I was attracted to him, and felt that he possessed qualities that would render him an acceptable candidate for the presidency.
Other remarks were made by Messrs.
E. L. Pickard and R. A. Ballou.

Shore Lots at Auction.

A rare chance for those who wish to own a cottage at the sea shore will be found in the grand auction sale of over 200 choice lots at Winthrop Highlands,
Aug. 15, 16, 17 and 18. Special inducements will be offered to those intending to build within the year, and the terms will be easy. The lots will be sold without reserve. As most of our readers know, Winthrop Highlands is one of the prettiest places near Boston, the land is high and the views of Nahant, Boston Harbor, Revere Beach and the ocean exceptionally fine, and it is being rapidly built up with a very desirable class of residences. The Revere and Winthrop Beach road make it within about 20 minutes of the business center of Boston, and these lots will probably command a ready sale. See Adv.

More Pensions and Bounty.

A gentleman representing Milo B. Stevens & Co., of Washington, D. C., can be seen during day and evening at the Winthrop House, South Framingham, Thursday, Aug. 23; Central House, Marlboro, Friday, Aug. 24; Central House, Natick, Saturday, Aug. 25; Newton House, Newton, Monday, Aug. 27; Prospect House, Waltham, Tuesday, Aug. 28; Central House, Woburn, Friday 31;
Central Hotel, Stoneham, Sat. Sept. 1;
Young's Hotel, Boston, Tuesday and Wednesday 4 and 5; Albion House,
Wakfield, Thursday 6; and Evelyn House, Malden, Friday 7, by persons desiring information concerning pensions, bounties, etc., or having claims which they may desire to have prosecuted by said attorneys.

Try the Popular

High Art Cigars, of G. W. Shaw's. A fresh arrival. Very fine.
Shaw's diarrhoea mixture cures or no pay.

AMONG THE HILLS.

THE CHARMING SCENES ABOUT CENTRE
[SANDWICH, NEW HAMPSHIRE.]

A hammock under the maples, where in the hottest day there is a cool breeze, gives me, framed in green, as restful and pleasant a picture as tired eyes would wish to look upon. For back-ground the pine sweep of Sandwich mountains; Israel, stepping out into the plain, partially hides the dome; Whiteface fronts the valley with its rugged precipices, and over its western shoulder peep two sharp points, Trip Pyramid; the rounded heads of Passaconaway, Wanauncet and Paugus lead on to Chocoma, whose striking outline marks him fitting leader of these giant forces. Nearer are foot hills patched with yellowing pasture, miles of forest, a glimpse of village spires, hay makers and a loaded wain, rocking dangerously up the slope to the barn, and for immediate foreground, the tennis court. In the wood near hermit thrushes are singing; a catbird is giving a rehearsal in the alders; goldfinches are swinging on the thistle tops; there is a ruby throat in the larkspur; a kingfisher alights upon the piazza and springs his rattle excitedly, and white banded butterflies drift by. But after all it is the stillness, the lulling murmur of cool green leaves overhead and the sense of unlimited space that makes the place so charming.

Sandwich is a quiet country town dropped among the hills. From Israel to Squam Lake runs the Holderness range; opposite stand the Ossipee mountains, on the fourth side stretches Red Hill. There is nothing striking in the outline of these three barriers, but the view from these heights one looks upon a wide country, threaded every where towards the south by shining water ways, Winnepesaukee, Squam and endless small lakes—and northward the mountains rise grandly peak against peak.

Among the lesser attractions of the place is the White Ledge, easily accessible and giving a wide view for a small amount of exertion. This is an outcrop of gold-bearing quartz which shows chalk white against the sky.

A day of delights can be spent in a drive around Squam Lake, whose irregular outline makes possible every conceivable combination of woods and water, and affords endless secluded havens suitable for summer camps and out of door living. Mr. George L. Chandler has chosen here a beautiful location for his summer home.

The chief attractions are Red Hill, south of the town, and Whiteface, its northern boundary. Every one goes once at least to Red Hill. The carriage road winds through woods and along the border of Squam, and takes you by some seven miles of changing views up upon the southern side of the hill, from whence the town's leisurely climb, reaching a clearing, where the sun is sure to be hot, by a cool wood path where vireo and pewee are singing, and over a long stretch of blueberry and bracken, brings you upon the unpretentious ledge to find the world at your feet. Field lilies are dotted every where, and crimson vetches; the bear berries are beginning to reddish, and can take your fill of lake and mountain in all directions. But a word in your ear. When lunch basket and wraps are being gathered preparatory to the descent, take your bearings from the Sandwich spires, and leaving behind the beaten track plunge straightway down into the woods on the northern side, for the three-mile walk will pay you better than a repetition of the morning's ride. Half a mile of mossy, rocky stairs with living trees for balusters, knee-deep bracken, and a straggling undergrowth of "Viburnum mixed," overhead a canopy of beech and yellow birch—will bring you to a gully and a brook. This is your path and a bewitching one it is! Where you first make its acquaintance it sings softly among stones and fern, making tiny falls and cold clear cups which are too tempting to pass by. A little further on, you walk in a dry bed to find, at the next turn, the small current gushing from under a boulder and making quite a commotion for a few yards of rapid fall, to drop suddenly out of sight again. Here the banks rise fifteen or twenty feet—green walls of beech fern, moonwort and maidenhair, oxalis and Canada violet, and across them are flung large tree trunks. Pause here a moment. Nature has many grand and inspiring scenes close by, but after all, is not the Love—the main spring of creation—more visible presence in such home-nooks of the forest as this, where we can see the most delicate life being created, and realize that our meeting there here today is a special favor vouchsafed to few? The brook plays hide and seek with us till it leads down to fields and farm-lands—the raspberries have a more appetizing flavor than usual, and we find it pleasant to avoid the dusty road as long as possible by crossing corn fields and coming out where thalietrum is shoulder high by the brook.

An ascent of Whiteface is a fitting climax to the many charming trips about the town. This includes an eight mile ride to the Intervale and a climb of about four miles to summit. We have a day to suit those who remain at home, and after a draught of milk by way of stirrup cup, go skimming down the hills before the world is fairly awake, with lunch and basket. Everything is drenched with dew, there are only a few misty clouds in the sky and the wind is brimful of new life. The village passed, we breakfast royally "on the wing" with perfume of rose, elder and balsam for spice; for garish flame of red lilies, golden glory of hawkweed and changing lights of hill and hollow; and for chrestia, thrust and white throated sparrow, and rippling gleam of gold finches. It is a pleasure to look into the big barn at the Intervale, where we leave the horse—such closely packed mows and hosts of chattering swallows!—and the genial proprietor kindly pilots us through his pasture and sets us upon our path, pointing out, where we cross the brook, which drains the face of the mountain, the devastations of former freshets. For about a mile the path rises gradually, then forks sharply to the right and grows more steep. There are windfalls now and again to be climbed over and ferns grow under. The track bears again to the left and the sound of rushing water in the ravine dies away, leaving only a murmur of leaves, the persistent call of a vireo and the shrill thread-like chirp of an unseen songster. Soon these are left behind, and the forest is given over to silence. One bird flits noiselessly before us, so near that we easily discover her nest in a niche of the big boulder, but there are no voices. Beds of oxalis, in seed at lower level, are here in bloom, and the air is sweet with the perfume of mitchella. But we are up among the boulders, the mossed and ferny now, and gain our first glimpse of the outside world as through a window—the huge rocky face of the mountain, which shows us we have still a considerable circuit to make before we can stand upon the summit. A little higher the first ledge is reached, and freshened and exhibited by the grand overlook, we work one way upward reopening the path as we go. There have been few visitors of late, and in some parts the track would suit nothing larger than a rabbit. At last we meet the crowning ledge and a cool wind together and find the northern sky dark and wild with clouds, the mountains blue and cold. Away to eastward a warm haze makes all dim and indistinguishable. Beyond the lakes, some lighter color dropped between the ridges, renders the outlines easier followed than in a clear day. Across the southern sky stretches from east to west a bank of white cloud, level and solid at its base, its upper edges rolling and changing fantastically. Suddenly a shower of cloud rags, from the north, pours a shower into the ravine on our right, Guinea pond shining like a mirror in the veil. Passaconaway gets his bristly hair tangled in a cloud; Chocoma comes out of obscurity into sunlight shining rosier from the wetting; the part of the southern cloud fore break away, and drifting westward, go aground upon the Israel ledges, but the sun still shines on Whiteface, dropping spangles of gold upon the forests in the ravine and lighting up the rock ribs of its eastern flank. It is a rare ever-changing picture which we are loath to turn our backs upon, as we must at last. The forest path seems long and monotonous, but as we whirl away homeward we have added the glories of sunset colors, and as we look backward our mountain has put on a cap of fleecy cloud.

Centre Sandwich, N. H., July 31, 1888.

CATHOLIC EDUCATION.

WHAT VICTOR HUGO SAID A GENERATION AGO.

Editor GRAPHIC: In this present discussion over the Boston public schools and their surrender to the Roman Catholic members of the school committee, this extract from Victor Hugo, written a generation or more ago, may have some interest for your readers.

WHAT VICTOR HUGO SAYS.

"Ah, we know you! We know the clerical party. It is an old party. This is its motto: 'The Church is the foundation of all progress, and the Church is the source of all error!' This is which forbids to science and genius the going beyond the missal, and which wishes to cloister thought in dogmas. Every step which the intelligence of Europe has taken has been in spite of it. Its history is written in the history of human progress, but it is written on the back of the leaf. It is opposed to it all."

This is which caused Prunelli to be scourged for having said that the stars would not fall.

This is which put Campanella seven times to the torture for having affirmed that the number of worlds was infinite, and for having caught a glimpse at the secret of creation.

This is which persecuted Harvey for having proved the circulation of the blood.

In the name of Jesus it shut up Galileo.

In the name of St. Paul, it imprisoned Christopher Columbus. To discover a law of the heavens was a heresy. To find a world was an impiety.

This is which anathematized Pascal in the name of religion, Montaigne in the name of morality, Moliere in the name of both morality and religion. For a long time already the human conscience has revolted against you, and now demands of you, "What is it that you wish of me?" For a long time already, you have tried to put a gag upon the human intellect. You wish to be the masters of education.

And there is not an author, not a philosopher, not a thinker, that you accept. All that has been written, found, dreamed, deduced, inspired, imagined, invented by genius, the treasure of civilization, the venerable inheritance of generations, the common patrimony of knowledge, you reject.

There is a book—a book which is from one end to the other, an emanation from above—a book which is for the whole world what the Koran is for Islamism—what the Vedas are for India—a book which contains all human wisdom, illuminated by all divine wisdom—the book which the veneration of the people calls the book—the Bible. Well, your censure has reached even that! Unheard of thing! Popes have proscribed the Bible. How astonishing to wise spirits, how oversteering to simple hearts, to see the finger of Rome placed upon the book of God!

And you claim the liberty of teaching. Stop, be sincere! Let us understand the liberty which you claim. It is the liberty of not teaching. You wish us to give you the people to instruct. Very well. Let us see your pupils. Let us see those you have produced. What have you done for Italy? What have you done for Spain? For centuries you have kept in your hand, at your discretion, at your school, these two great nations, illustrious among the illustrious. What have you done for them? I am going to tell you.

Thanks to you, Italy, mother of genius and of nations, which has spread over the universe all the most brilliant marvels of poetry and the arts; Italy, which has taught mankind to read, now knows not how to read! Italy is of all the states of Europe, that where the smallest number of natives know how to read. Spain, magnificently endowed; Spain, which received from the Romans her first civilization, from the Arabs her second civilization, from Providence, and in spite of you, a world—America. Spain, thanks to you, to your yoke and to your which is a yoke of degradation and decay—Spain has lost this secret power which it had from the Romans; this genius of art which it had from the Arabs; this world which it had from God, and in exchange for all that you have made it lose, it has received from you the Inquisition.

The Inquisition, which certain men of the party try today to re-establish; which has burned on the funeral pile millions of men; the Inquisition, which disinterred the dead to burn them as heretics, which declared the children of heretics, even to the second generation, infamous and incapable of any public honors, excepting only those who shall have denounced their fathers; the Inquisition, which while I speak, still holds in the papal library the manuscripts of Galileo, sealed under the papal signet! These are your masterpieces.

This fire which we call Italy, you have extinguished. This Colossus that we call Spain, you have undermined. The one is in ashes and the other in ruins. This is what you have done for two great nations. What do you wish to do with France? Stop! you have just come from Rome. I congratulate you. You have had fine success there. You come from gagging the Roman people; now you wish to gag the French people. I understand. This attempt is still more fine; but take care! It is dangerous. France is a lion, and is alive!

NEWTON'S VALUATION.

THE TAX RATE REDUCED AND THE TOTAL VALUATION INCREASED.

The Newton assessors have just completed their labors, and the tax rate has been fixed at $15.20, as against $15.80 in 1887. This rate is hailed with considerable satisfaction, and is low considering the large amount of money expended for the public schools, highways and general improvements. The personal estate foots up $9,113,862, as against $9,218,701 last year—a decrease of $104,839. There is a gain of $924,264 in the valuation of real estate, which foots up $24,004,130, as against $23,079,866 last year. The greatest gain in the valuation of real estate is in Ward 2, where the addition in taxable property sums up $316,250 with a total valuation, including personal property, of $5,045,736. The total valuation of the city is $33,117,992, an increase of $210,335 over 1887. The number of polls this year is 5859, against 5666 last year and 5191 in 1886. Newtonville heads the list with 1067, or a gain of 89 over 1887. Newton Centre has gained 33 voters, the total number reaching 904 this year as against 871 in 1887. The following table shows how the real estate, personal property and polls are divided among the several wards:

Wds.	Polis.	Real estate.	Personal estate.	Total valuation.
1.....	1,067	1,106,030	$329,200	$3,629,053
2.....	1,067	1,106,030	3,588,700	5,045,736
3.....	802	1,062,260	3,473,330	4,535,590
4.....	809	995,870	2,223,225	3,919,195
5.....	788	417,475	2,460,775	2,878,250
6.....	904	2,415,221	4,655,700	7,070,921
7.....	613	2,127,549	3,572,100	6,699,649
Ts.	5,859	$24,004,130	$9,113,862	$33,117,992

MATERIALISM IN AMERICA.

I do not ask that men of wealth shall give more money to the church, which is often stronger when it is poor than when it is rich; not to the poor and thriftless, whom unearned money only keeps in poverty. I urge that the power to make money, like any other power, is a trust bestowed on the possessor for humanity. The preacher who preaches for his salary, not for the spiritual well-being of his parishioners, is a mercenary; the physician who practices for his fees, not to cure the sick, is a mercenary; the lawyer who pleads for his honorarium, not for justice is a mercenary; the politician who enacts laws for what he can make, not for the community, is a mercenary; no less the manufacturer, the merchant, the trader, the man on "change," who transacts his business to make money, not to give the community its meat in due season, is a mercenary. In the history of the nineteenth century, the doctrine that wealth is a trust must stand by the side of the doctrine that labor is an honorarium. Liberty is a sacred right. The materialist that threatens the American Church is not the materialism of Herbert Spencer. It is the materialism of the railroad, the factory, the shop; the materialism that puts thinghood above manhood; that does not know that things were made for man, not man for things; that God gives us, not Irishmen to build our railroads, but railroads to build Irishmen; not Hungarians to dig our mines, but mines to develop manhood in Hungarians.—Dr. Lyman Abbott, in the August Century.

EXTEND THE MERIT SYSTEM.

The objections to civil-service reform come principally from those who are or who aspire to be politicians. To have the offices filled by worthy and competent persons, whose term of office is not dependent on the success or defeat of any party, is to rob the politicians of their stock in trade, and permanently retire them from politics.

What difference does it make to me whether the postmaster of my village is a Democrat or a Republican, if he be competent and obliging? The same is true of the county officers. Politics should have nothing to do with them, for they have nothing to do with politics. There are only a few political officers. Why should the non-political officers, when experience has made them capable, be turned out every time the party sentiment changes, and their place filled by inexperienced men, whose only merit is their partisanship? There can be no satisfactory answer given to this question in the affirmative; but that they should be retained as long as they are efficient and honest is patent from these reasons: first, it would be a saving of expense; secondly, it would elevate and refine politics.—P. F. Hallock, in the August Century.

A Republican Tariff Bill.

(Greenfield Gazette and Courier.) The best news from Washington of late is the decision of the republican senators to present a tariff bill. They have decided that it is not enough to simply pose before the country as opponents of the Mills bill, but must have an open positive, aggressive policy of their own! This is the correct thing to do. Opposition to the Mills bill is virtually opposition to a reduction of the surplus. This the republican party can not afford. For the rank and file believe that, that surplus of $100,000,000 annually should be reduced. The republicans in Congress can show that they are in favor of that reduction and of maintaining at the same time the protective principle by framing and supporting a bill that will accomplish it. That will place the party right before the country. It is of quite as much importance in the coming campaign, especially in the west, that the party be right on the question of reducing the surplus as that it be right on the protective policy. The Home Market club have done the republican party a genuine service in urging senators to frame a bill for republican support. It is far better for the party to choose and occupy its own ground when it can do so, than to stand up on disadvantageous ground in front of an entrenched enemy. Nothing would have suited the democracy better than for the republicans to have gone into the campaign as opponents of a reduction of the surplus.

Hay Fever.

I have suffered greatly from periodical returns of hay fever. Givert & Cheever, Druggists, suggested Ely's Cream Balm. I used it during a severe attack. I can cheerfully testify as to the immediate and continued relief obtained by its use. I heartily recommend it to those suffering from this or kindred complaints.—Rev. H. A. Smith, Clinton, Wis.

Honest.

In these days of adulteration and fraud, in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time.—W. B. Everts, A. M. Charleston, S. C.

Nothing is more essential to good health and happiness than a good vegetable tonic, and in Gail's Mandrake Compound is the tonic to use.

To thoroughly cleanse and purify garments without injury, they must be boiled to dissolve the oily exudations of the skin, and loosen the dirt, when both can easily be removed by using a mild but effective soap like the "Ivory," 99 $\frac{1}{100}$ % (pure). Washing Compounds and Soap recommended to be used in cold water, to save labor, fuel, etc., are highly chemicalised, and are so strong that they attack and destroy any fabric they are used on.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Copyright 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GRAPHIC.

Only $2.00 per year.

Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn RAILROAD.

Summer Time-Table, June 25, 1888.

Leave Boston for Lynn at 6.52, 7.30, 8.30, 8.40, 9.10, 11 a. m., 12 m., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.
Leave Lynn for Boston at 6.10, 6.50, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.
Leave Boston for Lynn at 6.52, 7.30, 8.30, 8.40, 9.10, 11 a. m., 12 m., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.
Leave Lynn for Boston at 6.10, 6.50, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.
Leave Boston for Lynn at 6.52, 7.30, 8.30, 8.40, 9.10, 11 a. m., 12 m., 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.
Leave Lynn for Boston at 6.10, 6.50, 7.30, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30, 11.30 and 12.30 p. m.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

Leave Boston for Lynn every even hour and half-hour from 10 to 9.30 p. m., inclusive, and 10.15 p. m.
Leave Lynn for Boston at 9.30, 10 and 11 a. m., then 12.30 a. m., and every even hour and half-hour until 9.30 p. m., inclusive.
All trains stop at West Lynn. All trains stop at Point of Pines after 9 a. m.
JOHN A. FENNO, G. T. A.
Boston, June 25, 1888.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS & IMPORTERS,

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

EAT QUAKER MILLS

FOR BREAKFAST.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

Quaker Mill Co., Ravenna Ohio.

Meat, Poultry and Game.

"THE CHOICEST" OUR MOTTO.

The Newton Market

Established in 1851 and located pleasantly at NOS. 7 AND 8 COLE'S BLOCK, has constantly on hand a LARGE and CHOICE SUPPLY of Meats, Poultry and Game.

W. H. BRACKETT, Proprietor. Telephone 7854.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 7854.

Richard Rowe, INSURANCE.

No. 2 Mason Building. Water Street, Boston. Residence, Cabot street, Newtonville.

The six American and English companies represented by this agency, are among the largest, strongest and oldest doing business in the United States, the Sun Fire Office being the oldest purely fire insurance company in the world. The millions of dollars paid by these companies to the sufferers of the three great conflagrations of Portland, Chicago and Boston, fully attest to their strength, integrity and fair dealing. Sixty per cent. dividend paid on five year mutual policies.

New Store. New Goods.

The Best Dairy and Creamery Butter, in one-half pound packages—A Gift-edged Article. Take a package home.

G. P. ATKINS.

BACON'S BLOCK.

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.

West Newton, Mass.

AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.

JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Gate, Adams R. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, Lyman R. Putney.

Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett.

Open for business daily, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., and 2 to 4 p. m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY

By leaving your orders with me and have your FURNACES and TILES CLEANED and REPAIRED, as some parts rust out faster than wear out in use if not attended to. The leads them all as it is the safest.

Monitor Oil Stove

Stoves, Ranges and Furnaces, Kitchen Furnishing Goods,

JOHN S. SUMNER.

MIDDLESEX BLOCK.

CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.

THEODORE L. MASON.

Agent for the celebrated

Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock. Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Elliot Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

LLOYD BROTHERS.

Improved Carpet Cleaning Machine. They remove all Dust, Brighten Colors and Destroy Moths.

Office, 605 Main Street, 3d door East of Church Street, Works on Benefit St., Walnut Street, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone No. 7652. P. O. Box No. 507

L. H. CRANITCH

HOUSE, SIGN, AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.

Graining and Paper Hanging a Specialty.

WALNUT STREET, 2d Door from Central Block, NEWTONVILLE.

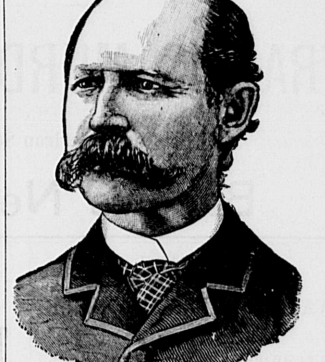

NEWTON LAUNDRY

J. FRED RICHARDSON. Thornton (formerly School) St., near Washington St., Newton.

Best and Most Modern Improved Facilities for Laundering by Steam.

Without injury to clothing of any description. Send postal and team will call for and deliver work.

TERMS—Cash on Delivery.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 SHOE. FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only fine calf $3 Seamless Shoe in the world made without tacks or nails. As stylish and durable as those costing $5 or $6, and having no tacks or nails to wear the stocking or hurt the feet, makes them as comfortable and well fitting as a hand sewed shoe. Buy the best. None genuine unless stamped on bottom—W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe warranted.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand sewed well shoe, which equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $9.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unequalled for wear.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE is worn by all Boys, and is the best school shoe in the world.

All the above goods are made in Congress, Button and Lace, and if not sold by your dealer, write W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

G. E. BARROWS, Agent.

FARNHAM'S BLOCK, CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

ALL PERSONS troubled with their door or house bells not working, are invited to examine the Zimard Pneumatic Bell, which works with no wires. No batteries to get out of order. BARBER BROS.

DO YOU KNOW

That you can save money by buying your GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, WOODENWARE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES, at

W. B. WHITTIER'S? I am adding every day to my stock, and making Lower Prices than ever. Come here and pay cash for a month and you will never run a bill again.

W. B. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,

Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies. Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

GOLD MEDAL, PARIS, 1878.

BAKER'S

Breakfast Cocoa.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 7909.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

FOR THE SUMMER.

Subscribers to the GRAPHIC can have their papers mailed to any address for the summer without extra charge. Those who are not subscribers, can have the paper sent to any address three months for 50 cents.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN.

The only change in the situation in the Ninth District this week is the announcement that Hon. I. T. Burr is not a candidate, and that it will be useless to consider his name in connection with the nomination. This decision will be learned with regret by his friends, as it is just such sound and conservative business men that are needed in Congress. Consequently all further discussion of Mr. Burr's tariff views is distinctly out of place, and there will be no further need of making the ridiculous charge that he is a free trader, a charge that never had a particle of truth in it, as those who made it knew very well.

Mr. Burr's refusal to be considered a candidate will probably add to the number of Hon. Levi C. Wade's supporters, as it is well known that Mr. Burr considers him admirably suited for the position of Congressman from this district. As Mr. Wade has joined the Home Market Club, nothing can be said against his orthodoxy on the tariff question, but those who realize the necessity of reducing the surplus know Mr. Wade's reputation for intelligence, and will have perfect confidence in his ability to represent the views of the intelligent voters of the district. It has been granted on all sides, that Mr. Wade is one of the ablest men in the district, and is fitted both by experience and natural qualities to give the district more prominence and influence in Washington than it has had for the last dozen years, at least. In the State Legislature he left such a brilliant record that it is still remembered to his credit, and his career since has proved that it is just such able men that are needed in the national legislature.

The only thing that has been brought up against him is the fact that he bolted Mr. Lyman's second nomination some six years ago, but that is a dead issue, and it is puerile to bring it up at this time. This district wants its best man to represent it, and the best man should be nominated and elected even if he has bolted every nomination of his party, or has just been converted from the democracy. The strongest Republicans available are needed in the Massachusetts delegation, as has been abundantly proved by the records of the present Congress, and when so many of the leading Republicans are to retire, the delegation now in Congress will stand doubly in need of bracing up.

One point in Mr. Wade's favor, which alone ought to secure him an election, is his extensive acquaintance with Mexican affairs and the resources of that country. We hear a great deal about the need of increasing our trade with Mexico, and of the need of legislation towards that end, and who is better fitted to give sound advice as to what should be done, than such a man as Mr. Wade, who has had extensive business dealings with that country.

THE TAX RATE.

The assessors have completed their labors and have fixed the tax rate at $13.20, which is 60 cents less than last year, but $1.20 more than in 1886. The increase over two years ago is partly due to the increase in the State and county taxes, and partly to new school and other buildings. The fact that the rate is lower than last year is due in large measure to the careful economy of the present city government, which has been cautious about engaging in new and expensive enterprises, and has looked with a considerable degree of care after the city expenditures.

The assessors have been very diligent in looking after taxable property, as the increased valuation will show. The decrease in personal property is due mainly to the fact that no large estates have been divided up the past year, as was the case the year previous, and the fact that the personal estate discovered by the assessors only foots up a little over nine millions, shows that Newton people are not extravagant in their holding of such property.

The increase of nearly a million in the valuation of real estate is a very satisfactory indication of the growth of the city, as most of it is represented by new houses, to be occupied by the owners. Few suburban cities can show a more steady and healthy growth than Newton, and in spite of the many new buildings, vacant houses are still as scarce as ever. No suburb offers greater advantages, in the way of well-paved streets and sidewalks and pure city water, while our educational advantages, in the way of public schools and libraries, are unsurpassed.

The increase of the population is also shown by the increase of 223 in taxed polls, over the number for the year preceding. Allowing five inhabitants for every voter, which is the usual ratio, the population of the city would be over 29,000, and there is little doubt but that it is at least 25,000. If the expenses of the city are increasing, it is evident that the valuation and population are increasing also, in nearly equal ratio.

Fifteen dollars a thousand is not an immoderate rate, compared with the other towns and cities in the State, and with the proper care on the part of the city government the rate can easily be kept at that figure for many years to come, unless the management of the county and State becomes too extravagant.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

A prominent physician of the city, who has made a rather extended study of the question in many places both in this country and in Europe, says that there is no need of a sewerage system in Newton, at least for many years to come. The dangers from sewers would more than counter-balance the advantages. With our detached houses, each of which has more or less land about it, a proper cess-pool would answer every purpose, if properly built and regularly inspected. For this purpose he would have all of these receptacles placed under the charge of the city, and the proper officials appointed to care for them, and see that they were kept in good condition. They should be emptied by the city teams, and the expense of their care be provided for in the tax levy, the same as the highway repairs and improvements.

If this plan is a feasible one, it would save the city the expense of building a sewer, and it is certainly a relief to hear from the other side of the question. The sewer advocates have so far had it all their own way, and their prophecies have agitated the public mind with forebodings, until they were forgotten. Certainly, so far, the health of the city has not suffered, the reports showing that Newton is the healthiest city in the state, and we have been remarkably free from the contagious diseases, which prevail in the well-sewered cities.

CONGRESSMAN COLLINS will leave Washington pretty thoroughly disgusted with the cumbersome and obstructive machinery of the lower House, and the same sentiments are probably entertained by Congressman Long, although he is too polite to say so. Mr. Collins says that legislation in Washington consists "in going to a man begging him to withdraw an objection to a measure you know the majority of the House is in favor of. There is no chance for a fair fight, as there was in the Massachusetts Legislature. There you were either licked or you won. Business was disposed of in some way, and it is disposed of in the courts. It may take time, but it is done. But in the House you never can get anywhere. One man can block legislation." There is more truth than poetry in this criticism, and the rules of Congress seem to have been framed solely for the purpose of blocking legislation. When Mr. Collins says that he feels "as though I had accomplished only the most trifling things during the six years I have been here," he expresses, probably, the sentiment which all the honest Congressmen have of their life in Congress, and it is not surprising that so many of the most intelligent Congressmen have refused to accept another nomination.

EVERY Republican Governor of the State, except Talbot, has been given a third term, since John A. Andrews accepted the office, and people are asking what Gov. Ames has done that this precedent should not be followed in his case. His administration is acknowledged to have been an excellent one, so no fault can be found with that. His appointments may not have been satisfactory to the politicians, but it is admitted that nothing can be said against the men he has chosen. They are of the same high character as that of Robert R. Bishop, of this city, whom Governor Ames appointed a judge, and the deserved honor to a Newton citizen has made the Governor very popular here. One seeks in vain for any reason why Governor Ames should not have the support of his party for a third term, when he has so fairly earned it. This seems to be the sentiment of Newton, and he will probably have the united support of the Newton delegates.

THE JUTE OR GUNNY BAG TRUST is the latest organization and has put up the price of cloth from six and a half to over ten cents. The cotton planters have to use over fifty million yards of this cloth for baling their fibre, so that the Trust expect to make a handsome thing out of it. It is to the credit of Massachusetts that the Ludlow Mills have refused to join in the ring, and will continue to sell at seven cents a yard, and the outcome of their fight with the trust will be watched with interest. So far as heard from the partners in the trust have not advanced the wages of their workmen, and are not paying more than the rate paid by the Ludlow Mills.

This week has been rather dull in politics, but it is possible to find just the kind of news one wants by only choosing the right paper. The Boston Traveler and Journal have triumphantly carried every Northern state and several Southern ones, nearly every day this week; the Post and Globe have cut down the majorities in all the solid Republican states and carried all the doubtful ones, while the Herald has given all the news that came, no matter which side was favored, which shows the advantage that a newspaper has over an organ.

GEN. DRAPER ought to be popular with the newspapers, for his managers are liberal advertisers. The Salem News publishes a sketch of Gen. Draper's military and civil career, such as has appeared in numerous other Republican papers, and explains in its editorial columns that the article "was accepted as legitimate advertising and paid for as such, and is in no sense to be taken as reflecting the editorial views of this paper." This is honest, certainly, and the News sets an admirable example to many other papers in the state.

The suggestion made by the GRAPHIC last week that General Draper should be sent to the Legislature, has been received with great favor. It would give him a valuable experience in legislative matters, and his ability as a speaker would make him a valuable member. He would then be in the line of promotion for the higher offices to which he aspires. If he has the ability which is claimed for him, he could easily secure the position of leader of the House, an honor that is worth any man's ambition.

No general in the late war came nearer to the popular heart than Sheridan, his brilliant career made him the people's hero, and his death is mourned by the whole country. People who never saw him feel saddened by his death, and the messages sent have more real feeling and less of formality than is usual when a noted man dies.

WHEN Senator Sherman is not a candidate, he is one of the most level-headed statesmen in the Republican party. In the Senate on Tuesday he said that anything that tended to promote free trade with Canada would meet with his hearty support. A line of customs houses and fortifications on the northern border he described as the "height of nonsense" and almost a crime against civilization.

POSITIONS under government certainly have great attractions, where there are a thousand applicants for the 50 odd extra carriers to be appointed in Boston. Under the old system of political appointments what a chance this would have been for the bosses.

GEN. CLINTON B. FISK and Hon. John A. Brooks, the prohibition candidates, are ahead of both the other presidential tickets, with their letters of acceptance.

DR. BURDEN is mentioned as the successor of Congressman Long, but it is to be hoped that the second district will do better than this.

MARRIED.

CUTLER-THAYER-At West Medway, August 8, by R. V. Calvin Cutler of Auburndale, Emma Sarah Thayer of West Medway to Sanford Lyman Cutler, son of the officiating clergyman.

DIED.

STONE-In Freetown, Mass., July 29th, Mary C. Stone, wife of Samuel Stone, formerly of Oak Hill, Newton.
ROBINSON-In Boston, August 8th, suddenly, Frank M. Robinson, aged 38 yrs.
FULLER-In Nantasket, August 7, Alice Ewing, daughter of J. Cheever and Mary E. Fuller of West Newton, aged 2 mos 23 days.
COSTELLO-In Newton, August 1, Walter, son of Walter and Catherine Costello, aged 5 yrs 3 mos.
HICKEY-In Newton, August 3, infant daughter of Michael and Bridget Hickey, aged 1 mo 6 days.
EATON-In Newton, August 2, infant son of Albert and Mary Eaton.
BUTLER-In Auburndale, August 3, Frank A. Butler, aged 25 yrs, 6 mos.
LOCKHART-In Newton, infant son of Walter S. and Alberta M. Lockhart, aged 5 mos, 7 days.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LOST-Lady's wrap between Waban Park and Tremont streets, Newton. Finder please address T. J. Hartnet, Newton.
WANTED-A few smart girls to work in a worsted mill. Steady work and good wages. Apply Nonantum Worsted Co., Chapel St., Newton. 44-2t
WANTED A Protestant girl to do general housework in a family of five, where another girl is kept. Apply to J. E. Bacon, Prospect street, West Newton. 44-1t
FOR SALE-A light express wagon, in good order. Apply to Charles F. Rand, 417 Centre street, opp. Public Library, Newton. 43it
FOR SALE-A small upright refrigerator, in excellent condition. Apply to Charles F. Rand, 417 Centre street, opp. Public Library, Newton. 43it
WANTED-By a young lady, permanent board in a private family, easy walking from station preferred. Address L. T. Graphic office. 43 it
BOARD WANTED-Room and board, for man, wife, and child, 8 years old. Wants one or seven. Address box 675 Newton. 43 it
FOR SALE-A second-hand covered buggy in perfect repair; Hall's make; cost $400; price $100. Call on W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 43 3t
LOST-In 9:02 train from West Newton to Boston, July 26, a silk umbrella with silver handle with monogram "L. B. F.". Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at F. L. Felton's, Chestnut street, West Newton. 43
TO LET-A nice tenement in Newtonville. Rent $11 per month. Apply to D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street. Telephone 5178. 43
FOR ONE YEAR-Furnished house to let at West Newton, in September, 7 minutes walk from railroad station. Address P. O. Box 201, West Newton. 43
TO LET-In Webster Park, West Newton, a nice sunny house of nine rooms, possession given immediately. Inquire of Robert Bennett, West Newton. 42 1/2t
FOR SALE-A nice family cow, part Dutch, part Jersey. Address P. O. Box 95, Newtonville. 42 2t
A RARE OPPORTUNITY-A party giving up housekeeping offers for sale all the furniture, carpets, curtains, etc., at a bargain. Been used little over a year. Also house to rent; is very near depot. Address P. O. Box 206, Newtonville. 42
FOR SALE OR TO LET-Three medium sized houses, with nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, at very reasonable rates. Address P. O. Box 201, Newton. 42
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Richard J. Morley has applied for a permit to erect a private stable on Jewett street, Ward 1. L. F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk. 42 1/2t

GRAND AUCTION SALE

AT WINTHROP HIGHLANDS,

WINTHROP, MASS.,

-OF OVER-

200 Choice Cottage Lots

-BEHOLDING TO THE-

WINTHROP SHORE LAND CO.,

On August 15, 16, 17 and 18,
at 3 o'clock P. M.,
each day.

Special inducements offered to purchasers building within a year.

TERMS EASY.

All lands put up will be sold absolutely without reserve.
Any information desired before the sale as to terms or otherwise may be had at the office of the company, 350 Atlantic avenue, Boston, or of GEO. E. JOSELYNE, real estate agent, at his office in Winthrop.

Winthrop Shore Land Co.

350 Atlantic Avenue, Boston.

Evergreen Trees.

For August planting. A large stock of choice kinds, not excelled in the country in extent, quality and cheapness.

From Aug. 20 to Sept. 20

I will contract to plant and warrant to live. Send for a Catalogue.

WABAN, NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

W. C. Strong.

State Normal School, FRAMINGHAM.

The next term will begin, with entrance examination, on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 12. For circulars apply to MISS ELLEN HYDE, Principal.

ARTHUR HUDSON.

Analytical and Pharmaceutical CHEMIST AND APOTHECARY.

(25 years experience in the business.)

WARNER'S BLOCK, NEWTON
Cor. Centre and Elmwood streets.

A full line of Chemicals of Standard Purity always in stock.
Physicians' prescriptions compounded with accuracy at all hours.
Proprietary Medicines and Druggists' Sundries.

CHEMISTRY.

With a large and thoroughly appointed Laboratory, Mr. Hudson offers his services in the line of his profession. Investigation as to the composition of matter conducted by analyses of syntheses, according to most approved methods. Analysis of potable waters, milk, etc., a specialty.

The Senior Druggist of Newton.

TELEPHONE 7979.

DR. FIELD

After July 31st, will give up his house on Franklin Street and occupy a suite of rooms at
MRS. FRANKLAND'S,
Centre Street, near Franklin.

BUTTER.

WELLINGTON HOWES

Offers Newton people the choice of the two most famous creameries in the country.

-Otter Brook- CREAMERY

butter comes from Lancaster, N. H., fresh every week, packed in five pound boxes and nothing better can be had.

Maple City CREAMERY

butter comes in 20 lb. tubs, and is the genuine gilt-edge article. Other good brands of CREAMERY and DAIRY BUTTER can also be found at

Newton City MARKET,

Centre St., Opp. Public Library, Newton.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

THE GREAT TOURIST ROUTE TO ALL THE Health and Pleasure Resorts

EASTERN AND NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND, CANADA AND THE PROVINCES.

WINNEPESAUKEE, SUNAPEE, CHAMPLAIN, MICHIGAN LAKES, ST. JOHN, RANGELEY AND MOOSEHEAD LAKES.

White Mountains, Mt. Desert, Green Mountains, And all Beaches North of Boston.

MONTREAL AND QUEBEC, ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX.

EXCURSION TICKETS.

Good going and returning until Oct. 31, are on sale at the Principal Offices of the Company.

RATES FROM BOSTON:
Alex'dria Bay, N.Y., $18.50	Gloucester 1.50
Alburgh Spgs., Vt., 12.50	Greenland 2.50
Alton Bay 3.50	Hampton 2.50
Amherst, N.H. 2.40	Haverhill, N.H. 8.60
Ashland, N.H. 5.90	Higginville, N.H. 12.50
Bar Harbor, all rail 11.50	Hillsboro, N.H. 4.25
Bethlehem, N.H. 11.50	Ipswich 1.30
Bridford or Saco 4.00	Iles of Shoals 4.00
Bristol, N.H. 4.50	Jefferson, N.H. 11.00
Burlington, Vt. 11.50	Keene, N.H. 5.40
Camden, N.H. 5.50	Kennebunk 3.50
Centre Harbor 4.00	Kennebunkport 3.90
Crawford Ho. N.H. 11.00	Lacomb, N.H. 4.00
Crawford's 10.50	Lake Village, N.H. 4.00
Colebrook, N.H. 12.30	Lancaster, N.H. 10.75
Conway, 6.25	Lebanon, N.H. 6.25
Dublin, N.H. 5.00	Lisbon, N.H. 9.75
Ea. Lebanon, N.H. 6.10	Littleton, N.H. 10.00
East Salisbury 2.00	Madison 5.60
East Wakefield 4.00	Magnolia 1.30
Enfield, N.H. 6.00	Manchester, Mass. 1.20
Fabyan's, N.H. 11.00	Maplewood, N.H. 11.20
Franklin, N.H. 4.25	Marblehead Neck .90
Rockport 1.75	Woodsville, N.H. 8.90
3.50	Rye Beach 3.50
16.00	St. Albans, Vt. 12.00
9.50	St. Johnsbury, Vt. 10.00
8.60	Mt. Pleasant, N.H. 11.00
12.50	Mt. Washington, N.H. 17.00
8.65	Stowe, Vt. 11.00
1.30	Sunapee, N.H. 5.50
4.00	Swanton, Vt. 12.50
6.50	Tilton, N.H. 4.25
2.60	Twin Mt. Ho., N.H. 10.75
7.70	Warren, N.H. 7.60
6.75	Weirs, N.H. 4.00
4.00	Wells, N.H. 8.80
4.00	Wentworth House 4.00
5.00	West Ossipee 5.50
6.30	Whitfield, N.H. 10.50
4.50	White River J., Vt. 6.40
3.00	Wilton, N.H. 2.75
1.00	Wolfsboro, N.H. 4.00
13.50	Woodstock, N.H. 7.40
18.00	Woodstock, Vt. 7.90
1.75	Woodsville, N.H. 8.90

*Good only while steamer is running on Lake Winnepesaukee, from about the middle of June to the middle of October. (Good only between June 15 and October 15.)

FAST EXPRESS TRAINS LEAVE BOSTON.

Western Div. Station, Haymarket Sq. Low II System, Boston & Lowell Station
For Lake Winnepesaukee, Wolfboro and Centre Harbor, at 5.30 a.m., and 1 p.m.
For Portland, Bangor and Bar Harbor Boston & Mt. Desert Limited, composed entirely of Pullman Vestibuled Parlor Cars, in which an extra fare is charged, 5.15 a.m. arrive in Bar Harbor 5.35 p.m.
For Kennebunkport, Old Orchard and Seabrook Beaches and Portland, 7.30, 8.30 a.m., 1, 4 and 6 p.m.
Eastern Division Station, Causeway St.
For the White Mountains and Lake Winnepesaukee, North Conway, Crawford's and Fabyan's, 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m.
For Bar Harbor, at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.
For Portland, Bangor, St. John and Halifax, at 9 a.m. and 12.30 and 7 p.m.
For the Beaches, 9.30 a.m., 12.30, 3.15 and 7 p.m.

STEAMBOAT TRAINS.

Leave Causeway street station at 12.30 and Haymarket Square station at 1 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, for Eastport, Calais, and St. John, and Haymarket Square station at 6 p.m. and Causeway street station at 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays for Rockland, Castine, Southwest and Bar Harbor. Parlor and Buffet Cars on all above trains and Sleeping Cars on Night Trains.

CITY TICKET OFFICE, BOSTON, 218 Washington Street.
JAS. T. FURBER, Gen'l Manager. D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l Passenger Agt.

CHARLES F. RAND, AUCTIONEER.

REAL ESTATE. MORTGAGES. INSURANCE.

Office, No. 417 Centre st., Newton.

Opposite Public Library.

OPEN FROM 7 O'CLOCK A. M., TO 7 P. M.

Properties in Newton and Allston a Specialty.

At Boston office, No. 113 Devonshire street, Room 23, (Minot's Building), from 10.30 to 11.45 on Tuesdays and Fridays only—through July and August.

Estates for Sale. Houses to Rent. MONEY TO LOAN.

Storage Furniture

I have 20 rooms in Cole's Block, also 10 rooms in Brackett's New Block, opposite the Public Library, fitted up with lock and one key only to each room, which is held by the occupant. These rooms are to rent at all prices from $1.50 to $5.00 per month; no better places for Storage in this City.

If in want of rooms to store Pianos, Organs or furniture of any kind call and examine them.

CHARLES F. RAND, Real Estate Office.

Charles F. Rand.

PRIVATE TUITION

1852 ESTABLISHED 1887

SUMMER. HUBBARD & PROCTER, PHARMACISTS,

Mr. Edward H. Cutler, Successors to Washington St., Newton.
Chas. F. Rogers,
BRACKETT'S BLOCK,
NEWTON, MASS.

TO LET.

Waverly Ave. near Washington st., Ward 7,

Small house of 6 rooms, bath and laundry, all improvements. Possession May 1, 1888. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St. Boston, or J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. 28 1/2t

Branch Store, Nonantum,
A. J. Macomber,
WATCHMAKER, JEWELER and OPTICIAN.
Watertown St., near the Post Office.
Everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention at low prices

NEWTONVILLE.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at J. V. Sullivan's.

—Mrs. J. V. Sullivan has gone to Concord on a short visit.

—Mr. W. H. Powers is enjoying a fishing trip at Plymouth, Mass.

—Miss Annie Payson Cell is spending her vacation in Maine.

—Dr. Talbot has purchased a handsome new horse and carriage.

—Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are at the Atlantic house, Nantasket.

—Miss H. Jackson is at Coleman Heights Cottage, Seltimate Harbor.

—Mr. J. P. Morton is at Elmwood cottage, White House Beach, Plymouth.

—Mr. Dudley Porter and family are at the Clifford House, Plymouth beach.

—Mrs. John L. Roberts is spending a few weeks at Burlington, Vt.

—Mr. Ellhu Smead has returned from his visit to Greenfield, Mass.

—Mr. F. Curtis and family have taken a cottage for the month of August at Nantasket.

—Mr. C. A. Rice has returned from his trip to West Woburn, Me.

—Mr. W. S. Lawrence and family have gone to New York for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bean are spending a few weeks at Lexington, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dickinson are summering at North Falmouth, Mass.

—Mrs. H. S. Langdon and family are summering at North Conway, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Leavitt are enjoying a few weeks rest at Fort Popham, Me.

—Master Gilbert Holaway has been spending a few days with friends here.

—The dressmaking establishment of the Misses Cunningham has closed until Sept. 3.

—Miss Addie Lewis left Saturday for Centerville, where she will spend her vacation.

—Mrs. J. W. Fenno and daughter and Mrs. Powers are summering at New Bedford.

—The sidewalks and crossings have been repaired on Central avenue and Washington and Lowell streets.

—The postoffice has undergone a thorough cleaning process and looks neat and attractive.

—May, S. A. Ranlett and family have gone to Billerica, Mass., to be absent about a month.

—Mrs. H. S. Calley returned today from Plymouth, Mass., where she has been spending her vacation.

—Miss A. E. Chisholm, accompanied by Miss Stone of Lynn, have gone to Hartford, Vt., where they will spend a few weeks.

—Mrs. Henry K. and Miss Gertrude and Master Arthur Thompson are enjoying a few weeks at Sherburn.

—Miss Grace Howe of North Hadley has been spending a few weeks here at Mrs. Thompson's Clyde street.

—The Misses Cunningham and Herbert and Walter Cunningham have gone to Jefferson, Me., for a few weeks.

—Mrs. J. L. Atwood and family have gone to Brookfield, N. H., where they will remain during the summer season.

—Mr. Charles A. Kellogg has returned from Bristol, R. I., where he has been enjoying a brief rest.

—Mr. D. K. Fitch has returned from Wilmamite, Mass. Fitch and son are expected home Saturday evening.

—Mrs. George T. Lincoln with nurse and child have gone to North Brookfield, Mass., where they will remain until Sept. 1.

—Mr. J. V. Sullivan has been spending a few days at Nantasket, and Miss Florence Sylvester is taking his place in the store.

—Miss Mabel Valentine has been at home for a few days, but will return to Holliston, where she will spend the rest of the season camping.

—Mr. E. T. Wiswall has brokenground for the erection of a new double house, corner of Wiswall and Cross streets. Moore of Waltham is the contractor.

—Mr. John Dorney, the janitor of the Claffin school, who has been seriously ill, is slowly recovering and is thought to be out of danger.

—Mr. J. T. Pulsifer, the genial book keeper at A. A. Savage's, starts next week on his vacation. He goes to Poland, Me., and will be absent two or three weeks.

—Wyman's nine played an interesting game of ball with Brewer's nine on the Magnolia grounds last Saturday afternoon, defeating the latter club by a score of 23 to 10.

—Mr. H. V. Livingstone has moved into his house corner of Washington Park and Walnut streets. The alterations and improvements to the dwelling have been completed.

—Mr. E. W. Bailey is building an addition to his house on Cabot street. The building has been raised and other alterations made, rendering it a very attractive dwelling.

—Rev. J. E. Bemis of the Vermont Conference, preached at the Methodist church last Sunday, and will continue to occupy the pulpit until the return of the pastor, Rev. G. S. Butters.

—John Payne dispensed a large amount of soda last Sunday. The thermometer was 98 in the shade and the people were generally suffering from the heat and very thirsty.

—Mr. Harry Corey and wife are at Cottage City where they will remain until the conclusion of the great cycle meet, and under the auspices of the Massachusetts division of the L. A. W.

—The flag was displayed at half mast in the square soon after daylight Monday as a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Gen. Sheridan. The flags were generally displayed at half mast on all the public buildings.

—Miss Lulu Pinkham has returned home from the West, owing to a serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism. The journey was made under great difficulties, but the sufferer is as comfortable as could be expected.

—The wedding of Miss Cranston and Mr. William H. Purdy is among the near social events. The Dr. Frisbie house on Beach street, recently purchased by Mr. Purdy, is being fitted up for the young couple.

—Mr. Harry A. Pike, who has leased Dr. Newton's house on Harvard street, will be married to Miss Bessie A. Perley of Lebanon, N. H., on Thursday, Sept. 6th, at the residence of the bride's parents. They will reside in Newtonville.

—Mayor Kimball was one of the members of the Mayor's Club that accepted the invitation of the Boston Board of Health to inspect the Quarantine Service. The party left Lincoln's wharf at one o'clock Wednesday, on the steamer Vigilant and spent a very pleasant day.

—The Railroad Commissioners are on a tour of inspection of the Boston & Albany Railroad. On Tuesday they put in an appearance at Newtonville, and looked over the depot and grounds. The well arranged flower beds and neatly kept lawns seemed to meet their approval.

—The many friends of Miss Sadie Holmes of Salem will learn with pleasure that she will make her debut this coming season in leading dramatic roles. She has been engaged to support the talented actor, Thomas Keene, and will appear as Ophelia in "Hamlet," Desdemona in "Othello," and Julie in "Rochester." As an eleventh and reader, she met with deserved success, and her future will be watched with eager interest.

—On Tuesday evening an accident was narrowly averted just above the Harvard street crossing, where a gang of men were at work on the tracks. The 5.30 outward train was approaching the station and was passing by an inward train, when the workmen's train came dashing along on No. 3 track, and was not seen by the men until almost onto them. They jumped off the track just as the engine and car went tearing by. This train should be run at a lower rate of speed and with more judgment.

—At a meeting of Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., held in its hall in Claffin block, Thursday evening, Rodney M. Lucas was elected commander to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Austin T. Sylvester. George M. Fiske was elected junior vice commander in place of Rodney M. Lucas. Mr. Sylvester's resignation was due to increasing business responsibilities which required his full time and attention. It was voted to appropriately celebrate the 20th anniversary of the post on the first Thursday in September.

—A gentleman, a former resident of Newtonville is here for a few days and his friends here grieved him not a little in regard to a house he sold on Walnut street which keeps settling. Those who know say that the estate is the abiding place of the lovely and pleasant voiced bird frog. The gentleman referred to with three others took dinner at the Newton Club a few days since where an elegant meal was enjoyed. When the fish course came on, bull puddies in delicious gravy were served, but only one of the party partook of the luscious and tempting froggies. After dinner, the gentleman adjourned to the billiard hall, but one of their number suddenly departed and when found by his friends was looking quite ill, the frogs having proved too rich for him. Nevertheless there is a great demand for bull puddies on Walnut street.

—The death of Harriet N. White, widow of the late Elisha White, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. T. C. Nickerson, on Sunday last, removes an old and respected resident from our midst. For many years she resided on Newton street, and she was beloved and esteemed by a wide circle in the community. A kind neighbor, sympathetic in time of trouble, she suffered the rough passages in life with loving hands and a cheerful smile. She was a kind and loving wife and mother and her character, although simple, was full of sweetness and worth. A true Christian woman, her loss will be sincerely mourned. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from the late residence of the deceased. Beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the casket and the remains were interred in the Newton cemetery.

—The sudden departure of Mrs. A. K. D. Dalton, who recently opened a boarding house on Clyde street, is a matter of distress to some of the store keepers. A few weeks ago she hired a house on Clyde street for four years, and started a boarding house. In order to have it furnished in good style, she visited Boston and interviewed different dealers with the result that the house was carpeted nicely from top to bottom and well supplied with substantial and attractive furniture, although most of the goods were obtained on credit. She ordered an ash chamber set from Messrs. Luther Bent & Co., Watertown, and the services of Henry Collier's paper hanger of that town to put up the curtains, a little bill of $24, which is among the ones still unpaid. She opened house, but no boarders came. She waited three months and still they came not. During that time she was running bills with the grocer, the butcher, baker, coal dealer, milk dealer and other parties. Three weeks ago she got tired and sought a change. One day, in carrying a well filled trunk, she passed away from Newtonville into the shades of the unknown. A day or two afterwards dealers of whom she had purchased goods received each a tender bill, stating briefly that she would "run up from the seashore" and see them in a few days. They were thus further lulled to sleep. A few days later large numbers were seen at the deserted Dalton homestead. One of these teams was marked "Hatch's Auction Rooms." The furniture was loaded on, carried away and presumably sold in the auction rooms of Boston. Then inquiries were made in vain for Mrs. Dalton. The victims consulted with each other in sorrow, but it was of no pecuniary avail, and it is estimated that the house furnishings and store bills incurred must amount to upwards of $1000.

WEST NEWTON.

—Mr. G. A. Frost is at Wianno, Mass.

—Mrs. J. P. Eager is at Lanesville, Mass.

—Miss Kathie Russell is at Winthrop, Mass.

—Rev. W. H. Daniels has returned to his home in West Newton.

—Mr. S. T. Allen has returned from his visit to New York City.

—Miss Florence Homer is visiting friends at Castine and Bar Harbor, Me.

—Mr. Vernon E. Carpenter and family return this week from Bar Harbor, Me.

—Mr. Fred Cook, the popular young grocer, is spending his vacation at Bar Harbor.

—Miss Agnes Hale of Chicopee is visiting her sister Miss Annie Hale, Watertown street.

—Mr. Fisher Ames and family have returned from a month at the White Mountains.

—Rev. T. A. York of Watertown officiated at high mass at St. Bernard's church last Sunday morning.

—Miss Hattie Avery and Mr. Ellory Peabody are among recent arrivals at the Beachcroft House, East Gloucester.

—Mrs. Marous Morton, Miss Alice Morton, and Mr. Chester Morton, have gone to Marblehead Neck for a fortnight.

—Mr. George M. Chase and family are in Philadelphia, Pa., on a visit to Mr. Chase's father. They will be absent about a month.

—Mrs. E. Lodge, Master Stanley Bullock, and Mr. Marjorie Bullock, and nurse, returned from the Iron Mountain House, White Mountains.

—Miss Emma Nickerson left Wednesday for Provincetown, where she will spend the rest of the month with her grandmother.

—Mr. A. D. Wood received a prize for a handsome display of cut flowers, at the Horticultural Society's show in Boston last Saturday.

—Rev. H. J. Patrick paid a flying visit home Saturday, but started again Monday morning for the sea shore and vacation attractions.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Tolman arrived home Monday from Europe. They came by way of New York City, where they spent a few days.

—Officer Libby is confined to his house by illness. Special Officer Taffe has been assigned to night work until Mr. Libby is able to resume his duty.

—Officer Libby was able to resume his duty on the night patrol at West Newton, Thursday evening, having recovered from his recent sickness.

—Mr. Thomas Mague has purchased the Moffet house, River street, and the building has been removed to the Mague farm. It will be altered over and arranged for two families.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Cheever Fuller have the sympathy of their many friends in the death of their infant daughter, Alice Ewing Fuller, at Nantasket, Tuesday.

—Capt. C. E. Davis started Thursday evening on his vacation, arriving at Laco, N. H. in the evening. He goes to North Woodstock, N. H., and will enjoy himself in hunting and fishing.

—The police head quarters has been supplied with one of the latest improved telephones. It is a great addition to the room and one very much needed as the old instrument was one of the first in use and could not always be relied on.

—The alterations at police headquarters are nearly completed and the rail which encloses the sergeant's desk has received a bright coat of varnish and looks quite attractive after a long time in use and use among the recent additions.

—The special descriptive article published in last week's GRAPHIC in regard to the important improvements upon the Elliott estate has been perused by a large number of readers who are always anxious to get the latest information in regard to enterprises of such a character.

—Since our last issue 23 cases have been disposed of in the police court, as follows: Drunks, 11; assault and battery, 4; violation of dog law, 3; disturbance of the peace, 2; cruelty to animals, 1; trespass, 1; violation of the liquor law, 1. For the past few days, it has been unusually quiet and the number of arrest comparatively small.

—Residents of Highland street were annoyed Sunday by hearing some very strong singing about 2 o'clock in the morning. Slumbers were broken, but the fellow shouted away oblivious of the interrupted repose of the people of the vicinity. It won't be wise for him to appear around the neighborhood in the future.

—Mr. Gilmore is making extensive alterations upon his estate on Waltham street. He recently purchased an acre of land in the rear of his property, and has built an addition to his stable and erected a large henery. The grounds have been very prettily landscaped and a home new wall has been built in front of the residence on Waltham street.

—Miss Nina Moore, the author of "Pilgrims and Puritans," was the lecturer in the Old South course for young people, Wednesday evening, last, in Boston. "Richard Coeur de Leon and the Crusades," Miss Moore has written some text books of great merit for children, and her lecture was a fine literary effort, reflecting great credit upon herself and this place. We trust it may not be her only appearance before the public.

—Past Grand Master Levi F. Warren, F. M. Dutch, P. N. G.; George Aston, P. N. G.; attended the annual session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, held in Boston, Thursday. Mr. W. S. French of the committee of elections and returns was also present. During the day 146 past grand were admitted to the grand lodge, the largest number ever admitted in one day. Hon. Julius L. Clarke, grand treasurer, submitted his annual report.

—Agent French of the board of health, as stated in our last week's issue, has visited various stores in the city and acquainted the proprietors with the law in regard to the sale of fruit, etc. This has occasioned some misunderstanding, and some of the dealers object to what they term officious interference. The facts are these: a short time since Mr. French bought a cantelope at a fruit store and took it home to eat. When the melon was cut it was found to be green and tasteless. The next morning Mr. French visited the store and seized six melons. He then bought a cantelope and the fruit was subsequently inspected by members of the board of health and condemned, and the agent instructed to notify all the dealers of the requirements of the law. The flowers, fruit and melons must be kept on the counters or in the windows exposed for sale, but that such fruit might be kept in barrels until ripened. A visit was made to all the stores, and the proprietors told that no unripe melons must be kept on the counters or in the windows exposed for sale, but that such fruit might be kept in barrels until ripened. The law authorizes the inspector to visit places and inspect all meats, fish, vegetables, produce, fruit and provisions, and when found to be tainted, diseased, corrupted, decayed or unwholesome, and cause, he shall seize the same and order it to be destroyed or disposed of otherwise than for food. The duties of the inspector are defined clearly, and as a sworn officer he is obliged to see that the law is enforced.

AUBURNDALE.

—William H. Harris is in town for the month of August.

—George H. Bourne and family are at Marblehead for August.

—Mr. John Francy is erecting a new house on Melrose street.

—Mrs. Henry Harpin has gone for two weeks to Woodstock, Vt.

—Miss Ellen Whitteley is spending two weeks at Lancaster, Mass.

—Dr. H. P. Bellows sailed last Saturday for Europe for a much needed rest.

—Mrs. Jennie Darling Fulson was the guest of Mrs. Nathaniel Nye last week.

—Mr. V. A. Pluta and family started Monday for the Weirs, to be absent a few weeks.

—Patrick Casey is making alterations and additions to his house on Melrose street.

—Miss Charlotte Hazen and Miss Miller are with a camping party near Squam Lake, N. H.

—The family of Mr. W. I. Goodrich are at So. Yarmouth, Mass., for the rest of the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Darling are among recent guests at the Intervale House, White Mountains.

—Mr. E. E. Staples, the clerk at the Woodland Park, is enjoying a few days rest at Bar Harbor.

—G. S. Stewart and H. S. Smith leave next Monday for Newport, Vt., where they will spend a few weeks.

—Capt. Baker has recovered from his indigestion and returned from Middleboro Monday afternoon.

—Mrs. Mary E. Whall and her daughter Ethel are spending a few weeks with friends at Pigeon Hill, Riverside.

—Mr. Ward Rice and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepard, are spending a few weeks at Nantasket.

—The pall bearers at the Butler funeral were: Harry, Newell, Alfred Oldrieve, Frank Kendall, Arthur Winslow and Thos. Hall.

—Would that the weather-vane of the gentleman who lives on the top of the hill might be blown in the benefit of suffering humanity in that vicinity!

—Mrs. Annie Smith, the house keeper at the Woodland Park Hotel, has returned from Bar Harbor, where she has been spending her vacation.

—Mr. Fred Smith, formerly the proprietor of the barber shop in this village, and who has been residing in Vermont, was here on a short visit this week.

—On the first page this week will be found a brief and interesting description of the Church of the Messiah with a handsome illustration of the new ecclesiastical edifice.

—Mr. A. Lincoln Fowle leaves on Friday for the Kearsarge House, North Conway, where he will have charge of the athletics for some weeks.

—E. O. Jordan has spent this week at the National Biological station at Wood's Hill, Mass. Mr. Jordan was graduated from the Technology in May in the Natural History course.

—The following guests have registered at the Woodland Park Hotel during the week: Edward A. Newell, Dr. Wm. Ingalls, Ellen S. Munroe, E. B. Warner, Moses W. Richardson, H. Staples Potter of Boston; Mr.

and Mrs. George R. Rivers, Milton; E. G. Marriott, Baraboo, Wis.

—The Hawthornes played an interesting game of ball with the Auburndales on Fowle's Park Wednesday afternoon. The Hawthornes played a strong game and defeated the Auburndales by a score of 11 to 2. Waters pitched for the Hawthornes and was very effective, striking out 10 men.

—At the 7.30 a. m. service of the new festival in honor of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Feast of the Transfiguration, Aug. 6, the number of communicants at the church of the Messiah, (especially for a rainy morning,) was quite large, being about a quarter of the whole number.

—Lieut. Morton, U. S. Regular Army, starts for his post, Ft. Lewis, Colorado, about August 12. During his visit here the lieutenant had made many warm friends, and the best wishes of many of our people will follow him in his military career. It is possible that Lieut. Morton may be ordered to Chicago, as there is a rumor in the air that his company will be ordered to that great western city.

—The prohibitionists were the first of the political parties to get out a campaign flag here, and a handsome new one was thrown out Saturday morning in the square opposite the store of Mr. H. E. Woodbury. It bears the names of the prohibition candidates, Fiske and Brooks, and the mottoes, "Death to the Saloon" and "Protection to the Home." The prohibitionists are entering into the campaign with spirit and the leaders claim a large addition to the party.

—Mr. Frank Butler, whose sickness has caused largely upon the sympathy of the community, the past year, died at his residence Friday night, Aug. 3rd, age 25 yrs. 6 mos. The funeral services were held Monday p. m., at 2.30 o'clock at the Methodist church. The casket was borne to its resting place under the altar by six pall bearers. Rev. Mr. Knox pastor of the church officiated. He read portions of scriptures selected by the deceased beginning with the psalm "The Lord is My Shepherd" and another selection "Remember Thy Creator in the Days of Thy Youth."

The remarks which followed were well adapted to the occasion, and the prayer touching and consoling leading the mourning friends to the One True Source for resignation and comfort in their afflictions. He ended by reading a poem sweet and expressive of spiritual thought, adopted for him who was resting so peacefully before any one of his young lady friends. At the close, friends were permitted to view the casket. The casket was covered with black cloth. Upon it rested a crescent of lovely roses with a picture of Frank in the center, a marked contrast to the wasted form within. On one of the silver handles was written with white satin ribbon a bouquet of white carnations. Bouquets of rare flowers and floral designs were numerous, filling the space inside the chancel rails, one pillow of tea roses has for its motto—"Rest" in violet colors, while another has the words—"Good bye." One very lovely design represents an open Bible composed of exquisite flowers, on the last page was—"Finit" in purple on a white background. A cluster of blue roses was on the other page, it rested on a bank of everlasting, while over all was an arch of tastefully arranged flowers. It was sent by the clerks on the Lowell road with whom our young friend was at one time associated in business.

Frank's illness has been a long and tedious one. Yet with all the suffering he has endured, he has ever shown a bright and patient spirit. He possessed a genial disposition and a character free from many of the faults of youth. Friends far and near testified their loving remembrance of him by tokens that contributed to his comfort and cheer. His friends, from his childhood, became fully resigned to God's will and freely conversed with those around him in reference to the last day offices to be performed for him. His last words were "My darling Mother, He has gone to the bright beyond, and now weakness and pain no longer oppress him. Let us not mourn as without hope, but rejoice in the blessed immortality that is now his."

NEW MUSIC.

—Hush! for a white rose is sleeping Sweet with the dew on his breast, Tender eyes stare their watchful sleeping, Whisper God loveth him best, So let him rest.

—Softly the shadow unfoldeth Earth with her veil begun; As on her bosom she holdeth Every slumbering one, Whose day is done.

—Hush! for a white soul is going Purely to heaven confessed; His own heart story unknown, Young with life's morning unguessed, So that is best.

—His not the strife and the fever, 'Tis not the torturing train; Dreams cannot thrill him and leave him To waken from music that is vain To passionate pain.

—So while the white rose is sleeping Sweet with the dew on his breast, Fold these cold hands without weeping, Calmly and gently to rest; God knows what is best.

We have received this week from Messrs. White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington street, the following: "The Folio" for August with a fine likeness of E. L. Davenport, Jr., as a frontispiece; "Bluthe Waltz" by G. Schroeder, for piano; "The Little Fisher Maiden Waltz, for piano; temperance song and chorus, "Please send no more drink to my father," word by Mrs. Frank B. Pratt, music by C. A. White; song and chorus, "The poor drunkard's child" by C. A. White, words by Geo. Lowell Austin, arranged by Wm. Gooch; a ballad, "On the river bank we stood," words by Thos. S. Collier, music by Roseline; and a campaign song, "Let the red bandanna wave," words and music by J. P. Skelly.

SUMMER READING.

The latest novels can be found in TAINTER'S Circulating Library!!

Also a full assortment of base ball and other sporting goods at

C. H. TAINTER'S,

(Successor to E. S. COLTON.)

Newtonville News Depot,

RESIDENCES WIRED

—FOR THE—

Electric Incandescent Light.

By our methods the Wires are concealed from view without injury to Walls, Ceilings or Decorations

ELECTRIC LAMPS ATTACHED TO GAS FIXTURES

now in use, so that either or both may be lighted when desired.

Electric House Work of Every Kind, Annunciators, Bells, Gas Lighting, Speaking Tubes

Neat and Gentlemenly Workmen, and the Best Materials.

Bodgett Brothers & Co.,

383 Federal Street, near Kneeland street, Boston.

Lion Brand Linen

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

LATEST STYLES.

J. V. Sullivan, Newtonville.

VARCOE.

WIDTH OF FRONT 2 INCH. WIDTH OF BACK 1 1/2 INCH. No. 780. TRADE MARK

NEWTONVILLE DIRECTORY

GEORGE H. TALBOT, M. D.

Office and residence, 306 Walnut Street.

Office Hours: Till 9 A. M., 4 to 6, and 7 to 8 P. M.

Newtonville, - Mass.

DR. J. J. COXETER,

DENTIST.

Room 1, Central Block,

NEWTONVILLE.

"New Perfection"

REFRIGERATORS.

Dry Air, Charcoal filled, constructed upon purely scientific principles, and the air is kept DRY AND PURE by the patent perfected system of circulation. Conceded to be the best refrigerator in the market.

For Sale By

O. B. Leavitt,

Newtonville, - - - Mass.

Bradshaw's "Home Candy" is unsophisticated, and therefore harmless to infancy, and innocuous to age. Washington St., near Square, Newtonville.

JENNIE S. CLAPP, M. D.

Physician, Surgeon,

—AND—

Scientific Electrician.

Office, Washington street, near Central avenue

Newville. Office hours till 9 a. m., 1 to 3 and 8 to 10 p. m.

Dr. Clapp cordially invites ladies to her office, for practical talks, the second and last Friday of each month from 4 to 4 p. m.

A. A. SAVAGE,

GROCER.

Has on hand a choice lot of flour at Boston prices. The stock consists of the best brands only, including

CHRISTIAN BROS.,

CROWN ROLLER,

PILLSBURY'S BEST,

BRIDAL VEIL,

CORRUGATED, &c.

Every brand is warranted and is delivered free. Patrons buying their flour in Boston will save money by giving me a call. Choice Vermont butter a specialty.

Associates' Block, Newtonville.

A First Class Investment

I have for sale FIRST Mortgages on Improved farms in Central Kansas, in sums of $400 to $1200 each, bearing 7 and 8 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest guaranteed by the

BUCHANAN MORTGAGE CO.,

of Ottawa Co., Kas.

I am personally acquainted with the men who compose this company, and also with the country, having resided there for several years. The farms are worth from three to five times the amount loaned, and rapidly increasing in value. Correspondence solicited.

D. B. NEEDHAM,

Dexter Block Newtonville.

JOHN F. PAYNE,

Associates' Block, - - - Newtonville,

REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

SUNDAY HOURS - 10 to 12:30 a. m., 12 to 2 and 4 to 9 p. m.

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

DENTISTRY.

H. E. JOHNSON, D. D. S.

(Office formerly occupied by Dr. Sanderson.)

West Newton.

References, Wm. B. Denison, Newtonville; A. F. Winslow, Auburndale; F. J. Macfarlane, D. D. S., Boston; H. C. Ballard, M. D., H. S. Kilby, M. D., and prominent citizens of North Attleboro.

Office Hours: 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Notice of Removal.

On and after May 1, the undersigned may be found at his new residence, corner Waltham and River streets, West Newton. Office hours: Till 9 A. M.; 1 to 3 P. M.; 5 P. M.

F. L. Thayer, M. D.

West Newton, April 27th, 1888.

A. L. GORDON.

SPRING and SUMMER Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, etc.

Low Shoes, Slippers and Tennis Goods for the season.

Fine Boot and Shoe Repairing a SPECIALTY.

Agency for Troy Laundry.

2 & 3 Robinson's Block,

WEST NEWTON.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton."

Boat Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

The Choicest Butter at Lowest Rates

F. M. DUTCH,

PROVISION DEALER,

Washington, Cor of Chestnut,

WEST NEWTON.

The Oldest Market in town.

S. F. CATE,

Furnishing Undertaker,

WASHINGTON STREET,

WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8119.

H. P. DEARBORN,

Meats, Fruits & Vegetables,

Choice Cuts a Specialty

CENTRAL MARKET,

THE FRIEND OF AGES AGO.

"Shouldn't acquaintance be forgotten?"
—Yes, if you'd just as lief as not.
There are several things that trouble one's soul,
And work for a man much woe,
Such as grief—and doubt—and debts that will run,
And rhyme that will not flow.
But when all has been said, do we not most dread,
Of the many losses that we know,
That ubiquitous ban, the woman or man,
Who knew one "ages ago?"

In youth—when we were young and foolish perhaps;
You flirted with high and with low,
Had one love on the hill, and one down by the mill—
Yet never were so wicked, ah, no!
And this friend knew you in a far-away way,
In a way that was only so—
Just enough to give him to the cry about you:
"Oh, I knew him ages ago!"

You are married now and quite circumspect,
Your pace, like your speech, is slow
You tell in a bank, keep silent in church—
Are one it is proper to know.
But this vigilant friend will never consent
That your virtues unchallenged shall go—
Though she never deems but only averts
That she knew you "ages ago."

And sure I am that if ever I win
To the place where I hope to go—
To sit among saints—perhaps the chief—
In raiment as white as snow,
Before me and busy among the blest—
Perhaps in the self-same row—
I shall find my ban, the woman or man,
Who knew me "ages ago."

And shall hear the voice I so oft have heard:
Do you think it is sweet and low?
As it whispers still with accent shrill
The refrain that so well I know:
"Oh, needn't be setting much store by him,
This new angel's not much of a show.
He may fool some folks, but isn't acquaint—
But I knew him "ages ago!"

Charles Henry Webb, in Century.

THE CARMICHEL LEGACY.

Three o'clock on a hot summer's afternoon in London city, with torrid sunshine in the streets and heat radiating everywhere, while the chief business going on was in fruits and ice drinks; three o'clock striking on the big bell of Bow, and repeated by the bigger bell of Paul's, as Lady Jones's carriage drew up at Gorham House, which is situated in the very vortex of the city whirlpool Lady Jones was small, thin and middle-aged, but quick and nervous in her movements, and she had alighted and reached the porch of Gorham House before the rosy footman was half-way down from his perch. Lady Jones pursued her way with no uncertain steps, for Gorham House had long been familiar to her. It was there that her late husband had his offices, the celebrated Sir Isaac Jones, who had built more town halls, theatres, chapels, and jails than any man of his time.

Lady Jones hurried into a suite of offices, where many young men were at work among plans and drawings, half buried among rolls of drawing-paper. "If Mr. Roberts is busy, I will wait," said Lady Jones, seating herself humbly on a chair in the outer office.

Presently an inner door opened, and a tall, good-looking young fellow, with dark, closely-shorn hair, made his appearance. This was Robert Carmichel, the young and able successor of Sir Isaac Jones. He was clever, he had plenty of energy and go about him; but he owed everything in life to Lady Jones—who had taken him up, adopted him, and pushed his fortune to its present agreeable height.

"My dear aunt," said the young man, coming forward and hurrying Lady Jones into his private room. "They only this moment told me you were here. What brings you into the city this broiling day? And you look so weary and worn."

"I am weary," said Lady Jones with a sigh, "weary and sad. I have just heard sad news—your poor father—"

"Well," said Robert, in a voice that expressed curiosity rather than emotion. "He is dead."

There was no mistaking the sorrowful accents in which these words were spoken; they expressed something more than ordinary grief. As for Robert, his face retained its composure.

"How did he die?" he asked.
"Of fever, in some remote part of Africa."
"You are quite sure?" asked Robert with instinctive caution. "There is no possibility of mistake?"

"My dear, it is official—through the Consul and the Foreign Office, and sent to me—expressly by his dying wish, it seems. Robert," said Lady Jones, "oh, Robert, don't you see the full significance of that?"

Robert looked puzzled. After all, his father was little more than a name to him; he had seen him only at intervals of years; for Col. Carmichel had had his headquarters in Paris, and had been, moreover, an erratic kind of being, often impetuous, and generally full of wild enterprise and adventures.

"My dear," said Lady Jones, still with suppressed emotion, "I had a letter from—your father, only a few days ago—a beautiful letter. It is a letter that if your father had lived he would have come home to us—to you and me. And, Robert," with a faint blush, "I might have been your stepmother."

"You would have married him, aunt?" cried Robert.
"Robert," he loved your father—he was my first, my only love; I don't mind confessing it now that he is dead. But read his letter, Robert, it contains a message for you."

Robert read his father's letter calmly and critically. The only paragraph that referred to him was as follows: "If you should hear of anything happening to us up the country, tell Robert. I can leave him nothing but a good name—and a certain responsibility, which I hope he will fulfil as best he can."

"Now what does that mean?" asked Robert, reading the passage aloud.
"Debts, perhaps—I must pay them," said Lady Jones hastily. "Well, that story is told. Now let us talk of the opening one. When are you going to speak to Clara?"

Now Clara was the daughter of Lady Jones's friend and neighbor, Nesbet of The Elms. She would have a good fortune, and was handsome after a massive type. Robert had known her all his life, and liked her too; but he was not in love with her or she with him. But they had acquiesced in the views of their elders, and although Clara was suspected of a preference for a young man of a merry, pleasant humor, one Harry Levinson, a subaltern in an infantry regiment, whose position was hardly substantial enough to please Mr. Nesbet.

Clara, before the other one had declared himself. And Robert assented without any great eagerness. But, as it happened, he decided the possibility of losing them. Hitherto his life, apart from a hundred chance acquaintanceships, had been, in reality, solitary and self-contained. And now, unexpectedly coming down from the skies, as it were, behind the family ties, hearts that were his own by the very fact of kindred, a tender, human sympathy which belonged to him of right, without any effort of his own to secure it. He began even to feel jealous of attempts to alter the existing state of affairs, and especially of those of his friends who suggested themselves as admirers of Denise.

And Mr. Nesbet, Clara's father, had almost come to pose in this character! The two girls, Clara and Denise, had come to be enthusiastic friends. Clara would hardly let a day pass without seeing Denise and her children. Young Levinson, too, was generally in close attendance upon Clara, a jovial, good-natured little fellow, who was always devising schemes of amusement, and whom the little ones positively adored.

But Mr. Nesbet was growing quite sentimental and melancholy. Certainly Denise was always cordial and sympathetic feelings than a doubtful kind of respect. Was it to be her fate never to know the emotions of a real passion? But the advantages were undeniable. Nesbet was rich; her children would be well provided for; as to that she could make her conditions.

"It is such a pity," said Clara to her friend one day. She was spending the afternoon in Bloomsbury, and a dinner-party was in prospect, where Nesbet and several others were expected. "It is such a pity that you should be his stepmother. You would have suited Robert so admirably as his wife. When I see you together, I always think you the most charming couple."

"Ma chere," cried Denise, blushing to the roots of her hair. "How can you suggest such dreadful things?"
"Not dreadful at all," continued Clara boldly. "It is only our narrow way of seeing them. There are some races, the Mongols, I fancy, where the father dies, and the father dies, takes over his wives as a matter of course."

Denise put her hand over Clara's mouth, and put a stop to her remarks. But they had produced a certain effect quite different from what the speaker intended. They opened Denise's eyes. She felt that she was growing too fond of Robert; their sympathies, their affections were growing together; and, in fact, the position was one that could not be indefinitely continued.

"Must escape," said Denise to herself. "And if Mr. Nesbet shows me the way of escape I must accept it."
Meantime Denise, putting aside her anxious mood, was busy and perplexed over the preparations for the dinner party. Robert had hoped that it would have been a festival of reconciliation, for Lady Jones had been invited—especially invited by Robert's letter from Denise's eyes. But Lady Jones replied, and not ill-naturedly, that she had not sufficiently recovered her temper to see either of them with any pleasure just yet. Then Mrs. Basset had been very troublesome. She had fought hard against the new condition of things; but Denise, who was strong conviction as to the right, had insisted on establishing her authority. The dinner was provided from outside, but Basset was to organize the waiting—and Basset had disappeared. According to his wife, he had been summoned to the dying bed of an aunt; but even Mrs. Basset seemed not to be inspired with strong conviction as to the right.

Basset had taken with him the key of the plate-chest—the chest being an iron safe which was designed to set burglars at defiance and which was now equally impervious to its lawful possessors. Happily young Levinson was at hand, and was despatched to Highgate to bring all available and necessary plate from "The Elms." And there was nothing lacking at the dinner table to an ordinary observer, although Robert noticed at once the absence of his own familiar belongings.

"The Bassets must clear out," said Robert, when Denise explained to him the state of affairs.
"Do not part with the Bassets," said Denise. "They know your ways, and when I am gone they will be better behaved."

"But you are not going?" said Robert. "Alas I must go," said Denise sadly. "You have been very good to me, Robert, and we have been very happy, but it must come to an end. I shall take the Nesbet plate to my own room, Robert, if you will carry it for me, for it is heavy."

Robert shouldered the box of plate and carried it off, staying for a moment to kiss the children as they lay asleep in their little cots. When he returned, Mrs. Basset was waiting to see him.
"I suppose we've got to go, sir," she said in a tone of melancholy resignation. "If you get rid of your husband you needn't," said Robert, with a touch of compunction in his voice.

"No, sir, I'll follow his fortunes to the end," she replied, sighing.
Robert had work to do, and he sat up over it till he fell asleep in his chair. He awoke feeling as cold and miserable as people generally do in such a case. As he made his way to his bedroom he thought he heard a footstep creeping along the outer corridor. Here was Basset, probably, returning from the bed side of his relative, and it occurred to Robert that the man had the key to the plate chest, and that it would be well to secure it.

Robert opened his door and looked out. The next moment he found himself sprawling on the floor, the result of a heavy blow delivered by some blunt instrument. Fortunately the main force of the blow had been expended on the door-jamb, and, although Robert was stunned for the moment he speedily recovered his senses and was able to follow his assailant, who seemed now to be engaged in forcing a door that opened into the further end of the corridor—the door that led into Mrs. Carmichel's apartments.

Just as he had succeeded in his purpose—which was executed in such a noisy, careless manner as to show that the marauder was reckless of consequences and intended to silence his victims in the shortest and surest manner; just as the door was forced and a cry of alarm was heard from within—Robert grappled with the burglar and brought him to the ground. A short but terrible struggle ensued, in which Robert proved the stronger of the two, and knelt upon his antagonist, grasping him firmly by the throat.

Denise, pale and disheveled, came forward with a light. It was Basset who lay there writhing and struggling on the ground. When Robert saw this he loosened his hold, and giving the man a contemptuous shake, bade him get up.

Just then Robert heard a latch-key turn in the outer door, and then the room door opened and Mrs. Basset's face—her face, certainly—appeared in the doorway. Robert called to her rather angrily, and bade her get something ready for his guests at once. Mrs. Basset was evidently in a bad temper, and regarded the new arrivals with unconcealed aversion.

"I thought it right my lady should know what had happened, and I have been to Highgate to tell her; and she sends her love, Mr. Robert, and will you see her tonight, please, no matter how late it may be."

Robert growled at this, but thought it better to obey Lady Jones's behests. But he saw that his guests were duly served with refreshments, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

scene of litigation and trouble, and to seek a more tranquil asylum in England with the Colonel's grown-up son, who he decided the possibility of losing them. Hitherto his life, apart from a hundred chance acquaintanceships, had been, in reality, solitary and self-contained. And now, unexpectedly coming down from the skies, as it were, behind the family ties, hearts that were his own by the very fact of kindred, a tender, human sympathy which belonged to him of right, without any effort of his own to secure it. He began even to feel jealous of attempts to alter the existing state of affairs, and especially of those of his friends who suggested themselves as admirers of Denise.

And Mr. Nesbet, Clara's father, had almost come to pose in this character! The two girls, Clara and Denise, had come to be enthusiastic friends. Clara would hardly let a day pass without seeing Denise and her children. Young Levinson, too, was generally in close attendance upon Clara, a jovial, good-natured little fellow, who was always devising schemes of amusement, and whom the little ones positively adored.

But Mr. Nesbet was growing quite sentimental and melancholy. Certainly Denise was always cordial and sympathetic feelings than a doubtful kind of respect. Was it to be her fate never to know the emotions of a real passion? But the advantages were undeniable. Nesbet was rich; her children would be well provided for; as to that she could make her conditions.

"It is such a pity," said Clara to her friend one day. She was spending the afternoon in Bloomsbury, and a dinner-party was in prospect, where Nesbet and several others were expected. "It is such a pity that you should be his stepmother. You would have suited Robert so admirably as his wife. When I see you together, I always think you the most charming couple."

"Ma chere," cried Denise, blushing to the roots of her hair. "How can you suggest such dreadful things?"
"Not dreadful at all," continued Clara boldly. "It is only our narrow way of seeing them. There are some races, the Mongols, I fancy, where the father dies, and the father dies, takes over his wives as a matter of course."

Denise put her hand over Clara's mouth, and put a stop to her remarks. But they had produced a certain effect quite different from what the speaker intended. They opened Denise's eyes. She felt that she was growing too fond of Robert; their sympathies, their affections were growing together; and, in fact, the position was one that could not be indefinitely continued.

"Must escape," said Denise to herself. "And if Mr. Nesbet shows me the way of escape I must accept it."
Meantime Denise, putting aside her anxious mood, was busy and perplexed over the preparations for the dinner party. Robert had hoped that it would have been a festival of reconciliation, for Lady Jones had been invited—especially invited by Robert's letter from Denise's eyes. But Lady Jones replied, and not ill-naturedly, that she had not sufficiently recovered her temper to see either of them with any pleasure just yet. Then Mrs. Basset had been very troublesome. She had fought hard against the new condition of things; but Denise, who was strong conviction as to the right, had insisted on establishing her authority. The dinner was provided from outside, but Basset was to organize the waiting—and Basset had disappeared. According to his wife, he had been summoned to the dying bed of an aunt; but even Mrs. Basset seemed not to be inspired with strong conviction as to the right.

Basset had taken with him the key of the plate-chest—the chest being an iron safe which was designed to set burglars at defiance and which was now equally impervious to its lawful possessors. Happily young Levinson was at hand, and was despatched to Highgate to bring all available and necessary plate from "The Elms." And there was nothing lacking at the dinner table to an ordinary observer, although Robert noticed at once the absence of his own familiar belongings.

"The Bassets must clear out," said Robert, when Denise explained to him the state of affairs.
"Do not part with the Bassets," said Denise. "They know your ways, and when I am gone they will be better behaved."

"But you are not going?" said Robert. "Alas I must go," said Denise sadly. "You have been very good to me, Robert, and we have been very happy, but it must come to an end. I shall take the Nesbet plate to my own room, Robert, if you will carry it for me, for it is heavy."

Robert shouldered the box of plate and carried it off, staying for a moment to kiss the children as they lay asleep in their little cots. When he returned, Mrs. Basset was waiting to see him.
"I suppose we've got to go, sir," she said in a tone of melancholy resignation. "If you get rid of your husband you needn't," said Robert, with a touch of compunction in his voice.

"No, sir, I'll follow his fortunes to the end," she replied, sighing.
Robert had work to do, and he sat up over it till he fell asleep in his chair. He awoke feeling as cold and miserable as people generally do in such a case. As he made his way to his bedroom he thought he heard a footstep creeping along the outer corridor. Here was Basset, probably, returning from the bed side of his relative, and it occurred to Robert that the man had the key to the plate chest, and that it would be well to secure it.

Robert opened his door and looked out. The next moment he found himself sprawling on the floor, the result of a heavy blow delivered by some blunt instrument. Fortunately the main force of the blow had been expended on the door-jamb, and, although Robert was stunned for the moment he speedily recovered his senses and was able to follow his assailant, who seemed now to be engaged in forcing a door that opened into the further end of the corridor—the door that led into Mrs. Carmichel's apartments.

Just as he had succeeded in his purpose—which was executed in such a noisy, careless manner as to show that the marauder was reckless of consequences and intended to silence his victims in the shortest and surest manner; just as the door was forced and a cry of alarm was heard from within—Robert grappled with the burglar and brought him to the ground. A short but terrible struggle ensued, in which Robert proved the stronger of the two, and knelt upon his antagonist, grasping him firmly by the throat.

Denise, pale and disheveled, came forward with a light. It was Basset who lay there writhing and struggling on the ground. When Robert saw this he loosened his hold, and giving the man a contemptuous shake, bade him get up.

scene of litigation and trouble, and to seek a more tranquil asylum in England with the Colonel's grown-up son, who he decided the possibility of losing them. Hitherto his life, apart from a hundred chance acquaintanceships, had been, in reality, solitary and self-contained. And now, unexpectedly coming down from the skies, as it were, behind the family ties, hearts that were his own by the very fact of kindred, a tender, human sympathy which belonged to him of right, without any effort of his own to secure it. He began even to feel jealous of attempts to alter the existing state of affairs, and especially of those of his friends who suggested themselves as admirers of Denise.

And Mr. Nesbet, Clara's father, had almost come to pose in this character! The two girls, Clara and Denise, had come to be enthusiastic friends. Clara would hardly let a day pass without seeing Denise and her children. Young Levinson, too, was generally in close attendance upon Clara, a jovial, good-natured little fellow, who was always devising schemes of amusement, and whom the little ones positively adored.

But Mr. Nesbet was growing quite sentimental and melancholy. Certainly Denise was always cordial and sympathetic feelings than a doubtful kind of respect. Was it to be her fate never to know the emotions of a real passion? But the advantages were undeniable. Nesbet was rich; her children would be well provided for; as to that she could make her conditions.

"It is such a pity," said Clara to her friend one day. She was spending the afternoon in Bloomsbury, and a dinner-party was in prospect, where Nesbet and several others were expected. "It is such a pity that you should be his stepmother. You would have suited Robert so admirably as his wife. When I see you together, I always think you the most charming couple."

"Ma chere," cried Denise, blushing to the roots of her hair. "How can you suggest such dreadful things?"
"Not dreadful at all," continued Clara boldly. "It is only our narrow way of seeing them. There are some races, the Mongols, I fancy, where the father dies, and the father dies, takes over his wives as a matter of course."

Denise put her hand over Clara's mouth, and put a stop to her remarks. But they had produced a certain effect quite different from what the speaker intended. They opened Denise's eyes. She felt that she was growing too fond of Robert; their sympathies, their affections were growing together; and, in fact, the position was one that could not be indefinitely continued.

"Must escape," said Denise to herself. "And if Mr. Nesbet shows me the way of escape I must accept it."
Meantime Denise, putting aside her anxious mood, was busy and perplexed over the preparations for the dinner party. Robert had hoped that it would have been a festival of reconciliation, for Lady Jones had been invited—especially invited by Robert's letter from Denise's eyes. But Lady Jones replied, and not ill-naturedly, that she had not sufficiently recovered her temper to see either of them with any pleasure just yet. Then Mrs. Basset had been very troublesome. She had fought hard against the new condition of things; but Denise, who was strong conviction as to the right, had insisted on establishing her authority. The dinner was provided from outside, but Basset was to organize the waiting—and Basset had disappeared. According to his wife, he had been summoned to the dying bed of an aunt; but even Mrs. Basset seemed not to be inspired with strong conviction as to the right.

Basset had taken with him the key of the plate-chest—the chest being an iron safe which was designed to set burglars at defiance and which was now equally impervious to its lawful possessors. Happily young Levinson was at hand, and was despatched to Highgate to bring all available and necessary plate from "The Elms." And there was nothing lacking at the dinner table to an ordinary observer, although Robert noticed at once the absence of his own familiar belongings.

"The Bassets must clear out," said Robert, when Denise explained to him the state of affairs.
"Do not part with the Bassets," said Denise. "They know your ways, and when I am gone they will be better behaved."

"But you are not going?" said Robert. "Alas I must go," said Denise sadly. "You have been very good to me, Robert, and we have been very happy, but it must come to an end. I shall take the Nesbet plate to my own room, Robert, if you will carry it for me, for it is heavy."

Robert shouldered the box of plate and carried it off, staying for a moment to kiss the children as they lay asleep in their little cots. When he returned, Mrs. Basset was waiting to see him.
"I suppose we've got to go, sir," she said in a tone of melancholy resignation. "If you get rid of your husband you needn't," said Robert, with a touch of compunction in his voice.

"No, sir, I'll follow his fortunes to the end," she replied, sighing.
Robert had work to do, and he sat up over it till he fell asleep in his chair. He awoke feeling as cold and miserable as people generally do in such a case. As he made his way to his bedroom he thought he heard a footstep creeping along the outer corridor. Here was Basset, probably, returning from the bed side of his relative, and it occurred to Robert that the man had the key to the plate chest, and that it would be well to secure it.

Robert opened his door and looked out. The next moment he found himself sprawling on the floor, the result of a heavy blow delivered by some blunt instrument. Fortunately the main force of the blow had been expended on the door-jamb, and, although Robert was stunned for the moment he speedily recovered his senses and was able to follow his assailant, who seemed now to be engaged in forcing a door that opened into the further end of the corridor—the door that led into Mrs. Carmichel's apartments.

Just as he had succeeded in his purpose—which was executed in such a noisy, careless manner as to show that the marauder was reckless of consequences and intended to silence his victims in the shortest and surest manner; just as the door was forced and a cry of alarm was heard from within—Robert grappled with the burglar and brought him to the ground. A short but terrible struggle ensued, in which Robert proved the stronger of the two, and knelt upon his antagonist, grasping him firmly by the throat.

Denise, pale and disheveled, came forward with a light. It was Basset who lay there writhing and struggling on the ground. When Robert saw this he loosened his hold, and giving the man a contemptuous shake, bade him get up.

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"But you will come and see the children before you go," said Mrs. Carmichel. "They are so delighted with the big bed. Come and see my darlings."

Robert could not refuse; and really the children looked charming. Toto already spoke with perfect propriety, and he had his own bedroom prepared for their use. "You do not put me out at all," said he in reply to Mrs. Carmichel's expostulations. "There is always a room ready for me at Highgate, and I shall sleep there tonight. So consider the place as your own."

"I give in, sir," said the man sullenly. "You've got me right enough. There's nobody in it but me. I gave the old lady a dose to keep her quiet, but she'll wake up all right." But, outspoken as he was, the man showed plenty of cunning. "You can't have me for burglary," he said, "there was no breaking in. It's only assault with intent, after all. You'd best let me go."

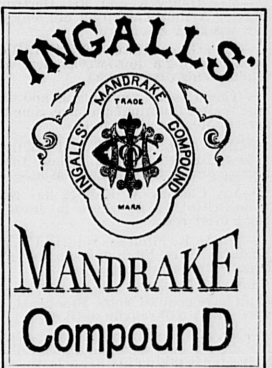

"And what shall I find in the plate-chest?" asked Robert.
The man laughed defiantly. "There's a fine collection of brickbats, I expect."

Eventually it was only for making free with the plate-chest that Basset was arraigned, and he was let off with six months' hard labor, at the end of which he was free to pursue his sporting career. But an account of the affair, magnified by rumor, soon reached Lady Jones, who came from Highgate at the utmost speed to which the stout coachman could be persuaded to urge his fat horse. She found Robert with his head bandaged up, and looking pale and resting, but extremely comfortable, with Denise waiting upon him assiduously, and the children doing their best to amuse him. Lady Jones was full of contrition for having given him "those wretches," the Bassets, to look after him; and there was complete reconciliation all round, while three or four times a day messengers would arrive from The Willows laden with hot-house grapes, flowers, and other luxuries for the benefit of the invalid and his attendants.

When Robert was cured of his hurt there came an urgent invitation from The Willows. Mrs. Carmichel was to go, and spend a few weeks there with her children, while Robert would be equally welcome at The Elms, and those dreadful rooms might be shut up for a while till the establishment could be reorganized. Denise accepted the invitation for all parties. But there was some suspicion at leaving, for it was evident that Denise would return no more to Bloomsbury, and both she and Robert had been happier during the past few months than they cared to confess. Lady Jones had arranged a state dinner-party for the day of their arrival, and at the last moment Robert received a note from Lady Jones. "An unexpected guest will arrive—prepare Denise and yourself for a great, and I hope, an agreeable surprise," Denise read the note over Robert's shoulder, and turned pale with apprehension.

All was gay and festive at the Willows that night as Lady Jones's guests were gathered in her drawing room, awaiting the summons for dinner. But there was no startling presence so far; only the old familiar faces were there, although Lady Jones, mysterious and anxious, was evidently waiting for some favored guest.

Concluded on page 7.

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

PREPARED ONLY BY THE INGALLS MEDICAL CO.
LOWELL, MASS., U.S.A.
Price, $1.00; Six Bottles for $5.00.

NEWTON COAL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO—HILLS, BULLENS & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—

THE CARMICHEL LEGACY.

Concluded from page 6.

At last, however, she ordered dinner to be served; but when her guests had taken their places, it was seen that a vacant chair was reserved on the right hand of the hostess, while she had arranged that Mrs. Carmichel should be placed between Mr. Nesbet and the very ominous blank. Clara had fallen to Robert's share, while young Levison beamed at her from the opposite side of the table.

At what moment it happened no one could justly say; but all of a sudden the vacant place was filled. There is no room for demonstration of feeling at a dinner-table; but a general thrill ran through the assembled company, for the belated guest was universally recognized as Col. Carmichel. Robert turned white and red, and kept his eyes fixed upon Denise. It was a cruel surprise for her, surely, and yet, strange to say, she was the most unembarrassed of the party.

She talked with the newcomer, smiling sometimes, was pleased and interested, but in no ways moved or excited.

Mr. Nesbet glowered across Denise at the Colonel with much indignation. "I think," he said, turning to his neighbor on the other side, "that a man who leaves his family and duties to wander about in wild countries, should be ostracized, madam, and be deprived of civil rights."

But no one paid any attention to Nesbet, while the Colonel seemed in excellent spirits and told some good stories, that set everybody laughing at his end of the table.

As soon as the ladies made a move, Col. Carmichel lighted a cheroot—a thing previously unknown at The Willows—and came to sit beside Robert.

"So, young fellow, you have been very kind to Mrs. Carmichel, I hear. I am glad she found a good friend, poor girl, for her husband—he was one of the Staff-fordshire Carmichels, Robert—the best friend and comrade I ever had."

"I don't understand," stammered Robert.

"Poor fellow," said the Colonel, shaking his head. "I stood beside him when he died. Some stupid people muddled the matter by reporting me dead; but I have come home to settle at last. I shall come and stay with you Robert, for a bit, if you will have me."

Robert said "Yes"; but he was too much confused and mixed up to know exactly what he was doing or saying. He was glad that his father's friend had come straight from the dinner table and took him to the theatre, and then to Robert's club, and home to Robert's chambers in the small hours of the morning.

"An unlucky fellow was Carmichel," said the Colonel between the whiffs of his cheroot. "Quarrelled with all his friends, muddled away his fortune; and last took this appointment, which I told him meant certain death, and would you believe it, a fortnight before his death a uncle died, with whom he had quarrelled more than anybody, and left him a hundred thousand pounds or so, and the poor fellow never knew it, and died tormenting himself about the fate of those he left behind him; and those children will be well off now, you see and the mother, too."

This last piece of news decided Robert; he could go no more near Denise. How could she bear to look upon him, who had obtained so much love, and kindness?

Robert buried himself assiduously in his work, and went near Highgate no more, hearing plenty of news about it, however, from his father, who spent the greater part of his time there. But one evening, coming in late, the Colonel brought home a note which he put in Robert's hands.

"Dear Robert," ran the letter, "I see that you condemn me as an impostor, although, indeed, an innocent one, and think me unworthy of further notice. But the children, you must own, are innocent; and they are wondering that you don't come, and Toto, I fear, is fretting. So come to see them, even if you avoid Denise."

"P. S.—Your father is going to marry the Lady of The Willows, and I tell her she will have to change its name to The Laurels, in honor of her warrior. And Clara is engaged to young Levison. And there is nothing but billing and cooing in the air. It is all very fine for them, but for me a little dull."

Robert despatched his business in all haste next day, and hurried up to The Willows.

First he tried the library, where he found his father and Lady Jones sitting with one volume between them, and that turned upside down. Then the sounds of disconnected chords of piano music led him to the drawing-room, and there he saw Clara sitting at the piano and playing with one hand, while the other was held imprisoned by Mr. Levison.

A sympathetic maid told Robert that he would find Mrs. Carmichel in the morning-room. She was sitting by the window, looking rather pale and depressed, while the children were playing unheeded by her side. The little ones gave a cry of delight at the sight of Robert, and Denise sprang to her feet, blushing very red, while her eyes were filled with light.

The children clasped his knees. "Oh! Robbie dear," said Cecile, "we are so tired of here; do take us 'chez nous.'"

And Toto, who was losing his French as fast as he could, tugged at him, and shouted: "Yes, yes, come home."

"And you, Denise," cried Robert, opening his arms, "will you come home, too?"—[All the Year Round.]

OUR BEAUTIFUL NEIGHBORS.

96. Blue Curls, Trichostema dichotomum.
97. Spotted Spurge, Euphorbia maculata.
98. Three-seeded Mercury, Acalypha Virginica.
99. *Rabbit-foot Clover, Trifolium arvense.
100. *Motherwort, Leonurus Cardiacus.
101. *Catnip, Nepeta Cataria.
102. *Geranium, Pelargonium cordatum.

*Europe. *Asia. *South Africa.

WEST NEWTON, Aug. 4 1888.

XV.

One of the puzzling subjects that the botanist is called upon to consider, is that of the distribution of plants. How or why they grow where we find them. In its ordinary shape it has little difficulty; but occasionally we have results that are not easy to explain. For instance the well-known fact that when a tract of woodland is cut over, the succeeding growth is of an entirely different character. If we cut down a forest of pine trees, and then leave the soil to the care of nature, there will spring up a young woodland of beech or birch or poplars but no more pines. Also, wherever the surface soil is removed, the new surface becomes covered with a growth of plants which differs very greatly from that which prevailed before.

If any readers of our first article should have had the patience to continue readers still, they will remember that we are confining ourselves to a tract of ground of less than two acres, and entirely uncultivated. Now there are several places in the field where strips of sod have been taken away from time to time, for use elsewhere. In all such cases, whether large or small, but in a more decided manner the larger the extent, the character of the plants found is entirely changed. We have also been interested to notice that there was but little uniformity in the character of the change. For instance, the first three members of our list were each peculiar to separate cleared spots, were found but rarely in each other's premises, and no where else in the field. The little Rabbit-foot Clover was found in each one of the cleared spaces, but not in the rest of the field.

As Artemus Ward used to say, "Why is this thus?" It is a question that involves the wider one how long seeds can retain the power of germination. It has been asserted that grain has been grown from wheat and corn taken from the wrappings of a mummy. Dr. Lindley mentions seeing raspberry plants that had grown from seed taken from a grave of the time of Hadrian. A story is told of an occurrence in the State of Maine, about equal to the tale of the mummy wheat. In a town about forty miles from the seashore, a well was being dug; when about twenty feet below the surface, a layer of sand was reached. Where this was scattered on the ground, there came up in due course of time a great number of small trees which were cared for and found to be Beach-Plums, which had not before been seen nearer than the seashore.

There is no doubt that under certain favorable circumstances, seeds can retain their life for very long periods of time; when protected from air and moisture, the seed may lay dormant for years, but we cannot count these years by thousands, and very probably not by hundreds.

We are inclined to consider the stories of mummy wheat, of the raspberries from the age of Hadrian, and of the beach plums in Maine, as being of somewhat the same character, as many of the tales of spiritual manifestations. All are supported by apparently reliable testimony and seem to be well buttressed with facts. In every case however, a careful scientific investigation would without doubt have been able to explain away the marvel.

It is often much easier to prove that a thing could not take place, than to clearly point out the errors in the relation.

Plants which are already in possession of a tract of ground, do not readily give way to new comers; seeds carried by the winds, by birds or animals, may lie dormant for some time, till favorable circumstances give them an opportunity of growth.

The ground shadowed by a thick growth of woods, does not favor the growth of seeds; but when these woods are cut away, the disintegrating effect of rain and air begins, and the seeds are given an opportunity of germinating. Probably the trees which have been growing there, have extracted from the soil the principles they most require, and thus a new species with different requirements is able to make a more vigorous start than the seeds of the former inhabitants. Quite probably the plants we find in the cleared portions of the field, could not find a foothold in the already fully occupied soil of the uncleared portion, but here, in a free field and with no favor, they were able to establish themselves.

The little Blue Curls is not very common; the plant grows quite low, not more than four or six inches in height; its most interesting feature is the arrangement of the long curved stamens, which look to us like a tiny blue waterfall springing in a graceful little arch from one side of the irregular shaped corolla to the other.

Spotted Spurge and the Three-seeded Mercury have very inconspicuous flowers. The first takes its name from the leaves, which have a brown purplish spot in the centre; the little prostrate stems exude a milky juice when broken or crushed. The Three-seeded Mercury belongs also to the Spurge family; its most interesting characteristic is the folded leaf-like involucre with pretty cut edges, surrounding the fertile flowers which in ripening become three black seeds.

We have often heard people inquire how we can be so confident that some new plant is in two poisonous species. In general way we can say that poisonous plants are confined to a few distinctive families, and that certain well-defined families contain no plants which have even a suspicious character. The family to which the Motherwort and Catnip belong is one of these, and is very easily distinguished. If we find a plant with a square stem, a four-lobed seed vessel, opposite leaves and irregularly shaped corollas, it is certain to be a member of the family of the Labiate, and its character will be eminently tonic or cordial. It is one of the largest of the botanical families, containing more than 2300 species which are chiefly found in the temperate zone.

The last plant on our list is really a garden flower, but it occasionally escapes from cultivated ground, as in the present instance. Its common name of Geranium is a mistake, although it belongs to the same family as the real Geranium. All our species were originally natives of the Cape of Good Hope, though the gardeners have created an endless variety in the color of the flowers and the shape and odor of the leaves. It seems to be peculiarly adapted to the skill of the florist, as all its parts prove to be very variable in cultivation.

Croaker—"How is it that Dawdle deadheads the theatres all the time?" Joker—"The theatres can't help themselves; Congress has placed raw materials on the free list."—[Lowell Citizen.]

Cause and Effect. Woman (to tramp)—"You are not a very robust looking man."

Tramp—"No, ma'am; I attribute the feebleness of my condition to irregularity of diet. I eat between meals—other people's meals."—[Time.]

A Great Surprise

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that a druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Price 50 cents and $1.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.

LIBERAL HOUSE FURNISHERS,
827 Washington St., 827
BOSTON, MASS.

Having pre-eminently secured New England patronage thro' the worthy medium of first-class goods, low prices, and square dealing, we beg to assure the general public that nothing in future, "as in the past," shall be left undone on our part to meet a continuance of that esteemed patronage to which we are so well accustomed and extremely indebted for its success, consisting of Walnut Mahogany, Cherry, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., ranging in price from $10.00 to $1,000.00.

Chamber Furniture.

A beautiful Black Walnut Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, with best Italian Marble Tops. This set has been in good demand at the moderate price of $50.00; present mark down price, $39.00.

A splendid Ash Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, in brisk demand all thro' the Spring, at $25.00, we are now selling to close out at the unusually low price of $19.00.

Also a large variety of Ash Chamber Sets from $15.00 to $50.00, together with over 200 Sample Sets of Chamber Furniture, on one of our Hall Floors, for inspection, consisting of Walnut Mahogany, Cherry, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., ranging in price from $10.00 to $1,000.00.

Parlor Furniture.

A magnificent Parlor Set in Hair Cloth, consisting of "8 pieces, mind," made up for our Spring Trade, and freely sold at $70.00, to close out we sell out at $39.00.

Also an immense stock of Parlor Furniture, Odd Chairs, Couches, Divans, &c. We exhibit on one floor alone, over 175 different styles of Parlor Suites, together with a 100 different kinds in Easy Chairs, Divans and Couches, covered in Leather, Plush, Brocatelles, Cretons, and all the popular coverings.

Carpets.

Scotch. 3-Ply, extra heavy, to out-vie or at least compete favorably with best Brussels or Tapestry, 85c., regular price $1.25
All Wool Superfine Carpets, 50c., regular price $1.00
English Tapestry Brussels, 45c., regular price $1.00

We have a very large assortment of Window Shades, Lace and Drapery Curtains, Poles and Fixtures, Ranges, Stoves, Crockery, China Ware, and General House Furnishing Goods, which we are determined to reduce in stock regardless of cost price.

Items of Interest Not to be Overlooked in the Purchase of Furniture.

1. Know well the character of the house before you buy.
2. Look well to the quality of the goods in a sunlit room.
3. Make sure the goods are as good as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
4. Make sure the prices are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
5. Make sure the terms of contract are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
6. Never buy anywhere until you have called to 827 Washington St. We pay fares, deliver goods free, and give you in present, a lovely picture, on ancient Jerusalem. We give you besides, best bargains, and best goods in the United States. Terms, Cash or Instalments.

The name we hold we've won by worth,

By worth intend we too,

To make that name e'en greater still,

In cheaper goods for you.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.

JOHNSON'S FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

Cures Diphtheria, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, Bleeding at the Lungs, Hoarseness, Influenza, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Chronic Diarrhoea, Kidney Troubles, and Spinal Diseases. We will send free, postpaid, to all who send their names, an illustrated Pamphlet. All who buy or order direct from us, and request it, shall receive a certificate that the money shall be refunded if not abundantly satisfied. Retail price, 35c. per bottle; $2.00. Express prepaid to any part of the United States or Canada. T. S. JOHNSON & CO., P. O. Box 2113, Boston, Mass.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN. ANODYNE LINIMENT.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the

NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY.

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying Stairs, 30 cents and upwards per flight; Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.

Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; 3 bottles for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 8238. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

Cleanse the Nasal Passages, Alleviate Pain and Inflammation, Heals the sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

HAY-FEVER Try the Cure

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

C. G. NEWCOMB, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton 9:30 a. m.; leave Boston 3 p. m. NEWTON ORDER BOXES: Newton City Market, Post Office, BOSTON OFFICES: 25 Merchants Row, 155 Congress Street, 154 Franklin Street. Post Office Address, Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given A¹ Orders.

3

THE

-NEWTON GRAPHIC-

JOB OFFICE,

Removed to

Washington street,

Opposite the

Newton National Bank.

Is now prepared to do all kinds of JOB PRINTING in a superior manner.

NEW

TYPE and MACHINERY

HAVE BEEN ADDED,

And the work is done by competent and experienced workmen.

Come and see samples of our work before sending your orders to Boston.

All kinds of PAMPHLET WORK and the FINEST GRADES of Printing a specialty.

—AT THE—

-NEWTON GRAPHIC-

JOB OFFICE,

Removed to

Washington street,

Opposite the

Newton National Bank.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

NEWTON.

Eliot church. Until the new meeting house is completed, services in Eliot Hall at 10.45 a. m., and at 7 p. m. Sunday School at 9.30 a. m. Young People's Meeting at 4 p. m.

Channing church (Unit. cor. Vernon and Eldridge sts., Rev. F. B. Hornbroke, pastor. Service at 10.45 a. m. Sunday School at 12. Evening Service at 7.30.

Baptist church, Church street near Centre. Preaching at 10.45. Sunday School at 12.15. Mr. Stephen Moore, Supt. Young People's meeting at 6.30. General meeting at 7.30. Prayer meeting, Friday at 7.30 p. m.

Church of Our Lady Help of Christians (Roman Catholic), Washington st., Rev. M. Dolan, pastor. Masses at 8.20 and 10.30. Vespers at 3. Sunday School at 2 p. m.

Methodist church, cor. Center and Wesley sts.; Rev. Fayette Nichols, pastor. Services at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School after morning service.

Grace church (Episcopal), cor. Eldridge and Church sts.; Rev. Dr. G. W. Shinn, rector. Sunday Services 10.45 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.

No. Evangelical church, Chapel st.; Rev. J. L. Evans, acting pastor. Preaching at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School at 3. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30. Young People's Meetings at 6 p. m. Sunday evening.

Newton Y. M. C. A. Praise Service 3.45 p. m. Regular service 4 p. m. every Sunday at Eliot Hall.

The Good Will Association, Good Will Hall, Bacon's new block, opposite Bank Building, Washington street. Bible school 9.30 a. m. Sunday. Preaching and social meeting 2.30 p. m. Monday. Special meeting for Christians, 2.30 p. m. Thursday. Social religious meeting, 7.30 p. m. Thursday. Temperance meeting, 7.30 p. m. second and fourth Saturday of each month.

NEWTONVILLE.

Universalist church, Washington park; Rev. R. A. White, pastor. Service at 10.45 a. m. Sunday School at 12.15. Conference and prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7.30. All cordially invited.

New Church (Swedenborgian), Highland ave.; Rev. John Worcester, pastor. Service at 10.45, followed by Sunday School. All are welcome.

Methodist Episcopal church, Walnut street and Newtonville avenue; Rev. Geo. S. Butters, pastor. Preaching at 10.45. Sunday School at 12. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at 6.45. Evening service at 7.30. Strangers are welcome.

Central Congregational church, cor. Washington st. and Central avenue; Rev. Pleasant Hunter, pastor. Services at 10.45 and 7.30. Sunday School at 12. Young People's Christian Endeavor Society meets at 6.30. Strangers welcome.

WEST NEWTON.

Second Congregational church, Washington st.; Rev. H. J. Patrick, pastor. 10.45 Sunday. Service with preaching. Sunday School at 12.15 p. m. Evening Service as follows: 1st Sabbath, Missionary. 2d Sabbath, Children's, at 6. 3d Sabbath, Prayer or Preaching. 4th Sabbath, Praise. Tuesday at 7.30 p. m. Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. Friday, 7.30 p. m., Church Prayer Meeting.

Baptist church, cor. Washington and Perkins sts.; Rev. O. D. Kimball, pastor. Preaching at 10.45. Prayer Meeting at 7 p. m. Sunday School at 12.10. Services Tuesday and Friday at 7.45 p. m.

First Unitarian church, Washington st., near Highland st.; Rev. J. C. Jaynes, pastor. Services at 10.45. Sunday School at 12.

St. Bernard's church, Washington st.; Rev. L. J. O'Toole, pastor. Sunday services: First Mass at 7. Second Mass at eight. Sunday School at 9. High Mass at 10.30. Vespers at 4 p. m.

Myrtle Baptist church, Auburn st., near Prospect; Rev. Jacob Burrell, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 2.45.

AUBURNDALE.

Congregational church, Hancock st. and Woodland avenue; Rev. Calvin Cutler, pastor. Services 10.30 and 7.30. Sunday School after morning service. Young people's meeting at 6.30. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30. Missionary Concert on the first Sunday evening of each month. Sunday School concert on the second Sunday evening.

Church of the Messiah (Episcopal), Auburn st.; Rev. H. A. Metcalf, rector. Holy Communion, 8.30 except on first Sunday in month, when at 12 m. Sunday School, 9.30; morning sermon, 10.45; evensong, 5. Friday, evensong 7.45. Holydays during the week. Holy Communion, 7.30; evensong, 5.00.

Centenary Methodist church, Central st.; Rev. W. R. Knox, pastor. Preaching services at 10.45 and 7.45. Sunday School at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.45. Prayer meeting Friday 7.30.

NEWTON CENTRE.

First Congregational church, Central st.; Rev. T. J. Holmes, pastor. Services at 10.30 and 7. Baptist church, at Associates Hall; Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes, pastor. Preaching at 10.30 a. m. Bible classes, adult and young men's, at 12. Sunday School at 3 p. m. A. W. Armstrong, Supt. Praise Service and preaching at 7 p. m. Prayer meeting Friday evenings at 7.45. A cordial welcome to all at these services.

Methodist church, Rev. Wm. R. Clark, pastor. Preaching at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Prayer meeting at 7. Missionary concert the first Sunday evening of each month. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.45. The public are cordially invited.

Unitarian church, Rev. Horace L. Wheeler, pastor. Morning service at 10.45; Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 7. Once each month, announced the preceding week. Strangers are always welcome.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

Congregational church, cor. Lincoln and Hartford sts.; Rev. George G. Phillips, pastor. Services at 10.30 and 7. Sunday School at 11.45.

St. Paul's (Episcopal), Walnut st.; Rev. Carlton P. Mills, rector. Sunday services at 10.45 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday School at 12.15 p. m. First Sunday of each month Holy Communion at morning service. Sunday School at 4 p. m. m., as on other Sundays.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

Second Baptist church, cor. Chestnut and Ellis sts.; Rev. B. L. Whitman, pastor. Preaching at 10.45 and 6.30. Sunday School at 12. Friday evening meeting at 7.30. Seats free.

Methodist church, Summer st.; Rev. John Peterson, pastor. Morning service at 10.30, followed by Sunday School at 12. Evening service at 6.30. Communion service first Sunday in each month, at close of morning service. Class Meeting on Tuesday and Prayer meeting on Friday evening at 7.30.

Regular service each Lord's Day, at the Church of Valhalla; L. T. Cunningham, pastor. At 10.30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Communion service, first Lord's Day in each month, at the afternoon preaching service. Seats are free, and all are invited.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

St. Mary's church, Rev. W. G. Wells, rector. The Holy Communion in the chapel 9 a. m., except first Sunday in the month when it is in the church at noon. Sunday School 9.45. Morning service and sermon 10.45. Evening prayer and sermon 3.15 p. m. Other Holy Days 9 a. m. in the chapel with Holy Communion. Friday 7.30 p. m. in chapel, service with address.

Methodist church, Rev. A. F. Sharp, pastor. Preaching at 10.45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 12. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.30.

CHESTNUT HILL.

S. Andrew's, Rev. Prof. H. D. Nash officiating. Sunday services at 10.45.

The Red Man

is an eight page monthly of standard size published at the

CARLISLE INDIAN SCHOOL

and printed by

INDIAN BOYS.

It is an exponent of the principles of Indian training in civilization and of Indian character;

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, is agent for the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—J. Parsons is at Kennebunk, Maine.
—Mrs. E. J. Mears is visiting Newton, N. H.
—Rev. Mr. Barnes and wife are at Jackson, N. H.
—Dr. and Mrs. Boothby are in Boston at present.
—Miss Grace F. Williams is visiting in Plymouth.
—Mr. J. R. Stevens' child is recovering from its illness.
—Miss Bassett of this village will be home next week.
—Mr. Ernest May is away on a business trip of a few weeks.
—Mr. Francis Fitz of Homer street is at Beverly for a short time.
—Mrs. J. S. Farnham is at Churchhill's Hotel, Brant Rock Village.
—Miss Alma Knapp has gone to Inner Heron Island, Maine.
—Rev. Mr. Boynton preached at Andover, Mass., last Sunday.
—See Knapp's new advertisement under Newton Centre directory.
—Charles S. Davis and family are at Pine Hill Summit, N. Y.
—Mr. F. H. Williams is spending his vacation at Moose-head Lake.
—S. B. A. Hunter and family are at the Breezy House, Lisbon, N. H.
—Mr. George E. Barrows is spending a few weeks at Old Orchard, Me.
—Miss Carrie F. Dudley is visiting her sister Mrs. Robbins at Worcester.
—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Chester and Miss Minnie Chester have gone to Cottage City, N. Y.
—Mr. Benjamin Hammond and family of Ridge avenue, are at Chatham for two weeks.
—Louis Boynton and Harry W. Boynton of Station street are camping out at Falmouth.
—The bell of the New Baptist church has been cast, and will weigh about 2000 pounds.
—Mr. W. E. Webster was one of the speakers at the Republican flag raising at Auburndale.
—News has arrived that the son of Dr. Slade arrived at Falmouth July 30 after one of the shortest voyages on record.
—Mr. Harry H. Read and family of Paul street are at the Mountain House, Princeton, for some weeks.
—Rev. Lemuel Barnes and Mrs. Barnes go this week to Jackson, N. H., for rest and recreation.
—Miss Eva Brinckerhoff of Station street left on Tuesday for East Gloucester where she will spend a week with friends.
—Mr. Steven Hunter Jr. will sing soprano in the quartette at Grace Church, Newton, during the month of August.
—The appearance of the Baptist church is much improved by the removal of rubbish in the grading.
—J. A. Baldwin's son has been quite ill at Camden, Maine, where he is spending the summer.
—Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe who have been visiting her friends at Newton Centre, left on Wednesday.
—Maurice Wildes returned this week from a vacation trip but leaves again Monday for Narragansett Pier.
—James L. Morton is in charge of the Associates' Reading Room, where Miss Johnson is taking a well earned rest.
—It is rumored that Dr. Bodge contemplates the erection of a new brick block upon his estate, adjoining the Coolidge building.
—Mrs. F. E. Keene has been very ill but at the last accounts was slightly improved. Dr. Bodge of this village and Stone of Newton have been attending her.
—Messrs. Jewett & Benis have made improvements in their paint shop, and are revelling in an office where they can receive their numerous customers.
—Mr. Tenney of Newton Highlands has bought a building lot on Kimball street, near Ridge avenue, on which he will build at no distant day.
—Mr. George Warren and Mr. Fred Bates have left for the Twin Mountain House, New Hampshire, where they will remain two or three weeks.
—Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, the popular dressmaker of Newton Centre and the Highlands, has gone to Oak Bluffs for two weeks' vacation.
—Collector Saltonstall is passing August at the Glades near Colchester. He comes several times a week to attend to his duties at the Custom House.
—The Boston and Albany Railroad Company are laying a new concrete walk from the station to Cypress street. The old plank walk has been torn up.
—According to Miss Thurston, the librarian of the Newton Centre Library, the Centre stands at the head of the list of villages in the number of books drawn.
—During the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Barnes, the pulpit of the Baptist church will be supplied by well known deacons. Among them will be the son of the late Gardner Colby.
—Miss Ellen M. Cook, who teaches in a private school, and Miss Fannie Mears were here this week on their way to Lake George where they are visiting Mrs. H. W. Wilson at her home "The Hamlet."
—Messrs. Farrell, Richardson, Muldoon, Snow, Williams, McWain, Steve and others started Tuesday on the yacht "Allego" and will run about Swampscott and along the coast. If the fishing is good the boys will probably send home a few barrels of cod and haddock.
—Miss Leonora Cousins, contralto, has been in Newport singing with Mr. Humphrey Allen with gratifying success. She will sing in Newport again on the 16th, her first appearance in concert since her return from Europe. She has made many friends and is engaged for matinees.
—Mr. Charles Boothby, while driving through Brookline recently, had a very narrow escape. Some young rascal fired a revolver and the cartridge passed through the back of his carriage, striking one of the supports directly over his head. The Brookline officers have arrested the youth and he will suffer the penalty of the law.
—Mrs. Mary C. Stone, wife of the late Samuel Stone, formerly of Oak Hill, died on July 29th, at Freetown, Mass., and the remains were brought here for interment. Dr. Stearns officiated at the services, he having baptized Mr. and Mrs. Stone thirty years ago. Mr. Samuel Stone was a son of Deacon Eben Stone.
—The Improvement Association are again on the war path. Cousen's Block is the object of attention and the plan is to tear it down and widen Beacon street, giving a magnificent approach to the station. The old wooden block has seen its best days and is not of course very ornamental. On the other hand Beacon street at this point is very narrow and will be much improved.

R. Gardner of Brighton. Mr. Gardner took possession immediately after the sale August 2. He has experience in the business having been in the employ of his brother at Brighton. Mr. Seabury has gone to visit his parents at Portland and it is understood on his return not long after will remove from Newton Centre.

—Messrs. Pearmain & Brooks, the enterprising bankers and brokers of 51 State street, have issued diagrams for gratuitous circulation, giving the average fluctuations of ten active stocks for the past year. The diagrams are very interesting as well as useful memoranda to business men. The fluctuations were from 62, April 2, 1882, to 71, 83, July 31st, their average price on May 18, 1887, being 80. All who are interested in stocks should send for the diagram.

—A party of Newton Centre gentlemen from Anburndale returned recently from Yarmouth, N. S., having made the trip and return in the handsome new steel plank steamer "Yarmouth." This boat made the run from Boston to Yarmouth in 15 hours, the fastest time on record for a steamer between these points. She is now fitted up with staterooms and cabins being lighted by electricity. The officers are uniformly courteous and the passage was made doubly enjoyable through their kindness and attention. The captain is Mr. H. Doane, a genial and pleasant gentleman.

—The Centennial celebration of the birth of Adoniram Judson was held yesterday at his birthplace, Malden. The event attracted a large number of Baptist clergymen, and among them were Rev. A. H. Hovey and Rev. S. F. Smith of this village, and Rev. Lyman Jewett, a former resident here, but now of Needham, and a personal friend of Dr. Judson. Rev. A. H. Hovey read a paper on theological education, as exemplified in Judson's life. The Rev. S. F. Smith, the venerable author of the national hymn, "My country 'tis of thee I sing," read the memorial hymn which he had composed for the occasion, and the audience, standing, sang it to the tune of "Duke Street."

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Hon. J. F. C. Hyde made a fine display of hollyhocks at the Horticultural Society's show in Boston, last Saturday, and won a first prize, and also a prize for verbenas. Mr. Hyde was chosen chairman of the nominating committee, at a meeting of the society.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—The Elliotts of South Natick defeated the Newtons on Saturday last by a score of 7 to 1.

—It is reported that Rev. B. L. Whitman has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist Church.

—Mr. Joshua L. Randall and family are spending a portion of their vacation among the New Hampshire hills.

—It is hoped the readers of the GRAPHIC next week will hear that Eliot station has been opened to the public.

—F. E. Babcock, Harris E. Billings, and Master Harry and Louis Tilton are spending a 3 weeks vacation at Ocean Pier, Revere Beach.

—Mr. and Mrs. Otis Pettie have returned from a ten days' trip, which included a visit to Portsmouth, Portland, Poland Springs, and the White Mountains.

It is hoped the Highway committees will put Winter street in better shape before cold weather. It is a great thoroughfare and should be in good condition.

—The slowly tolling bell on Monday morning last rang out the funeral knell in silence that the great Union General Philip H. Sheridan had gone to his long home.

—Mr. Lewis P. Everett and Mr. Frank J. Hale have been spending a portion of the week along Charles river, camping upon the bank at night and resuming their wanderings the next day.

—The machinery and other property owned by the Super Wax Paper Company is advertised to be sold at public auction, by Mr. Samuel Tucker, Deputy Sheriff, on Wednesday next.

—As Mr. E. M. Billings was taking an early morning ride on his bicycle one day this week, he took a "header," and a severe sequence was considerably shaken up and bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken.

—Mr. Miner, the proprietor of the Depot Barge Line, has come out this week with the barge nicely painted and repaired. This, with the addition of a new horse, makes the barge line very well equipped for business, which, it is hoped, will prove to be entirely satisfactory.

—The following article was clipped from the Boston Daily Globe of Aug. 6, and as it relates to one of our former residents, it may be of interest. H. H. Enghelard, editor of the firemen's column in The Sunday Globe, was presented on Saturday last with a handsome gold badge by the Veteran Firemen's Association of New York.

—Perseverance Lodge of Good Templars at their last regular meeting, elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter: W. F. Stevens, C. T.; H. Sherman, V. T.; Mrs. C. A. Gould, Secretary; Mrs. George Wright, F. Secretary; Fred Morton, Treasurer; Mrs. H. A. Sherman, Chaplain; Frank Osborne, Marshal; Fred Kempton, Sentinel; Wilfred Morton, G.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. Ernest Preston of St. Peter's parish, Beverly, is the organist at St. Mary's during the absence of Miss Burns.

Free Delivery.

Congressman Burnett was home for a brief vacation from his official duties last week, and told a prominent Newton gentleman that there was no doubt but that the application for free delivery in wards one and seven of Newton would be granted. Postmaster-General Dickinson was away with President Cleveland on his fishing trip, which was probably the reason we have not heard from him before this, but the answer will be received very soon. He saw no reason why Newton should not have free delivery, and had done what he could to have the application granted.

As free delivery has just been granted the little city of Woburn, the postoffice department can not refuse us with any consistency. The figures of the assessors show that the valuation of this part of Newton, without including the portion of Watertown which gets its mail here, is nearly $10,000,000, and the population of the district is about 12,000. The residents are unanimous in favor of the free delivery.

Y. M. C. A.

Rev. J. A. McElwain of Boston gave a very interesting address at the open air meeting Sunday afternoon. He referred to Titus, 2d chapter 11th verse. "For the grace of God, that bringeth salvation, hath appeared to all men." He said grace waited for the blind man; grace waited at the well for the Samaritan woman; grace waited for Zachaeus to come down from the sycamore tree; grace restores lost character. God in infinite mercy and grace sent Christ into the world to save lost souls. Mr. McElwain gave some touching illustrations of what grace had done for men at Clarendon street church. The music under the direction of Mr. Hugh Campbell, assisted by Ashman's Band, was excellent. Next Sunday S. M. Sayford, Esq., will speak at 4 p. m.

Meeting of the Board of Health.

A meeting of the board of health was held Tuesday afternoon, President Otis Pettie occupying the chair.

The application of James Barrett with reference to plumbing and his letter accompanying the same were read by the clerk, action having been deferred from the last meeting.

The agent of the board at their request, gave as his recommendation that the soil pipe be allowed to remain as at present, but that the two inch vent pipes through the roof be increased to four inch.

Alderman Nickerson moved that the recommendation of the agent be adopted, but it was not seconded. Mr. Barrett being present, was given a hearing and explained more fully the conditions which made it very difficult to change the vent pipes. On motion of Mr. Fuller it was voted that the plumbing in Mr. James A. Farnigan's house be allowed to remain as is, with the two inch vents through the roof, for one year, the agent of the board in the meantime to keep watch of it, especially during the winter and see that everything works satisfactorily. If it does, then no further action will be taken and the plumbing will be allowed to remain. If it does not, then the plumber will be notified and he is to change the same as required by the rules of the board.

To this; the plumber, Mr. Barrett, agreed.

The agent brought to the attention of the board the character of the water in the wells on the southern side of Boylston street at Thompsonville and suggested the advisability of requesting that city water be carried there, a distance of some 500 feet. On motion of Alderman Nickerson it was voted that the subject be referred to the superintendent of the water works to estimate the cost and to recommend what may seem best to be done for the relief of these parties, and report at the next meeting.

A letter from Mr. T. M. Clark asking to be allowed to do away with a running trap and fresh air inlet in the plumbing of two new houses which he is building on Mt. Vernon Park, Newtonville, was read and received. On motion of Mr. Fuller it was voted that the clerk inform Mr. Clark that the board of health should require the draining and plumbing of the above houses to be constructed in accordance with the rules of the board and that the agent be ordered to enforce the same.

There being no further business, the board at 5:40 p. m. adjourned.

The Bryant & Stratton

Commercial school of Boston, which our readers will notice advertised in this week's issue, will reopen Monday, Sept. 4th. This school needs no recommendation from us, as its present standing and reputation gained during the last 25 years places it at the head of all schools of a similar character. It can be patronized with full confidence that nothing that is possible to be done for its pupils will be left undone.

Registration of Voters, 1888.

Sidney P. Clark,
—AGENT—
STATION STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.
REAL ESTATE to sell and to rent. Farms Houses and Land in all parts of New England. Rents collected and Mortgages negotiated.
BOSTON OFFICE, 178 WASHINGTON ST.

WEST NEWTON
English and Classical School.
Thirty-sixth year begins Wednesday, September 19th, 1888. A Family and Day School for both sexes. Prepares for College, Scientific Schools, Business, and for an intelligent and honorable manhood and womanhood. Send for catalogues to

Nathaniel T. Allen,
West Newton.
Refers to any parent or guardian whose children have been in the school.
At home Tuesdays in August. 42

MR. CUTLER'S
Preparatory School for Boys.
Second Year, 1888-89.
For terms and other information apply to or address Mr. E. H. CUTLER, Washington street, Newton.
Early applications are respectfully requested.

Vacation Class.
PAINTING & DRAWING
MISS IDA COLLINS
is ready to receive pupils for the summer.
Class commences July 16th.
Studio, Beacon Street, Waban.
Visitors Welcome.
P. O. Address, Newton Highlands.

City of Newton.

Registration of Voters, 1888.
Special Election, Ward 4, Sept. 4, 1888.
To Fill Vacancy of One Councilman in Place of Theodore W. Gore, Resigned.

Notice is hereby given to all persons in Ward Four, to present themselves for registration, and that the Registrars of Voters will hold a session for the registration of voters, and to correct and revise the list of said Ward Four.

At Auburn Hall, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock p. m., SATURDAY, AUGUST 25th, 1888.

No names can be registered after 10 o'clock, p. m., AUGUST 25th.

All persons whose names are not on the voting list must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on the day above mentioned, presenting a receipted tax bill of 1886 or 1887.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby and must present the father's naturalization papers.

Every male citizen in Ward 4 of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the State one year and in the city of Newton six months prior to Sept. 4, 1888, and who has paid a State or County tax assessed upon him either in 1886 or 1887, and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at the election to be held in said Ward, September 4th, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES, Registrars
GEORGE H. BOURNE, of Voters.
RICHARD T. SULLIVAN, of Voters.
S. A. F. KINGSBURY.
Newton, July 28, 1888. 43 46

REMOVAL.
BARBER BROS.,
Successors to A. Howes.

Removed to Brackett's New Block, opposite Library. With good cutnices, a safe place for teams and better facilities for transacting business, we hope for an increase of public patronage. All heavy goods received and delivered at the rear entrance. Telephone 764.

SHIRTS
—FOR THE—CAMPAIN!

Faithfully adapted for use on any "platform." "Free Trade" prices, but carefully "protected" against "Constitutional Prohibition" of all imperfect work or material.

"Internal Improvements" constantly encouraged. "Civil Service Rules" honestly employed. Masculine voters of all parties "without distinction of race or color" promptly rolled in well-made, good-fitting and reliable SHIRTS.

Excellent shirts, $1.50.
Very Best Plain shirts, $2.00.
Finest Dress shirts with Collar and Cuff attached, $2.25.

With Fine Planted or Embroidered Bosoms, $2.50 to $3.00.
If not convenient to call at my office will meet customers at any place in Newton or Boston.

E. B. Blackwell,
43 THORNTON STREET.

$5 To $10 A DAY
CIRCULARS FREE!
1000 Brewster's Safety Rein Holders GIVEN AWAY to introduce them.
Every horse owner buys 1 to 6. Lines never under strain. Best 30 one cent stamps to pay postage and packing for a NICKEL PLATED SAMPLE that sells for 65 cents. AGENTS WANTED.
BREWSTER MFG. CO., HOLLY, MICH.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
MIDDLESEX, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To all persons interested in the estate under the will of Francis Skinner late of Newton, in said County, deceased, testate, given in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Elizabeth Skinner.

GREETING: Whereas, Caleb Wm. Loring and Augustus P. Loring the trustees under said will, have presented for allowance the fourth account of their trusteeship.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the first Tuesday of September next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said Trustees are ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once a week in the NEWTON GRAPHIC, a newspaper printed at Newton, three weeks successively, the last publication to be two days at least before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight. J. H. TYLER, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
MIDDLESEX, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To the Heirs-at-Law, next of Kin, and all other Persons interested in the Estate of Seth Davis late of Newton in said County, deceased.

GREETING: Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Mary J. Davis who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, and that she may be exempt from giving a surety or sureties on her bond pursuant to said will and statute.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the first Tuesday of September next, at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the NEWTON GRAPHIC, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight. J. H. TYLER, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
MIDDLESEX, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To the Heirs-at-Law, next of Kin, and all other Persons interested in the Estate of Seth Davis late of Newton in said County, deceased.

GREETING: Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Mary J. Davis who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, and that she may be exempt from giving a surety or sureties on her bond pursuant to said will and statute.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the first Tuesday of September next, at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the NEWTON GRAPHIC, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight. J. H. TYLER, Register.

Pearmain
AND Brooks,
Stock and Bond Brokers,
(Members Boston Stock Exchange.)
51 State St., Boston, Mass.
Orders by mail promptly executed. Correspondence solicited. Good bonds and mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN, L. LORING BROOKS.

No Other Line Does It!

SARATOGA.

FOUR EXPRESS TRAINS
Daily (Sundays excepted), via

Hoosac Tunnel Route,

From Boston to Saratoga.

25 Miles Shorter than Any Other Line.

Lovely Deerfield Valley,

And around the Shores of LAKE SARATOGA.

DAY EXPRESS. Elegant Parlor Cars attached. Leaves Boston 8:30 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 3:15 p. m. Stops at North Adams for Lunch.

Fast Limited Express. Palace Parlor Cars, Passenger Coaches, Smoking and Baggage Cars, Through without change. Leaves Boston 10:45 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 5:25 p. m. Stops at Athol for dinner.

EXPRESS. Palace Parlor Car attached. Leaves Boston 11:35 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 7:25 p. m.

NIGHT EXPRESS. Sleeping car to Troy. Leaves Boston 11:00 p. m.; arrives at Saratoga 9:50 a. m. Breakfast Troy or Saratoga.

For Tickets, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, apply at the Company's Office, 250 Washington street, or Ticket Office.

Fitchburg Railroad

Passenger Station, Causeway street, Boston. 41 J. R. WATSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

Private School.

Miss L. M. FRIEND and Miss E. M. COOK
Will open their private school on

Pelham St., Newton Centre,

Sept. 10, 1888.

TERMS: $15 a quarter. Languages English and French.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATEROWN.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS DIRECTY

ROBERT BLAIR,

(Formerly with A. W. Snow.)
PRACTICAL PLUMBER.

Having had 16 years experience in the business, satisfactory work is guaranteed. Estimates given.

Shop corner Centre and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands. Here are some of his prices, hemlock, shingles and heels, $1.00; Union Leather, $1.00; oak tan, $1.25. Patches at all prices, rubber work done at short notice. All work warranted to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

T. FINNEGAN.

NEWTON CENTRE

Boot & Shoe Store.

Established 1874. All repairing done inside of ten hours.

G. E. BARROWS,

4 Farnham's Block, Newton Centre.

WM. G. SAUER,

CONTRACTOR.

For Mason Work, Cellars, Drains, Cesspools, Wells, and other like work. Call on or address at Newton Centre, 401

GARDEN HOSE.

If you want a good article buy

Atherton Rubber Co.'s

Warranted Hose.

For sale by dealers throughout Newton.

Atherton Rubber Co.,

26 A Kingston Street, Boston. 42

Dr. C. H. CORKIN,

SURGEON-DENTIST.

NEWTON CENTRE DIRECTORY.
J. C. FARRAR,
BLACKSMITHING
—AND—
CARRIAGE PAINTING
Beacon Street, Newton Centre. 3

Armstrong Brothers

Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES,

at prices which defy competition.

Repairing done in first-class fashion and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early.

CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

Next door to Dr. Noble's.

Flour. Flour. Flour.

Butter. Butter.

Tea. Tea. Tea.

Coffee. Coffee.

Eggs. Eggs. Eggs.

All of the choicest quality, with a large stock of other goods in our line, can be found at

KNAPP'S

Station St., near the Depot.

D. W. BROWNELL,

Beacon Street, Newton Centre, Mass.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVI.—NO. 45.

NEWTON, MASS., AUGUST 17, 1888.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

CLARKSON.
Patent Re-issued August 13, 1878.
HEIGHT OF FRONT Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.
HEIGHT OF BACK Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.
No. 929.

F. MURDOCK & Co.,
Newton - Mass.
All the Latest Styles in Stock.
Lion Brand Linen Collars & Cuffs.

Special Midsummer Sale.

Prices for August to Close all Summer Goods.
Fine American Challies, new patterns, 8c. yd.
4-4 Batiste Cloths, worth 12 1-2, 8c. yd.
45 in. Embroidered Dress Robes, worth 2.25, now 59c. yd.
4-4 Fine Dress Gowns, former price 10, now 6 1-2c. yd.
All our fine Sateens in choice patterns reduced to 10 1-2c.
Ladies Good Regular made Hose, new styles, only 12 1-2c.
Ladies Extra Fine Regular made Hose, solid collars, only 19c.
Childrens Seamless Black Hose, 5 1-2 to 8 1-2, 12 1-2c.
Ladies Fine Gauze Vests, worth 35, now 25c.
Ladies Fine Jersey Vests, good quality, 25c.
Gents Fine Balbriggan Vests, good quality, now 25c.
Childrens Fine Merino Vests, from 12 1-2 to 25c.
Large lot of Sample Fans, worth from 10 to 30c. each.
The largest and finest All Linen Damask Towels for 25c. ever sold in Newton.
Large All Linen Huck Towels, worth 20c. now two for 25c.
Large lot of Lace Ties, 5 and 10c. each to close.
Our entire stock of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas at 25 per cent of our former prices.
Mens Straw Hats at cost or less to close them out.
These prices for this sale and for this month only.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & CO.,
Agents for American Steam Laundry Co.
Bacon's New Block.

PLUMBING. REMOVAL.
Timothy J. Hartnett,
has removed to
Brackett's New Block,
Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton.
where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.
Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.
Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others.
The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.
First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.
Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision.
Contractor for gas piping. 35 ly
C. E. WHITMORE. D. W. COOLIDGE.
C. E. WHITMORE & CO. BROKERS.
Stocks & Bonds, also Grain & Provisions.
131 Devonshire Street, Boston.
Rooms 18 and 19. Private Wires, Telephone.

E. A. W. HAMMATT,
Civil and Consulting Engineer,
Office 5 Pemberton Sq., Boston,
Room 29.
Surveys and Plans for the construction of Water Works and Sewerage Systems; House Drainage and Landscape Work. 24
FREDERICK F. MOORE, M. D.
(Harvard Medical College, 1876.)
Specialty: Diseases of the Rectum
(Dile, Florida, etc.)
Residence and Office: Thornton street, near Washington street, Newton. Hours, 8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 8 p. m.
Boston Office: 14 Mt. Vernon street, opposite Hancock St. Hours, 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. 51yl

CHAS. A. FARLEY,
Piano & Organ Tuner.
The Ivers & Pond pianos for sale or exchange at the lowest prices on easy terms of payment.
Address P. O. Box 22, Newton.
Residence, Washington St. 2d, from Hovey.

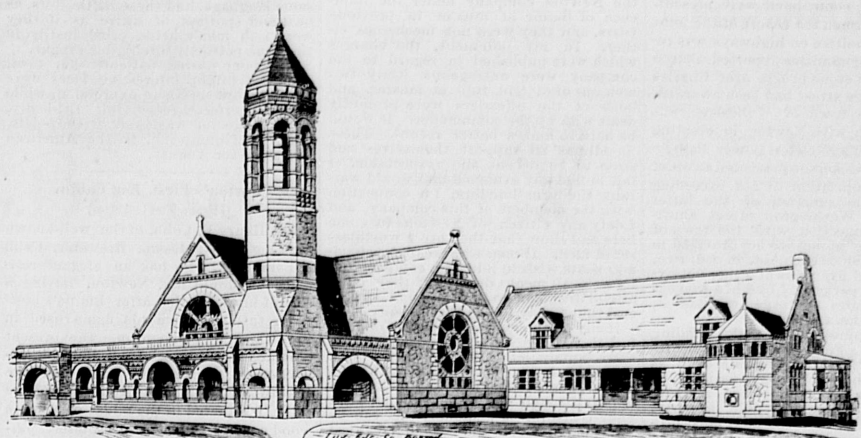

Misses ALLEN
Vernon Street
Will open their
Boarding & Day School
For girls and young ladies, Sept. 25th.
The common and higher English branches thoroughly taught. Special advantages in the study of Language, Literature, Music, Drawing and Painting. Students specially prepared for a collegiate course.
Circulars with full information sent on application. 39

State Normal School,
FRAMINGHAM.
The next term will begin, with entrance examination, on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 12. For circulars address MISS ELLEN HYDE, Principal.
Subscribe for the Graphic.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC now has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST, a larger CIRCULATION, and a larger number of readers than any other Newton paper. Its circulation is constantly increasing, and it gives nearly double the amount of local news and reading matter furnished by any other Newton paper.

NEWTON.

—F. E. Graves of Amherst is visiting here.
—Mrs. F. E. Judkins is at Lake Champlain, N. Y.
—Walter Ellis is at the Pawnee House, Cottage City.
—Fletcher B. Coffin is registered at the Nantucket, Cottage City.
—Mrs. G. F. Meachem will spend two weeks at Magnolia.
—Mr. and Miss Lily returned to Newton this week.
—Mr. J. Wesley Barber has returned from Pigeon Cove.
—Lion brand collars and cuffs at Francis Murdock Co's.
—Miss Page and Miss Nellie Simpson are at Fort Point for two weeks.
—Miss Mabel F. Thayer is enjoying a vacation at East Boothby, Maine.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Conkey are at Marblehead.
—Miss S. H. Bassett is at Breezy Point, N. H.
—Miss Edith M. Smith will spend her vacation at Bridgewater, Mass.
H. S. Potter is at Magnolia for the week.
—Mrs. E. J. Lovejoy is at the Ocean House, Old Orchard.
—Miss M. L. Woodburn are at Fair View house, North Woodstock, N. H.
—A. B. Stevenson and family are at East End hotel, Hull.
—Miss Martha Walker is at the Biddeford Pool house, Old Orchard.
—Arthur White West was a visitor last week at Seaside Club, Biddeford.
C. H. Browne and wife are at the Rose-Sandwich house, Downer's Landing.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bailey are at the Crescent Beach House, Crescent Beach.
—Mr. George Agry and family are among the guests at the Argyle, Ocean Spray.
—Miss Nellie M. Hart was at the Summit House, Mt. Washington, last week.
—A. B. Stephenson and family of Newton are at the East End Hotel, Hull.
—W. L. Lovell is at Hotel Pemberton, Hull, as is also H. H. Seaver.
—H. N. Gould is at the Sabins House, Hyannis.
—Miss May Crowell is spending a few days at Provincetown.
—Miss Wildman is at the Ocean House, Newport.
—Miss E. J. Cole is at Truro, Mass., for a vacation.
—Miss Annie Daniel is among the Crawford House guests.
—Mrs. and Miss Spear of New York, who have been visiting Mrs. O. C. Fisher, returned home this week.
—Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Davis and Miss Covington, go to Waterville, Monday, to spend the month at Mr. Davis' cottage.
—Miss Kleinhaus of Belvidere, N. J., who has been visiting Mrs. Joshua Davis, Centre street, returned home this week.
—The eight young ladies of the H. G. L., who have been spending some weeks together at Pocasset, returned this week.
—James Stone is spending a few weeks with a surveying party in the western portion of this state.
—Mr. George Barber and three Boston friends have taken a cottage at Point Shirley.
—Mrs. Lizzie Ryder and Mrs. Fuller have gone to Falmouth Heights for a few weeks.
—Alderman E. O. Childs and family are at the Sea View House, Kennebunk Beach, Me.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hollis are passing the month of August at the Black Rock House, Jerusalem road.
—Rev. Calvin Stebbins of Worcester, will preach in Channing Church, next Sunday morning. All are cordially invited.
—Miss Margaret Converse is passing the remainder of the season at the Profile House, White Mountains.
—Miss E. J. Lovejoy and Miss Martha Lovejoy, have arrived at the Ocean House, Old Orchard.
—Councilman Hamblin of Newton has left his cottage at Mt. Pleasant, and has gone to the White Mountains for two weeks with his family.
—Miss Hosmer was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Mr. W. C. Edmunds and Miss Susie Hammond at New London, Conn., last week.
—Mrs. Frank H. Burt, Frank A. Burt, Philip H. Burt and Mrs. John Allen were registered at the Mount Pleasant House, White Mountains, last week.
—Messrs. H. E. Cobb, A. S. March, J. B. Goodrich and J. Sturges Potter started this week for Musquash, N. B., on a hunting and pleasure trip.
—Twenty-one hundred tickets were recently given out at the City Hall, Salem, for the head fund children's picnic, held at the Willows, Tuesday.
—Councilman E. S. Hamblin, J. F. Crosby and Miss H. F. Morgan were among the guests at the Mt. Washington Summit House last week.
—The Free Library authorities have placed an iron fence along a portion of their lawn next the office, as the hedge was not sufficient protection.
—Rev. J. C. Caldwell and wife, who have been at Mrs. Knowles, Richardson street, have gone to Kidder's Ferry, N. Y. Later they will visit their son, a professor at Cornell University, Ithaca.
—Mrs. W. H. Blodgett and family of Newton, who have been summering at The Hesperus, Magnolia, have gone to the White Mountains for the remainder of the season.
—Kirk W. Hobart and family are at Ocean Beach Cottage, Hull. They have been entertaining as their guests H. A. Allen and family, Miss L. A. Ferry, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. B. Hull of Newton.
—H. C. Emerson has had a friend from Amherst College, Mr. S. G. Hartwell, visiting him. Mr. Hartwell was the Old South lecturer Wednesday afternoon. His subject was "The World that Dante Knew."
—A party of young ladies of the class of

BAPTIST CHURCH, NEWTON CENTRE.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION AND PICTURE OF THE NEW BUILDING.

In about a month the new First Baptist Church at Newton Centre, one of the most beautiful ecclesiastical structures in this vicinity, will be formally dedicated. The GRAPHIC has already given descriptions of the interior with glimpses of the architectural design and motive of decoration, and this week presents to its readers the above picture of the new building. Little has been said of the conventional features of the new church. The building is constructed of Gloucester granite with Long Meadow brown stone trimmings, and is 128 feet long. It is built in the form of a cross and the nave is 52 feet wide and 26 feet deep. The tower is 93 feet high and the circular chancel has a radius of 26 feet. There is a loggia at the side between the tower and the projection of the transept and also a loggia in front, the dimensions of the latter being 52x10 inside measurement. The church is laid out on the multiple of 13, in order to secure the best acoustic effect. The chapel extends from the main building and is entered from the church through a vestibule 13 feet square. The chapel is 77 feet long and 50 feet wide, and has two circular bows, the one on the Beacon street side having a projection of 11 feet and the other at the rear of the church having a projection of 6 feet. There is also an octagon bow with a projection of 7 1-2 feet and handsome loggia at the front of the building. The chapel is subdivided and contains the pastor's study, library and class rooms. The chapel proper is 47x34. The church is finished in quartered antique oak with oak pews quaintly carved in accordance with the general finish of the interior, and the chapel is finished in white wood.

There are three memorial windows in the church, one in front, dedicated to the memory of Father Grafton, in the form of a half circle and two circular in form, one in each transept. The Colby and Butler memorial windows are situated in the transepts alluded to and have already been described in these columns. The designs of the three windows are very beautiful and in coloring and artistic conception is perhaps the finest piece of work to be seen in this city. The general idea of the church which was designed by Mr. J. Lyman Faxon of Boston, is taken from the ecclesiastical temples built about the year 1300. A typical feature of the churches of this period was the rounded apse or chancel which is utilized in the design of the Newton Centre church. The idea of the entrance was taken from Romanesque architecture, consisting of the three arched doorways opening into loggia. In all of the Romanesque churches, the apse or chancel was rounded. Mr. Faxon's idea seems to have been to produce an ideal church, combining the features of the architecture of this early period. In the interior a large amount of the wall decoration, coloring and treatment of the arches is taken from St. Marks. In St. Marks' cathedral and in all the Byzantine churches, the walls and domes are decorated with figures, emblems and texts, illustrating scenes from the Bible. The features of the churches and cathedrals of those early days have not been carried out in churches, generally, in this country, but has been adopted in the treatment of the decoration in the Newton Centre church. In the general decoration of the edifice, especially in the leaf work and carving, the same antique, Byzantine treatment is observed.

The Baptist Society.

SKETCH OF ITS HISTORY FROM 1740.

The history of Newton Centre Baptist Church is one of peculiar interest to all members of that religious denomination. Its beginning and growth may be traced as far back as 1740, when the well-known preacher, Rev. George Whitefield caused a "great awakening,"—as the record says—through all New England. At that time there was formed at Newton one of the "Separate," or "New Light" churches, so called to distinguish them from the churches of the "standing order." The majority of the members, a few years subsequently, adopted the Baptist faith and continued for twenty years to worship, at first in dwelling houses and later in a schoolhouse. In 1780, under the leadership of Elnathan Winchester and other ministers, the number of converts increased to such a degree that they were advised to organize themselves into a church. Preliminary meetings were held June 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, and on Wednesday, July 2, 1780, the members met in the house now occupied by Mr. Luther Paul, on the east side of the road, opposite Wiswall's Pond, for the purpose of being publicly recognized as a church of Jesus Christ. Four ministers were present, and participated in the exercises.—Rev. Noah A. Allen, of Bellingham; Rev. Thomas Gair, of Medfield; Rev. Caleb Blood, then late of Marlow, N. H.; Rev. Epaphras Bowdoin, of Medfield. To the Confession of Faith which was read on the occasion, thirty-eight persons "assented in the presence of the new congregation." The day after, Rev. Caleb Blood became the pastor of this little church. Services were first held in Mr. Wiswall's house or in pleasant weather under the elm trees in front of the house. The first meeting-house was erected in 1781 on land given by Mr. Wiswall, a part of the east margin of the beautiful sheet of water nearly opposite his dwelling.—It was used before the interior was fitted up, a temporary pulpit of unplanned boards being prepared, and the seats being rough boards placed on convenient supports. The society drew a burdensome debt and proceeded only as the means at hand would permit, the building was not entirely completed until 1795 just fourteen years after its commencement.

The second place of worship, now Associates' Hall, was begun in 1835 and dedicated Dec. 22, 1836. Twenty years later it was remodelled and in 1860 a chapel was added at the cost of $2,000.

The benevolent deeds of the church have been remarkable for the membership. Since 1867 a chapel has been sustained at Thompsonville for mission Sunday school work and in 1882 a Sunday school work was opened at Oak Hill. The gifts each year to organizations generally aided by Baptists, have been large and many destitute families and persons and churches in need have had the continual support of the society.

The pastors of the church have been few. The records show the following to have been connected with the society since its organization:

Caleb Blood, July 15, 1780—Jan. 24, 1788, Joseph Grafton, June 18, 1788—Dec. 16, 1836.
Frederick A. Willard, Nov. 25, 1835—July 29, 1838.
Henry J. Ripley, Nov. 30, 1838—Sept. 4, 1840.
Samuel Francis Smith, January 1, 1842—June 30, 1854.
Oakman Sprague Stearns, Sept. 23, 1855—May 31, 1868.
William Newton Clarke, May 16, 1869—May 1, 1880.
Edward Brailsin, Nov. 16, 1881, February 1, 1882.
Lemuel C. Barnes, Nov. 1887.

The Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes, the present pastor, came to Newton Centre from Pittsburg. He has the esteem and love of all his congregation, and since his installation the church has been very successful in Christian work and has increased in membership to 400 or so.

The new church building—the subject of the illustration and explanation above—was begun November 1887. The old building had become too small for convenience and comfort and it was determined to erect a substantial and handsome church on the same site. The progress of the building has been carefully followed in the GRAPHIC, and to speak of it here would be to repeat what is well known. The entire building, including the furnishing and memorial windows, is estimated to cost about $87,000. It is to be heated by two large boilers, and to complete the ventilation an immense fan is to be kept in motion by an engine.

The building committee have exercised care in their expenditures, but yet have never hesitated to introduce the most improved and advanced methods of construction and furnishing. They have been true to the example of the builders of their first meeting-house and have carried out the principle of having the money in hand before expending it. The committee members are Dea J. S. Newell, chairman; Dwight Chester, Mellen Bray, Charles Young, J. C. Hartshorn, A. C. Wainwright, L. L. Leatherbee and D. B. Cladin. They hope to be able to be able to be ready for the dedication, Wednesday, September 12. When finished, the church will be one of the most ornamental in the city, and the Baptist society may be proud of having made a worthy addition to Newton's already long list of beautiful buildings for Christian worship.

voted to enter a team in the Eastern road races, the first of which occurs on the last Saturday of September. At the conclusion of the business meeting, the boys gathered around the hospitable board and partook of refreshments furnished by Caterer Tufts. Quite a number of the men rode to and from Boston on their wheels, and enjoyed a "little spurt" on the homeward run.

Among the brilliant hymeneal events of last week was the marriage of Miss Susan G. Hammond, a daughter of Mr. Gardner G. Hammond, and Mr. William C. Erickson, Miss Borland, W. G. Borland, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Borland, Jr., Mrs. Chapin, Miss M. Chapin, Mrs. Rogers, Miss Rogers, the Misses Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, Dr. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Dawson, the Misses Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Draper, Mr. Ogden, James Parker. A wedding breakfast was served at Walnut Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds left by the afternoon express on an extended tour.

The Newton Co-operative Bank.

The first meeting of the co-operative bank will be held on Tuesday Sept. 4. It will be a public meeting and will be addressed by Hon. Robert Treat Paine of Waltham, and others, who will explain the system and the advantages for Newton. Readers of the GRAPHIC are already familiar with its points. The dues for the first month will also be payable at that meeting, consequently investors will save money by subscribing for shares now. Subscriptions may be made to any of the officers. The first loans will also be made at the public meeting and those who intend borrowing should bear it in mind that the money will be auctioned at the close of the meeting. We republish a list of the officers: President, Francis A. Dewson; Vice President, E. W. Gay; Secretary, J. Cheever Fuller; Treasurer, William E. Elder; A. C. Young, Davis and Co.; Directors, J. Edward Hollis, H. E. Bothfield, J. N. French, A. R. Mitchell, C. S. Keene, T. B. Fitz, C. N. Carter, N. M. Jackson, John F. Heckman.

Y. M. C. A.

Notwithstanding the storm, there was a large audience at Eliot Hall, Sunday afternoon. Ashman's Band played several new selections of religious music before the meeting. The chorus singing at the "Praise Service" was rendered doubly inspiring by the able assistance of the band. S. M. Sayford, Esq., made an impressive address upon the four grounds of Thanksgiving: First, Redemption; second, Deliverance; third, change of King and Country; fourth, inheritance of Saints in Life. Next Sunday Thomas Weston, Esq., will speak on the grounds opposite the Methodist church at 4 p. m. Music conducted by Mr. Hugh C. Campbell, assisted by Ashman's Band.

Labor Day.

The labor day committee announce that a public meeting of all interested in labor day parade will take place in Brackett's Hall, Newton, at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, Aug. 22nd.

Wanted.

Smokers of High Art Cigars, for sale by G. Wilkins Shaw.

Faxon's Ice Cream Soda at G. W. Shaw's.

GRAND AUCTION SALE

AT WINTHROP HIGHLANDS,
WINTHROP, MASS.,
—OF OVER—

200 Choice Cottage Lots

WINTHROP SHORE LAND CO.,

On August 15, 16, 17 and 18,
at 3 o'clock P. M.,
each day.

Special inducements offered to purchasers building within a year.

TERMS EASY.

All lands put up will be sold absolutely without reserve.

Any information desired before the sale as to terms of purchase, 350 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, or GEO. E. JOSELYNE, real estate agent, at his office in Winthrop.

Winthrop Shore Land Co.

350 Atlantic Avenue, Boston.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Williams Street, off Centre, NEWTON.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

CASCO BAY.

A VISIT TO HASKELL'S ISLAND AND THE PLEASURES THERE.

[Correspondence of the Newton Graphic.]

HASKELL'S ISLAND, CASCO BAY, Aug. 4, 1888.

Lovable old Mr. Weller when he pictured "two hundred and forty passengers in the werry extremity of danger" and "their two hundred and forty screams all in unison," was behind the "gasping, wheezing, busting," locomotive on dry land; here among these rugged bluffs and forest-capped hills, the lusty voice of our little steamer would have refreshed his soul.

We left "the beautiful town that is seated by the sea" one morning on the "Mericonag," prettier little boat we cannot fancy, so neatly she rides the waves, and her every appointment is for comfort and pleasure. As we went aboard we requested our courteous captain that the "Haskell's Island signal" might be given for us, and disposing our luggage, have no more care but to entertain ourselves with the lovely scenery and the cheering conversation of two or three youngsters who are going with their mamma for a day's outing down the Bay. About once in every three minutes the youngest comes to ask, "How soon will it be dinner time?" and the next in age inquires, "How soon shall we get where it is tippery?" "Where is it most tippery?" and "If we went over the other side of the Islands instead of the Channel would it be more tippery or not?"

Mayhap the world has a lovelier place than Casco Bay, with its hundreds of islands, but I cannot imagine it; ever varying scenes of crag and slope, vale and forest, black reefs and snowy breakers. Here and there plump cattle and sheep are grazing on velvety turf, and little-limbed young horses raise their heads to look toward us as we glide along. The sun lies warmly on sheltered coves, and a refreshing breeze lifts the stars and stripes of "Old Glory," as it floats above the "Mericonag House," at our destination.

The whistle gives four ringing calls that roll back in a hundred reverberating echoes as we near the landing. The polite clerk comes, "This is Harpswell, Madam." "And that call was for us, I suppose." "Even so; and at the wharf is the dainty little boat already, and our kind host and his charming lady are waiting to row us over to their own dear little island. The gentleman takes the oars, the lady the helm. Titania glides smoothly over to the stone pier in a most inviting cove just opposite Harpswell Point.

My friend, who is the "Martha of this home, careful (though I hope not troubled) in the house management, welcomed me as I set foot ashore.

The house stands well sheltered from the bleaker winds, between protecting hills. Its broad verandahs surrounding three sides, and its neat dormer windows, all to the admirably selected colors, give one an impression of that good taste which modernizes old country houses enough for conversation without dissipating their charm of antiquity. The wide, airy old rooms are invitingly cool and cheerful, with tasteful furnishings, pictures and books, deep, time-stained fire-places, suggest the thought of autumnal evenings by the driftwood fire. "The cottage, smoke-begrimed and worn, was hung many and many a year ago—for whom, I wonder?"

One busy day I volunteered to go to the fisherman's house to get some lobsters, and waited with his kind wife while he brought them ashore, and had a pleasant talk. It is very strange in the days when one does not mind a twenty-mile ride by rail to do an errand, to meet an intelligent woman who never rode in the cars and would not like to; in winter season she is the only woman on this island. In due time the good man came with the sprawling green lobsters. He seemed to fear they would be too active for me to manage, but I landed them safely in the cuisine, where they were soon mercifully popped into the boiling pot.

The great delight of yesterday was a sailing excursion with a staid boatman, who kept one of the light houses for many years. He has many interesting facts to tell us as the brave boat flies through the foaming waves, round jutting promontories and among lonely little isles where no man dwells as yet. Eagle Island, with its growth of spruce fir woods, is to be seen with a fine stone villa when its millionaire owner is ready to make it a resting place after the bustle of New York life.

Mark Island has a strange old obelisk, useful as a "day mark" and containing a great room to shelter shipwrecked and storm-tossed mariners. Its immediate beach is yearly treated to a coat of white wash. One neighboring island is immortalized by Mrs. Stone, and its wild, picturesque scenery, fully described in "The Pearl of Orr's Island." Bailey's Thumb-cap and many others we must pass by and forget; there are three hundred and sixty-six named. Possibly one for leap-year, too!

Two fellows are fishing from a boat as we dash by. "How do they know?" says our good skipper, and adds sotto voce, "Those fellows know as much about fishing as the d— does about writing a Bible!"

There are three great barns, among whose dark rafters swarms of darkly-tinted swallows circle and flutter, perch and cluster about to chatter at us intruders, or wheeling—dart forth above our heads through the open doorway to the sunlit depths of the barn. Bright-winged moths, gold and brown, black and blue, rose-red and white, flutter through the air. Sailing gulls and graceful wild birds glide above the waters and foolish little sand-pipers dance along the beach. Martha shows me from the west window an old house on the marsh, and says, "In that house there live thirty thieves!" "Saints preserve us! Are you not afraid?"

She laughs. "They are cats!" (Pets and helpmates of two lonely fisher-boys.) Very shy they prove, and will not make friends with us, but frisk away in the waning grass when we approach them.

Where are our days going? They are short and dreamy, and the cool, refreshing night breezes bring sweet sleep. In the evening we watch the deepening shades in the cove and on the heights, and the twinkling lights appearing at the "Mericonag" and "Lawson's," and the group of cottages on Harpswell, and the "thousand eyes" of the night shining forth one by one. I think, with a little pain, of the time when we shall be rowed over on our farewell journey from Haskell's. Sancho Panza's greatest ambition was to be governor of an island. Perhaps it is sympathy for him that brings a tear to my eye. Rather that all old adages must have fulfillment, and I sung before breakfast this morning Bourdillon's

"The night hath a thousand eyes,
The day but one—
Yet the light of a whole world dies
When day is done!"

The mind hath a thousand eyes,
The heart but one—
Yet the light of a whole life dies
When love is done!"

"Hinc illic lacrymæ!"

M. A. C.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

List of New Books.

Black, A. The Story of Ohio [1699-1888].	74.202
In this second volume of the "Story of the States," the early history of the Ohio Valley is sketched, and the origin of the State with its history and development down to the present year given.
Bohannan, J. M. Industrial Liberty.	84.118
The author has "undertaken to make an analysis of the salient political and industrial evils of our time, and to measure, by fundamental rules; the departure in some of our governmental and industrial methods from the principles."—Preface.
Crawford, F. M. With the Immortals.	62.694
Heine, Chopin, Leonardo da Vinci, Samuel Johnson, Julius Caesar, Pascal and Francis I. appear as guests and join in the conversations.
Dickinson, E. E. The King's daughters.	66.585
Johnson, E. C. On the Track of the Crescent; Erratic Notes from the Pireus to Pesh.	36.251
Peele, Geo. Works; edited by A. H. Bullen, 2 vols.	55.321
Pendleton, E. A Virginia Inheritance.	62.695
Preyer, W. The Mind of the Child; Part I. The Senses and the Will; Observations concerning the Mental Development of the Human Being in the First Years of Life; trans. by H. W. Brown.	101.288
Richardson, Chas. Large Fortunes; or Christianity and the Labor Problem.	84.116
Rolfe, W. J., ed. Tales from English History in Prose and Verse; Selected from the Works of Standard Authors; with Notes. Certain selections intended either for supplementary reading or for elementary study in English literature.	51.423
Schurman, J. G. The Ethical Import of Darwinism.	91.521
Sidgwick, H. Outlines of the History of Ethics, for English Readers.	52.396
The author has confined his treatment of the modern period to English Ethics, and only deals with foreign ethical systems as they influence English thought.
Starrett, H. E. Letters to Elder Daughters; Married and Unmarried.	51.425
A companion volume to the writer's former work, Letters to a daughter (51.381).
Steel, A. G., and Lyttelton, R. H. Cricket; with Contributions by A. Lang and others.	103.442
One of the Badmington Library series.
Taylor, Edw. Is Protection a Benefit? A Plea for the Negative.	81.126
Prof. Taylor is convinced that our present tariff is an unequalled evil and an obstacle to our national prosperity. He attempts a statement of the argument, and gives a brief historical sketch of tariff legislation both here and in Europe.
French, Richard. Chenevix, Archibald. 2 vols.	95.382
Whistler, J. A. M. Ten O'Clock. Art criticisms and suggestions by the English artist.	53.362
The new Bulletin containing the list of books added during the past two years, since the Bulletin of 1886, is now ready. Price 20 cents.
E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.

The Homeliest Man in Newton.

As well as the handsomest, and others are invited to call on any druggist and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, a remedy that is selling entirely upon its merits, and is guaranteed to cure and relieve all Chronic and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Price 50 cents and $1.

It is Useless

for young ladies who are troubled with freckles, pimples, moths and tan and a bad skin generally to use liquid paints or dry powders, for they only make the skin look well for the time being. To have a good complexion you must have pure blood. Use Sulphur Bitters and your skin will be fair and complexion rosy.—Young Ladies' Magazine.

Nothing is more essential to good health and happiness than a good vegetable tonic, and Ingal's Mandrake Compound is the tonic to use.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that of the disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of skin disease. Do not use any other medicine ever made. Use Sulphur Bitters!

Lay your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Don't wait until you are sick, or suffer from indigestion, or have a bad breath, or feel that something is wrong with you. Use Sulphur Bitters. It will cure you. Lay your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Don't wait until you are sick, or suffer from indigestion, or have a bad breath, or feel that something is wrong with you. Use Sulphur Bitters. It will cure you.

Try a Bottle To-day! Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

THE LARGEST & MOST SUCCESSFUL IN THE WORLD.

BRYANT & STRATTON

REOPENS SEP. 4th 1888

COMMERCIAL SCHOOL

608 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON.

THE COURSE OF STUDY is thorough, complete and practical. Pupils are fitted for the duties and work of every day life.

THE FACULTY embraces a list of twenty teachers and assistants, elected with special reference to proficiency in each department.

THE STUDENTS are young people of both sexes, full of Diligence and Zeal.

THE DISCIPLINE is of the highest order and includes valuable business lessons.

THE PATRONAGE is the largest of any COMMERCIAL SCHOOL in the world.

THE REPUTATION of this school for Originality and Leadership and as THE STANDARD INSTITUTION of its kind is acknowledged.

THE SCHOOL BUILDING is centrally located and purposely constructed.

SPECIAL COURSE. Short Hand, Type Writing, Composition and Correspondence may be taken as a special course.

SITUATIONS IN BUSINESS HOUSES furnished its pupils completes the varied inducements to attend this school.

THE PRINCIPAL may be seen daily after Aug. 22nd, FROM 9 TILL 2 O'CLOCK, at the School Building; 608 Washington St., BOSTON.

PROSPECTUS, post free.

—YOUR—

SUMMER HOUSE!

Yes, and winter house too, will be all the more pleasant with the addition of a few of the beautiful new artotype

ETCHINGS and ENGRAVINGS

Framed in the new styles of Ornamented Oak.

MOULDINGS

$3.00 to $8.00 each.

Call and see them.

A Special Feature

Of my Business is

Restoring Old Engravings

And other Pictures to their original perfection, and

Regilding Frames

No matter how badly stained by age they may be, and my prices are very low for the service—also by adding to, or taking from old frames, I can give them an entirely different appearance.

Do not discard Frames or Pictures that you think are gone by, but come in and see what I can do with them, and how little it will cost to make old Picture Frames New.

EBEN SMITH,

182 Lincoln Street, Boston.

Near Boston & Albany Depot.

White, Cross & Co.,

Successors to

C. C. MOULTON & CO.,

Fine Clothing.

Just received a large assortment of NEW SUITS, and the above celebrated make.

White, Cross & Co.,

592 Washington Street, Boston.

Up one flight.

Dress Cutting School.

The science of dress cutting, draping, and basting taught by the advanced system, by

Mrs. D. B. HODGDON,

Cor. Centre and Jefferson Sts., Newton.

TERMS—$12 for the system, and $1 a week for draping and basting. Each pupil can bring a suit of her own and have it properly made.

Linings cut and basted for 50 cents, and paper patterns cut for 25 cents.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Funeral and Furnishing

UNDERTAKER,

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes.

And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

J. H. Nickerson,
West Newton, Mass.

- Clothing -

Is now prepared to furnish your Spring Suits from the Latest Styles of Goods, made to order or ready made as you may desire.

Some Special Choice Patterns for SPRING OVERCOATS.

Call and see us before purchasing. We shall be glad to show you our goods.

March 1888.

WALTHAM

STEAM LAUNDRY,

CORNER CRESCENT AND MOODY

WALTHAM

THORP & MARSH, PROPRIETORS

Goods left at Boynton & Marsh's, Newton; V. Sullivan's, Newtonville; A. L. Gordon o Lewis Rich, West Newton; Bird & Whall o J. W. Davis & Co., Auburndale; J. T. Thompson Upper Falls; E. M. Peck o H. S. Williams, Newton Centre, will be taken and returned promptly free of charge. Telephone No. 7679

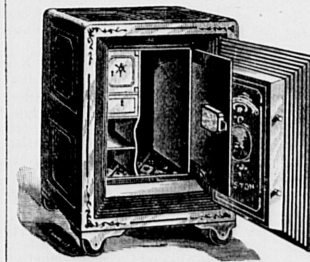

E. C. MORRIS & CO'S

New Improved Round Corner

Eight Flange Fire and Burglar Proof Safes.

(Formerly the Morris & Ireland Safe.)

Over 100,000 of these Safes now in use

For nearly 21 years these celebrated Safes have been sold in this part of the country, and today there are more in use than any safe made, and in all cases they have preserved their contents, with the

Champion Record

In the Great

Chicago, Boston, Haverhill and

Eastport Fires,

and contain more improvements than any safe made—such as the

Eight Flanges, Angle Fronts and Backs, Patent Inside Bolt

Work, Inside Iron Lining, and Four Wheel Locks.

These Safes are the Best, Cheapest and most reliable made.

A large line of Second Hand Safes of all makes on hand and for sale Cheap.

Before giving your order for any other safe, send for our prices and sizes.

E. C. Morris & Co.,

64 Sudbury Street, Boston, Mass.

BOSWORTH & FRENCH,

PLUMBING

Steam and Hot Water Heating.

AGENTS FOR THE

Pentecost

Steam & Hot Water

Heater

Which is specially adapted for the heating of Private

Dwellings, Stores,

Etc., at a moderate cost.

For Economy it

Can Not Be Exceeded.

7 Appleton St.

BOSTON.

Telephone 401 3-8

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR.

5 Tremont Street, Boston.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, 471

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE.

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

(Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)

40 Bedford St., Boston.

Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY.

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.

Residence, Newton.

EDWARD W. CATE.

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

113 Devonshire St., Room 52.

Residence, Newton.

GEORGE W. MORSE,

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

25 State St., Room 45, Boston.

Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

SAMUEL L. POWERS,

Counsellor at Law and Master in Chancery.

Mason Building, 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Newton.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,

Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.

Residence, Newtonville.

Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,

NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection.

MILLINERY.

Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and genera

assortment of

French and American Millinery

Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.

Crape always in stock and especial attention given to orders for Mourning Goods.

"Old Crape made New by Shriver's patent process. Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS,

Eliot Block, Elmwood St.,

Newton.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

W. B. YOUNG,

REAL ESTATE AND IN-

SURANCE AGENT.

NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES.

Land furnished and houses built to suit on easy terms.

Office, 25 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

ATWOOD & WELD,

Real Estate and Insurance Agents,

Appraisers and Auctioneers,

51 Sears Building, BOSTON. Telephone 1847.

690 Centre St., JAMAICA PLAIN. Telephone 887.

Newtonville Office, Dexter Block.

LEWIS L. F. ATWOOD. A. SPALDING WELD.

CAMBRIDGE LAUNDRY.

NEWTON OFFICE:

3rd door from Post Office. Work done well and promptly. Work taken Monday to 2 p. m., and returned Thursday night. Received after Monday and up to Thursday, returned on Saturday.

Holland and lace curtains a specialty.

S. K. MacLEOD

Carpenter and Builder.

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work

a Specialty.

Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library

Residence, Boyd street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 630, NEWTON, MASS.

F. G. BARNES & SON.

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.

AUCTIONEERS FOR REAL AND PERSONAL

PROPERTY.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 7909.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

FOR THE SUMMER.

Subscribers to the GRAPHIC can have their papers mailed to any address for the summer without extra charge. Those who are not subscribers, can have the paper sent to any address three months for 50 cents.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The School Board meets next Wednesday for the first time after the long vacation. The last important work done by the board before its adjournment was the most remarkable, we believe, that it has undertaken this year. We refer to the reorganization of the French department and to the selection of Miss Abbott as its head. It can hardly be said even that the French department is to be reorganized, for by this form of expression it is implied that such a department already exists. There are French classes and teachers, but very little of that organized and intelligent system without which a department is a mere name. Persons interested in the schools are probably not aware how little good work has been done in teaching modern languages since they first became an important branch of the public school curriculum. It is not too much to say that except for the mind training which is got from faithful work at anything, the time spent upon modern languages in our schools has been thrown away, so far as practical results are concerned. It was once said of a great university that it must contain vast stores of accumulated learning, for while Freshmen generally took a little knowledge in, Seniors never took any out. Now it is probable that the graduates of our High School take away with them a little French and German but hardly enough, we fancy, to last them more than a year or two at best. It is impossible to fix the responsibility for this state of things. The system—or better, lack of system—like Topsy, was not created—it "grew." It began when the teachers knew very little more than their pupils, and has continued in its old evil form even though its exponents and prophets have made great strides in fitness for their work. It is sometimes said that French must be taught in the old way, which is a bad way, in order to fit boys for Harvard and the Institute. This is explanatory, perhaps, but not not excusatory. The Newton High School is not a fitting school, in the first place. Moreover, if the great universities do not know when applicants for admission are well fitted, and apply tests which are only calculated to draw a little French out of an ignorant, so much the worse for them. It is their place to be a stimulus and an inspiration to the lower schools, and if they fail to fulfill their mission we must struggle along in our good work without them. It may further be said of this defense that it is "important if true," but it is not true. The Harvard and Institute examinations would not if they could, and what is more to the purpose, could not if they would, devise a standard which should operate against him who had knowledge and in favor of him who lacked it.

French will now be taught in the High School as English is taught by a mother to her child. The new and right system once lodged there will never be displaced. A revolution has been quietly effected.

The work must not, however, end where it began. Enough has been done for one school year, but more remains behind. The next inevitable step will be the creation of a German department under a chief competent to introduce and maintain the new and right system of instruction.

TWO BOOMS.

Milford Republicans.—The caucus voted with great enthusiasm to instruct the State delegate to vote and work for General Draper for Governor. The congressional delegates were instructed to vote and work for the nomination of John W. Candler of Brookline.—[Boston Post.]

Milford has fired the first gun of the campaign, but we fear that it is only a pop-gun. We have not a word to say against either of Milford's favorite ones, and, by the way, the favorite ones of Milford remind us forcibly of the three great Pennsylvanians, who, as every one knows, were William Penn of England, and Benjamin Franklin of Massachusetts, Albert Gallatin of Switzerland. As public characters however, the two great men of Milford must be judged upon the merits of their public careers. One of them, Gen. Draper of Hopedale, has unfortunately no public career at all, or at most, "only a very little one," as was said of the baby in the novel. We therefore once more advise his friends to send him to the General Court, to the end that he may achieve greatness in the beaten path of politics for they will have to wait long before greatness will be thrust upon him.

Seriously there is no reason why Gov. Ames should be pushed aside in favor of this new aspirant. Custom has decided that a good governor is entitled to three years of office, just as a member of the legislature gets two if he deserves them. No one pretends that Gov. Ames belongs in the list of our great chief magistrates, and no one disputes that he has done the proper work of his office faithfully and well. It is hinted that there are some things that he has not done. There are dreadful rumors that the last winter was a "hard one for the boys," and that the governor had done very little to tide them over it. Sad as these things are the plain people of Massachusetts have very little concern with them. They can be depended upon therefore to stand by the governor until he retires at the end of his third year.

Mr. Candler of Brookline is a very estimable gentleman, and we believe a good merchant. Unlike Gen. Draper he has a public career, and unfortunately there is too much of it. In 1882 he was badly beaten in this district by the civil service reformers. The cause of civil service reform has progressed and grown in popular favor in the last six years, and nowhere more than in this Congress district. There are probably two of these uncomfortable persons—the despair of the "boys,"—where there was one six years ago, and every one of them is a political foe of Mr. Candler. Mr. Candler may have seen a new light on this question—indeed, we believe he has,—but can the voters of the Ninth District be convinced of it? Further, Mr. Candler used to be called a free trader in the old days when it was safe for a Republican to prefer cheap blankets to cheap whiskey. It would be interesting to know whether he has so changed his views on this question as to meet the views of his Milford and Hopedale supporters. Perchance some friend of Mr. Candler will enlighten us on these points, and will tell us at the same time how his friends expect to carry the Brookline caucuses for the Hopedale statesmen. One good turn deserves another.

HOW TO WIN.

Since 1882 the Ninth District has been a battle ground, which neither party could fairly claim as its own. Though it belongs naturally to the Republicans, they have carried it but once in the last three contests, and then less because they were united and strong than because the opposition was divided and weak.

The strength of the two parties, if only thick and thin adherents are to be reckoned in the computation, is about equal. Outside, however, of the voters considered in such a calculation, are men who are not to be won by the ordinary clap-net of a political campaign. None of them are party slaves and many of them are not even party adherents. Party leaders and hack politicians may fret and fume as they choose, but they must look facts in the face. If they want votes they must work to get them very much as a merchant works to dispose of his wares; they must offer a better article than their competitors.

Now it is a sad truth that many of these unattached voters can never be counted on in working out the political puzzle. Ismaelites, their hand is against every man's hand and every man's hand is against their hand. They bolt caucuses if they do not bring in their own man, and are as likely to vote for a bad candidate as a good one at the polls. Let them go therefore. There are, however, so called Independent voters of a different stripe. Their attachments are to the Republican party, and their votes can easily be had. They will look critically at our wares, but if we offer them the best article attainable in the market they will leave the opposition and bring their votes to our door. A tried Republican, whose record is not such as to put his friends on the defensive, a man who is enough of a protectionist to know that free trade and measures looking to free trade are unwise and unpatriotic in the present condition of our finances and industries, but intelligent enough to understand the difference between insane protection and a wise reduction of a system of taxation which the nation has outgrown will command their support. Such a man will be elected and none other can.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Senator Fletcher of Belmont having served the customary term of two years, the question of his successor is already being discussed. We do not now propose to advocate the claims or qualifications of any man for the position, but we should like to impress upon our readers the importance of realizing the fact that if Newton is to have the honor of furnishing a Senator this year, its usual suicidal policy of sending to a convention delegates in favor of half a dozen Newton men must be abandoned. No greater injury can be done to a candidate than to make it possible to be truly said against him that he has not the unanimous support of his own city. Division invites and deserves defeat. Delegates should be chosen who will agree to unite upon the candidate from Newton who is the choice of a majority of its delegates. As soon as possible after the caucuses a meeting of the delegates should be held and a choice be made, and thereafter Newton should have but one candidate, and he should receive the solid and hearty support of the delegation.

In no other way can Newton get what belongs to her. We were entitled to the senatorial nomination in 1886; we are more entitled to it now. Shall we again divide our strength and be defeated, or unite and win?

Gov. AMES' recent interview with a Boston Advertiser reporter is a very frank and manly statement of his position during the present abundance of ante-convention talk. Certainly no person without the best interests of the State and the party at heart would ever have been as open and free in his remarks, not to mention newspaper interviews. Gov. Ames said:

"Every republican governor has had three terms save Talbot and Washburn. The former did not want it; the latter wanted it to the senate. If the exigencies of the party had seemed to have required a change, or the leading men of the party desired it, I should have taken myself out of the way with pleasure. But as no one intimated a desire to have me out, save men who wanted the place, I do not see any reason why I should take myself out of the way because some one else wants my place. Leading men of the party have said that I am entitled to it, it being customary to serve three terms. If the party desires to break up the three-term custom, let it say so; institute two terms in the convention and have it understood that I shall not go into the campaign, neither shall I worry. That is for my friends to do, and if they think well of me and nominate me, well and good."

Contrast these words with the campaign talk generally heard from candidates and one cannot help having a respect for the character and a feeling of security in the ability of Gov. Ames.

When the Blaine train was surrounded by an enthusiastic crowd at Brunswick, Me., Capt. Bontelle said "Turn out as strong at the polls as you have turned out here to-day and we will have Harrison, Morton and Blaine." It is just such remarks as these as are opening the eyes of the independent voter and destroying all the grounds the Republicans ever had to stand on against him. It has always been a favorite theme of the Republicans that as Blaine was not made a candidate there could be no mugwumps, their only mission being to oppose the man from Maine. Lately however, it has become apparent that in event of Republican success next fall Blaine is in a fair way to be placed near the helm, and for this reason many who thought to return to the party are declaring their intention of again supporting Cleveland. It seems a pity at least, that those who have been sincere in their wishes to reunite the Republican party and bring the wanderers of the last campaign back to the fold, should be antagonized by the same worship that accomplished their defeat once before.

We learn that no charges were formally presented against Capt. Kennedy by Private Daggett. The latter had something of the kind prepared, but as he had taken back much that he said in connection with the company and its commander, such a step on his part would be unwarranted and ridiculous.

NEWTON.

—Mr. Eben Ellison is at Clifton.

—Mr. W. J. Farquhar is at Waterville, N. H.

—Mr. J. C. Elms and family are at the cottage at Clifton.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Potter and Miss Potter are at Saratoga.

—Rev. Dr. Creagan is expected to occupy Dr. Field's house this week.

—Rev. T. P. Sawin, brother of Mr. H. C. Sawin, preached at the Elliot church last Sunday.

—Mr. Willard Sampson is at Falmouth Heights. He came to Newton for a few days this week but has returned.

—Mr. Charles D. Eddy and family returned Saturday from their carriage drive through the Berkshire Hills.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Cutler and family of Washington street leave tomorrow to spend three or four weeks at North Scituate Beach.

—The patrons of John T. Burns the barber, in Coles block, who are interested in baseball, will find the score bulletined each evening as soon as the games are played.

—The Morse's field drain has progressed as far as Boyd street. Newton and Watertown have each put on gangs of laborers under the direction of Scott of Boston.

—The Prohibition flag has appeared. It was thrown out Wednesday from Eliot Hall and hangs over Centre street. The inscriptions are "National Prohibition Party," "Fish and Brooks," "Protection to the home" and "The saloon must die, that the state may live."

—The grounds of Mr. H. E. Hibbard of Brighton Hill were brilliantly illuminated last evening on the occasion of the fifth in the series of evening lawn parties given by the Newton people. A large number of friends listened to the music by a Boston orchestra.

—Rev. Dr. J. B. Gould preached at the Methodist church, Watertown, last Sunday, taking for his text "Agitation is life; stagnation is death." Mr. Gould was captain in the late war, and for ten or twelve years consul for Marseille, and he drew a number of illustrations from his experiences that were very interesting and in close harmony with his text.

—Mrs. Tucker, the mother of Sheriff S. W. Tucker of Washington street, fell on a flight of stairs and broke her leg. The accident was more unfortunate as everything was in preparation for removing to the new house. A room in that house was hastily put in order and the injured lady conveyed there. At the last reports Mrs. Tucker was improving as much as could be expected.

—Mr. E. H. Cutler, the late master at the high school, opens his preparatory school for boys at Brackett's block, Wednesday, Sept. 12. Newton people will be glad to learn that Mr. Cutler was much more successful in his school last year than, perhaps, he was warranted in expecting, during his first year. The pupils last year numbered 19, 5 of whom took Harvard examinations this summer, and one the technology examinations. Next year additions to the number are expected, and all the time not occupied with them—which does not promise to be much, will be devoted to another private school in this city.

—The annual musical festival given at the Point of Pines, under the conductorship of Mr. J. Thomas Baldwin, the well-known band leader, begins next Sunday, Aug. 19, and continues for eight days ending Sunday, Aug. 26. The regular numbers of Baldwin's Cadet Band will be augmented to the number of 100, and among those whose assistance they will have are Levy, the great cornetist, and Frederic Jones, the eminent trombone soloist. The program will be of the highest order, each day being given up to a certain class of music, America, Italy, France, Germany and England each being represented, while one day the program is made entirely of solos numbers.

Women's Relief Corps.

The regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps for the month occurred Aug. 9, at 3 1-2 p. m. Though the weather was excessively warm, there were 40 members present including the efficient president, Dr. Mary E. Bates. The business was despatched in a manner very satisfactory to all present, and the corps was dismissed at 4 1-2 p. m., much to the gratification of those who had stayed through the long session of July 12. The next regular meeting will be September 13.

MARRIED.

WINTERS—WELCH—At Newton, Aug. 15, by Rev. M. Dolan, John J. Winters and Bridget M. Welch.

PURDY—CRANSTON—At Newton, Aug. 15, by Rev. G. S. Butters, William H. Purdy and Lottie B. Cranston.

COMPTON—ANDREWS—At Newton Centre, August 13, by Rev. D. L. Furber, Wm. F. Compton and Jane A. Andrews.

DIED.

QUINN—In Newtonville, Aug. 15, William Quinn, 5 mos. 18 dys.

FITZPATRICK—In West Newton, Aug. 14, Michael J. Fitzpatrick, 20 yrs. 29 dys.

WASHBURN—In Newton Centre, August 14, Wm. A. Washburn, 6 mos. 7 dys.

MULLEN—In Newton Centre, Aug. 13, Mary J. Mullen, 36 yrs.

TREDDEN—In Auburndale, Aug. 10, Thomas Tredde, 2 mos. 10 days.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FURNISHED ROOMS, with board, if desired, in house having modern conveniences, situated on Jefferson Street, Ward 7. Address Mr. Goodwin, Box 578, Newton. 45-tf

LOST—On Saturday, Aug. 11, between Newton and West Newton, a small chain purse, valuable for association's sake. It contained three dollars. A suitable reward will be paid the finder on leaving it at the West Newton Post Office, Box 475. 45-tf

WANTED—A few smart girls to work in a worsted mill. Steady work and good wages. Apply Nonantum Worsted Co., Chapel St., Newton. 44-2t

FOR SALE—A second-hand covered buggy in perfect repair. Hall's make, cost $400; price $100. Call on W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 43-3t

TO LET—A nice tenement in Newtonville. Rent $11 per month. Apply to D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street. Telephone 2178. 43

FOR ONE YEAR—Furnished house to let at West Newton, in September, 7 minutes walk from railroad station. Address P. O. Box 261, West Newton. 43

TO LET—In Webster Park, West Newton, a nice sunny house of nine rooms, possession given immediately. Inquire of Robert Bennett, West Newton. 42-tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Three medium sized houses, with nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, at very reasonable rates. Address P. O. Box 261, Newton. 27

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Anthony K. Gardner and Albert L. Gardner, under the firm name of Gardner Bros., have applied for a sixth class liquor license for use in their store in Nickerson's Block, Station Street, Newton Centre. 45-tf

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Charles Morris of 194 Dublin Street, Cambridge, has applied for a junk license in this city. ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk. 45-2

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Richard J. Morrissey has applied for a permit to erect a private stable on Jewett street, Ward 1. ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk. 44-2t

NOTICE.

Newton, Mass., Aug. 17, 1888.
The Variety Store at present occupied by M. J. CONNOR, in Lancaster's Block, will be vacated by Sept. 1st. All the goods now in stock will be sold at COST, as he will discontinue the business. The following fixtures will also be sold—New Counter, (used about two years,) one second hand Parlor Stove, Show Cases, Shelving, &c.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS & IMPORTERS,

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

We have obtained the services of MR. J. W. KNOWLES, of Newtonville, a Cutter of high standing.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.
J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

ARTHUR HUDSON.

Analytical and Pharmaceutical CHEMIST AND APOTHECARY.

(28 years experience in the business.)

WARNER'S BLOCK, NEWTON
Cor. Centre and Elmwood streets.

A full line of Chemicals of Standard Purity always in stock.
Physicians' prescriptions compounded with accuracy at all hours.
Proprietary Medicines and Druggists' Sundries.

CHEMISTRY.

With a large and thoroughly appointed Laboratory, Mr. Hudson offers his services in the line of his profession. Investigation as to the composition of matter conducted by analyses of syntheses, according to most approved methods. Analysis of potable waters, milk, etc., a specialty.

The Senior Druggist of Newton.
TELEPHONE 7979.

Real Estate.
Mortgages.
Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.

OFFICES
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

CHARLES F. RAND,
AUCTIONEER.REAL ESTATE.
MORTGAGES.
INSURANCE.

Office, No. 417 Centre st., Newton,
Opposite Public Library.
OPEN FROM 7 O'CLOCK A. M., TO 7 P. M.

Properties in Newton and Allston a Specialty.

At Boston office, No. 113 Devonshire street, Room 23, (Minot's Building), from 10.30 to 11.45 on Tuesdays and Fridays only—through July and August.

Estates for Sale. Houses to Rent.
MONEY TO LOAN.

Storage OF Furniture

I have 20 rooms in Cole's Block, also 10 rooms in Brackett's New Block, opposite the Public Library, fitted up with lock and one key only to each room, which is held by the occupant. These rooms are to rent at all prices from $1.50 to $5.00 per month; no better places for Storage in this City.

If in want of rooms to store Pianos, Organs or furniture of any kind call and examine them.

CHARLES F. RAND, Real Estate Office.

Charles F. Rand.

REMOVAL.
BARBER BROS.,
Successors to A. Howes.

Removed to Brackett's New Block, opposite Public Library. With good entrances, a safe place for tenants and better facilities for transacting business, we hope for an increase of public patronage. All heavy goods received and delivered at the rear entrance. Telephone 7864.

1852 ESTABLISHED 1887

HUBBARD & PROCTER, PHARMACISTS,
Successors to

Chas. F. Rogers,
BRACKETT'S BLOCK,
NEWTON, MASS.

Branch Store, Nonantum.

A. J. Macomber,
WATCHMAKER, JEWELER and OPTICIAN.
Watertown St., near the Post Office.

Everything usually repaired in a place of the kind will receive prompt attention at low prices

TO LET.

Waverly Ave. near Washington st., Ward 7,
Small house of 6 rooms, bath and laundry, all improvements. Possession May 1, 1888. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St. Boston, or J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. 28-tf

Evergreen Trees.

For August planting. A large stock of choice kinds, not excelled in the country in extent, quality and cheapness.

From Aug. 20 to Sept. 20

I will contract to plant and warrant to live. Send for a Catalogue.

WABAN, NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

W. C. Strong.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Professor J. B. Taylor is sojourning at Nantasket.

—J. F. Curtis is enjoying a few days at the Atlantic House, Nantasket.

—Miss S. E. Parker is at the Park House, Nantasket.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bailey are spending their vacation at Nantasket Beach.

—E. S. Colton is having a great success with his Boston news stand.

—All the apartments in Clafin's new block have been leased.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carter are at the Oakland House, Cottage City.

—Mrs. H. R. Thompson registered at the Summit House, Friday.

—Mr. G. H. Loomis was here Tuesday on a flying trip from Cottage City.

—Robert S. Shedd returned this week from Breezy Point, Warren, N. H.

—Mr. Henry P. Dearborn is visiting the family homestead at South Weare, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bean have returned from their visit to Lexington.

—Mrs. F. A. Dewson has gone to Bar Harbor for a few days.

—Mrs. John W. Dickinson has returned from North Falmouth, Mass.

—Mrs. D. H. Fitch and son arrived home last Saturday from Willimantic, Ct.

—Mrs. Geo. A. Macomber registered at the Summit House, Mt. Washington, last week.

—Mrs. Wm. P. Tewksbury is among the late arrivals at the Pigeon Cove House, Pigeon Cove.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Cornish are registered at the Nobscusset House, Davis, Mass.

—Mrs. B. S. Grant and Miss Jane Grant were at the Mt. Washington Summit House last week.

—At Breezy Point, Warren, N. H., are Mr. H. H. Sucker and Mr. C. S. Keene, wife and child.

—Postmaster Turner has gone to Block Island, R. I., where he will enjoy a two weeks' vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Otis Renney are spending a few days with Mr. William M. Renney at his residence, Newtonville avenue.

—Miss Fannie M. Page, the pleasant clerk at Mr. Sullivan's, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Fort Point, Stockton, Maine.

—Mr. Bartholomew, the well-known artist of this village, with his wife and child are stopping at Lanesville, Pigeon Cove, Mass.

—Mrs. J. H. Hannah and son of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hills.

—Mrs. E. A. Sinclair and Miss Allie E. Sinclair are at North Ferrisburg, Vt., for August and September.

—Mrs. McFarland and daughter, who have been visiting at Mrs. Stowell's, returned to their home in Fitchburg, Thursday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Quinn have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their baby boy.

—J. Sullivan and wife, George F. Small and wife, M. Levi and Miss Lebl, and Douglass Diamond of Newtonville are at Hotel Standish, Nantasket.

—Miss Alice B. Thompson and Miss Mildred H. Thompson of Newtonville are at the Rose Standish House, Downer's Landing.

—Mrs. J. Wesley Kimball has returned from Westboro, where she has been visiting for a few weeks.

—Mr. John Cranitch, foreman for Donovan Bros., builders, Washington, D. C., is here on a short visit.

—Mr. M. H. Clough of Gloucester has purchased the Tufts' estate on Court street.

—Miss Nellie A. Vose is enjoying a three weeks vacation at Duxbury, Mass., Standish Shore.

—Mr. A. E. Binney and family have returned from Martha's Vineyard, where they have been enjoying their vacation.

—It is rumored that a new block of houses will be erected on Walnut street in the near future.

—Mr. J. Cheever Fuller is spending a few days at North Falmouth, Mass.

—The Prohibitionists will throw out a Fisk and Brooks campaign flag in the square about September 1. They have already thrown out some flags at Newton and Auburndale.

—Norumbega tribe, improved order of Red Men, initiated several candidates Wednesday evening at a meeting held in its hall, Clafin's Block. The chiefs were also raised up in their respective stumps. The tribe is increasing in numbers and indications point to a flourishing community of red men in this vicinity.

—The North Conway Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held its annual meeting at the Music Hall of the Sunset Pavilion, North Conway, last Wednesday. Rev. Dr. John Worcester, the president, occupied the chair, and gave an address on horses. There were addresses by Boston ministers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Falkland-Buchanan, who appeared at the Clifton Casino on Wednesday evening in a pretty comedietta, "The Fairy's Romance," were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Call. The entertainment was arranged by Mr. Edward P. Call, president of "The Players," at the invitation of the Casino directors.

—We learn through Mr. Joseph Mendell that Mr. Joseph W. Stover was in Newton Wednesday evening, spending the night with his brother-in-law, Mr. James Macomber. He started Thursday for Sought Hill, N. H., where his wife is spending the summer.

—Miss Lottie B. Cramston and Wm. H. Purdy were married by Rev. G. S. Butters at Newtonville, Wednesday. The young couple are receiving the congratulations and good wishes of their numerous friends. They will reside on Bench street.

—Wm. Haley, who works for Hunting's Express Co., called at the residence of Mrs. Dole, Walnut street, Monday, and got an order for some groceries in Boston, with the money to pay for the same. When he got on his train he discovered that he had made a mistake and given him a ten dollar bill instead of a one dollar bill. He returned the money and was rewarded by Mrs. Dole who appreciated his honesty.

—A pleasant company of about twenty or more young people gathered at the residence of Mrs. Ann Dole, Walnut street, Monday evening, upon the occasion of the celebration of the fifteenth birthday of her niece, Miss Gertrude Jones. The usual social features, including games and an interesting dialogue, were enjoyed, and an excellent collation was partaken of. Miss Jones was congratulated by her friends, and was the recipient of some very pretty presents.

—Mrs. Anne W. Grant has the sympathy of the community in the death of her brother, Mr. F. H. Chamberlain, who died at Windsor, Vt., on Friday last. The deceased was 64 years of age, and was a man esteemed and respected by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The remains were brought to Newtonville, and services were held in the chapel at the Newton cemetery, Sunday afternoon, where the interment took place.

—The New Bedford Standard for August

14, says that on Friday of last week a jolly party of young ladies and belonging to the "Happy Go Lucky Club" of Newton, Mass., took a sail from Catamnet to Marion in the yacht Romp, Capt. Robinson. The ladies were all fine-looking and the club, to which they belong is rightly named. The names of the ladies are as follows: Mrs. Horace D. Corey, Misses Margaret S. Wallace, Louise G. Webber, Bessie S. Soule, Molly B. Forbes, Clara E. Sheppard, Isabel N. Cole, Alice A. Warren and Mrs. D. E. Riland. The party visited the postoffice and each wrote a postal to friends and loved ones at home.

—Mrs. Marion Fuller, wife of Mr. R. A. Oldrieve, and daughter of Mr. William E. Fuller, superintendent of streets, died at the home of her uncle in Weston, on Sunday. The funeral took place from her father's house on North street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Wells, pastor of St. Mary's church, Newton Lower Falls, officiated, he being the same pastor who united her in marriage on Wednesday. The floral tributes were very beautiful. The remains were interred in the family lot in the Newton Cemetery. The deceased was twenty-five years of age, and her sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

WEST NEWTON.

—Arthur White is at Beachmont.

—Miss Emily Webster is sojourning at Hull.

—Mr. A. B. Potter and family have returned from Martha's Vineyard.

—Mr. Joseph Synnolds and Frank Fuller are camping at North Falmouth.

—Mr. J. H. Newell and wife are spending a few weeks at Block Island, R. I.

—J. A. Smardon registered at the Summit House, Mt. Washington, August 10.

—Chief Engineer H. L. Bixby is spending his vacation with his family at Chatham.

—Rev. L. J. O'Toole has returned from Ireland, where he has been absent on a brief visit.

—Francis Newhall and Warren S. Kilburn are registered at the Chase House, Boothby Harbor.

—Mr. Sumner Robinson is spending the summer in the Maine Woods and reports excellent sport.

—George H. Leatherbee was elected a member of the Young Men's Democratic Club at the last meeting.

—Miss Lee reached West Newton this week, having enjoyed a pleasant drive to North Conway, and return.

—Messrs. George and Clinton Eddy anticipate a pleasant hunting trip in Maine, on which they start next week.

—Mr. E. A. Wood leaves Monday for New York city and will attend the meeting of the American Society of Florists.

—The new house of Mr. Fred Burgess, Edgewood, is nearly completed. It is a substantial and well arranged dwelling.

—Edwin Flemming, Jr., and a pleasant home at the Bay View, Camden, Me.

—The Hawthornes of West Newton and the Wabans are playing a game of base ball at Lake Walden this afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake will remain at Auburndale about Sept. 1. They will reside on Waltham street, West Newton.

—Mr. Robert W. Bush and his friend, Mr. Oliver Prescott both members of Harvard, '80, are cruising in the former's yacht Edith.

—Mr. A. L. Barbour and family return to Martha's Vineyard next Tuesday, where they will remain during the balance of the vacation season.

—A Harrison and Morton flag will soon be raised in the square. No demonstration will take place until later in the season, when a grand rally may be expected.

—Hon. and Mrs. Charles Robinson left this week for Westernport, Md., where they will remain during the balance of the vacation season.

—Dr. F. E. Crockett has returned from Block Island, R. I., where he has been enjoying his vacation. He says that it is a delightful place and a popular resort for society people.

—Since our last issue, 14 cases have been decided in the police court, a slight falling off as compared with the record of the past several weeks. Of this number, the drunkards were the most numerous, in all 9; assault and battery 2; violation of the city ordinances, 2; cruelty to animals, 1.

—Cherry street has been poorly illuminated late. On the darkest nights, the light beyond the Allen estate was not lighted, and there is no other light until you reach River street, pedestrians stumbled upon each other and barked their noses against the friendly trees by the roadside.

—One of the pleasing and interesting features of the great Baptist gathering at Cottage City this week is the solo singing by a young lady of this village, Miss Jessie G. Stickel. The rendering of "Sublime evening of the piece" "One sweetly solemn thought," before the great audience filling the tabernacle to its utmost, received most hearty commendation. The natural grace and ease with which she sang, with clear and distinct enunciation of the words, and the beautiful tones especially noted in the highest notes, won for her well merited praise. Many Baptist people of this village, who were present at this meeting, which promises to be one of the best ever held on the grounds of the Baptist Association.

—Three of the new houses on the Elliott estate are nearly completed and the fourth one has been started. The large barn has been removed to its new foundation and the work of alteration has already commenced. Dr. H. E. Johnson, the dentist, occupying rooms in Robinson's block, has just added a new and elegant patient's chair. It is complete and perfect in mechanism, and is so arranged that it may be very easily operated. The chair weighs 450 lbs., is of the Wilkerson pattern and was made by the S. S. White Co. The seat is raised by hydraulic pressure, and removed by the simplest movement of a lever. It is so constructed that the operator can tip it or swing it to any desired position, is beautifully upholstered, and is in fact, the best chair in use by dentists in this country.

—This question is often asked and especially during the summer season when our rapiers contain accounts of narrow escapes from drowning, and loss of life by not being able to swim, is an every day occurrence. If we should look into the matter we would find that in many instances where life has been lost it has been occasioned by not knowing how to swim. Mr. James T. Allen, residing this fact, a few years since established a swimming pond on his estate on Washington street. It has a surface of 5,000 square feet, is situated in a romantic and splendid spot, has every convenience for a first class swimming school, and is under the management of two attendants. The pond is formed from a fresh water brook, which is constantly flowing through it, keeping it fresh and clear; one-half of it is shallow enough for children to bathe, and is separated from the deeper part by a boom of logs, making it impossible for them to go beyond their depth, while on the other side of the boom swimmers and divers have ample room in which to display their ability. This season parties from Boston, South Boston, the Newtons, Jamaica Plain, Belmont, Cambridge, Weston and other places have been among the learners, while from 75 to 100 have visited daily this popular resort. Parents may here send their children, feeling that the utmost care will be taken that they are not allowed to stay in too long, or that any danger will befall them. This season has been very successful, and the public are cordially invited to inspect this swimming school by the managers, Messrs. Colby and Coe.

—The death of Mrs. Charlotte A. Ballard removes a most estimable and beloved lady from our midst. The deceased has been an intimate in the family of Dr. F. E. Crockett for a number of years and was beloved and esteemed by a very wide circle of people in this community. She was born in Sudbury and was 67 years of age. She is the descendant of an old and aristocratic family and was married to Mr. Francis G. Ballard, a prominent and wealthy Boston merchant who died about 19 years ago. During their married life the couple resided in Jamaica Plain and were prominent in social circles of Boston and vicinity. Mrs. Ballard was a wealthy lady and possessed a charitable disposition, her sympathies being readily aroused and her aims being freely bestowed. Her life has been full of sweetness and tender solicitude for others and her memory will be associated with the most loving regard by those who knew her and loved her. On Wednesday she rode to Dedham during the forenoon and passed the afternoon with Mrs. Felton at her residence, Hillside avenue. She was taken ill about 9 o'clock in the evening and lost consciousness soon after, passing away at about 6:30 the next morning, death resulting from paralysis. A daughter and son survive her, Mrs. Geo. H. Ingraham of West Newton, and Mr. F. A. Ballard of Lexington. The funeral takes place from the residence of Dr. Crockett, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The interment will be at the Forest Hills cemetery.

AUBURNDALE.

—Miss Julia Pickard has been at Harpswell Me.

—Mrs. Chas. Robinson has been staying at Marblehead.

—Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Cutler are at the Humarock, Sea View.

—Mr. C. C. Burr and wife ascended Mt. Washington last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burr are registered at the Crawford House, N. H.

—Mrs. Frederic Johnson and daughters and Miss Helen Johnson are at York Beach, Me. for August.

—The members of the 6 '80's and Mrs. H. D. Corey were entertained at dinner Tuesday by Miss Annie Plummer.

—Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gordon are passing a delightful summer with their daughter Mrs. Gulick in Spain. Miss Bessie Gordon is at the Seminary.

—At a large and progressive church party given at the Center House, Centre Harbor last week, very handsome prizes were won by Mr. George Hutchinson and Miss Hutch, son.

—Mrs. E. H. Walker was in Auburndale this week, returning to her summer cottage at Siasconset Friday. Her daughter, Miss Nellie, is a student at Wells College, next year being her graduating year.

—According to the Times,—"The banjo and guitar fever has broken out in Auburndale. When the beginners get thoroughly started in their practice a certain portion of the town will not be a 'Salute Rest,' accurately speaking.

—Miss Mary Cutler has accepted the position as head teacher of the Greek department at Northfield Seminary. Mr. Moody's school, at Northfield, Mass. Miss Cutler was graduated from Wellesley College last June.

—Mr. A. Harris, Miss Harris, Mr. Wilis L. Adams of Boston, Mr. & Mrs. R. T. Almy, Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Whitney of Boston, Mrs. Edmunds and Mr. Clarence Waldo of Brookline are the guests of Mr. William Briggs for the season.

—Prof. Brageon's residence is being enlarged and improved by Mr. H. H. Hunt, under superintendence of Mr. Charles Parker, architect. A swimming bath is being constructed under the gymnasium, which will be a new source of pleasure to the young people.

—Mr. E. P. Haskell, formerly of the Boston Herald, has purchased the controlling interest in the Minneapolis Evening Journal. He, with his son, W. E. Haskell, already owns a controlling interest in the Minneapolis Tribune, and the papers will again be under the same management.

—Mr. George L. Chandler of the High School is in camp with his family near Squam Lake, N. H., has had a number of his Auburndale pupils staying at his camp at different times during the summer. Ernest Markham and Albert Little, Miss Hazen and Miss Miller have been enjoying themselves there within the past week.

—A large party of business men from Faneuil Hall and Quincy market and Commercial street visited the Times on Monday. Many of them took the train, but those who were to participate in a game of ball were conveyed there in a trolley. A merrier party never left Boston. Reaching "Tanglewood," their destination, they were entertained most royally by Messrs. William B. French, Harry Stickney, James Noble and George H. Colton. Various sports and games were indulged in, and the party was well served at 2 o'clock. When the good things provided by Jones & Marshall to tickle the palate had been disposed of, witty speeches were made by W. B. French, Thomas Lake, N. G. Dole, known marketmen as Old S and Capt. H. H. Smith. Then the company proceeded to the premises of Mr. W. B. Fowle, where a game of ball was played, which proved interesting as well as amusing to the spectators, among whom were a number of ladies. The Doles and the Marshalls crossed sticks and played ball with a vim, the former nine, or rather eleven, being the victors, were on the side, winning by a score of 17 to 16. The ride home was attended by many amusing incidents. There were halts by the wayside, but at 10 o'clock the party broke up none the worse for their day's outing.

When the 3:35 train on the Boston & Albany railroad arrived at this village Tuesday afternoon, Officer Ryan, with the assistance of the conductor, took two men into custody for drunkenness. Officer Ryan proceeded to put one of the men in the baggage car, and the other, the baggage master at the station, went to his assistance. Officer Soule, in citizens' dress, who was present, thinking that the baggage master was making an attempt to prevent the arrest, went at once to the rescue of his brother officer and seized Chamberlain by the throat. The railroad official objected, and not knowing that he had been grabbed by a police officer, succeeded in getting away, and landed a good right hander on our worthy policeman's jaw, drawing first blood. Station Agent Dooliver, thinking that Chamberlain was getting rough treatment, rushed to the rescue, but finally they realized matters and the situation seemed then to flash through the minds of the several participants, and explanations followed. Mr. Chamberlain wore his customary uniform and is a special police officer as well as being attached to the corps of railroad police. He did not think that Mr. Soule was an officer, and naturally defended himself. It is certainly a ludicrous affair and has been a source of amusement to many. Officer Soule did not see Chamberlain's buttons and his uniform, and he was grabbed by Chamberlain and Dooliver the latter striking him. He thought that Mr.

Chamberlain was interfering with the prisoner. Mr. Soule's motive was of course a good one, from the standpoint of the affair, and he did not realize that Chamberlain was an officer. The drunken men were finally locked up.

—A council of ministers was held in the Congregational church, Monday afternoon, for the purpose of considering the advisability of the ordination of Mr. Henry Kingman, a member of the Union church of Boston, who has fitted himself for missionary labors in foreign fields. The council convened at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. D. L. Furbur was chosen moderator, and Rev. W. H. Campbell, scribe. The following churches were represented: West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Centre, Waltham, Park, Union and Shawmut of Boston; Roxbury, West Roxbury, North, Ct., and Exeter, N. H. Among prominent clergymen present were noticed Rev. Dr. E. B. Webb, Rev. Dr. Judson Smith, Rev. Dr. E. K. Alden of Boston; Rev. Dr. E. C. Bissell of Hartford Seminary, Hartford, Ct., and Rev. Dr. N. G. Clark, secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions. After a rigid examination of Mr. Kingman, who made the usual statement of belief, the council voted to proceed with the ordination. The ordination ceremonies took place in the evening in the Congregational church, the order of exercises being as follows: Reading of the Scriptures and Invocation, Rev. Dr. Furbur, D. D. of Newton Centre; hymn, congregation; address, Rev. N. G. Clark, D. D., secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions; ordaining prayer, Rev. George E. Street of Exeter, N. H.; charge to the pastor, Rev. Judson Smith of Boston. The speaker alluded to the important field into which Mr. Kingman was about to enter, charging him to value the high office to which he had been chosen and to master its meaning. It is, continued the speaker, the highest post that man can fill, and the measure of its value is the service it can render. It is the ministry of the grace of God to sinful men. This is a great work for any man to engage in; there are no themes of thought of grander conception and no more noble and exalted privilege is to fulfill this ministry as a missionary in foreign lands. What a glorious fellowship you enter, Paul, St. Augustine, St. Patrick, Boniface, Ansgar, Cyril, Methodius, Xavier, Elliot, Carey, Judson, Livingstone, Morrison, Logan. What a service you attempt! To Christianize a great nation, its individual souls, its homes, its social life, its thoughts, its literature, its government, its whole life and spirit. Nothing can exceed this in grandeur and worth. How interesting a people you are thus to bless! A vast domain, a countless population, a great history, a marvelous civilization, in the seat of a vast empire. A people industrious, thrifty, enduring, capable, colonizing—the very qualities on which to graft the Christian faith. You are not the first to undertake this work. You will remember the labors of Morrison, who entered this missionary field in 1807. Brigham in 1829, Baldwin in 1848 and Blodgett in 1860. As a result of this work, 32,000 were converted to Christianity, and a gain of 19,000 was reached in 10 years. Enter upon your work with courage. The speaker then read a quotation from the words of Judson, Livingstone and other missionaries, the former of whom said: "I am as sure that Burma will be converted as I am that God's promises will be fulfilled. I hope that God will strengthen you in your great work and that the Christian faith will be widely extended. At the conclusion of Dr. Judson's address, the right hand of fellowship was extended by Rev. W. R. Campbell of Boston Highlands and the concluding prayer was offered by Rev. Calvin Cutler. Rev. Mr. Kingman starts for Pekin, China, Aug. 30, where he will continue his missionary labors. He is a son of Deacon Abner Kingman of the Union church, who was a very benevolent man, and who desired that his boy should enter into missionary work. His mother is a resident of Auburndale, and the various clergymen were entertained at her house during the day.

CHESTNUT HILL.

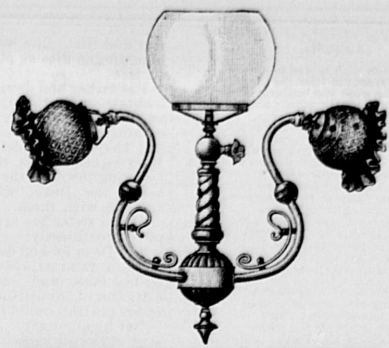

—Mrs. Slade, Miss Slade and R. D. Slade are among the Profile House arrivals.

AMUSEMENTS.

"ONE OF THE FINEST" AT THE GRAND.

The second season of the Grand Opera House was brilliantly inaugurated Monday evening by a performance of the comedy-drama, "One of the Finest," before a large audience. The play which is a favorite in Boston and familiar to theatregoers, has been greatly revised in its present form, new features have been added, new business introduced, and fresh dialogues and songs, until it is hardly the same piece. The great feature of the present form of the play is the fourth act, which has been entirely remodelled and enlarged to an extent which almost includes a suitable entertainment in itself. The scene is laid upon a wharf of the East River, New York, below the bridge. The city lights up on the opposite bank and the flickering torch of "Liberty" flash across real water, small boats, steamers and sailing vessels pass and repass up and down. The incidents of the play take place upon the wharf, but they have been made to include a number of extra features enacted in and upon the water. Luigi Sorchi, the Italian expert, gives an exhibition of trick swimming. Then a seemingly endless number of small urchins and young fellows go tumbling into the enormous tank which constitutes the "river," splashing about, having races and a fine time generally. Altogether, with the added attractions of the Sacramento quartet, Carroll and Butler the Irish comedians, and Ryan's own specialties, the play makes a very drawing production. It will be given every evening, with the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees, throughout the week.

SUMMER READING.
The latest novels can be found in TAINTER'S
Circulating Library!!
Also a full assortment of base ball and other sporting goods at
C. H. TAINTER'S.
(Successor to E. S. COLTON.)
Newtonville News Depot.

RESIDENCES WIRED

—FOR THE—

Electric Incandescent Light.

By our methods the Wires are concealed from view without injury to Walls, Ceilings or Decorations
ELECTRIC LAMPS ATTACHED TO GAS FIXTURES
now in use, so that either or both may be lighted when desired.
Electric House Work of Every Kind, Annunciators, Bells, Gas Lighting, Speaking Tubes
Neat and Gentlemanly Workmen, and the Best Materials.

Blodgett Brothers & Co.,
383 Federal Street, near Kneeland street, Boston.

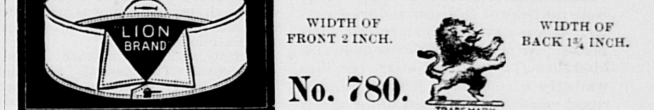

Lion Brand Linen.

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

LATEST STYLES.

J. V. Sullivan, Newtonville.

VARCOE.

NEWTONVILLE DIRECTORY

GEORGE H. TALBOT, M. D.

Office and residence, 306 Walnut Street.
Office Hours: Till 9 A. M., 4 to 6, and 7 to 8 P. M.
Newtonville, - Mass.

DR. J. J. COXETER, DENTIST.

Room 1, Central Block, NEWTONVILLE.

"New Perfection" REFRIGERATORS.

Dry Air, Charcoal filled, constructed upon purely scientific principles, and the air is kept DRY AND PURE by the patent perfected system of circulation, and therefore harmless to infants, and innocuous to age.
Conceded to be the best refrigerator in the market.

For Sale By
O. B. Leavitt,
Newtonville, - Mass.

Brashaw's "Home Candy" is unsophisticated, and therefore harmless to infants, and innocuous to age.
Washington St., near Square, Newtonville.

JENNIE S. CLAPP, M. D., Physician, Surgeon.

Scientific Electrician.
Office, Washington street, near Central avenue, Newtonville. Office hours till 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 8 to 10 P. M.
Dr. Clapp cordially invites ladies to her office, for practical talks, the second and last Friday of each month from 4 to 6 p. m.

A. A. SAVAGE, GROCER.

Has on hand a choice lot of flour at Boston prices. The stock consists of the best brands only, including CHRISTIAN BROS. CROWN ROLLER, PILLSBURY'S BEST, BRIDAL VEIL, CORNED BEEF &c.

Every brand is warranted and is delivered free. Patrons buying their flour in Boston will save money by giving me a call. Choice Vermont butter a specialty.

Associates' Block, Newtonville.

A First Class Investment

I have for sale FIRST Mortgages on Improved farms in Central Kansas, in sums of $500 to $1200 each, bearing 7 and 8 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest guaranteed by the BUCHANAN MORTGAGE CO.,
of Ottawa Co., Kas.

I am personally acquainted with the men who compose this company, and also with the country, having resided there for several years. The farms are worth from three to five times the amount loaned, and rapidly increasing in value. Correspondence solicited.
D. B. NEEDHAM
Dexter Block Newtonville.

JOHN F. PAYNE, REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

Associates' Block, - Newtonville.
SUNDAY HOURS—8 to 10:30 a. m., 12 to 2 and 4 to 9 p. m.

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

DENTISTRY.

H. E. JOHNSON, D. D. S.

(Office formerly occupied by Dr. Sanderson.)

West Newton.

References, Wm. B. Denison, Newtonville; A. F. Winslow, Auburndale; F. J. Macfarlane, D. D. S., Boston; H. C. Ballard, M. D., H. S. Kilburn, M. D., prominent citizens of North and West Newton.
Office Hours: 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Notice of Removal.

On and after May 1, the undersigned may be found at his new residence, corner Waltham and River streets, West Newton. Office hours: Till 9 A. M.; 1 to 3 P. M.; 8 P. M.

F. L. Thayer, M. D.

West Newton, April 27th, 1888.

A. L. GORDON.

SPRING and SUMMER Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, etc.
Low Shoes, Slippers and Tennis Goods for the season.
Fine Boot and Shoe Repairing a SPECIALTY.

Agency for Troy Laundry.

2 & 3 Robinson's Block,
WEST NEWTON.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton,"
Boat Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

The Choicest Butter at Lowest Rates

F. M. DUTCH,

PROVISION DEALER.

Washington, Cor. of Chestnut.

WEST NEWTON.

The Oldest Market in town.

S. F. CATE,

Furnishing Undertaker,

WASHINGTON STREET,

WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone #119.

H. P. DEARBORN,

Meats, Fruits & Vegetables,

Choice Cuts a Specialty

CENTRAL MARKET,

Newtonville Sq., Newtonville.

U. H. DYER,

Retail Dealer in

Fresh Fish, Oysters and Clams

Also, Choice lot of Fruits and Vegetables

Pork, Lard, Butter and Eggs

Corner Washington and Walnut streets, Newtonville.

Fresh Fish a Specialty.

Subscribe for the Graphic

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre.
Is agent for the GRAPHIC and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, handbills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Miss Minnie Peters is summering in Hull.
—Prof. Burton has returned from his vacation.
—Miss Minnie Chester has returned from the sea shore.
—Messrs. Tomlinson and Ellis are at Plymouth.
—Mrs. Avery Baldwin and daughters are in Camden, Maine.
—Mrs. J. S. Farnum is at the Nantasket house, Nantasket.
—Gerret Schenck and family are rusticating at Nantasket.
—The condition of the Rev. Dr. Cooke continues very critical.
—Mrs. Alden Spear and Mrs. Dr. Huntington are at Chotauqua.
—Rev. Dr. Clark of the Methodist church is taking his vacation.
—Mr. James Cutler is at Saratoga Springs for a couple of weeks.
—Frank N. Fennessy is spending the summer at Cottage City.
—Mrs. Maria Upham Drake and children are away for a short time.
—Miss Lucy and Miss Kittle Davis left on Monday for the seashore.
—The family of Marshall O. Rice are at the Naumkeag, Cottage City.
—Dean Huntington is to preach in the Methodist church next Sunday.
—Mrs. Dr. Bates is registered at the Bass Rock House, Gloucester.
—F. N. Brown is registered at the Pavilion Beach Hotel, Gloucester.
—Mrs. and Miss Thurston are registered at the Naumkeag, Cottage City.
—Mr. Edward W. Noyes of Sumner street and family are at North Scituate.
—Mr. Chester of Albany and his family are visiting at Mr. Dwight Chester's.
—Mrs. Major Bancroft from Woburn is visiting Mrs. Ellis on Homer street.
—Charles H. Barnes is registered at the Mountain View House, Beaumont.
—Mrs. H. S. Williams and family are enjoying the salt breezes at Nantasket.
—Hon. Alden Spear and his son Edward, are camping out in the Adirondacks.
—See Sidney P. Clark's new advertisement under Newton Centre Directory.
—Mrs. Elisha Bassett of Parker street returned on Monday from North Scituate.
—Mrs. Baker of Brookline is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Everett of this place.
—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nickerson are at the Senter House, Centre Harbor, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. Julius A. Rising leave for a fortnight's visit to Hancock on Monday.
—Clarence Barton and his brother Philip Barton, are visiting friends in Salisbury, Conn.
—Miss Minnie Peters and Miss Emily Webster of West Newton, are summering at Hull.
—Luther Paul and Miss Florence Paul have returned from a very pleasant trip to Bar Harbor.
—Mrs. Edward F. Keeler of Parker street, infant and nurse left to-day for Annisquam.
—Mr. Copeland, the artist, and his wife, are boarding at Mrs. Daniel Bond's on Paul street.
—J. W. Hill and family and Miss Caroline are registered at the Nantasket house, Nantasket.
—Miss Sadie Fellows of Lynn has been visiting friends on Pelham street during the past week.
—Rev. Amos E. Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence returned this week from a visit to Mr. Deser.
—Mr. and Mrs. French of Boston are occupying Mrs. Keeler's house while she is at Annisquam.
—Dr. and Mrs. Elliot of Centre street returned on the 14th from a two weeks stay in Littleton, Mass.
—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bassett and son and Miss Sibyl Spaulding have returned from Provincetown.
—Rev. Geo. A. Paul of Bloomfield, N. J., will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday.
—Miss Betta M. White is spending the summer very pleasantly in her cottage at Long Beach, California.
—Mr. Fred Turner, who is passing the season at his father's cottage at Nantasket, is much improved in health.
—Mr. B. Frank Brown of Cedar street is in Cottage City visiting his sister, Mrs. Fennessy of Newton Centre.
—Mr. Ernest Nickerson of Institution avenue has gone to Centre Harbor, to join Mr. Thomas L. Rogers' family.
—Rev. Henry Colby, D. D., of Dayton, Ohio, preached morning and evening of last Sunday at the Baptist church.
—Mrs. M. F. Goddard of Waverly avenue and her physician, Dr. Mary E. Bates, are at the Atlantic house, Nantasket.
—Mr. Dwight Chester and family returned on Wednesday from Cottage City, where they have spent ten days.
—Rev. Mr. Clark of the Methodist church leaves this week for Hubbardston, where he will pass a part of his vacation.
—Mrs. Moses G. Crane of the Highlands and her daughter Bertha, registered at Mitchell's in North Scituate on the 15th.
—Miss Maggie Martin of Centre street, teacher at the Mason school, left for Washington on the 14th, to visit her brother.
—Miss Richardson of Roxbury has been spending this week with Miss Walker, one of our summer people on Warren street.
—Miss Mary H. Cornelius is visiting her niece, Mrs. Colby of Cincinnati, at Rye Beach, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles White and family of Parker street have returned from Maine, where they have been spending a few weeks.
—Mr. Jeremiah Kittredge and his brother-in-law, Mr. Moses Stevenson have returned from their trip to Bar Harbor and St. Andrews.
—Mrs. Robert R. Bishop, J. T. Bishop, and E. B. Bishop are among the arrivals at the Bass Rock, Good Harbor Beach, Gloucester.
—Mr. and Mrs. William Bartholemew have returned from Gloucester, where Mr. Bartholemew has been making many sketches.
—Miss Bertha Forbes and her brother, Master Kenneth Forbes of Centre street, registered last week at the Florence house, North Scituate.
—Mrs. Dr. Butler made an address at the convention at Hamilton, on Monday, and also addressed a meeting at Epping, N. H., during the week.
—Mr. John Moxie left for his home in California this week. It is many years since he has visited Newton Centre and he was warmly welcomed by his old friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Davis have been at Pine Hill among the Catskills. They left there this week to be a short time at Hancock, N. H.
—The committee on the pulpit supply, during the pastor's absence at the Methodist church, have engaged Rev. Doctors Butler, Huntington and Pierce.

—Hon. Leverett Saltonstall of Hammond street has been spending a few days at the Gloucester, North Scituate. This beautiful property is partly owned by Mr. Saltonstall.
—This is the season when it would be much easier to report who are at home than who are away. Unfortunately that would not be satisfactory to the GRAPHIC reading public.

—Mr. Moses G. Crane of Newton Highlands and his son Edwin, have just returned from a short trip to Paris. They will then return to London and sail for America on the thirtieth instant.
—Considerable has been said in the Nova Scotia papers because a lady there sent a postal card to a friend with two words on it. Mr. Armstrong has just sent one from here with 1145 words of average length.

—The handsome residence joining Mrs. E. M. Johnson's estate at Chestnut Hill and owned by her, has been sold to a gentleman from South Boston. Ten acres or more land goes with it. This neighborhood is fast being built up.

—Mr. George O. C. Lawrence and wife have been spending a week with Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence, Beacon street, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence returned from Dresden on the steamer City of New York, and were fellow passengers with Hon. J. G. Blaine. They left this week for Buenos Ayres.

—The city has commenced the building of a school house of four rooms in the pretty woods on the west side of Station street, near Jackson street, for the accommodation of the numerous small children in that vicinity. There has been a noticeable improvement in the part of the village recently, new dwelling houses having been built, and the general appearance having changed for the better.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mrs. Hilton is at Martha's Vine yard.
—S. N. Woodward is at the Clifford House, Provincetown.
—Miss Claghorn of Savannah, Ga., is stopping with Mrs. Logan on Forest street for a few weeks.
—Several people are complaining that their boats on Crystal Lake are constantly being used, without consent, by the "eavesdroppers." Somebody had better take a hint and discontinue such practices.
—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Strong of Waban are at Bar Harbor as the guests of Prof. Thayer, Mr. Strong's brother-in-law.
—Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tyler have gone to Brownfield, Me., and will be the guests of his sister, Mrs. Breslin.
—Mr. O. J. Kimball, after an illness of a week, is out again.
—The trains on the Circuit road on and after the 16th inst., will stop to take on passengers at the new Eliot station.
—Mr. C. P. Clark, Jr., and family, after a visit of three weeks with his aunt, Mrs. Breslin, at Brownfield, Me., have gone to Kennebunkport to make a visit with his father's family, who have their summer residence there.
—Mr. S. O. Cobb, soon after his arrival from Florida, started, accompanied by his wife for a trip to the mountains.
—The cellar for the new brick block is now being excavated. Mr. T. D. Sullivan has the contract, and with a strong force of men and teams is making rapid progress with the work.
—Mr. D. S. Farnham is putting in a cellar for a house on the corner of Boylston and Winchester streets.
—Amni Blood, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, is not improving.

—Rev. Pleasant Hunter, Jr., of Newtonville, occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church last Sunday, and Rev. J. E. Bliss, D. D., of Denver, Col., will be the preacher next Sunday.
—Mr. H. B. Clark and family are at home from their visit to Rindge, N. H. Mrs. Clark will return to Rindge for a further stay of a month.

—The wife of Mr. M. W. Mullen of Winchester street, died on Monday after a long illness. She left a family of nine children, the oldest being only about fifteen years of age.

—Mr. S. W. Cobbett, since his partial recovery from a severe illness, has been at Sharon, his former home, with his family. He has returned much improved in health.

—It is reported that Mr. S. B. Thrasher has sold his lot of land, corner of Forest and Bowdoin streets, to Mr. T. D. Sullivan, who is filling the same with gravel from the cellar being excavated for the new brick block. The price was $800 for about 19,000 feet of land.

—Mr. A. B. Putney deserves the everlasting thanks of all our people here for the great work he has wrought in his real estate efforts upon Forest street, Chester terrace, Lincoln street and also Columbia street his own residence. The fact is we wish we had a few more such energetic, public-spirited men on this side of Newton.

—Mr. E. H. Greenwood and lady have returned from a two weeks outing, and to judge from appearance, they had a jolly good time. Mr. Greenwood is a good earnest worker. What the matter with his becoming an alderman? Echo answers, "he is just the man."

—The Clapp house on Chester street, recently bought by Mrs. Anne M. Cobb as an investment, has been remodelled, a large addition built on the north side, also a new second story balcony, with fresh coating of paint. It is now the prettiest house and lot in this vicinity. Mr. Cobb displays good taste in all her houses; therein lies her success in selling or leasing so readily.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Miss Helen Bacon is at Cottage City.
—Mr. C. E. Hassey arrived home on Saturday from California and went at once to his home in New Hampshire, having been called there on account of the very severe illness of his father.

—Mrs. L. W. Young and children, who have been visiting at Mrs. Dresser's, start for Georgia the first of the week, to join Mr. Young, who is in business there.

—Mr. L. W. Everett has returned from Newport and Cottage City, where he has been spending a few days.
—Mrs. Dresser has moved into her new house on Chestnut street.

—There was quite a number from this village who attended the picnic of the Sons of St. George at Melville Garden on Tuesday of this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Curry have gone once more to their summer home at Cottage City, after paying us a flying visit for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Otis Pettie have been making a tour of the White Mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fanning are taking a marriage trip through the western part of the State.

—There was a sheriff's sale of the property of the Superior Wax Paper Co. on Wednesday of this week. Quite a number of gentlemen were present from different parts of the State. Mr. Willard Marcy bought a large paper machine, and intends to run the mill for the manufacture of paper.

—Alderman Otis Pettie and wife are among those registered at the Randall House, North Conway.

—At a regular meeting of Home Lodge of Odd Fellows on Thursday evening, Aug. 2, the following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, By the death of our worthy brother, Thomas Truesdell, this lodge has been called upon to pay the last tribute of respect, which we as Odd Fellows, owe to each other; it is therefore Resolved, That in his death, Home Lodge has lost one of its oldest, as well as a most worthy and efficient member of its Order.

Resolved, That while the members of the Lodge contemplate the death of our brother with sorrow and regret, we will ever cherish the memory of his many virtues and kindly advice, that by so doing we will be bound closer together in the ties of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family of our departed brother our sincere and earnest sympathy, and express to them our heartfelt appreciation of his many character and Christian example.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the records of our Lodge, and a copy presented to the family of the deceased.

NONANTUM.

—Officer Burke arrested Wm. Dixon on Monday evening for assaulting his wife.

—Mr. Holmes has purchased a valuable carriage horse.

—Mr. Mullen has moved from Chandler to Adams street.

—Wm. Sullivan is having a new house built on Chapel street.

—Moriarty and Mills have a fish market on Watertown street.

—F. Marshall had the fore finger of his right hand cut off Tuesday.

—John Campbell, who was injured in the N. W. Co's mill last week, is able to be around again.

—Several of Nonantum's prominent Republicans visited Boston yesterday for the purpose of saving Mr. Blaine as he departed for home, but were disappointed, as they took their stand at the Boston and Maine depot while Mr. Blaine departed via the Eastern.

—Henry Curtiss has returned from a month's sojourn at Jefferson, Me.

—A large number of drawing frames are being manufactured in the machine shop.

—Geo. Banks of the machine shop is visiting friends in Canton, Mass.

—The Stars of Nonantum defeated the Eagles Saturday by a score of 7 to 3. The features of the game were the batting of Garrity, Hudson and Murphy.

—Officer Quilty is off on a vacation.

—The Jackson school is undergoing some needed repairs.

—Francis Kendall was thrown from his carriage on Watertown street one evening last week, but fortunately escaped without injury.

—Quite a number of people from this village attended the picnic of the Sons of St. George at Downer's landing yesterday.

—George Horner is vacating at Brant Rock, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willis will spend the next two weeks at Nahant.

—Misses Jennie and Julia Arnold, have been at the Point of View, N. H.

—Joseph Hanson of this village took first prize in the 100 yards dash at the St. George picnic. His son George won the swimming match.

—Unity Temple of Honor of Cambridge paid a fraternal visit to Charity Lodge, I. O. G. T., Wednesday night.

—The sister of Mrs. Dr. Vincent is spending the summer here.

Sidney P. Clark,
—AGENT—
STATION STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.
REAL ESTATE to sell and to rent. Farms, Houses and Land in all parts of New England. Rents collected and Mortgages negotiated.
BOSTON OFFICE, 178 WASHINGTON ST.

Vacation Class.
PAINTING & DRAWING
MISS IDA COLLINS
is ready to receive pupils for the summer.
Class commences July 16th.
Studio, Beacon Street, Waban.
Visitors Welcome.
P. O. Address, Newton Highlands.

MR. CUTLER'S
Preparatory School for Boys.
Second Year, 1888-89.
For terms and other information apply to or address MR. E. H. CUTLER, Washington street, Newton.
The next term begins Wednesday, Sept. 12

DR. FIELD
After July 31st, will give up his house on Franklin Street and occupy a suite of rooms at
MRS. FRANKLAND'S
Centre Street, near Franklin.
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
MIDDLESEX, ss.

City of Newton.
To CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, City Marshal, or one of the Constables of the City of Newton.

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to warn the citizens of WARD NO. FOUR, qualified to vote as the law directs, to assemble at

AUBURN HALL,
IN SAID WARD,
On Tuesday, the 4th day of September next,

at seven o'clock in the forenoon, and from that time until twenty minutes past five o'clock in the afternoon, then and there to give in their ballots for one Common Councilman for said Ward, who shall be resident therein, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Theodore W. Gore.

The polls will be opened at seven o'clock in the forenoon and closed at twenty minutes past five o'clock in the afternoon, on the day aforesaid.

And you are directed to serve this Warrant by posting attested copies thereof in not less than four public places in said Ward, seven days at least before the time of holding said meeting, and publishing the same in the NEWTON GRAPHIC and the Newton Journal.

Hereof full notice and due return of this Warrant, with the doings thereon, to the Warden of said Ward, on or before the fourth day of September next.

Witness, J. Wesley Kimball, Mayor of our City of Newton, on this twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-eight

J. WESLEY KIMBALL, Mayor.
By order of the Mayor and Aldermen,
I. F. KINGSBURY,
City Clerk.

A true copy, Attest:
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON,
City Marshal.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
MIDDLESEX, ss.

City of Newton.
In pursuance of the foregoing Warrant, I hereby warn the citizens of Ward No. 4, qualified to vote as the law directs, to assemble at the time and place and for the purposes herein set forth.

CHARLES F. RICHARDSON,
City Marshal.

City of Newton.
Where he is prepared to make to order on the shortest possible notice Ladies' and Gents' Fine Boots and Shoes; also repairing of all kinds done first-class. His expenses are comparatively nothing and he intends to give the benefit to his customers. Here are some of his prices: henbok shoes and heels, $1.00; Union Leather, $1.00; oak tan, $1.25. Patches at all prices. Rubber work done at short notice. All the work warranted to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

T. FINNEGAN.
Basement, opposite Sumner Street.

NEWTON CENTRE
Boot & Shoe Store.
Established 1874. All repairing done inside of ten hours.
G. E. BARROWS,
4 Farnham's Block, Newton Centre.

WM. G. SAUER.
CONTRACTOR.
For Mason Work, Cellars, Drains, Cesspools, Wells, and other like work. Call on or address at Newton Centre, 401

GARDEN HOSE.
If you want a good article buy
Atherton Rubber Co.'s
Warranted Hose.
For sale by dealers throughout Newton.
Atherton Rubber Co.,
26 A Kingston Street, Boston.

Faneuil Hall MARKET
George F. Richardson,
White's Block.

White's Block
Orders promptly attended to.

DR. W. W. HAYDEN,
DENTIST.
Pleasant Street, Newton Centre.

ARMSTRONG BROTHERS
Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's BOOTS AND SHOES,
at prices which defy competition.
Repairing done in first-class fashion, and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early.
CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.
Next door to Dr. Noble's.

Flour. Flour. Flour.
Butter. Butter.
Tea. Tea. Tea.
Coffee. Coffee.
Eggs. Eggs. Eggs.
All of the choicest quality, with a large stock of other goods in our line, can be found at
KNAPP'S
Station St., near the Depot.

D. W. BROWNELL,
Beacon Street, Newton Centre, Mass.
Manufacturer and Dealer in
Fine & Coarse Harnesses
Of every description. Trunks, Travelling Bags, Horse Clothing, &c.
A. A. SHERMAN & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Provisions, Vegetables, Fruits,
Butter, Lard, Pickles and Canned Goods.
FARNHAM'S BLOCK, NEWTON CENTRE.
Orders taken at the house daily if desired.

S. L. PRATT,
Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
Cor. Beacon and Station Streets, Newton Centre.
Carriages for Weddings, Funerals, Parties, &c., furnished at Short Notice. Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

WETHERBEE & Co.,
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston
EXPRESS.
Boston offices, 75 Kilby St. and 11 Harrison ave. Extension.
Order Boxes—Newton Highlands Post Office and Newton Centre Post Office. Hours—Leave Newton Highlands at 8:30 a.m.; Newton Centre at 9 a.m.; Boston Office at 2 p.m. Furniture moved with care.

FIFE'S LOW RATE EXPRESS.
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston.
Packages, Freight, Furniture, Jobbing of all kinds. Trunks to or from Boston 25 cents each. Boston offices 25 Merchants Row, 33 and 35 Court square, and 77 Kingston street; Newton Highlands, at post office; Newton Centre, cor. Beacon and Station street. G. O. H. FIFE, Prop. Residence Norwood avenue, Newton Centre.

A. H. ROFFE,
HAY and GRAIN,
LIME, CEMENT and DRAIN PIPE.
Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre.
TELEPHONE #215.

JOHN J. NOBLE,
(Established 1868.)
Registered Pharmacist;
Cor. Centre and Pelham Sts., Newton Centre.
Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Patent Medicines, Brushes, Combs, Sponges, Etc., Etc.
Physicians' Prescriptions Carefully Prepared.

STAMMERING
AND OTHER
DEFECTS OF SPEECH
Corrected by
Mrs. E. J. E. Thorpe
PELHAM STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

CHAS. KIESER,
Plumber & Sanitary Engineer.
Jobbing and Repairing a Specialty.
All work receives my personal attention and is promptly executed.
Station Street, Opposite Beacon.
Residence Parker, near Boylston St., Newton Centre.
P. O. BOX 237.

F. L. BALDES,
Hair Cutter,
White's Block - Newton Centre.
Orders promptly attended to.

DR. W. W. HAYDEN,
DENTIST.
Pleasant Street, Newton Centre.

ARMSTRONG BROTHERS
Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's BOOTS AND SHOES,
at prices which defy competition.
Repairing done in first-class fashion, and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early.
CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.
Next door to Dr. Noble's.

Flour. Flour. Flour.
Butter. Butter.
Tea. Tea. Tea.
Coffee. Coffee.
Eggs. Eggs. Eggs.
All of the choicest quality, with a large stock of other goods in our line, can be found at
KNAPP'S
Station St., near the Depot.

D. W. BROWNELL,
Beacon Street, Newton Centre, Mass.
Manufacturer and Dealer in
Fine & Coarse Harnesses
Of every description. Trunks, Travelling Bags, Horse Clothing, &c.
A. A. SHERMAN & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Provisions, Vegetables, Fruits,
Butter, Lard, Pickles and Canned Goods.
FARNHAM'S BLOCK, NEWTON CENTRE.
Orders taken at the house daily if desired.

S. L. PRATT,
Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
Cor. Beacon and Station Streets, Newton Centre.
Carriages for Weddings, Funerals, Parties, &c., furnished at Short Notice. Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

WETHERBEE & Co.,
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston
EXPRESS.
Boston offices, 75 Kilby St. and 11 Harrison ave. Extension.
Order Boxes—Newton Highlands Post Office and Newton Centre Post Office. Hours—Leave Newton Highlands at 8:30 a.m.; Newton Centre at 9 a.m.; Boston Office at 2 p.m. Furniture moved with care.

FIFE'S LOW RATE EXPRESS.
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston.
Packages, Freight, Furniture, Jobbing of all kinds. Trunks to or from Boston 25 cents each. Boston offices 25 Merchants Row, 33 and 35 Court square, and 77 Kingston street; Newton Highlands, at post office; Newton Centre, cor. Beacon and Station street. G. O. H. FIFE, Prop. Residence Norwood avenue, Newton Centre.

A. H. ROFFE,
HAY and GRAIN,
LIME, CEMENT and DRAIN PIPE.
Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre.
TELEPHONE #215.

JOHN J. NOBLE,
(Established 1868.)
Registered Pharmacist;
Cor. Centre and Pelham Sts., Newton Centre.
Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Patent Medicines, Brushes, Combs, Sponges, Etc., Etc.
Physicians' Prescriptions Carefully Prepared.

STAMMERING
AND OTHER
DEFECTS OF SPEECH
Corrected by
Mrs. E. J. E. Thorpe
PELHAM STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

CHAS. KIESER,
Plumber & Sanitary Engineer.
Jobbing and Repairing a Specialty.
All work receives my personal attention and is promptly executed.
Station Street, Opposite Beacon.
Residence Parker, near Boylston St., Newton Centre.
P. O. BOX 237.

F. L. BALDES,
Hair Cutter,
White's Block - Newton Centre.
Orders promptly attended to.

DR. W. W. HAYDEN,
DENTIST.
Pleasant Street, Newton Centre.

ARMSTRONG BROTHERS
Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's BOOTS AND SHOES,
at prices which defy competition.
Repairing done in first-class fashion, and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early.
CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.
Next door to Dr. Noble's.

Flour. Flour. Flour.
Butter. Butter.
Tea. Tea. Tea.
Coffee. Coffee.
Eggs. Eggs. Eggs.
All of the choicest quality, with a large stock of other goods in our line, can be found at
KNAPP'S
Station St., near the Depot.

D. W. BROWNELL,
Beacon Street, Newton Centre, Mass.
Manufacturer and Dealer in
Fine & Coarse Harnesses
Of every description. Trunks, Travelling Bags, Horse Clothing, &c.
A. A. SHERMAN & CO.,
DEALERS IN
Provisions, Vegetables, Fruits,
Butter, Lard, Pickles and Canned Goods.
FARNHAM'S BLOCK, NEWTON CENTRE.
Orders taken at the house daily if desired.

S. L. PRATT,
Hack, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable.
Cor. Beacon and Station Streets, Newton Centre.
Carriages for Weddings, Funerals, Parties, &c., furnished at Short Notice. Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

WETHERBEE & Co.,
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston
EXPRESS.
Boston offices, 75 Kilby St. and 11 Harrison ave. Extension.
Order Boxes—Newton Highlands Post Office and Newton Centre Post Office. Hours—Leave Newton Highlands at 8:30 a.m.; Newton Centre at 9 a.m.; Boston Office at 2 p.m. Furniture moved with care.

FIFE'S LOW RATE EXPRESS.
Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Boston.
Packages, Freight, Furniture, Jobbing of all kinds. Trunks to or from Boston 25 cents each. Boston offices 25 Merchants Row, 33 and 35 Court square, and 77 Kingston street; Newton Highlands, at post office; Newton Centre, cor. Beacon and Station street. G. O. H. FIFE, Prop. Residence Norwood avenue, Newton Centre.

A. H. ROFFE,
HAY and GRAIN,
LIME, CEMENT and DRAIN PIPE.
Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre.
TELEPHONE #215.

JOHN J. NOBLE,
(Established 1868.)
Registered Pharmacist;
Cor. Centre and Pelham Sts., Newton Centre.
Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Patent Medicines, Brushes, Combs, Sponges, Etc., Etc.
Physicians' Prescriptions Carefully Prepared.

STAMMERING
AND OTHER
DEFECTS OF SPEECH
Corrected by
Mrs. E. J. E. Thorpe
PELHAM STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

CHAS. KIESER,
Plumber & Sanitary Engineer.
Jobbing and Repairing a Specialty.
All work receives my personal attention and is promptly executed.
Station Street, Opposite Beacon.
Residence Parker, near Boylston St., Newton Centre.
P. O. BOX 237.

F. L. BALDES,
Hair Cutter,
White's Block - Newton Centre.
Orders promptly attended to.

DR. W. W. HAYDEN,
DENTIST.
Pleasant Street, Newton Centre.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVI.—NO. 46.

NEWTON, MASS., AUGUST 24, 1888.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

Republican Caucuses.

The Republicans, and other voters in Newton, who intend to support the Republican candidates, are invited to meet on Saturday Evening, Sept. 1st,

At 8 o'clock, in their respective wards, as follows:

- WARD 1, ARMORY LOWER HALL,
" 2, TREMONT HALL,
" 3, CITY HALL,
" 4, AUBURN HALL,
" 5, OLD SCHOOL HOUSE, U. F.,
" 6, ASSOCIATES' HALL,
" 7, ELIOT LOWER HALL.

To choose in each Ward, two delegates to the State Convention, which is hereby called to meet in TREMONT TEMPLE, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, at 11 o'clock, A. M., also, to choose two delegates to each of the following Conventions, viz: Congressional, Councillor, Senatorial and County.

Also, in Ward 4, to nominate a candidate for Common Councilman to fill vacancy. Also, to transact any other business necessary.

Per order of the Republican Ward and City Committee.

C. BOWDITCH COFFIN,

Chairman.

EDWARD W. BAILEY, Secretary.

CLARKSON.

Patent Re-issued August 13, 1878.

HEIGHT OF FRONT
Above Button Hole
1 1/2 inch.

HEIGHT OF BACK
Above Button Hole
1 1/2 inch.

No. 929.

F. MURDOCK & Co.,

Newton - - Mass.

All the Latest Styles in Stock.

Lion Brand Linen Collars & Cuffs.

Special Midsummer Sale.

Prices for August to Close all Summer Goods.

Fine American Challies, new patterns, Sc. yd.
4-4 Batiste Cloths, worth 12 1-2, 8c. yd.
45 in. Embroidered Dress Robes, worth 2.25, now 59c. yd.
4-4 Fine Dress Lawns, former price 10, now 6 1-2c. yd.
All our fine Satens in choice patterns reduced to 10 1-2c.
Ladies Good Regular made Hose, new styles, only 12 1-2c.
Ladies Extra Fine Regular made Hose, solid collars, only 19c.
Childrens Seamless Black Hose, 5 1-2 to 8 1-2, 12 1-2c.
Ladies Fine Gauze Vests, worth 35, now 25c.
Ladies Fine Jersey Vests, good quality, 25c.
Gents Fine Balbriggan Vests, good quality, now 25c.
Childrens Fine Merino Vests, from 12 1-2 to 25c.
Large lot of Sample Fans, worth from 10 to 30c all at 10c. each.
The largest and finest All Linen Damask Towels for 25c ever sold in Newton.
Large All Linen Huck Towels, worth 20c. now two for 25c.
Large lot of Lace Ties, 5 and 10c. each to close.
Our entire stock of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas at 25 per cent of our former prices.
Mens Straw Hats at cost or less to close them out.
These prices for this sale and for this month only.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & CO.,

Agents for American Steam Laundry Co.

Bacon's New Block.

E. A. W. HAMMATT,
Civil and Consulting Engineer,
Office 5 Pemberton Sq., Boston,
Room 29.

Surveys and Plans for the construction of Water Works and Sewerage Systems; House
Drainage and Landscape Work
FREDERICK F. MOORE, M. D.
(Harvard Medical College, 1876.)
Specialty: Diseases of the Rectum
(Piles, Fistula, etc.)
Residence and Office: Thornton street, near Washington street, Newton. Hours, 8 to 9 a. m.,
7 to 8 p. m.
Boston Office: 14 Mr. Vernon street, opposite
Hancock St. Hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. 5131

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Williams Street, off Centre, NEWTON.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook.

BANKERS,
33 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
HENRY E. COBB, ARTHUR L. SWEETSER,
CHARLES E. EDDY, C. H. WATSON,
731 ARTHUR F. ESTABROOK
C. E. WHITMORE, D. W. COOLIDGE.

C. E. WHITMORE & CO.
BROKERS.

Stocks & Bonds, also Grain & Provisions.
131 Devonshire Street, Boston.
Rooms 18 and 19. Private Wires, Telephone.

Established 1860.
A. J. MACOMBER,
WATCHMAKER, JEWELLER
AND OPTICIAN.

64 ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON, MASS.
everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention and low prices.

Children's Hair Cutting

AT

JOHN T. BURNS'

COLE'S BLOCK, over H. B. Coffin's Store.

We wish to state to the Public that we will take Special Care of the CUTTING OF CHILDREN'S HAIR, and also with every other branch of our business.

N. B.—LADIES' SHAMPOOING done at their homes at the moderate price of 75 cents.

Charles S. Holbrook.

Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.

No. 44 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.
POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies at lowest rates.

Subscribe for the Graphic.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC now has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST,
a larger CIRCULATION, and a larger number of readers than any other Newton paper. Its circulation is constantly increasing, and it gives nearly double the amount of local news and reading matter furnished by any other Newton paper.

NEWTON.

—Miss Minerva Lane is at Ashburnham, Mass.
—Shirts for use on any "Platform," see page 2.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at Francis Murdock & Co.

—Miss Mary Joyce is spending two weeks at Pelham, N. H.

—Col. F. J. Parker is at the Clifford house, Plymouth.

—Dr. Fred. W. Webber is at Augusta, Me., for a few days.

—Miss Flora E. Wise is at Shelburne Falls for a few weeks.

—Miss Hester Stone is at Ashburnham,
Mass., for a few weeks.

—Miss Lucy F. Soule has returned from her visit to Island Creek.

—Mr. W. F. Whitmore and family have returned from Dennis, Mass.

—Miss Lillie Leonard has returned from her visit to Whittingham, Vt.

—Mrs. Albert C. Dearborn is at Hope-dale, Mass., for a few weeks.

—Rev. Dr. Gould of Worcester will preach at Eliot Hall on Sunday.

—Miss Laura M. Lane is visiting her uncle, Mr. S. S. Lane, Gardner, Mass.

—Mrs. Augustus Page and Mrs. Mary
Page are at Princeton, for a short visit.

—Mrs. S. J. Baker and family have returned from their vacation at Brant Rock.

—Coal was advanced 25 cents a ton this week by the dealers in Boston and vicinity.

—Mr. N. P. Coburn and family returned on Thursday morning from their summer vacation.

—Mrs. J. W. Pearson is spending the summer at her old home at Downer Landing.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Jenny of New Bedford are at Mr. J. S. Potter's for a few weeks.

—Dr. E. B. Hitechock and Mr. J. C. Ivy left Thursday morning for a few days shooting at Truro.

—Mr. Gow, formerly the musical pastor of the Baptist Church, has returned from Gen. Falls, N. H.

—Mr. Walter Folger Greenman of Cambridge, Mass., will preach at Channing church next Sunday.

—Miss Wheeler and Miss Louise Wheeler have returned from their summering at the White Mountains.

—Mr. Welcome Beals has the sympathy of many in the death of his mother, who died at Turner, Me., this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Heald and Miss Heald of
New York are the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Moses R. Emerson of Brighton Hill.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whiton have returned from Nantucket, and the Misses Whitton from Marshfield and Colabset.

—Mr. James Paxton is expected home next Saturday from Long Branch, N. J., where he has been spending two weeks.

—At the business meeting of the Baptist Association at Cottage City, Mr. S. A. D.
Sheppard was elected a member of the board of directors.

—Miss Hagdon and Miss Crane of Newton Highlands are among the recent arrivals at North Scituate Beach.

—Rev. Thomas S. Sampson, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church here but now of Buffalo, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. Geo.
S. Harwood.

—Miss Ella, daughter of the late Mrs. M.
B. Carter, delivered a temperance lecture before the Good Will mission in Good Will Hall, Newton, Tuesday evening.

—Messrs. Russell & Sturges, the popular proprietors of Hotel Nantasket, have had a very successful season, and the house is a favorite place with Newton people.

—A pair of nice new spoon oars, the property of Mr. J. S. Savage, have been stolen from the boat house of the Parson's estate in the rear of Noyantum street.

—Rev. Dr. Creegan, assistant secretary of the American Board, who has leased
Dr. Field's house, arrived this week, but his family will not come until the first of the month.

—At Newton—Silver Stars of Newton 24, Young King Phillips 12. The features of the game were Cunningham's pitching, the batting of Burns and Darcy, and Hamman's fine throw from right field.

—The new house recently built by Miss Martha Hitechock on Hollis street is one of the most attractive small houses in the city, and has been much admired by all who have visited it. It is understood to be for sale.

—The mason work on the new Eliot church is progressing rapidly, and most of the stone work on the main building is completed. There is but little doubt that the building will be roofed over before cold weather.

—Watertown had a Harrison and Morton flag raising on Monday night, the Waltham band furnishing music and fireworks being displayed. It was the first campaign flag in the town, and was put up by the Republican Club.

—Mr. C. W. Bassett's house on Eldridge street has been leased by Mr. E. E. Parker, vice-president of the American National Bank, Kansas City, who will occupy it next month. The lease was made through Chas. F. Rand.

—Registered at the Jackson Falls house in the White Mountains are Mr. and Mrs.
George W. Crosby and son, Miss H. F.
Morgan, Mrs. P. S. Grant and Miss Grant,
Miss M. A. Saltonstall and Mr. and Mrs.
J. D. Greene, all of Newton.

—Miss Rickford will remove the office of the Cambridge laundry and employment office, next Thursday, from the post office block, to Mrs. Thompson's millinery store in Sumner's block, where she will have convenient quarters.

—Rev. Walcott Calkins D. D., pastor of Eliot church, is passing a few weeks with his family in the pleasant village of North Bridgton, Me. In the same place are Rev.
Dr. J. W. Chickering of Washington, D. C., and Rev. E. P. Wilson, of Woodford, Me.

—The rain and wind of Tuesday night tore the names of the candidates off from the Republican city committee's flag, and it has been taken down for repairs. So many telegraph and telephone wires in that locality render it an unfortunate place for campaign flags.

—Mrs. D. B. Hodgdon has secured the services of a first class dress-maker and is ready to receive orders for all kinds of work at her residence, corner of Jefferson and Centre streets, cutting done by the advanced system in a perfectly satisfactory manner.

—Mr. E. A. Freeman, who formerly owned the Dye wood mills near the bridge, but sold out to the Etna Mills Co. some years ago, met with an accident last Saturday while out riding, and died at his home in Pepperhill, Mass., Monday evening. Mr.
Freeman was a shareholder in the Etna mills.

—A large party of Newton people started this week for Musquash, New Brunswick, to spend some weeks. Among them were
Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cobb, Mr. Morton
Cobb and the Misses Cobb, Mr. and Mrs.
Andrew March and family, Mr. and Mrs.
Theodore Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B.
Goodrich, Mr. Wallace Goodrich and Mr.
Ernest Nickerson.

—Rev. W. A. Lamb brought home from his recent trip abroad a very handsome Singer tricycle of the most approved pattern. The machine is unlike in many respects any other which has been seen in this locality, and is a model of beauty, ease in riding, and withal a very strong machine.

—Nearly one half of the Morse Field drainage is completed. The drains in Water and Galen streets are already laid and work is being prosecuted in Morse street. At the junction of Morse with Galen street the drain will be laid through the fire reservoir by iron pipes, thereby preserving its usefulness in cases of emergency.

—Mrs. George G. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs.
Stephen H. O. Loring, Mr. and Mrs.
Mrs. C. W. Morehouse, Mrs. Wright,
Miss Lizzie Moore, Mrs. K. L. Stevenson,
Miss Beazons, Mr. W. A. Hicks, Mrs. D.
E. Snow, Miss K. Bourne and Mrs. O. H. at Old Orchard, last week, attending the convention for Holiness and Divine Healing, conducted by Rev. A. B. Simpson of New York.

—The rain of Tuesday night did great damage in Boston, and Newton passengers on the morning trains found the railway tracks flooded from the Columbus avenue station nearly to the main station. In some places the water was two feet deep and the trains were delayed. The water was more or less delayed up to ten o'clock. During the early morning the Columbus avenue station was flooded.

—The Moosilauke at Mr. Mossilauke seems to be well filled with Newton people this week. Among others are Miss Sarah Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G.
Spaulding, Mr. Harry P. Spaulding, Miss
E. B. Spaulding, Miss Ada L. Donkin and Miss L. M. Donkin, all of Newton; from Newtonville are Miss Amy W. Sacker, Mr.
and Mrs. H. H. Sacker, Miss Lizzie Sacker,
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Richards, Miss Annie
W. Richards and two children.

—One of the teams employed by Wm.
Maguire, collecting coal for the city, was driven between the fence and the gate at the Washington street crossing on Monday noon, to get into Brooks street.
While on track No. 4 the wheel caught between the rail and plank. Members of Engine 1, assisted by Officer Henthorne, succeeded in extricating the team, the only trouble being the delay of the 12:38 Inward train.

—General Nathaniel P. Banks, for the first time in many years, holds no salaried position. His place at Waltham, Mass., constitutes his sole property, and that is not without encombrances. The Fifth District of Massachusetts will probably elect General Banks to Congress this fall.
It is remembered by his admirers that he resigned a ten-thousand-dollar position as a railroad president to go to the war. A subscription is now being taken up in the Fifth District among Republicans to defray the General's election expenses. We hope it may be large.

—A very enjoyable musicale was given last Tuesday evening at Hotel Hannewell. The fine Blithner grand piano, purchased last winter, again gave great satisfaction.
The program was substantially as follows:
Piano solo, Rondo Capriccioso, Mendelssohn
Song, "When the Tide comes in," Millard
Piano Solos, Schumann
Vocal duet, "Norwegian Song," Grieg
Song—selected, Mrs. Howard, Mendelssohn
Piano solo, Duoetto, "Lieders Olme Warte," J. K. Paine
Song—selected, Mr. Robinson, Mendelssohn
Piano Solos, "Fuga Gioiosa," J. K. Paine
Song—selected, Mrs. Howard, Schumann
Song, "The Dragon," Liszt
Song, "Thou art like unto a Flower," Liszt
Song, "I feel my heart," Giesben-Hoffmann

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—The Rev. F. A. Sanborn of Philadelphia will officiate at St. Mary's, Sunday morning.

—The Wellesley selectmen meet the highway committee at West Newton, tonight, to talk over the bridge business.

—Another memorial gift for St. Mary's.
Mr. Robert H. Slack, a well known architect of New Bedford, will give an altar to St. Mary's church in memorial of his parents who were early members of the parish. The altar is to be of stone, elegant though simple in its design, and in keeping with the character of the church. The base will be of red sandstone, and on this the memorial inscription will be cut. The body of the altar is of a lighter shade, the front showing a wide arched recess, on which is carved in relief a Greek cross. The top of the altar is of white marble, and the re-table is of the same material, carved with a design and lilies. It was hoped to have it in place before the 75th anniversary of the parish, Sept. 29, but owing to delays, it may not be ready for dedication before All Saints' Day.

Republican Ward Committee.

A meeting of the Republican Ward and City committee was held Wednesday evening in the Police Court room, City Hall, Chairman Coffin of Ward one presiding. Saturday evening September 1 was appointed for holding ward caucuses to choose delegates to the State, councillor, congressional, county and senatorial conventions.

In ward four, at the same time, a common councilman to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Theodore W. Gore will be nominated.

The committee are planning a rally to be held shortly in one of the largest halls of the city.

Riverside School.

The prospectus of the Riverside school at Auburndale will be found in another column. The seventh year of this admirable school opens on Oct. 4th, and it is acknowledged to be one of the best fitting schools in the country. The principal's certificate admits to Wellesley college, which is a high endorsement. Miss Della I. Smith, the principal, will furnish all details to those who address her at Auburndale.

Try the Popular

High Art Cigars, at G. W. Shaw's. A fresh arrival. Very fine.

FREE DELIVERY

TO BE GRANTED AS SOON AS HOUSES ARE NUMBERED.

T. A. Harrington, special free delivery inspector of the post office department, was in Newton on Thursday, to see about the request for free delivery here, Congressman Burnett having prevailed upon the department to take some action. He was surprised to find that Newton was so large a place, and after driving about agreed that it had over 9,000 population. The sidewalks and street signs, and the revenues of the office, he said, were all that were required for free delivery, and the only objection he saw was that few of the houses were numbered. This would have to be done before any action was taken, and as soon as it was done he could see nothing to prevent free delivery being granted. The matter now remains with the people, if they desire free delivery, they must number their houses, and the proper numbers can be obtained from the City Surveyor. The Inspector of the Postmaster Morgan laid out four carrier districts and located the street boxes, so that the inspector will not have to make another visit, when the delivery is granted.

AN UNUSUAL OFFER.

THE GRAPHIC AND THE FORUM FOR FIVE DOLLARS A YEAR.

The popularity of the discussions in the Forum of questions involved in the Presidential campaign, the leading men of the nation being among its contributors, has caused the review to be in great demand among intelligent people, who wish to keep well informed on the questions of the day. We will send the Forum and the GRAPHIC for one year to new subscribers, for $5 a year, the usual price of the two being $7, the Forum $4 and the GRAPHIC $2. To old subscribers who send us $5, we will send the Forum for a year, and credit them with a year's subscription, so that this offer is open to every reader of the GRAPHIC. The Forum has won for itself a leading place among the monthly reviews of the country, and the most noted men in American public life are contributors to its pages.
This offer is only made for a short time.

Resolutions.

At a meeting of Triton Council, No.
547, Royal Arcanum, held August 21, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Having lost through death our late brother, F. B. Cotting, we desire to place on record a testimonial to his memory and express our appreciation of him as a friend and neighbor. Therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Brother Cotting, this Council has lost a faithful member and the community a good citizen.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of the deceased in their time of deep af-liction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Council, a copy be presented to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the local papers.

J. A. GAW,
W. H. MAGUE,
J. R. CONDRIN,
Com. on Resolutions.

Y. M. C. A.

Thomas Weston, Esq., gave a very thoughtful and impressive address before the Y. M. C. Association Sunday afternoon. The subject chosen was from 1 Cor. 12. 3, "But covet earnestly the best gifts, and yet show I unto you a more excellent way." One of the best gifts to man is the Bible—given as a rule of life. Mr. Weston spoke of several instances where men of humble circumstances had risen to distinction by earnestly coveting the best gifts. The artist, the carpenter, the blacksmith, may excel by the right use of gifts bestowed.
But the best gift is that of eternal life through Christ. We have also the gift of memory, the power of perseverance, the power of self-control, the gift of aspiration; and the Apostle Paul admonishes young men to earnestly covet the best gifts. The address was listened to attentively. Mr. Hugh Campbell and his sister favored with a duet entitled, "As many were the sands of the seashore,
Next Sunday will be the last open air service. Rev. J. H. Armstrong of Boston will speak.

Moses King's Publications.

The Moses King Corporation of Boston, of which Mr. Moses King of this city is president, has in preparation a series of guide books to the largest cities of the United States. Mr. King's handbooks are already well known as the most complete and accurate guides published, and these will be no exception.
The company publishes three varieties of guides—King's "Handbooks," King's "How to see" books and King's "Vest Pocket Guides." One of the latest publications, "How to see Boston," is a wonder in itself. It is a small book of 126 pages, and just large enough for carrying conveniently, but it contains a vast amount of information condensed into a readable form and makes a complete encyclopedia of all points of interest in and about the city.

Newton Co-operative Bank.

The shares to be issued Sept. 4th by the Newton Co-operative Bank continue to be freely subscribed for. As the issue is limited, those who intend purchasing should send their names, stating number of shares desired, to J. Cheever Fuller, secretary, Newtonville, or to any of the board of directors as follows: E. W.
Gay, H. E. Rothfield, J. W. French, J.
E. Hollis, Newton; A. R. Mitchell, Chas.
S. Keene, Newtonville; C. Willard Carter,
T. B. Fitz, W. E. Elder, West Newton;
Walter M. Jackson, Newton Lower
Falls; John F. Heckman, Highlands.

Real Estate Auction.

On Saturday, S. S. Gleason will sell at public auction the Fuller estate on Washington street, near the Armory, containing a house of ten rooms and 2,232 square feet of land. See advertisement.

MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

MISS V. E. HAPGOOD'S COMMUNICATION IN REGARD TO HER DISMISSAL.

The school committee met for the first time since the summer vacation at the high school building, Newtonville, Wednesday evening. In the absence of the mayor, Mr. C. C. Barton, chairman of the board, presided.

RESIGNATIONS AND TRANSFERS.

The following resignations were received and accepted: Miss Blanche Weth-erbee, teacher in Hyde school; Miss Lizzie W. Everett, Prospect school; Miss Lulu M. Bagley, Franklin school. Miss Harriet G. Brooks was transferred from the Williams school to the Hyde school, and Miss Josie A. Davis was nominated and confirmed as teacher in the high school to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Caroline Spear.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

The superintendent of schools Mr.
Thomas Emerson, submitted the following report in relation to French studies in the high school:

In the present curriculum of the high school, provision is made for three exercises a week in French during the entire course of four years. Believing that a three years' course in this branch of study will meet all the requirements of the colleges as well as the needs of the general student, I respectfully recommend that the study of French be limited to the first, second and third classes, the number of exercises a week be not less than three nor more than four, as the circumstances may demand. With this limitation, it will be possible for one teacher to instruct all the French classes.
In order to facilitate the instruction in French and to adapt it to the more advanced methods, I also recommend the adoption of the following text books:

Fables de la Fontaine, edited by Francis Tarver; Chassaign's Nouvelle Grammaire Francaise; Lectures, Faciles et Amusantes, et Recitations; Aubert's Colloquial French Drill; Chardenal's French
Exercises for advanced pupils.

These books are approved by Miss Abbott, the teacher in charge of the department of French.

THOMAS EMERSON, Supt.

ROAD NOTES.

BEAUTIFUL DRIVES ABOUT THE GARDEN CITY.

For the Newton Graphic:

Four o'clock, and a glorious day! Will you drive to Echo Bridge? The shortest way and a very pleasant one, is by Chestnut street, but as we climb the hill, we turn aside to mount to a "sunset balcony" for a glimpse of Wachusett and some misty hills of the Monadnock range, just distinguishable by their bluer tint from the silvery clouds of the horizon. Then we go spinning down Valentine street, getting a glimpse of the pond, and the grove that should have been a park, though we would have preferred it unimproved. Have we not gathered here bloodroot and dogtooth violet by the armful? What ranks of anemones and how pink they were under the alders! And the patch of pale blue violets, with leafy stems, tucked into the thicket by the bridge. And in October what vivid gold of leaf, and crimped and crowded fringes on the Witch Hazel! Besides, there were corydalis and columbine in the ledges, and all manner of blossoms that make the children's May. Somehow to our uncivilized mind, a grassy lawn is but a poor substitute for all these murdered innocents.

The vine clad gateway of the cemetery invites our entrance, and we think, as we drive slowly up the avenue, Newton should indeed be grateful for her beautiful chapel. That at Mt. Auburn is gloomy, and cold as a tomb. It oppressed us. Hope and love are but shadowy terms heard within its walls. Come out where the air is alive and birds are singing! But here in our sunny chapel, where God's light comes freely in through a wall of living green, or drops in burning colors, the stones of the eternal city—surely His love is true and strong, and we leave our dear ones only in His arms.

At the Highlands we turn into Woodward street, but here is a road we don't remember. We take it, and find ourselves in private grounds. We had no idea there was anything so pretty just out of sight of the highway. We pause to apologize; but like many another course, where the entering is simple, the coming out is a different matter. Here we expected detention. It is a case of love at first sight, and appeared to be mutual. Old Bernard keeps his dignity and has a word of reproof for the youngsters now and then, but mamma and her half-grown pups are susceptible to flattery, and are soon swarming up to the carriage and licking about in imminent danger of destruction, should the horse get restive.

So it is near sunset when we reach Echo Bridge, and the clouds are edged with gold. How green and cool the river looks, and how pretty the beaches and evergreens that crowd its rocky banks. If only that looked gate were moved back a hundred yards, and we could include a blue mountain or two in our level, green horizon! Doublet Hill, with its two tufts of pine, is the only point we can identify. But we forgot the bridge was not built for a "lookout." Round now under the handsome arches to the platform over the water, where we find the echoes in hilarious mood. By the way, did you ever try a short, sharp whistle, and hear what a flock of peeping chicks will answer? We never tire of admiring the massive masonry, and congratulating ourselves that Newton possesses the largest stone arch in the country, with one exception—that which bridges the entrance to the great quarry at Rockport. The bridge has many visitors daily, but how many of them cross the river below and take a look into the picturesque little gorge upon the Neponset side? It is well worth a visit. Through it flows a stream, (controlled by a water gate), which connects the ponds and the river. The ledges rise high on either side, and the trees meet overhead. Across the brook a hard, close-grained ledge dips its strata downward at a sharp angle, making an ascent rather difficult. On the higher side the rocks jut out squarely—one noticeably white, unlike the others. Here are good specimens of conglomerate. Roxbury puddingstone is famed, but can it show bigger pumice than these? And how came the "ovens" in the ledge?

But twilight is falling; the ponds lie glassy still with a faint rose-flush upon them; a single swallow dips to his companion in the mirror; the chirpers in the grass have all gone mad together, and the tumult of their tiny fiddles is almost deafening. It is nearly dark as we come under the aqueduct bridge at Lower Falls, and the rest of our way lies among shadows and twinkling lights.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

S. E. C.

perfect and delightful beyond description. Our young ladies were in ecstasies, but said nothing, for all seemed to fear disturbing the illusion. A returned East India missionary, the Rev. _____, broke the silence with a low musical recitation from Bishop Heber, as we strolled leisurely through what we were pleased to consider a tangled thicket.

On Gunga's breast
The sun is sinking down to rest,
And moored beneath the Tamar's bough
Our bark has found its harbor now.
Upon the deck mid charcoal gleams
The Moslem's favorite supper steams
While all apart beneath the wood,
The Hindoo cooks his simpler food.
Come, walk with me the jungle through!
If yonder hunter told us true,
Far off in desert dark and rude,
The tiger holds his solitary
Come boldly on! no venom'd snake
Can shelter in so cool a brake.
Child of the sun, he loves to lie
Mid Nature's embers parched and dry,
Where o'er some tow' r in ruin laid,
The Peepul spreads its haunted shade.

Behold us now
Beneath the Bamboo's arched bough,
Where gemming off that sacred gloom,
The Celian's crimson pony displayed
O'er the broad Plantain's humbler shade
And brisk Anana's prickly glade.
We'll break the brake, so wild and fair,
The Betel waves its crest in air.
With pendant train and rushing wings
Aloft the gorgeous peacock springs,
And the bird of hundred eyes,
Whose plumes the dames of Ava prize;
So rich a shade, so green a sward,
Our English ladies never trod.

Yet mark, as fade the upper skies,
Each thicket opens then thousand eyes;
Before, beside us and above,
The fire-fly lights his lamp of love,
Retreating, chasing, sinking, soaring,
The darkness of the corpse exploring.
While to this cooler air confest
The broad Datura bares her breast
Of fragrant scent and virgin white
A pearl around the l e k s of night.

Enough, enough! the rustling trees
Announce a shower upon the breeze.
The flashes of the summer sky
Assume a deeper ruddier dye.
Yon lamp that trembles on the stream
From our cabin sheds its beam,
And we must early sleep to find Betimes the morning's healthy wind.

"How lovely!"

"Yes," said another, "this scene reminds me of an entertainment given during the war at a princely residence on Walnut Hills near Cincinnati. It was in winter, but we had fresh pens and string beans raised under glass on the premises. After dinner we passed into the library, and thence to a cave which opened from it. It was cut out from the side of the cliff, and was lighted from above by concealed gas jets. The sides and roof were jagged and natural, and sparkled with choice crystals and minerals in all varieties of color. In the center was a small lake with a miniature island covered with green turf. The effect was very fine, but not to compare with this before us."

One thing only seemed to be wanting here—a neat printed label on each plant, so that visitors may be spared the mortification of showing their ignorance, and the attendants be saved the trouble of answering so many questions. That would make this fine collection a Botanical Free Library.

Taking photographs from several points of view to preserve the memory of so rare an occasion, the company dispersed to their respective homes, not forgetting to thank the able superintendent for his assiduous attention and courtesy.

N. B. There are two classes of facts,—those that have happened, and then again, those that have not. The former is a mosaic largely composed of both.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

GREYSTONE.

AMUSEMENTS.

"AROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHTY DAYS"
AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The organization of Jules Verne's popular novel "Around the World in Eighty Days" is familiar to all theatre goers. It has been given during this week at the Grand Opera house, and drew many who like this class of production. The play is elaborately staged and is worth seeing for that alone. Everything has been done to make the play attractive from a dramatic and scenic standpoint. The various critical situations in the play afford opportunities for the display of mechanical effects. There is an Amazonian drill, with Brahmin priests, in the second act, which is one of the features to be remembered. Next week the comedian Neil Burgess will be seen in the farce comedy "Vim."

ROLAND REED AT THE MUSEUM.

Mr. Lloyd's play has a good deal of the farcical about it, but this is rather in the whimsies of the chief actor in it than in the plot itself, and it is often nicely managed in the scenes and brightly put in language. The central notion—that of a man desperately desirous of getting married and desperately afraid of proposing matrimony, blundering into three complicated misunderstandings which pass for engagements—is very droll and branches out into some secondary confusions which are reasonably logical. Mr. Reed, as has just been said, makes his Samuel Budy a very funny person, and is often quite legitimate in his way of doing this, as he is at all times satisfactory to the mass of his audiences. His company is sufficient for his purposes, and supports him with as much success as good will. "The Woman Hater" will be played for one more week, and then "The Bells of Haslemere" will be revived for a fortnight, Miss Viola Allen and Messrs. J. B. Mason, H. M. Pitt, Willis Granger and Thomas L. Coleman entering the cast for the first time, which will be otherwise the same as before. There can be absolutely only one thing to do for the favor of any time, because "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is positively to be introduced to America by Manager Field on September 10.

Quick Wit Saves a College Delinquent.

From the Springfield Republican.

An ingenious bit of strategy recently saved a young college graduate from the embarrassment of being "dunned" for the balance of a large sowing of his college wild oats. He was on his way home to Boston the other day, and was walking up and down the platform in the union depot in this city, when he came up face to face with a well-known restaurant-keeper from the town of the young man's alma mater, a few miles from this city. Now this restaurant-keeper is a large, frank, jolly, good-natured fellow, ready to do the boys a favor at any time, but shrewd as the proverbial Yankee, he does not intend to be cheated. When the two met they grasped hands like old friends and the college tradesman seemed as solicitous of the young man's welfare as a fond uncle for a favorite nephew; but the other knew that this was the forerunner of "that little bill." Finally they spoke of a classmate of the young man, and the tradesman told how the absentee still owed him $25. This was the regular introduction to a "dun," but the delinquent got in ahead. "There is one thing I am glad of," he said, "What's that?" "That when I left college, Frank, I did not owe you a cent." This exhibition of "supreme gall" was successful, and as this young man boarded the Boston train he left the college tradesman like a huge ship suddenly motionless at sea, without any wind to flutter its expansive canvas.

Found Dead.

Last evening a person giving the name of G. R. Thompson registered at Hunt's Hotel, and desired to be called in season to take the 12 m. train for Chicago. Being unable to awaken him, the room waiter entered by means of the ventilator over the door, when the gentleman was found to be dead. He was advertising agent for Sulphur Bitters, which has an extensive sale. The coroner returned a verdict of death from heart disease. His body will be sent east immediately.—City Commercial.

The Population of Newton

Is about 20,000, and we would say that at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as these complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all not to neglect the opportunity to call on the strongest and best bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial size free. Sold by all druggists.

EAT QUAKER MILLS

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

TRADE MARK.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 7909.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

FOR THE SUMMER.

Subscribers to the GRAPHIC can have their papers mailed to any address for the summer without extra charge. Those who are not subscribers, can have the paper sent to any address three months for 50 cents.

FOR CONGRESS.

The indications seem to be very favorable for the nomination of Hon. Levi C. Wade. It is almost certain that he will have the unanimous support of the Newton delegates, and his nomination would be so popular in Newton that he would receive a large increase over the usual Republican majority. He also enjoys a high reputation in the district, as one of its ablest men, and the one of all the candidates who have been mentioned who would represent it most creditably in Washington. A man of Mr. Wade's large experience with men and with National enterprises is needed at Washington, and his election would make the Ninth District the most prominent at Washington of any district in the State, which has not been the case in many years.

If the Newton delegates are united, it will not be difficult to secure his nomination, and it will be an honor fairly earned, as Mr. Wade has not had any literary bureau or organized gang of workers making great promises and offering any kind of trades to secure him votes. It will be a repetition of the famous case of President Seelye of Amherst, whose nomination to Congress cost him only a postage stamp.

Mr. Wade's chief opponent is Hon. John W. Candler of Brookline, who has once been defeated for the position, and it is needless to point out the folly of putting up a defeated candidate to meet probable defeat a second time. In this election, the strongest Republican candidates for Congress should be put up, in order to brace up the Massachusetts delegation, which is to lose so many of its prominent leaders. Those who wish to see the district creditably represented should not fail to attend the ward caucuses.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

President Eliot of Harvard has been asking the question lately in a paper read before an Educational Convention, and the paper now in print is read with eager interest by many teachers. The points made by the Harvard president are that too much time is taken up in the grammar schools, that too much is required of pupils, and that a better education can be had by giving less attention to many petty details. Every year the average age for admission to college is increased, so that when a young man is ready to begin a professional life he is twenty-five to twenty-eight years old.

But the defects in the preparatory schools influence not only those who enter professional life, but all classes, even those who go into business at the end of their grammar school course.

Take for instance the mode of teaching arithmetic. Time is spent upon problems which are mere puzzles in logic, and have no value in illustrating the principles of number, or the relation of quantities. They are conundrums which certain quick brains may solve, but over which the average pupil labors painfully and forgets with great readiness.

Other studies are mere memory exercises, utterly failing to awaken interest, and having no practical end.

No doubt the weariness of school life could be greatly relieved by throwing out much that occupies so prominent a position in our school courses.

Here in Newton we ought to be among the first to study this question, and to bring to bear upon it the good sense and intelligence for which the community is noted. If better students can be graduated by changing our methods let us change them speedily.

VACATIONS AND GOOD MORALS.

This is very evidently vacation time. Everything is in full swing, and for the next few weeks it will continue so. About the last week in August the great rush from home will stop, and then the tide will speedily turn back.

It is a fair question to ask, in these vacation days, whether in some, if not in many instances the cause of good morals is not sadly injured by the way in which some spend their vacations.

For example, the exhibitions on some of the bathing beaches are not always modest, to say the least of them, and the wonder is how people who keep within the bounds of propriety under ordinary circumstances, can tolerate these shameless violations of decency in dress and deportment.

Then, too, in the matter of eating there is often an approach to gluttony which is as disgusting as it is prejudicial to health. People want to get the worth of the money they spend, and in doing so sometimes lay the foundation for ill-health during the rest of the year.

Complaint may be made also of the questionable methods some adopt for killing the time. Free from the restraints of home life, and thrown among strangers they go so perilously near vice that they lose their abhorrence of things which in their sober moments they once condemned.

We are not condemning harmless recreations, but there is certainly a line to be drawn somewhere.

A vacation ought to be so spent that a person will come home all the better for it. If it lowers the moral tone it is a very serious matter.

FOR COUNCILLOR.

A councillor from this district is to be elected this fall in place of Mr. McPherson of East Boston, and among the men who have been suggested is Hon. Robert O. Fuller of Cambridge, who is in every way qualified for the position, and his name has been received with great favor in Newton, where he is well known. Mr. Fuller is one of the prominent citizens of Cambridge, and has represented that city in the house and in the Senate, displaying marked ability in both positions. Some time ago he gave $10,000 to the Newton Theological Institution, and this is but one instance of his public spirit and liberality.

The position of Councillor is such a responsible one that only the best men should be chosen to fill it, and no better man could be found in this district than Mr. Fuller. He will have the unanimous support of his own city, and judging from the expressions towards him of Newton men, he will have the majority, if not the whole of the Newton delegation in his favor. It is such men as Mr. Fuller who are needed in public life, especially in a position where a knowledge of men and sound judgment are required.

GENERAL BUTLER is announced to be one of the campaign speakers in favor of a high protective tariff, and it is certain that his speeches will be entertaining, and full of wit and originality. He has never taken pains to be consistent, but it is probable that his tariff views are the same as in 1883, when he gave them to a reporter as follows:

I am one of the largest woolen manufacturers in the United States. I do not say this boastfully, but to show that I am not selfish in the views I hold. The cloth I wear [placing his hand on his coat sleeve] is of my own manufacture, and I notice several gentlemen around me who wear the same. On these goods there is a tariff of sixty per cent. Republican orators and newspapers tell you this tariff is to protect the mill laborers. Twenty per cent. will pay our entire labor expenses. What do you suppose becomes of the other forty per cent? These same Republican orators and newspapers tell you it goes into the United States treasury. Not a dollar reaches there. Every cent goes into my pocket. [Slapping his hand on his pocket vigorously to give emphasis to his words.] And every one of you is paying this bounty to the woolen manufacturers.

THE Milford Journal indulges in the boomerang kind of arguments when it asserts that Gov. Ames was only nominated in the first place because of his money. It surely knows that if General Draper was a poor man his name would never have been mentioned for the governorship, but being a millionaire he hopes to gain the highest office in the Commonwealth at a single bound, and the enthusiasm of his supporters is said to be due to the belief that he is willing to pay liberally for the honor. Governor Ames served an apprenticeship in a lower office, but General Draper has never even been a member of the State legislature. The practice of auctioning off honorable offices to the highest bidder is one that has never been popular with the people of Massachusetts, however it may be with the politicians who are anxious to make something out of the campaign.

It is a curious fact, but presidential year seem have lost its terrors for business men. All kinds of industries are booming, reports of the building of new mills are coming in from all directions, and prices are firmer and the outlook for a good fall trade is better than has been the case for years. In spite of the politicians of both sides, who would like to make it appear that the country will be ruined if their ticket is not elected, the business of the country was never more prosperous. It will be a fortunate thing for the country if present prospects are not interfered with, and business men are made to believe that the country is safe whichever side wins. The politicians may utter Cassandra-like prophecies, but when business men see a chance to make money they are going to do it, in spite of a presidential election.

THE Republican ward and city committee met Wednesday evening and decided to hold the ward caucuses for the election of delegates to the State, county, Senatorial Councillor and Congressional conventions, on Saturday evening, the first of September. The early date is unfortunate, in one respect, as few of the absentees will have arrived home, and the attendance is likely to be reduced on that account. All who are interested in good nomination should be present at these caucuses, even at considerable trouble, in order that the delegates selected may represent the sentiment of Newton. The nominations this fall are all of them important, and every voter is directly interested in having the best men chosen for the offices to be filled.

WOMEN who are interested in school suffrage will take notice of the following facts in regard to the requisites for voting this fall. They are quoted from the British-American:

1. Native-born women pay 50 cents poll-tax and become registered. They are then voters. If they pay a property tax they need not pay a poll-tax. They have school suffrage.
2. Foreign-born women are citizens if their husbands are citizens; if not married, or if married and their husbands not voters, they become naturalized just as men do, and register as above—paying 50 cents.
3. If not now assessed, you can be assessed any time before October 1.
4. Be sure your name is on the registry.
5. See to the poll-tax yourself.

If any private corporation was buying in its own bonds at as high a premium as our government is paying, the stockholders would be justified in resorting to extreme measures to stop such a reckless waste of money. The bonds have been steadily advancing in price and the holders are making a very handsome thing out of it, while the people pay the costs. This is only one of the forms of national extravagance now so popular with many alleged statesmen. Any project of spending the surplus is regarded with favor, and all considerations of economy are forgotten. It is fortunate that this is a wealthy country or there would be danger of national bankruptcy.

AN INTERESTING correspondence between two of the members of the school board and Miss Hapgood will be found in another column. It was placed on file without being read at the meeting of the school board, possibly because of its length, although it is certainly the best policy always to read communications and then there can be no cause for complaint of unfair treatment. The facts as presented by Miss Hapgood certainly seem to require some explanation.

THE rejection of the fishery treaty was not so bad in itself, as was the action of the Republican Senators in refusing to allow the treaty to be amended, in any of its objectionable features. The Canadian papers appear to have a pretty correct appreciation of the difficulty, when they advise their readers to wait until after the election, when a treaty can probably be made without difficulty, as neither party will then have to pose for political effect.

COAL has been advanced again by the great coal combination of Pennsylvania, who look upon the people as a great orange to be squeezed for their profit. This is one of the trusts which appear to be a matter of public concern, and out of which the monopolists make "fortunes every year," while the consumers pay the bills. If the coal monopoly can not be broken up by the present laws then new ones should be passed.

THE Dedham Standard, after looking over the field, says that "the conclusion is irresistible that either Hon. L. C. Wade or Hon. J. W. Candler will be the favored choice of the 9th District Republicans. As between these two gentlemen the majority of our readers would probably be unable at once to establish a preference. They are both tried and able Republicans, and either would fitly represent the district."

THE work of the Immigration, investigating committee in Boston will be watched with great interest, to see if the law in regard to contract labor is being violated here in as wholesale a manner as it has been in New York. As Boston has only 47,000 immigrants yearly, while New York has over 400,000, the committee do not expect to find very much work to do.

THE Milford admirers of Gen. Draper have arranged for a banquet to be given him on his return home from Europe, at the Milford Town Hall, with tickets at $1 a head for men only. It is a high price for a Milford supper, but perhaps the sight of Gen. Draper will be worth the full amount charged, and then the report states that the band will be in attendance during the evening.

THE matter of the election of a member of the Democratic State Central Committee from Newton having been referred to the Second Middlesex Senatorial Democratic Committee, a meeting of the latter committee will be held in the City Hall, Thursday, August 30, at 2 p.m., for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Richard T. Sullivan.

EDITOR COOK of the Milford Journal has been mentioned for Congress and it may have been a coincidence, but his paper this week did not have a single original item about Candler. If a Newton man can not be chosen, Mr. Cook would be our candidate.

THE NATICK CITIZEN brings out Chas. Q. Titrel as a candidate for Congress, and it is a pretty poor newspaper now that does not discover a new candidate every week.

JUDGING from the clippings from our exchanges, Gov. Ames is the favorite candidate of most of the newspapers.

MARRIED.

EMERY-HARRIS—At Brookline, Aug. 19, by Rev. H. N. Brown, William Emery of Boston and Hattie J. Harris of Newton.

TWITCHELL-INGALLS—At Cambridge, Aug. 21, by Rev. W. C. Richmond, Charles A. Twitchell of Newton and Alice S. Ingalls of Cambridge.

DIED.

BROOKS—At Nonantum, Aug. 17, Talie, son of Frank Brooks, aged 6 mos.

CONSELY—At Nonantum, Aug. 17, Joseph, son of Patrick Connelly, aged 2 mos. 15 dys.

BULLARD—At West Newton, Aug. 16, Charlotte

A. widow of Francis G. Bullard, aged 67 yrs, 7 mos, 10 dys.

BRADGON—At Auburndale, Aug. 18, Jeanette P., daughter of Geo. E. Bradgon, aged 11 mos, 16 dys.

WALDRON—At Nonantum, Aug. 19, Roland W., son of Michael J. Waldron, aged 4 mos, 3 dys.

COTTING—At West Newton, Aug. 20, Frederick B. Cottling, aged 11 yrs, 8 mos.

NICHOLS—At West Newton, Aug. 23, Chas. V., son of Charles E. Nichols, aged 25 dys.

JACQUES—At Newton, Aug. 22, Katherine, daughter of Wm. W. Jacques, aged 1 mo, 2 dys.

WHITE—At Nonantum, Aug. 22, James J., son of Simon E. White, aged 1 mo, 17 dys.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WANTED—A nicely furnished house with at least five sleeping rooms and bath-room on second floor. There must be on the premises a good stable with stalls for three horses, ample carriage room and man's room. From half an acre to two acres of land, situated on high ground within one mile of R. R. station in Newton, West Newton or Auburndale. Possession wanted before Sept. 15th on lease of one or two years. For full particulars inquire of Charles F. Rand, 417 Centre street, opposite the Public Library, Newton.

WANTED—A small tenement in Newton Highlands or Centre. Address 251 Columbus Avenue, Boston, suite 17.

TO LET SEPT. 1st.—House on Pearl street. Five rooms; dry cellar, city water, gas, water in chambers, nice place for a small family. Three minutes' walk from station of Boston & Albany R. R. Inquire of Henry Fuller, Centre street.

WANTED—Two capable girls, one as cook, the other as second girl. Apply to Mrs. Huxley, Franklin street.

FOUND—In Ward 7, a pocketbook, containing a sum of money. The owner can have the same by proving property. Address Box 724, Newton.

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping with or board. Address P. O. Box 650, Newton.

FOR SALE—A Maynard rifle with set trigger, front shade sight. Platina bushing, 32 inch shot barrel; also new double barrel, breech loading English shot gun, Scott's best make, cost $170. Will sell at a great loss if sold at once. Also oil stove, largest size. S. B. Thrasher, Newton Highlands.

FOR SALE—A flock of 40 Plymouth Rock hens, the finest in the state, including one white Plymouth cockerel and two hens, also her-hens. S. B. Thrasher, Newton Highlands.

FURNISHED ROOMS, with board, if desired, in house having modern conveniences, situated on Jefferson Street, Ward 7. Address Mr. Goodwin, Box 878, Newton.

TO LET—A nice tenement in Newtonville. Rent $11 per month. Apply to D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street. Telephone #178.

FOR ONE YEAR—Furnished house to let at West Newton, in September. 7 minutes walk from railroad station. Address P. O. Box 201, West Newton.

TO LET—In Webster Park, West Newton, a nice sunny house of nine rooms, possession given immediately. Inquire of Robert Bennett, West Newton.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Three medium sized houses, with nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, at very reasonable rates. Address P. O. Box 261, Newton.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Charles Morris of 194 Dublin Street, Cambridge, has applied for a junk license in this city.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

White, Cross & Co., Successors to C. C. MOULTON & CO., SPECIAL REDUCTION SALE,

To make room for FALL GOODS We are for one month closing out at

Greatly Reduced Prices, our stock of Fine Ready Made Clothing

MEN'S, BOYS' & CHILDREN'S WEAR. Don't fail to call and inspect our bargains.

White, Cross & Co., 592 Washington Street, Boston. Up one flight.

By S. S. GLEASON, Auctioneer. Office, No. 38 Main Street, Watertown.

Real Estate AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

Will be sold at public auction Saturday, August 25th, 1888,

At 4 o'clock, p. m., on the premises, the following described real estate: The house No. 2 in block on Washington street, Newton, near the Armory. The lot of land is Lot No. 2 on recorded plan, and contains 2232 square feet. It has a frontage on Washington street of 21 feet. The house is a good two and a half story building, containing 10 rooms very conveniently arranged. The property is desirable either for occupancy or investment, as it is a ready renting property in good location. The sale is positive, without regard to price, as the owner is positively decided to sell. Terms made known at time and place of sale. For further particulars inquire of the Auctioneer, or of the owner, George G. Fuller, of Lexington.

An Unusual Offer! THE FORUM AND THE NEWTON GRAPHIC, FOR

$5 a Year. The Leading Monthly Review and the Leading Newton Paper.

The offer open to both New and Old Subscribers who send $5, and is only made for a short time.

WANTED, 2 Young Men about 18 years of age in our wholesale department to learn the business. Must live with parents. Good places for the right boys. Apply to

Geo. H. Flint,

at E. H. WHITE & CO'S., between 9 and 10 a. m.

Real Estate. Mortgages. Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale. SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages. Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES. OFFICES J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

CHARLES F. RAND, AUCTIONEER.

REAL ESTATE. MORTGAGES. INSURANCE.

Office, No. 417 Centre st., Newton, Opposite Public Library.

OPEN FROM 7 O'CLOCK A. M., TO 7 P. M.

Properties in Newton and Allston a Specialty.

At Boston office, No. 113 Devonshire street, Room 23, (Minot's Building), from 10.30 to 11.45 on Tuesdays and Fridays only—through July and August.

Estates for Sale. Houses to Rent. MONEY TO LOAN.

Storage OF Furniture

I have 20 rooms in Cole's Block, also 10 rooms in Brackett's New Block, opposite the Public Library, fitted up with lock and one key only to each room, which is held by the occupant. These rooms are to rent at all prices from $1.50 to $5.00 per month; no better places for Storage in this City.

If in want of rooms to store Pianos, Organs or furniture of any kind call and examine them.

CHARLES F. RAND, Real Estate Office.

Charles F. Rand.

BUTTER. WELLINGTON HOWES

Offers Newton people the choice of the two most famous creameries in the country.

-Otter Brook- CREAMERY

butter comes from Lancaster, N. H., fresh every week, packed in five pound boxes and nothing better can be had.

Maple City CREAMERY

butter comes in 20 lb. tubs, and is the genuine gilt-edge article. Our good brands of CREAMERY and DAIRY BUTTER can also be found at Newton City MARKET, Centre St., Opp. Public Library, Newton.

Evergreen Trees.

For August planting. A large stock of choice kinds, not excelled in the country in extent, quality and cheapness.

From Aug. 20 to Sept. 20 I will contract to plant and warrant to live. Send for a Catalogue.

WABAN, NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

W. C. Strong.

REMOVAL. BARBER BROS., Successors to A. Howes.

Barber Bros. Hardware

Removed to Brackett's New Block, opposite Public Library. With good entrances, a safe place for teams and better facilities for transacting business, we hope for an increase of public patronage. All heavy goods received and delivered at the rear entrance. Telephone 7864.

1852 ESTABLISHED 1887

HUBBARD & PROCTER, PHARMACISTS, Successors to

Chas. F. Rogers, BRACKETT'S BLOCK, NEWTON, MASS.

Branch Store, Nonantum, A. J. Macomber, WATCHMAKER, JEWELER and OPTICIAN. Watertown St., near the Post Office.

Everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention at low prices.

PLUMBING. REMOVAL. Timothy J. Hartnett, has removed to Brackett's New Block, Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton,

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past. Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed. Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others.

The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty. First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited. Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at J. V. Sullivan's.

—Mr. Robert Shedd is at Provincetown for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Charles A. Kellogg has returned from Bristol, R. I.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Session have returned from Newport.

—Mrs. E. W. Redpath is at the Mountain house, Princeton, Mass.

—Miss Nellie B. Turner is enjoying her vacation at Norwich, Ct.

—Mrs. W. C. Gaudet and children have returned from York Beach.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moorehouse have returned from Canaan, N. H.

—Miss S. Louise Pinckham is at Franconia, N. H., for a few weeks.

—Capt. Martin and family have returned from Bellows Falls.

—Dr. J. J. Coxeter is growing in popularity as a first class dentist.

—Alderman Chadwick and family have returned from Bradford, Vt.

—Miss Lacey A. Shaw has been spending her vacation at Rindge, N. H.

—Mrs. C. S. Keene has returned from her trip to the White Mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hill are spending a few days at Marblehead.

—Mr. L. F. Ashley and family are spending their vacation at Gloucester.

—Mrs. A. A. Park is moving this week into her new house on Clyde street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Shaw are spending a few weeks at Duxbury, Mass.

—Mrs. C. C. Briggs, Jr., is enjoying her vacation at Bass Rocks, Gloucester.

—Postmaster Turner has returned from his vacation trip to Block Island, R. I.

—Mr. Walton and the Misses Cunningham have returned from Jefferson, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Penman are enjoying a vacation, the first in several years.

—Mrs. W. W. Keith and Miss Lillian Keith are summering at North Woodstock, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kingsbury have returned from the Sea Shore House, Old Orchard Beach.

—Mr. Wm. Howe Mills and family of Austin street, will remove to Boston, September first.

—Miss Anna and Miss Fannie Pine of Chicago, Ill., are visiting at Mr. A. Sylvester's, Bowdoin street.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. D. Kingsbury are at the Tontine House, New Brunswick. They will be absent for a few weeks.

—Mr. H. P. Dearborn has returned from South Weare, N. H., where he was visiting at the family homestead.

—Miss Evelyn Cranford of East Orange, N. J., formerly of Newtonville, is visiting Miss Gertrude Thompson.

—Miss Grace Howe who has been visiting Mrs. Thompson, Clyde street, has returned to her home in North Hadley.

—Mr. Harry Wandless starts Monday on a two week's vacation. He will visit Nantasket, Hyde Park and other places.

—Mrs. H. R. Thompson, Miss Gertrude Thompson and Master Arthur Thompson have returned from the White Mountains.

—Officer N. F. Bosworth has been laid up for a few days. He will soon start on a vacation trip and expects to visit Saratoga.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Leavitt and Misses Ella and Addie Leavitt have returned from Fort Popham, Me. They had a delightful trip.

—Prof. Benis, organist of St. John's Episcopal church, South Boston, will render the organ selections at the Methodist church, Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell have returned from their visit to North Springs and Bar Harbor. Mrs. Mitchell was quite ill while at Poland, but is now much improved in health.

—Mr. Ed. Dexter, with a party of sportsmen, is enjoying a tour through the State of Maine. Mr. Dexter has had great luck and shot a red fox since he has been absent.

—Capt. C. E. Davis, of the police department, has returned from North Woodstock, N. H., where he has been spending his vacation. Mrs. Davis and daughter have returned from Woburn where they have been visiting.

—The case of Miss V. E. Bagwood, first assistant teacher in the Adams school, who was granted leave of absence for a year and who failed of reelection is attracting considerable attention. She was an excellent teacher and was esteemed very highly by the parents of pupils. Her case is presented in a very clear and concise manner in a communication to the school board. The lady's statement of the case would seem to indicate a misunderstanding, as she was practically assured that her position would be kept for her. The communication will be found on the first page of this paper.

—Miss Sadie Holmes of Salem, who has been engaged to support the talented young actor, Thomas Keene, started for New York last Saturday and enters at once upon the duties of her profession. The company will rehearse the parts of the leading plays in its repertoire for a week before starting for Chicago where they will open the season. From Chicago they travel South, thence North and East, and are expected in Boston about February 1st, when they will appear at the Hollis street theatre. Miss Holmes will play prominent parts in "Julius Caesar," "The Merchant of Venice" and "Richard the Third." She will also appear as Ophelia in "Hamlet," Desdemona in "Othello" and Julie in "Richard III."

—A young man in the village who was longing for liquid refreshment last Sunday evening, and who had not the wherewithal to pay for the same, scratched his head and finally bethought himself of a lead dollar that he had in his possession. Meeting a friend, he asked him if he could accommodate him by changing it. The friend had only 90 cents which he handed over, promising to pay the ten cents balance the next time he saw him. With the view of making a purchase the man with the lead dollar visited one of the stores and passed it over in payment for a few small articles, and was somewhat surprised to learn that it was worthless. He realized that he had been victimized and went to see the employer of his speculative friend, who gave him a good piece of silver and charged $1 to the lead dollar man's wages. As a result of the little transaction the last named individual is out ten cents, but it is supposed he succeeded in obtaining the stimulant which he craved.

—On Sunday evening, Patrick Gerraughy, Patrick Farrell, Christopher Bradley and Andrew Farrell got into a hack at Newtonville and went to Needham Upper Falls. They had been drinking pretty freely and began to feel the effects of the liquor. When the hack arrived at the Upper Falls, Gerraughy got out and went home, but the other three insisted on being driven back to Newtonville. When they had nearly reached the ball grounds on Watertown street, they began to fight in the hack and the driver fearing damage ejected them. They went to the ball grounds where Andrew Farrell and Bradley engaged in a lively scrimmage, the latter receiving a broken nose and other bruises about the face and head. His outside shirt was torn off and his undershirt covered with blood. Quite a crowd witnessed the fight and attempts were made to separate the combatants by two or three persons present. Hearing that the police were after them, the crowd scattered and Bradley was taken into the woods by friends and subsequently removed to his home. Word was sent to police headquarters and Officer Clay hearing of the row repaired to the scene and arrested Farrell, who was locked up at the central station. On the following morning a warrant for them was procured and Bradley was arrested. In court, Farrell was fined $3 and costs for drunkenness and $5 and costs for the disturbance, the total amounting to $20. Bradley was fined $5 and costs for disturbance, the total amounting to $13.

WEST NEWTON.

—Mrs. E. L. Collins is at Nantucket.

—Mr. Joshua Blake is at Rye Beach, N. H.

—Mrs. C. C. Cook and nephew are at Bangor, Me.

—Mrs. A. W. Bennett is visiting her son in Kenosha, Wis.

—Mrs. George Walton and Miss Alice are at Kennebunkport.

—Mrs. F. W. Freeman is at Brewster, Mass., for two weeks.

—Miss Emma Nickerson is spending a few weeks at Provincetown.

—Miss Lizzie Langley is spending her vacation at Rye Beach, N. H.

—Mr. Frank R. Barker and wife are at the Vermont House, Saratoga, N. Y.

—Miss Susie R. Stackpole has just returned from a visit to Newburg, N. Y.

—Mrs. E. B. Wilson and Miss Josie are spending a few weeks at Jackson, N. H.

—Mr. H. E. Woodbury and family are spending their vacation at Beverly Farms.

—Mrs. Purdee and Miss Evelyn Purdee have decided to remain abroad the coming winter.

—Mrs. Albert S. Glover returned Monday from a three weeks' visit at Cohasset and Hull.

—The late F. B. Cotting was a life member of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association.

—Friends from Lunenburg, Mass., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel T. Lane, Cherry street.

—Mr. Robert Bennett, our popular ticket agent, is at Ash Point, Me., with his wife for two weeks.

—Mr. Edward A. Rollins has commenced the erection of his residence at the corner of Prince and Day streets.

—Rev. Mr. Jaynes has returned from his Canadian trip, looking brown and hearty, thoroughly re-invigorated by his few weeks of out-door life.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Cheever Fuller have their sympathy for their many friends in the death of their infant daughter, Alice Irving Fuller, at Nantasket.

—The alarm from Box 312 at 9.57 Monday night, was for a supposed fire in Matthew Burns' house on Cherry street, but fortunately there was no fire.

—The charter of Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F., will be draped in mourning 30 days, as a tribute of respect to the memory of the late F. B. Cotting.

—Mrs. Dan Dusee and daughter have engaged passage for France the middle of September. Miss Dan Dusee will pursue her art studies in Paris.

—In the police court since our last issue, 28 cases have been disposed of, as follows: 13, disturbances; 10, assaults; 2, violation of city ordinances; 2, evasion of car fare.

—Mrs. W. Eustis Barker, a sister of Samuel Barnard and a former resident of this village, has purchased a house lot on Day street, upon which she proposes to build a house.

—The prohibitionists have put a handsome campaign flag on Chestnut street, near the railroad crossing. It is headed, "National and State Prohibition" and bears the names of the candidates, Fisk and Brooks. The mottoes read: "Shall Liberty Conquer America?" and "Why not Protect Your Homes."

—There was an excellent attendance at the meeting of Newton Lodge, Thursday evening 67 being present. The matter of the revision of the by-laws came up for consideration, and it was voted to dispense with the office of permanent secretary, the duties of the position to devolve upon the recording secretary. The salary of the latter officer was raised to $150 per annum.

—Mr. L. G. Pratt has purchased the Roffe estate, 15 acres, on Homer street, and the Parsons estate, 17 acres, Valentine street, which he will develop, and perhaps build a fine residence for his own use. In the choice parts of Newton, proper land is held at high prices, and does not sell very fast, being principally chosen by people of wealth for residential purposes.

—A welcome home reception was tendered T. B. Fitz, Esq., and sister at their residence Thursday evening on their return from a European tour. There were 100 guests present, among them Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy of Waltham, Dr. Timmins of South Boston, J. McLaughlin of South Boston, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Neil, Rev. J. O'Toole, J. McVicker, Miss K. Riley and Carrie Sullivan, both of Boston, and a delegation of members of the Young Men's association of Waltham including the Glee club. Piano solos by Miss Sullivan and Miss K. Riley were well received. Mr. Fitz rendered, as was the duet by S. Myers and Frank O'Neil of Waltham, "Hope Beyond." The Glee club rendered some of its choicest selections, which were well received. Congratulatory remarks were made by a number of gentlemen present and a fine collation was served.

—The Boston Pilot this week has the following: "Mr. Thomas B. Fitz, of the great firm of Brown, Durrill & Co., of Boston, arrived at his home in West Newton on the 20th inst., from his six weeks' vacation in Europe. As one might suppose from the practical love he has always shown for the land, his father, Mr. Fitz, spent the greater part of his time in Ireland. This was the first time for him to look upon his fair, sad face, and the letter which he found time to write to a few of his innumerable friends in Boston spoke invariably of the extreme poverty which horrified him in a country which shows remarkably the bounty of the Creator's hand, and is fairer, he declares, than her poets have sung her. He was in time to witness some of the heartless scenes of an eviction as enacted on the Vandeleur estates, and the Freeman's Journal records one of his customary acts of humanity on the occasion in generously starting a subscription for the poor tenants whose homes were demolished by Balfour's battering ram."

—Mr. Fred B. Cotting died at his late residence, Cherry street, West Newton, Monday afternoon, after a lingering illness. The deceased was 41 years of age, and has resided in Newton about 13 years. For a number of years he was employed as bookkeeper at New Mills & Co., wholesale commission merchants, 82 Chauncy street, Boston. During his residence in Newton he became identified socially with numerous organizations, and was a member of the American Order of United Workmen and Royal Society of Good Fellows, Newton lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., Garden City lodge, Knights of Honor, and Newton council, American Legion of Honor. He took an active interest in matters relating to the lodge room, and was always most active in promoting the social enjoyments and in creating a closer and more united fellowship in accordance with the principles of benevolent organizations. Personally, he was gentle, kindly and affectionate, a loving husband and father and a good citizen. His death will be sincerely mourned. A widow and three sons survive him. The funeral took place from his late residence Wednesday afternoon at 1 p. m.

—The funeral of Mr. F. B. Cotting took place from his late residence, Cherry street, West Newton, Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance, including delegations from Newton Lodge 92, I. O. O. F.; Triton council 547, Royal Arcanum; Garden City lodge, Knights of Honor, and Newton council, American Legion of Honor. The deceased was a member of all of these organizations and also of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, from Hall and Good Fellows, Rev. H. A. White officiated and alluded to the excellent character of the deceased, of his interest in benevolent organizations, and of his many estimable qualities. The music was in charge of Mr. H. H. Hunt and a mixed quartet. Miss Kathie Russell, soprano, Mrs. Fisher, alto, Mr. W. T. Rice, tenor, H. H. Hunt, bass, rendered appropriate selections, "Abide with Me," and "Tarry with Me" were finely given. The floral tributes were very beautiful, including three handsome pillows from Newton lodge, I. O. O. F.; Garden City lodge, K. of H. and Newton council, A. L. of H. Newton lodge 21, A. O. U. W., sent a wreath of roses, and Nevins & Co., of Boston, where deceased was employed for many years, also sent an exquisite wreath of roses. Triton council, 547, R. A. C., sent the most beautiful tribute, a floral crown, emblematic of the order, and beautifully designed a profusion of cut flowers and floral pieces were sent by numerous relatives and friends. The remains were interred in the Newton Cemetery, and the following gentlemen officiated as pall bearers: Messrs. E. T. Wiswall and F. H. Humphrey, representing Newton lodge, I. O. O. F.; Frank E. Hunter and W. H. French, representing Garden City lodge, K. of H.; Chandler Sever, Jr., and E. W. Bailey, representing Newton council, A. L. of H.

AUBURNDALE.

—Rev. Arthur Kelly is at home for a vacation visit.

—Mrs. Kingsley is the guest of Mrs. G. B. Knapp.

—Rev. Henry Kingman sailed for China on Saturday.

—Mr. Francis Blake and family are at No. Conway, N. H.

—Miss Gertrude Davenport is visiting friends at Saratoga.

—Mr. George Hutchinson and family are at Centre Harbor, N. H.

—Mrs. Plummer and Mr. Arthur Plummer are at Plum Island.

—Mr. Frank Kimball is spending his vacation on Lake George.

—Mr. E. B. Haskell and family have returned from Hallowell.

—Mrs. Maj. Bunker of Grove street has returned from Lowell Island.

—Miss Mariana Blood has been visiting for some time in Newburyport.

—Mr. and Mrs. Markham returned on Thursday from Yarmouth, N. S.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Farley are staying with Mrs. Fred Farley at Waltham.

—Mr. Dean Walker is to preach at the Congregational church next Sunday.

—Mrs. T. B. Hall has been the guest of Mrs. Thomas Hall for several weeks.

—Harry Priest and Edward Johnson have gone to the Rangeley Lakes for a trip.

—Mrs. William E. Plummer and Miss Plummer have been at Islip, Long Island.

—Miss Edith T. Kimball and Miss Mather are at Fairlee, N. H., for their vacation.

—Mr. Nathan Mosman and family are spending the month of August at Wells, Me.

—Mrs. Warren G. Monk is visiting her father, Capt. and Mrs. Horace B. Cook of Nantucket.

—Miss Cornelia E. Parker is spending a few weeks with her brother, H. W. Parker of New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Priest and Mr. and Mrs. John Priest are at the Rangely Lakes.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Vickers, Miss Fuller and Mrs. Furness are at Phillips, Me., for this month.

—Miss Edith Thayer of Philadelphia and Miss Leola Breed of Lynn are guests of Miss Farley.

—Mr. and Mrs. George R. Eager and Mr. Moses Sower, now in Europe, are expected home next month.

—Rev. and Mrs. William Strong of Beverly have been the guests of Mrs. E. E. Strong of Central street.

—Sidney Baker is in town assisting his father, Col. Baker, while Mr. Markham is absent on his vacation.

—The festival of St. Bartholomew, Friday, was observed by services in the church of the Messiah.

—Mrs. Morgan, Central street, has gone to the Cape. Misses Marion and Annie Morgan are at Ellsworth, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Denison of Newbury street, Boston, are occupying Mr. Gordon's house for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Nye, with Mrs. Darling of New York, spent last week travelling among the White Mountains.

—Mrs. C. S. Roberts and children, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson, and Mr. C. Crawford house, Jefferson Heights, N. H., rendered, as was the duet by S. Myers and Frank O'Neil of Waltham, "Hope Beyond." The Glee club rendered some of its choicest selections, which were well received. Congratulatory remarks were made by a number of gentlemen present and a fine collation was served.

—The Boston Pilot this week has the following: "Mr. Thomas B. Fitz, of the great firm of Brown, Durrill & Co., of Boston, arrived at his home in West Newton on the 20th inst., from his six weeks' vacation in Europe. As one might suppose from the practical love he has always shown for the land, his father, Mr. Fitz, spent the greater part of his time in Ireland. This was the first time for him to look upon his fair, sad face, and the letter which he found time to write to a few of his innumerable friends in Boston spoke invariably of the extreme poverty which horrified him in a country which shows remarkably the bounty of the Creator's hand, and is fairer, he declares, than her poets have sung her. He was in time to witness some of the heartless scenes of an eviction as enacted on the Vandeleur estates, and the Freeman's Journal records one of his customary acts of humanity on the occasion in generously starting a subscription for the poor tenants whose homes were demolished by Balfour's battering ram."

—Mr. Fred B. Cotting died at his late residence, Cherry street, West Newton, Monday afternoon, after a lingering illness. The deceased was 41 years of age, and has resided in Newton about 13 years. For a number of years he was employed as bookkeeper at New Mills & Co., wholesale commission merchants, 82 Chauncy street, Boston. During his residence in Newton he became identified socially with numerous organizations, and was a member of the American Order of United Workmen and Royal Society of Good Fellows, Newton lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., Garden City lodge, Knights of Honor, and Newton council, American Legion of Honor. He took an active interest in matters relating to the lodge room, and was always most active in promoting the social enjoyments and in creating a closer and more united fellowship in accordance with the principles of benevolent organizations. Personally, he was gentle, kindly and affectionate, a loving husband and father and a good citizen. His death will be sincerely mourned. A widow and three sons survive him. The funeral took place from his late residence Wednesday afternoon at 1 p. m.

—The unique and beautiful design of the church of the Messiah in the Graphic of August 10th, was a photograph from the drawing of the architect, Mr. Chas. E. Parker.

—Miss Spear has returned from Sandwick, N. H., and reports a pleasant interview with Mr. and Mrs. Chandler who are passing the summer in a camp near that place. Mr. Albert Little and Miss Charlotte Hazen are the party.

—Mr. E. Wellington of Ellsworth, Kansas, who has been known for more than a dozen years ago, when he lived in the house now owned by Mr. Edward Pickard, was in town this week, and expressed great pleasure at the many changes and improvements made since he was here.

—A party of eight ladies from Auburndale recently visited the Women's Reformatory Prison at Sherburne. They distributed 250 bouquets and 225 texts of scripture. Miss Susan Richards, recently from Spain, addressed the inmates, some number, who received her words with much feeling.

—Sixteen young men of this village took part in the tennis tournament on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Three different courts were used, and the final singles, played on Thursday morning, resulted in the first prize being awarded to Harry H. Coffin. Eugene Mather was umpire. The score of the final games between Coffin and George Young was 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

—The death of Miss Bates, sister of Mrs. Edward Hardy, on Saturday last at Bar Harbor, was most unexpected, and the news was received in Auburndale with sincere grief. She was the daughter of a noted lawyer of Westfield, rarely gifted and accomplished, a noble, helpful, lovable woman. Such comfort as hearty sympathy can afford, is cordially given to Mrs. Hardy.

—Auburndale was represented at Judson Centennial, in Malden, Aug. 9, by a number of persons, who enjoyed visiting the fine library building, the gift of Deacon Converse to the city of Malden. There is a fine collection of pictures, some two or three hundred, in addition to the other appointments of a well arranged public library. The interesting services at the church, both afternoon and evening, the reception at the Judson homestead, and the abundant collation served up about thirty young ladies, marching with military precision to the sound of music, and supplying a thousand people with all the dainties which could be thought of, of all these things made the day memorable.

—The Waltham Free Press says: The company of young ladies from Auburndale, who recently picked just above Lily Point, will not be anxious for a three days' adventure for some time. After enjoying a good dinner, the idea was suggested to surprise their young gentlemen friends, who were invited to take supper with them at the camp, with their tin types, so after leaving everything in safety as they supposed, they jumped into their canoes, visited one of our photograph rooms and secured the desired pictures. The young gentlemen in question, were destined to more than a surprise, when on their arrival in a half straggled condition of course, they were greeted with the exclamation, "Someone has stolen all our delicious supper," and sure enough they had. But it could not have been our Waltham boys; oh, no! The ladies, however, proved themselves sufficient to the emergency. Their guests enjoyed a nice supper, although a little late, and the young ladies insisted on paying the bills.

NONANTUM.

—Miss Gussie Miller has returned from Brant Rock.

—Six cases of malaria have been reported during the past week.

—Mrs. James Murphy has gone to Syracuse, N. Y., for a few weeks.

—William Hallowell of Melrose was in town Sunday visiting friends.

—Miss Nellie C. Day of Springfield is with relations on Nevada street.

—Leslie Moriarty reports good trade at his market, recently opened.

—Benjamin Clancy has returned to this village after an absence of a year or more.

—Joseph Gilroy has accepted a position on board the fishing schooner Roulette of Philadelphia.

—Henry Dakin and George Tener have returned from a three weeks' vacation at Brant Rock.

—George Quirk, a former resident of this village, passed Sunday with friends in this vicinity.

—Miss Susie Armstrong, accompanied by her brother, are spending their vacation in Vermont.

—The Hall rubber mills have about twenty girls employed making campaign flags.

—A delegation from this village attended the British American picnic at Downer Landing Tuesday.

—There will be infant baptism at the North church, Sunday evening, preceding the concert service.

—Miss Trever Bellin of Providence, R. I., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Nevins of California street.

—Miss Schorr, who has been spending two months with Mrs. Vincent on California street, left for New York, Tuesday.

—The Ethna mills began to work full time this week; they have been running only five days a week for the past few months.

—Mr. George Jones and Miss Hanson, who have been spending a month in Canada, returned home last Sunday looking well after their visit.

—Richard Mills, who has been running the barber shop on Watertown street for about a year (only evenings), will now devote all his time to the business.

—The Sunday School concert occurs next Sunday evening at the North church, and will be under the supervision of Mr. A. R. Coe, superintendent, assisted by several of the teachers, subject, "Life."

—Since the return of Rev. W. A. Lamb from Europe he has given a description of some foreign city, and the work of God therein, at each Sunday evening service. The cities thus far described are Rome, Genoa and Venice; his recitals are very interesting, all who attend feel well paid or so doing.

Gazzam: "Hello, Cumso, you look entirely ragged out. What's the matter?" Cumso: "Oh, nothing. A week's rest will set me up. Just back from my vacation."—[Time.]

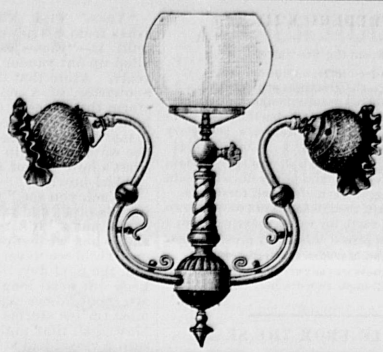

Youth: "I've got some poetry here I'd like to have you look over." Editor: "Yes, sir. Have you got your license with you?" Youth: "My license?" Editor: "Yes your poetic license." Youth: "N-no. I didn't know I had to have one." Editor: "We never look over any poetry without first seeing the poet's license. Good-day."—[Time.]

The "drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot" racket is worked in all sorts of imaginable shapes at Erastina, where Buffalo Bill's Wild West show is located. It is reported some kind friend from the city decorated one of Buffalo Bill's Indian tepees with a large black letter sign, which read: "Throw in a brick and see an Indian come out."—[Exchange.]

SUMMER READING.

The latest novels can be found in

TAINTER'S
Circulating Library!!
Also a full assortment of base ball and other sporting goods at
C. H. TAINTER'S,
(Successor to E. S. COLTON.)
Newtonville News Depot.

RESIDENCES WIRED
—FOR THE—

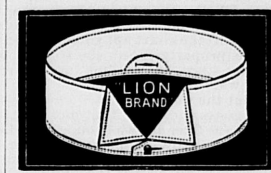

Electric Incandescent Light.

By our methods the Wires are concealed from view without injury to Walls, Ceilings or Decorations
ELECTRIC LAMPS ATTACHED TO GAS FIXTURES
now in use, so that either or both may be lighted when desired.
Electric House Work of Every Kind, Annunciators, Bells, Gas Lighting, Speaking Tubes
Neat and Gentlemanly Workmen, and the Best Materials.

Blodgett Brothers & Co.,
383 Federal Street, near Kneeland street, Boston.

Lion Brand Linen
COLLARS AND CUFFS.
LATEST STYLES.

J. V. Sullivan, Newtonville.

VARCOE.
WIDTH OF FRONT 2 INCH.
WIDTH OF BACK 1 1/2 INCH.
No. 780.

FREDERICK III.

From the Spectator.

King for a hundred days, a hundred years
Shall not undo the greatness of thy reign.
Lord of a realm no sovereign might of pain
Could crush, nor death with its ten thousand fears Shook; for thy brow that Heaven's new glory wears

Was helmeted with honor and the high disdain
For all things mean, and by thy life was plain
Love rules in right when love itself forsakes.
Yet, gentle heart, though hands did never crown
With gold of earth thy weary suffering head,
At least one price was in thy presence less.
One tyrant found his mastery overthrown—
Death's darkness was as purple round thee shed.
King by full hope, in utter hopelessness.

H. D. R.

A WAIF FROM THE SEA.

BY THOMAS DUNN-ENGLISH.

A bare-footed girl, apparently about eleven or twelve years old, sun-burned and with her black locks falling in wavy masses half-way down her back, stood twirling her sun-bonnet by the strings and digging her right toe in the sand, as she answered the question put to her about the road to Ludlum farm. Looking down as she spoke, she cast but one upward glance at the tall and handsome stranger who had inquired his way, and then her long lashes drooped over her cheek as before. The young man observed that the hands and feet, tanned by exposure, were small and well-shaped, and the form of the girl, though hidden somewhat by a loose and ill-fitting calico gown, was slender, and bade fair to grow with womanhood into a collection of curves. This he observed and then forgot all about it. "That's it just over yander," of the girl, conveyed all the information he sought, and he went on to the farm house. He had walked a mile from the wayside inn, at which the creaky old square-bodied stage-wagon had deposited him, and from which his luggage was to be brought later in the day by the farmer's hired man.

A tall, raw-boned farmer, with a red face, looking as tho his skin had been colored by the sun from without and apple-jack from within, rose from a hickory-bottom chair on the veranda, and extending his curved length, greeted the new-comer:

"Good mawn! You're the man that's come from Philadelphia I s'pose. I'm the gentleman that's to board ye."

"I believe you are right," said the other. "I am Mr. Felix De Spenser. You are?"

"Dispenser Ludlum," said the farmer, hitching a little his jaw overalls, which, being supported by a solitary suspender, had a trick of continually shifting too much to one side.

"De Spenser," said Felix, with an amused smile. "Named after some connection of the family, doubtless. Possibly we may claim kindred."

"S'not edzactly that," replied the farmer. "You see the way I got the name was this. Jest afore I was bawn, a cirk-it-rider of the Methodis' persuasion kem to these parts. 'T was a long cirk-it, an' we didn't hev a chance to hear the Gospill preached more'n once in two months, and people turned out strong to hear him. He was great in discourse, but he nuver used God's name—nuver. He allus got round it some way. He'd talk of Divine Providence, and setch. Most frequently he'd speak of the Supreme Dispenser of Bounties. That kinder tickled Father, an' when I was bawn, he had me baptized Dispenser."

Felix De Spenser, who was about thirty years of age, rich, courteous, polished and traveled, nodded his thanks for the information. It was curious. He thought this quaint, queer New Jersey farmer to be a fine subject for study.

Mrs. Ludlum, tall, gaunt and angular, neat in person and sharp of tongue, came in due time and showed him to his chamber, where his trunks and traps were soon after disposed. He had been ailing a little, "run down" his physician said, and ordered him to go down to the sea-coast and rough it, hunt, fish and board at some farmer's home. Hence, this temporary domiciliation in the Ludlum homestead.

In the evening, as they sat at supper—and a very good farmer supper it was, for Mrs. Ludlum was a capital cook—De Spenser observed that the young girl he had met in the morning, shod and sleeked up a little, waited at the table. Mrs. Ludlum addressed her as "You Loosyah," but in kindly tones. She could not be a daughter. Her features and form bore no resemblance to the Ludlums. A hired girl, probably. She was deft and quick, and fetched and carried dishes with an ease and grace that seemed born of Nature rather than practice. Her complexion was rather dark, but thin, and a fixed gaze would bring the blood to it in a rush. Her eyes were large, dark and lustrous. A singular child, and out of place with her surroundings, thought De Spenser to himself.

The hunting and fishing were excellent, and Philip enjoyed both. The sea air worked wonders on him, and the coarse, but well-cooked fare agreed with him also. And when three months had passed, Felix De Spenser was a "used up man" no longer, and felt that he had a new interest in, and a new grip on life.

He became a favorite with the Ludlums, who at first had feared that their boarder, as a man of ample means, would put on "city airs," and be hard to please. But they soon dismissed the feeling. On rainy days when out-door sport was impracticable, or on Sundays, their guest would sit and talk in an unaffected way.

The Ludlum homestead stood on a piece of rising ground about four hundred feet from high-tide mark. About a half mile out there was a long shoal of sand, nearly covered in very high tides, which sheltered the inner beach from the effect of storms. As they were seated on the veranda one day, he and the farmer, and both looking seaward, De Spenser spoke of this barrier.

"Yaes," said Ludlum, dusting the ashes from his pipe, and preparing to refill it—"yaes—jes" so. But it only filled up yander within the last four years. Afore that there was a gap about a quarter of a mile wide, an' in a storm the waves would smother up to the house. A dangerous place, too, for many a vessel's been sucked in there, the water comin' in like a big mill-sluice. That's how we got Loosyah."

"Ah! how?"

"Wael, you see," said Ludlum, re-lighting his pipe, and talking in the intervals of the puff, "it's nigh to twelve years ago, when we lost our little Josiah, the only child we uver had, and we buried him the next day. You know we don't keep our dead long here. That same afternoon there came up one of the most terrible storms uver I seed, an' it blowed all that night. Yes! mawn, we seed a vessel had struck on one side of the inlet. She was a morfydite brig, but she had many mast standin', an' the starn of her was stove in an' smashed. There was no sign of life on her, but the shore inside was just kivered with boats an' leons, an' a lemon-colored light shined down kem the whole neighborhood. There was no life-service station nigh us then, an' a wrack, when she busted up, supplied uverybody. Not but it's agin law, an' ain't right nohow; but when uver the underwriters' men go there, pooty nigh all the leons an' boxes, an' leons, an' boxes, an' boxes, I seed a spar with somethin' tied onto it, most up to the beach, an' I waded out. The dead body of a woman was lashed to it, but right on top was a big bundle tied. I cut the cord that fastened it, an' brought it to shore. Si Bateman was jes' behind, an' he cried sheers; but when I looked the top, an' ther' was a baby alive, he said I could take my half an' hissen too. I tucked it to the house, an' Ketury was mighty glad."

"And that was Loosyah?"

"Jes' so. When we comes to look at the child, an' into the bundle, an' Loosyah struck. The baby's underdress was of the finest linen, and it was jes' kivered with lace, an' silk, an' velvet, till it was a sight. Ketury has the things all locked away upstairs. But when we opened the bundle, ther' was a fine woolen shawl, an' a puss, heavy, it had a gold border, two pound weight of outlandish gold quine. Ther' was a box, kivered with morocco, an' inside of it a lot of pooty bits o' cut glass, set into somethin' that looked almost like rael gold. They weren't of no account, but we kep' them too. Well, the one wushup committee agreed with me that I was to adopt the child, an' the court appointed me trustee of the property. An' she's been with us uver since, an' we look upon her as our own."

"But the woman?"

"I guess she was the mother. She was dress fine, an' was young, an' Loosyah she grows appears to favor her some. Her linen was marked Loosyah Ruspolie, an' so was the child's. One of the dead men had U. R. on his shirt, an' some said he was the woman's husband, an' some said he wasn't—jes' as if any one knowed. If it was the mother, the things, Ketury's up-stairs, an' 'd leave show 'em az not."

De Spenser's curiosity was excited, and he went up stairs with Ludlum. The bureau drawer was unlocked and the things brought out and examined. The child's dress was one worn only about "born in the purple." It was costly. The lace-trimmed linen undergarment was marked "Lucia Ruspoli."

"An' here," said Mrs. Ludlum, opening a casket, "air the ornaments."

There lay, on the stained velvet lining, necklace, ear-rings and bracelets. De Spenser started in surprise.

"Wait here," he said; "I will return in a moment."

He came back with a small file, part of his hunting implements, and at once applied it to one of the stones.

"S'not paste," he said. "These are diamonds, and appear to be one of the finest water."

"Rael dimunts" cried the couple, in a breath.

"Beyond doubt. You have lost the girl a deal of money in the way of interest by not turning these into money and investing it for her benefit. But they are a small fortune of themselves."

"Why," said Ludlum, when I was pyn-ted to take charge of Loosyah's property, the 'praisers said these were glass an' brass, an' sot 'em down in the inventory at a dollar. Rael dimunts? You're sure? Worth a thousan' dollars?"

"At a rough guess I should say a great many times as much. Take them to Philadelphia or New York; sell them at once and invest the money for your ward."

It was quite evident to the young man that Lucia was the child of wealthy people. The name was a good one, but he noted that it lacked the prefix which marked nobility. Probably not a scion of the princely house, but of some other, without rank, but with means. There was a spice of romance about it, but the mystery surrounding the child was not likely to be solved. What had driven a couple so well off to take passage in a mere fish vessel? He stood there, casket in hand, reflecting on this, when a strong, rich soprano voice from the kitchen below sang the first verse of the old hymn.

"On Jordan's stormy banks I stand."

The volume of sound poured in the open door, and Felix stood there entranced.

"That's Loosyah," said Mrs. Ludlum. "She's in one of her singin' spells, an' I've got to stop her."

"Stay!" cried De Spenser, laying a detaining hand on the woman's arm. "I want to hear her."

The hymn was sung through. Then, after a moment's pause, she came up distinct, sweet and with pathetic intonation.

"Way down upon the S'wanee river!"

"I've got to stop her now," said Mrs. Ludlum; "when she sings that, she jes' breaks down in a cryin' fit."

And the woman left the room for the kitchen.

"Who taught her to sing?" inquired De Spenser.

"Nobody," was Ludlum's reply. "It come natural like."

"She has a wonderful organ for a child," said De Spenser.

"I mean that she has a sweet and powerful voice, of great natural compass. With training, and years, she would make a great vocalist."

"Them singin' women make heaps of money, don't they?"

"A great singer is sure of fame and fortune," replied Felix. "But it requires education. The labor is great, and the training is costly."

"Wael," said Ludlum, "I've got to think about it. Loosyah won't be poor. That gold was sold during the war, an' put into a mortgage, an' the hull's got up to nigh onto fifteen hundred dollars. Then them diments may come to subin'; an' she'll git the Ludlum farm some day, and some bonds. But if there's a heap of money in the voice—I dunno."

Mrs. Ludlum came back, and reported, "Loosyah is a sort o' quiet now. I jes' stopped her in time. She allus breaks down when she comes to the end of the tune, an' cries fit to break her heart."

De Spenser had a long conference with the farmer and his wife about Lucia. He advised the disposition of the diamonds, under the advice and sanction of Ludlum's lawyers, and the investment of the proceeds in bond and mortgage, or other safe securities, for the girl's benefit. He also advised that she be sent to the city to school, concurrent with her musical education.

"Why," rejoined Ludlum, "she kin read, write a liddle now, and it'll cost sites o' money to send her to boardin'-school."

As a preliminary matter it was finally arranged that Ludlum should take the jewels to Philadelphia, without letting any one but his legal adviser know his reasons. There he was to meet with Felix who would put him in the way of a buyer.

Immediately on his return, Felix called on his sister, Mrs. Paige, a childless widow with a comfortable dower, and older than himself. He gave her Lucia's history, and spoke enthusiastically of her voice.

"A sort of black swan, by your account," was her comment. "But what do you intend to do, Felix? Educate her with a view to matrimony when she grows up to find her in love with some younger man?"

"Nonsense, Clara, my marrying days are past, as you know, or ought to know. Lena Graham cured me of all that. All women are alike—no, not all. There are you, and there was our mother, but as for the rest—pah!"

"Vastly polite, I must say, to allow and look him to the teeth, and then to declare the same thing about all men excepting you and father and the late Mr. Paige of whom you were almost as fond as I; but I make no sweeping statements. But, to come back to our sheep. You are a good judge of music, and if you think this child's voice to be so remarkable, something ought to be done. She is of good stock, you think?"

"I am not sure. The Ruspolis are a princely family of Italy, with a Spanish branch of high rank, grandees and all that; but I scarcely think she belongs to them. But I can find out. I know an advocate at Rome, a sort of Dryasdust, who knows all about everybody; and I shall write and get him to make inquiry. In the mean while I'll get the Ludlums to bring her here, and you can judge of her for yourself."

"Very good. You were speaking of Lena Graham. You know she is a widow?"

"No. Since when?"

"Shortly after you went to the sea-shore. Old Graham left her everything."

"So she got her price."

"She is in half-mourning already, and is putting on black, and a thing for a fish. She asked me particularly after you, and spoke of you as 'that dear, delightful Felix De Spenser.' So look out."

"If she were the only woman in the world, and my life depended on immediate marriage, I'd face the hangman in a pifteen."

Ludlum came to the town with the jewels, bringing his lawyer with him, and Lucia, who was rather appalled at the city, which was new to her. After consultation the jewels were appraised by sworn experts, and a well-known dealer took them at the valuation. His promptness was through a note from De Spenser: "I will pay you a fair commission for them over the valuation, no matter what it may be." So in a short time De Spenser became their owner, at the price of twenty-eight thousand dollars.

"Beautiful!" cried Mrs. Paige. "They are lovely. But what do you want with them, Felix? Is Lena Graham?"

"Botter Lena Graham! You had better send them for safe keeping with your others. They are yours on one condition. You are none too rich. Keep and use them on occasions, but return them to me on demand, on the payment of twenty-eight thousand dollars."

"Oh, you dear, princely, extravagant boy! Of course, I consent to that—who wouldn't? But does it mean that I am to do something in return?"

"Yes. You see, it will never do to send this child, who is now so low with her foster-father, to a boarding-school without some preliminary schooling, especially in manner. She is a diamond in the rough. Let her go to school a while from your house, and you can lick her into shape."

"I'll try, Felix. I never refused you anything. If like her, all well. If not, even the diamonds?"

"Oh, you will. I know you will."

And Felix was right. His sister was captivated by those large, liquid eyes and that wonderful voice, and devoted herself with assiduity and zeal to her new pupil. Lucia was raw, but not awkward, and she was docile and industrious. She showed attachment very soon to Mrs. Paige.

The inquiries instituted at Rome, to which De Spenser had sent a summary of the facts, brought out some interesting points. "U. R." was probably Ugo Ruspoli, or rather, Don Ugodi Ruspoli—the name of a family wearing the Spanish prefix—a young son. There was a usurer in Rome named Ouli. Originally, he had been an O'Toole, the son of an Irish adventurer in the Papal service. The son had taken to money-lending, unlike his forefathers, who were spendthrifts, and acquired a large fortune. A "their counsel," he found her in a high state of nervous excitement, and she weighed heavily on his arm. When they reached the box, and they were congratulating her, she suddenly threw her arms around the neck of Mrs. Ludlum, and burst into tears.

"What on earth's the matter with you, when we all so proud of you?"

"Oh, Mamma! those glasses, and the staring faces; and I heard a man, as I left the stage, say something about my figure—and—here she broke down again."

"Who was he?" asked De Spenser, in a stern tone, while Philip Bensen clinched his hands.

"I don't know. He did not see me as he spoke—he didn't mean wrong; I dare say—but it jarred on me—and hurt."

"You'll get used to that kind of chaff after a while," said Mrs. Paige. "It is only the novelty of the situation that excites you. The next concert will be easier, and when you sing before the Philharmonic next month, you'll be as cool as a veteran. You have had a triumph."

Lucia shook her head mournfully.

Her success at the next concert was equally great; and at the Philharmonic concert, she caused a furore. The journals were full of her praises, and they styled her "the new Malibran." But her distress continued, and when, a week after her last appearance, De Spenser came to tell her that the suit had terminated in her favor, and that she had only to go to Rome to be put in possession of her mother's property, he found her in tears.

"Oh, Mr. De Spenser," she said, "I shall go to Rome for that purpose, if you wish it; but not to study for the opera. Please do not insist on that. I am grateful to you, and Mrs. Paige—indeed I am. But this appearance in public is terrible, and I never can sing there again."

De Spenser was moved. "Lucky child!" he said, taking her hand, "you should get over this feeling. You will in time, and smile to remember it, or I should not urge you. You know that we all love you dearly, and want to see you follow a glorious career—one for which Nature has so fitted you. You are rich enough not to need its profits—richer than I—but not the fame. And then is the world never to hear again the melody of that voice?"

Her head dropped towards him as they stood there, the color rushed in a full tide over her face, and she murmured, but his ear caught the words—

"Ah, Felix! I could always sing—for you!"

His heart bounded. He understood her, and for the first time he understood himself. He drew her to his bosom, and she sobbed herself to sleep like a child. Absorbed in themselves, they did not hear the approach of footsteps, nor see any one until Mrs. Paige and Mrs. Graham both stood before them. Mrs. Paige only smiled, she had anticipated this ending; but Lena Graham, with a long breath, exclaimed: "Well!" The speech was not copious, but the intention spoke volumes.

Felix did not need her. "Clara!" he said, "you remember the promise. I shall have to give you my check in return for those jewels."—[From the Independent.]

Lucia not only interesting, but perfect in style, beauty and everything that made a young gentleman desirable. That was Philip Bensen, a young man, very well received in society, tho his family was not quite up to the Philadelphia standard. He had money, and the frivolous and indolent, was not credited with the possession of vices. Lucia was still a school-girl, and occupied her time between music and the ologies. But he got glimpses of her at times, and talked with her at others, for his mother had been a dear friend of Mrs. Paige, and he was on familiar footing in the family. His admiration was very evident, and Lucia seemed to like him very much.

The Roman suit lagging, De Spenser thought he would go to Rome, and then "do Europe" for a third time. He went abroad, and endeavored to expedite matters. He found what may be found in all such cases, that the delay was because there were so many rich plums in the pudding for the Jacky Horners of the law to pick out. He staid in Rome a while, chafed under things, and ran over for some time for some time. He received letters from his sister at times, and these contained marvelous accounts of Lucia's progress, and the wonderful report of the Professor about her voice. He advised her appearance in concert in about a year's time, to give her confidence, and then a year or two of European instruction to fit her for the operatic stage. Philip Bensen was as attentive as ever, but Lucia was rather cold to him. "Good!" said Felix, at this.

De Spenser was noted for his vigorous constitution, and from childhood, with the exception of the "breaking down" that took him to the sea-shore, he enjoyed robust health. That attack had been as much ennui as anything else. But, whether it was the air of the Campagna, or caught somewhere else, he contracted malarial fever, which laid him up for a time. He concealed this as much as possible from friends at home, and the gradual recovery went to Nice. Here he became robust again, in time. A letter from Mrs. Paige, saying that Lucia, now eighteen, was to make her debut as a concert-singer, but would not appear except in his presence, made him determined to start for Rome, and to see her there, where the advocates assured him that the devices of delay of the opposite side had been exhausted, and that a final decision, sure to be favorable, would be had in less than three months. He then went to Havre, whence he embarked.

When he arrived at home it was unexpected, the telegram announcing his return had miscarried, and in his haste he had started for Philadelphia as soon as he set foot on shore, leaving his baggage to follow. He went at once to his sister's house, and Mrs. Paige was startled as he walked into the parlor, where she and Lena Graham were seated. Lucia came to greet him with a cry of joy on her lips, and, misinterpreting his manner, drew back, blushing and embarrassed.

The truth was that De Spenser was astonished and surprised. His memory of her was that of a pretty and timid dark-skinned girl; but she had developed into a gentleman of surpassing beauty, grace and elegance. He was astounded. The raw country child had not only gone, but the school-girl too. The embarrassment of Lucia at the check was succeeded by ease, but it was cold, and her manner formal. They discussed the approaching debut, and going to the piano, where Mrs. Paige acted as accompanist, Lucia sang for him. The musical teacher had evidently done his duty.

That evening while Philip Bensen and Lucia, with some young friends, were chatting down-stairs in the parlors, De Spenser and his sister held consultation about the young girl's debut.

"She is highly sensitive, Felix," said Mrs. Paige, "but I have no fear of her breaking down. She has wonderful self-possession, when she will. What a wonderful voice! When she sings anything pathetic there are tears in it; but her tones are never a bit less clear for all that. I propose that the Ludlums shall hear her that night; but tho highly respectable and all that, they are entirely 'too truly rural' for the dress circle, and you will have to let them share your box. There will be a jam. So much has been said about his pupil by Signor Torelli that society is aching to see her."

"And I shall ache with anxiety until it is over."

"Have no fears. Once she hears her own voice ring out her confidence will come."

And so it proved. The night came, and all "society" came with it. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and when Lucia came forward a reassuring burst of applause greeted her, and her array of loggnettes leveled at her, the haze that surrounded the audience in the eyes of the debutante, and the stage fright of a first appearance lowered her force and robbed the first notes of their power. The De Spensers were in tremor, and the applause followed by the debutante "Sh!" of the audience, was heard from Lena Graham. Lucia heard it too, and her voice rang out pure, rich, strong and sweet as the chime of silver bells. Feeling was there as well as force, and when she concluded the audience burst into the first and followed by the off amid a torrent of applause that broke out again and again. She sang twice more during the evening, once a duet with Torelli, who was no mean tenor, and with the same success.

De Spenser went to the green room to bring Lucia to her box, and thence to her concert. He found her in a high state of nervous excitement, and she weighed heavily on his arm. When they reached the box, and they were congratulating her, she suddenly threw her arms around the neck of Mrs. Ludlum, and burst into tears.

"What on earth's the matter with you, when we all so proud of you?"

"Oh, Mamma! those glasses, and the staring faces; and I heard a man, as I left the stage, say something about my figure—and—here she broke down again."

"Who was he?" asked De Spenser, in a stern tone, while Philip Bensen clinched his hands.

"I don't know. He did not see me as he spoke—he didn't mean wrong; I dare say—but it jarred on me—and hurt."

"You'll get used to that kind of chaff after a while," said Mrs. Paige. "It is only the novelty of the situation that excites you. The next concert will be easier, and when you sing before the Philharmonic next month, you'll be as cool as a veteran. You have had a triumph."

Lucia shook her head mournfully.

Her success at the next concert was equally great; and at the Philharmonic concert, she caused a furore. The journals were full of her praises, and they styled her "the new Malibran." But her distress continued, and when, a week after her last appearance, De Spenser came to tell her that the suit had terminated in her favor, and that she had only to go to Rome to be put in possession of her mother's property, he found her in tears.

"Oh, Mr. De Spenser," she said, "I shall go to Rome for that purpose, if you wish it; but not to study for the opera. Please do not insist on that. I am grateful to you, and Mrs. Paige—indeed I am. But this appearance in public is terrible, and I never can sing there again."

De Spenser was moved. "Lucky child!" he said, taking her hand, "you should get over this feeling. You will in time, and smile to remember it, or I should not urge you. You know that we all love you dearly, and want to see you follow a glorious career—one for which Nature has so fitted you. You are rich enough not to need its profits—richer than I—but not the fame. And then is the world never to hear again the melody of that voice?"

Her head dropped towards him as they stood there, the color rushed in a full tide over her face, and she murmured, but his ear caught the words—

"Ah, Felix! I could always sing—for you!"

His heart bounded. He understood her, and for the first time he understood himself. He drew her to his bosom, and she sobbed herself to sleep like a child. Absorbed in themselves, they did not hear the approach of footsteps, nor see any one until Mrs. Paige and Mrs. Graham both stood before them. Mrs. Paige only smiled, she had anticipated this ending; but Lena Graham, with a long breath, exclaimed: "Well!" The speech was not copious, but the intention spoke volumes.

Felix did not need her. "Clara!" he said, "you remember the promise. I shall have to give you my check in return for those jewels."—[From the Independent.]

Washington Guides

WHO CONDUCT VISITORS THROUGH THE MAZES OF THE DEPARTMENTS.

[From the Evening Transcript.]

Few of the thousands of people who visit the Capitol entirely escape the guides, and many of the visitors would see a great deal more of the Capitol, and see it more intelligently, if they availed themselves of the help of the guides, who generally know their business pretty well. The guides are appointed, usually upon the solicitation of the senators and representatives, by a board consisting of the architect of the Capitol and the sergeants-at-arms of the two houses.

They are under the supervision of the police, and are promptly discharged for drunkenness or incivility. There used to be only six of them, but the pressure of congressmen in behalf of followers who have come here for Government places and failed, has increased the number gradually to twelve or thirteen, with the result of reducing the profits of the business. They don't do badly at it though. One young fellow, who never made less than $100 a month, and his living expenses while the number was limited to six, has put away five or six thousand dollars. The guides are not allowed to charge more than fifty cents an hour, and it makes no difference whether they show one person or a party of a dozen around. As a matter of fact, they never make any charge at all. They never name a price. Nobody ever complains of extortion. When the visitor who has been shown around asks what the fee is, the guide tells him it is anything he sees fit to give. If he offers a quarter, it is politely handed back to him with the information that the guide never accepted anything less than a half dollar, and will not begin now; the visitor is quite welcome to the guide's time if he is unable to pay. The visitor, especially if a leader of a party, is more apt to give one dollar than fifty cents, and a five-dollar bill is by no means infrequently folded up and pushed into the guide's hand—without much trouble. In a few cases $10 and even $20 gold pieces have been paid by a wealthy person particularly gratified with the attention of the guide. Once a California nabob gave two $20 gold pieces to a guide who showed him over the Capitol and through the departments. A few years ago there was a guide who made a pretty good thing by acting as escort in the evening for parties of ladies who were doing the Capitol without a gentleman, and who wanted to visit the theatre. Of course the best hunting-ground for visitors is the rotunda. Now that there are a dozen guides, the police board divides them up into squads and assigns one to the rotunda, another to the House wing, and a third to the Senate wing, usually near the basement entrances, and moves the squad around, so that all will have about the same chance to lie in wait in the rotunda for customers. The visitor is the lawful prey of the first guide who discovers him, and claims him by saying to the other guides, "Party." If he should be rebuffed he would fall to the rear, and then all the other guides have the right to angle for the fish. Of course there is sometimes a controversy between the two guides as to which of them said "party" first, and then the captain of the Capitol police has to decide the controversy, and from him there is an appeal to the architect of the Capitol. Some guides are much more adroit than others in coaxing liberal fees from visitors. This gives rise to the buying and selling of clients. A guide who is not a financial expert discovers some visitor entering the rotunda, and he raises his finger and says, "Party!" Another guide, who has a genius for extracting two and five dollar bills, says to the discoverer, "What'll you take for 'em?" The discoverer says fifty cents, or $1, or possibly $2; the offer is accepted, and the second guide offers his services to the stranger.

NEW TANDUM.

During the past few days cyclists riding in the vicinity of Newton have observed a very curious looking machine, sometimes ridden by a young lady and gentleman, and at other times by two gentlemen, which was being propelled at a very rapid rate of speed, for the usual efforts to overhaul it were unsuccessful, and inquiries as to what it was have been made without much success. While at the offices of the Pope Manufacturing Company on Franklin street, a representative of the Herald observed a very curious form of cycle, which turned out to be a tandem rear-driving safety bicycle. Mr. Harry Corey, who was just going out for a spin on it, explained it in brief: "It has been the custom," he said, "of the Pope Manufacturing Company to import from time to time any novelty in the cycling line that appeared, to determine on its merits and examine their construction relating to our patents. This machine is one of the latest that has appeared, and I am not quite prepared to give you a thorough opinion of it at present, but that it is Stray Shots from the Battlefields of Lexington and Concord.

Seated under this patriarchal elm, whose antiquity suggests the thought its birth may have antedated even that of the country's freedom, and mayhap have furnished a modest shelter to its champions on that memorably hot day in April, my soul is filled with peace, though the remembrances of war surround me. Sure it is that not a British redcoat accepted its hospitality, for almost under its bending branches is now to be seen the stone cannon which marks the spot where "the British Army, under Earl Percy, planned a field piece to cover their retreat over the main road to Boston," and it is more than probable that the emergency of the case forbade them even a rest by the roadside in which to regret their fallen comrades and wasted powder!

It is said that only good wine improves with age, and acknowledging even in this "no license" town some of the truth of this statement, which casts its covert reflection upon the marks of time upon the human race, I would add one other improvement given with years, upon the trees of the land, and more especially upon the trees, chiefly the elms, that grace the "historic town of Lexington." Being somewhat deficient in the science of arboriculture, I have found through inquiry from the old town residents the possible ages of some of these kindly specimens that are to be seen in its avenues, and have been told that some really must have been witnesses of the bloody fray, although possibly in their infancy.

Seated here, then, in the quiet of a perfect summer's day, dripping with the ozone in the air, which this dear old town is noted for its sanitary and health-giving properties are freely acknowledged by physicians, it is difficult to realize that these streets, now so silent, ever resounded to the tramp of armed men; and looking back upon the beautiful Commonwealth, now green in the sunlight, it requires more than my command of imagination to picture to the very scene of the carnage. Indeed, the whole town is so full of historical associations that a visit to it, and a drive about its roads, would be quite as instructive, and certainly more agreeable, than a school-boy than a lesson in Higginson or Quackenbush.

Through the commendable enterprise of some of the citizens imbued with that veneration for antiquity which the antiquarian society encourages, mural tablets have been placed on many of the houses of special interest, which no one can fail to appreciate now, and will be of undoubted service to "generations yet unborn."

It is said that one of Lexington's millionaires never forgave himself for not transferring the old Hancock house, once the crowning ornament of Beacon Hill, to this gallery of Nature's historical album, and thus add another link to the story unfolded on that day, so immortalized in American history; and this regret meets with a sad response from many a loyal American's (Bostonian's) heart, whose veneration for the old is superseded by a transient affection for the new. The inconsistency is to be deplored that allows old buildings with such hallowed associations to be torn away and yet encourages the conflicting spirit that ransacks old garrets in its ambition to possess the "green hills" of grandmothers' spinning wheel. The latter, with its gay ribbons in my lady's drawing-room—a mockery upon grandmother's industry—would make her turn in her grave. Blessed unconsciousness!

Why should not the loyal love of patriotism and country affiliate with the love of family?

The Lexington Common first attracts the visitor as he leaves the depot (the only building in the town whose antiquity must fail to be appreciated), and many an hour have I spent for many seasons, seated there in silent contemplation of that terrible day of carnage. Here is seen a huge granite boulder, with a musket and powderhorn carved as well as its rough surface will allow, and beneath are the words of Captain Parker, that brave commander of the minute men—the words so characteristic of the colonial spirit of the time, ever desirous of peace if possible, but a firm determination, it provoked to as ault, to be ready to battle for freedom at any hazard. "Stand your ground; don't fire unless fired upon; but if they mean to have a war, let it begin here;" and although the honor of firing the first shot is contested for to this day between the two sister villages, it strikes me here was fired the one that was "heard around the world." Historians differ, and so, surely, may I be privileged to my own opinion formed from outside influences.

When I sit and overlook the Common I feel a veneration approaching almost to worship for those brave fellows who dropped their ploughshares, and at a minute's notice, as their company name indicates, gathered at the Buckman Tavern just opposite (built in 1691) which was used as a rendezvous, and formed in line where that great boulder now is, while just beyond, still on the limits of the battlefield, is a monument bearing the martyrs' names, and many a stranger to the town points with pride to the name of some ancestor newly discovered, by those who made the sacrifice, and thus added another honor to the family pedigree and coat-of-arms.

Just outside the Common stands a picturesque old house embowered in vines and trees, yet bearing upon its face that story that involuntarily makes one shudder, and draw sad comparisons between this picture and the too hands down to posterity, as one of that noble band of Revolutionary heroes, the wife of one Jonathan Harrington, who, as the story goes, was wounded on the Common and "dragged himself to the door and died at his wife's feet."

Was she not a brave woman who could make herself a target for British bullets in her devotion to husband and country? (Ought my loyalty to command me to place the lover second to country?) Ah! those few lines tell much of bravery, of sacrifice, of devotion and sorrow, and add another name to that proud list who merited the sobriquet of "Revolutionary heroes."

But possibly the house of greatest interest is that now called the old Clarke house, the house where slept John Hancock and Samuel Adams when aroused by Paul Revere on his memorable ride. The lady now occupying it is very courteous to strangers, if only they will be as considerate of her feelings and call in seasonable hours. She is a pattern New England housekeeper, and, rightly enough, looks upon callers in busy hours as an innovation. She cordially took our party over the entire house, even into a old kitchen, whose floor suggested a roe only age, but the marks of time upon its undulating surface impressed us with the premonitory symptoms of "mal de mer." Above was the little gable window under which, no doubt, the brave messenger gave the alarm; and the winding staircase is still pointed out which once creaked under the weight of heroism and loyalty. Rumors of its destruction have reached me, but it is to be hoped that it may be spared to add its share to the story of the day. And just here I cannot resist writing one of the Tory ballads of the times; for here, too, was the home of the Hancock's:

"As for their king, that John Hancock,
And Adams, if they be taken,
Their heads for signs shall hang up high
Upon the hill called Beacon."

It may be lacking in poetic rhythm, but it has its complement of vengeance for sentiment.

Throughout the town are found the chapters of that story which form a whole never to be forgotten by loyal Americans, whose forefathers sealed the book on July 4, 1776, with the cry of "Freedom."—From Grace Le Baron in the Evening Transcript.

The New Court House.

It is now fifty years since the present "mausoleum of justice," as a wag of the day termed it, was opened to judicial hearings, writes "Franklin" in the Saturday Gazette. The prominent legal talent of that day was vested in such men as Hoar, Webster, Mason, Peabody and Choate. Sidney Bartlett is possibly the oldest one living who entered that "temple of justice," as a pleader; the venerable Judge John C. Park comes next in age and experience.

Not one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, the Court of Common Pleas, and the old Police Courts, who took part in the opening ceremonies, is now living. Not one of the sheriffs, or deputy sheriffs, is now living, and possibly not a single constable of the courts.

The High Sheriff was Sumner, (father of Charles Sumner). He was succeeded by Evelett. The constables were Whitwell, Stratton, Clapp and Shute. The first important criminal trial was that of Ephraim K. Avery for the murder of Miss Cornell; then came the famous forgery trial of Peter Sarnoff, in the celebrated Tuttle's will case, in which Hoar, Peabody and Webster figured, and then the Fairchild case. The present court house will have a historical significance in connection with the trials of Albert J. Tirrell and Professor Webster.

The query now arises, how many of the present judges of the several courts will live to take part in the opening ceremonies and the dedication of the new "Temple of Justice?" FRANKLIN.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

List of New Books.

Brown, G. B. From Schola to Cathedral: A Study of early Christian Architecture and its Relation to the Life of the Church.	105.243
Chaner, Amelie Rives. Virginia of Virginia.	65.593
Collette, C. H. The Life, Times and Writings of Thomas Cranmer, D.D., the First Reforming Archbishop of Canterbury.	95.383
Cossa, L. Taxation, its Principles and Methods; trans. with Int. and Notes by H. White.	84.117
Cossa's statement of the principles of taxation, and the light thrown on the evolution of the science of public finance, and the want of any short treatise of similar scope in English, led me to believe that it would find an appreciative audience in this country. —[Intro.]	66.587
Fowler, W. W. Tales of the Birds.
Galloupe, F. E. An Index to Engineering Periodicals, 1883 to 1887; comprising Engineering, Railroads, Science, Manufactures, and Trade.	212.24
About ten thousand references by subject to the more important articles relating to engineering contained in leading periodicals during the last five years.
Green, T. H. The Witness of God, and Faith; Two Lay Sermons; edited with an Introductory Notice by A. Toynbee.	91.459
Gomme, G. L. The Gentleman's Magazine Library; being a Classified Collection of the Chief Contents of the Gentleman's Magazine from 1731 to 1868; Literary Curiosities and Notes.	57.262
This volume gathers up articles dealing with literary history, and leaves it for another volume to collect the bibliographical information, to be found in the Gentleman's Magazine.
Kant, I. The Philosophy of Kant, as contained in Extracts from his own writings, selected and translated by J. Watson.	53.363
The editor of these extracts states in a preface note, that he contains all the main ideas of Kant in their systematic connection.
Martensen, H. L. Jacob Boehme; a Study in Theosophy.	94.442
Merill, S. Newspaper Libel; a Handbook for the Press.	82.144
A book called forth by the demand for more information, outside the legal profession, regarding the rights of the press and its obligations toward public men and others.
Merriman, H. P. What shall Make a Whole? or The Rights in the Direction of Man's Spiritual and Physical Integrity.	91.523
Morris, W. Atlanta's Race and other Tales from the Earthly Paradise; edited with Notes by O. F. Adams [and] W. J. Rolfe.	51.424
Nobody Knows; or Facts that are not Fictions in the Life of an Unknown, by a Nobody.	93.488
The "Unknown" is apparently a real personage, who devotes his life to helping the poor and oppressed.
Ober, F. A. Montezuma's Gold.	62.696
A story of Mexican Life and Adventure.
Worcester, A. A New Way of training Nurses.	81.124
Contents:—How to start a Nurses' Training School. The Training of Nurses in Private Practice. The Waltham Training School for Nurses.

Aug. 22, 1888.

LOG CABINS were the most prominent feature of the Presidential campaign of 1840. In his inaugural address, Mr. Harrison proclaimed "Tippecanoe" Harrison a low fellow, "born in a log cabin." At the opening of the campaign, the opposition sneeringly proclaimed "Tippecanoe" Harrison a low fellow, "born in a log cabin." The log cabin became the emblem of the most enthusiastic of campaigns. Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla and "Tippecanoe" stomach tonic are enthusiastically received by the American people today, because they facilitate the remedies of the common people—simple but effective.

They All Average Three Years.

[Lowell Critic.]

There has been 38 different governors under the constitution, since 1780, a period of 108 years, and the average extent of service of each executive is 2 16-19 years—or nearly the customary term of three years. The list includes three lieutenant governors who succeeded to the office by reason of the death of the governor and who were Thomas Cushing in 1788, Moses Gill in 1799 and 1800, and Samuel T. Armstrong in 1835. Samuel Adams, Levi Lincoln, Marcus Morton and Thomas Talbot, who were also acting governors, were subsequently elected by the people. John Hancock and Caleb Strong, each with 11 years of service to his credit and each requiring two separate terms to cover this period, are credited with the greatest number of years in the office. The largest consecutive term of office was that of Levi Lincoln of Worcester, who ruled over the affairs of the commonwealth from 1825 to 1834, a period of nine years, and exceeding by one year the incumbency of the presidential office, during nearly the same time of Andrew Jackson. No governor of the state chosen by the people has served less than one year. The yearling governors are Christopher Gore in 1810, John H. Clifford in 1833, Emory Washburn in 1854, William Gaston in 1875, and Benjamin F. Butler in 1883. Thomas Talbot, who served as acting governor in 1874, and Marcus Morton had two years of service at different periods—1840 and 1843. The only instances of the occupancy of this office for the consecutive period of two years are James Bowdoin, 1785 to 1787; Eldridge Gerry, 1810 to 1812; and George S. Boutwell, 1851 to 1853. John Davis, governor in 1841 and 1842, had previously occupied the office in 1834 and 1835. So that out of 38 different individuals who have been chosen governor of the state since the reign of John Hancock, and who have otherwise been called to the place, only three have been re-elected to the even term of two years; and during the nine years of the administration of Lewis Lincoln, seven years of John Brooks, seven years of George N. Briggs and the five years of John A. Andrew, the affairs of the commonwealth were wisely and safely managed.

For the Old Ticket.

[Mayor John M. Raymond in Salem News.]

"I am for the old ticket, Ames and Brackett. I feel that Gov. Ames has done very well, excellently in fact, and I see no reason why he should not receive the third term which it has become the custom of the Republican party to tender their governors. I know nothing in his career that has created or should create any opposition to his re-ceiving such recognition. He has made a good governor, and the burden is upon the opposition to show that their man will make a better one. If Gov. Ames was out of the way, my choice would be Brackett. I feel that he would be a worthy successor to Ames. He is fully equipped and competent, and his service to the party entitles him to it. I think he would have a very large following throughout the commonwealth, because the interest he has always shown in workingmen and his strong advocacy in years past of laws that have benefited them. Yes, his time may come next year. I hope it will. I think there is no doubt but what Ames and Brackett will be the ticket this fall. I shall work and do all I can and lend my influence, so far as I am able in their interest."

Two Years Faithful Service.

(Westfield Time and News Letter.)

Our present chief executive has served the State faithfully and efficiently for two years, and is entitled by courtesy and common usage to a renomination and re-election at the hands of his party. It certainly will not be in the interest of party unity to make Governor Ames an exception to the rule. The only excuse for such action, is that some one else wants the place, which is a mighty poor one, and ought not to be considered for one moment by the Republicans of the State. The governor has made a good record, and I always be a found reliable and conservative in all his official and business relations.

An Excellent Record.

(Reading Chronicle.)

The Republican State Convention will be held in Boston on the 12th day of next month, and the party newspapers are expressing their preference for the Governorship. The great majority of them, so far as we see them, are heartily in favor of re-electing Gov. Ames for a third term. And why shouldn't they? Gov. Ames has made an excellent record as executive of the State, and has given the practice of the Republicans to give a satisfactory Governor three terms. He has earned the good will of the people, and his administration of State affairs has been admirable throughout. Why should there be any effort to choose another man?

What Rev. Mr. Titus Thinks.

To the Boston Advertiser, has at least one American follower, Rev. H. F. Titus, formerly pastor of the Baptist church in Newton. Some time ago he resigned his pastorate, announcing that he had ceased to be a Baptist; that there was no other church that he could go to, since none attempted to live the ideal life patterned out in the gospel, and that he had no choice but to attempt to start one of his own. He thinks that in the ideal church, such as he proposes to found, there should be no rich, no poor; that the members should give generously one to another; that they should take care of each other better than Free Masons or any similar society, and that there should be no social distinctions among them.

Nomination Assured.

(Lowell Critic.)

Two Boston gentlemen who have a large acquaintance among the political workers of the state were in Lowell this week and freely expressed the opinion that Gov. Ames's nomination is not only assured but that the convention will be largely in his favor.

Tramp (to editor, who is hurrying past): "Say couldn't you help me a little, please? I gave you a boost once." Editor: "What do you mean, fellow?" Tramp: "Don't you remember that burglary by Jim Crackit and his pals some years ago?" Editor: "Yes, I do." Tramp: "And how your reports of it just set the Howlet's circulation a-boomin'?" Editor: "Yes." Tramp: "Well, I'm Jim."—Puck.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO. LIBERAL HOUSE FURNISHERS,

827 Washington St., 827 BOSTON, MASS.

Having pre-eminently secured New England patronage thro' the worthy medium of first-class goods, low prices, and square dealing, we beg to assure the general public that nothing in future, "as in the past," shall be left undone on our part to meet a continuance of that esteemed patronage to which we are so well accustomed and extremely thankful for.

Chamber Furniture.

A beautiful Black Walnut Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, with best Italian Marble Tops. This set has been in good demand at the moderate price of $50.00; present mark down price, $39.00.

A splendid Ash Chamber Set, consisting of 10 pieces, complete, in brick demand all thro' the Spring, at $25.00, we are now selling to close out, at the unusually low price of $19.00.

Also a large variety of Ash Chamber Sets from $15.00 to $50.00, together with over 200 Sample Sets of Chamber Furniture, on one of our Hall Floors, for inspection, consisting of Walnut Mahogany, Cherry, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., ranging in price from $10.00 to $100.00.

Parlor Furniture.

A magnificent Parlor Set in Hair Cloth, consisting of "8 pieces, mind," made up for our Spring Trade, and freely sold at $75.00, to close out we sell out at $39.00.

Also an immense stock of Parlor Furniture, Odd Chairs, Couches, Divans, &c. We exhibit on one floor alone, over 175 different styles of Parlor Suites, together with a 100 different kinds in Easy Chairs, and Couches, covered in Leather, Cloth, Brocatelles, Cretons, and all the popular coverings.

Carpets.

Scotch, 3-Ply. Extra heavy, to out-vie or at least compete favorably with best Brussels or Tapestry, 88c., regular price $1.25

All Wool Superfine Carpets, 50c., regular price $1.00

English Tapestry Brussels, 48c., regular price $1.00

We have a very large assortment of Window Shades, Lace and Drapery Curtains, Poles and Fixtures, Ranges, Stoves, Crockery, China Ware, and General House Furnishing Goods, which we are determined to reduce in stock regardless of cost price.

Items of Interest Not to be Overlooked in the Purchase of Furniture.

1. Know well the character of the house before you buy.
2. Look well to the quality of the goods in a sunlit room.
3. Make sure the goods are as good as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
4. Make sure the prices are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
5. Make sure the terms of contract are the same as those of B. A. ATKINSON & CO.
6. Never buy anywhere until you have called to 8-7 Washington St. We pay fares, deliver goods free, and give you in present, a lovely picture, on ancient Jerusalem. We give you besides, best bargains, and best goods in the United States. Terms, Cash or Instalments.

The name we hold we've won by worth,
By worth intend we too,
To make that name e'en greater still,
In cheaper goods for you.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE

FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.

Cures Diphtheria, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, Bleeding at the Lungs, Hoarseness, Influenza, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Chronic Diarrhoea, Kidney Troubles, and Spinal Diseases. We will send free, postpaid, to all who send their names, an illustrated Pamphlet. All who buy or order direct from us, and request it, shall receive a certificate that the money shall be refunded if not abundantly satisfied. Retail price, 35 cts., 6 bottles, $2.00. Express prepaid to any part of the United States or Canada. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., P. O. Box 2118, Boston, Mass.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY.

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per annum yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 30 cents and upwards per flight; Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.

Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; 3 bottles for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 828. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Alleviates Pain and Inflammation, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

HAIR-FEVER Try the Cure

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

ELLY'S CREAM BALM

Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Alleviates Pain and Inflammation, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

HAIR-FEVER Try the Cure

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President.
B. FRANKLIN RACON, Cashier.

C. G. NEWCOMB, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton 9:30 a. m.; leave Boston 3 p. m.

NEWTON ORDER BOXES: Newton City Market, Post Office. BOSTON OFFICES: 25 Merchants Row, 125 Congress Street, 104 Franklin Street. Post Office address, Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given A Orders.

Leave Newton at 9:30 a. m. Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

ARTHUR HUDSON.

Analytical and Pharmaceutical CHEMIST AND APOTHECARY.

(28 years experience in the business.)

WALKER'S BLOCK, NEWTON
Cor. Centre and Elmwood streets.

A full line of Chemicals of Standard Purity always in stock.
Physicians' prescriptions compounded with accuracy at all hours.
Proprietary Medicines and Druggists' Sundries.

CHEMISTRY.

With a large and thoroughly appointed Laboratory, Mr. Hudson offers his services in the line of his profession. Investigation as to the composition of matter conducted by analyses or syntheses, according to most approved methods. Analysis of potable waters, milk, etc., a specialty.

The Senior Druggist of Newton.

TELEPHONE 7979.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

City of Newton.

To CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, City Marshal, or one of the Constables of the City of Newton, GENTLEMEN:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to warn the citizens of WARD NO. FOUR, qualified to vote as the law directs, to assemble at

AUBURN HALL, IN SAID WARD, On Tuesday, the 4th day of September next,

at seven o'clock in the forenoon, and from that time until twenty minutes past five o'clock in the afternoon, then and there to give in their ballots for one Common Councilman for said Ward, who shall be resident therein, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Theodore W. Gore.

The polls will be opened at seven o'clock in the forenoon and closed at twenty minutes past five o'clock in the afternoon, on the day aforesaid.

And you are directed to serve this Warrant by posting attested copies thereof in not less than four public places in said Ward, seven days at least before the time of holding said meeting, and publishing the same in the NEWTON GRAPHIC and the Newton Journal.

Hereof full notice and make due return of this Warrant, with the doings thereon, to the Warden of said Ward, on or before the fourth day of September next.

Witness, J. Wesley Kimball, Mayor of our said City of Newton, on this the twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-eight.

J. WESLEY KIMBALL, Mayor.
By order of the Mayor and Aldermen,
I. F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

A true copy, Attest:
CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, City Marshal.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

CITY OF NEWTON, August 17, 1888.

In pursuance of the foregoing Warrant, I hereby warn the citizens of Ward No. 4, qualified to vote as the law directs, to assemble at the time and place and for the purposes herein set forth.

CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, City Marshal.

City of Newton.

Registration of Voters, 1888.

Special Election, Ward 4, Sept. 4, 1888.

To Fill Vacancy of One Councilman in Place of Theodore W. Gore, Resigned.

Notice is hereby given to all persons in Ward Four, to present themselves for registration, and that the Registrars of Voters will hold a session for the registration of voters, and to correct and revise the list of said Ward Four.

At Auburn Hall, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock P. M., SATURDAY, AUGUST 25th, 1888.

No names can be registered after 10 o'clock P. M., AUGUST 25th.

All persons whose names are not on the voting list must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on the day above mentioned, presenting a receipted tax bill of 1886 or 1887.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he was 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby and must present the father's naturalization papers.

Every male citizen in Ward 4 of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the State one year and in the City of Newton six months prior to Sept. 4, 1888, and who has paid a State or County tax assessed upon him either in 1886 or 1887, and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at the election to be held in said Ward, September 4th, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES, Registrars.
GEORGE H. BOURNE, Registrars.
ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Registrars.

Newton, July 28, 1888.

43 44

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, is agent for the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Mr. Frank Fennessy was in town the middle of the week.

—Mrs. Capron of Beacon street returned on Tuesday from the sea shore.

—Sidney G. Steeves, Esq., and family have returned from Marblehead Neck.

—Miss Putnam of Chelsea is visiting Mrs. Anna P. Crocker of Centre street.

—Rev. Wm. Stearns is visiting his father, Prof. Stearns of Beacon street, this week.

—Mr. James R. Leeson and son of Elgin street, are spending this month at Cape Cod.

—Master Arthur Wade, eldest son of the Hon. Levi C. Wade, is at Edgerton with a tutor.

—Miss Louise Grant has returned from Laconia, N. H., to her home on Beacon street.

—Mrs. Fay and her daughter of Station street, are at Campton, N. H., for the present.

—Miss Harriet Forbes is at Franklin Falls visiting Miss Dodge, sister of Mrs. Prof. Brown.

—Mrs. J. A. Peck has returned from a three weeks' vacation at Goose Rocks, Biddeford, Me.

—Mrs. Jeremiah Kittredge returned yesterday from Seaside, where she has been visiting friends.

—Mr. Edward H. Cutler and family of Newton are stopping at the "Peterkin," at North Scituate.

—Dean Huntington preached an able sermon on Sunday in the Methodist church, from Matt. 10. 1.

—Mr. Walter L. Sanborn has returned from his vacation of a few weeks at South West Harbor, Me.

—Rev. W. H. Holman of Southport, Conn., will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday.

—The Baptist Theological Seminary opens Sept. 4th with the same corps of instructors as last year.

—Rev. Horace L. Wheeler conducted the services in the Unitarian church at Jackson, N. H., last Sunday.

—Miss May Caldwell has returned from her visit to Mrs. Reynolds of Dorchester, formerly of this village.

—Rev. R. H. Crowell of Philadelphia is spending a few days here with his brother-in-law, Mr. John Sanborn.

—Mr. Wm. Bartholemew and family left on Tuesday for Annisquam, where Mr. Bartholemew is sketching.

—Miss Mary E. Hazleton of Cambridge spent Sunday at her grandmother's, Mrs. Hazleton of Parker street.

—A son-in-law of Mr. Ivory Harmon, Mr. Morehouse and family left here on Wednesday for their home in Maine.

—Mrs. Darwin Bond and two daughters have joined Mrs. Gould of Centre street at Great Chebeague Island, Maine.

—Miss Gertrude R. Crane of Lake avenue spent Sunday with her mother at The Mitchell house at North Scituate.

—Mr. Harry Day and his sister, Miss Juliet Day of Centre street, have spent a few days at Dorchester this week.

—Mrs. Charles Polsey of Lake avenue returned on Tuesday from York Beach, where she has been spending a few days.

—The brook running through Mr. Cousins and Mr. Wardwell's land and under Beacon street is being banked with stone.

—Mr. Moses G. Crane and Master Edwin Crane of Lake avenue sailed from Liverpool, England, yesterday for America.

—Miss Stella Makee and her sister, Miss Lena Makee, left on Tuesday for Berwick, Maine, where they will spend two weeks.

—Mr. Hiram H. Lee and family of Station street have moved away. They intend living in Boston this winter, we understand.

—Mrs. Casey, a sister of Mrs. D. A. White, and daughter, who have been visiting here for some time, return to New York in a few days.

—Mrs. Hiram H. Lee and son are staying at Sanborn's hotel, at Campton, N. H., where are also Mrs. L. A. Fay and Miss Mabel G. Fay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Newton and two children of Newport have left Mr. Newton's on Elgin street, where they have been spending a few days.

—Mr. T. Jefferson Howard has joined his wife in Vermont, where they will spend a few days. Mrs. Howard was at Kennebunk the first of the week.

—Mr. Kenneth W. Hardon of Newton and Mr. Newton Crane, while fishing in Crystal Lake on Monday afternoon, caught a pickerel weighing five pounds. This is not a fish story.

—Mr. Herbert Smith has bought the house owned by Mr. Chas. S. Davis on Beacon street, now occupied by Mr. Chas. Grout. Mr. Smith intends to take possession the first of October.

—Rev. Daniel Furber of Grafton street preached at Wellesley Hills last Sunday. It is gratifying to know that Dr. Furber is in much better health this year than last, and is able to preach occasionally.

—Mr. Lewis C. Melcher and family have been spending a short time at Jackson, N. H. Among others there are Mrs. Gardner of Summer street, and Rev. Horace L. Wheeler of the Unitarian church.

—Rev. William C. Stearns of Cazenovia, N. Y., son of Professor Oakman Stearns of this place, preached in the Baptist church last Sunday, morning and evening. It is pleasant to hear the sons of our well known ministers in the churches here.

—Miss Lizzie Green, for many years employed by Mrs. N. Y. A. Hunter of Lake avenue, is very ill with typhoid fever at her home on Homer street. Several members of her family have been ill with malaria also.

—Mr. Geo. W. Walton, director of music at the Baptist church, came to his home at Newton on Saturday, after a very enjoyable fortnight at Salisbury beach. The chorus choir at the church will resume next Sunday. Rehearsal Saturday evening.

—Mr. George Hawes, formerly of Elgin street, spent Sunday here with friends. He is now staying in Waltham, where he is one of the party sent from the Mather Electric Light company, which is engaged in supplying the Waltham Watch factory with lights.

—Mrs. R. R. Wright and daughters of Denver, Col., who have been summering at Kennebunk Beach, have returned to the residence of their father, Rev. Dr. Cooke, where they will remain a few weeks preparatory to their departure for their western home.

—One of the Boston papers had a half column of gossip about Newton this week, in which it described the visit its reporter made to Hon. R. B. Bishop's residence at West Newton. The reporter must have gone a good deal out of his way to find Judge Bishop at West Newton.

—After much discussion the carved heads around the pulpit in the new Baptist church have been removed, leaving taking their place. The architect reports these heads as being much used abroad for churches and cathedrals, but the committee did not care for anything of the kind here.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Miss Gertrude Nelson is at Martha's Vineyard.

—Mrs. E. Moulton is at Enfield, Mass., for a visit of a week.

—Miss Helen and Mary May are at Provincetown for a week's visit.

—Miss Forbes of Cambridge is a guest of her uncle, Mr. A. F. Hayward.

—Miss Crane and Miss Harden of Newton are at North Scituate Beach.

—Mrs. L. K. Brigham and family are at Porpoise Beach for three weeks.

—The old store building is on rollers again, and this time will go westward.

—Expressman Wetherbee, who has been quite ill for two or three weeks, is a little better.

—Mr. S. A. Brown had twenty-one fowls killed and named by a dog on Wednesday morning.

—We hear that Miss Louisa Pierce has caught the craze for summer travel and has taken a trip to Natick and remained two days.

—Mr. Walter Allen of New Haven was at the Highlands for a day or two. His son, Weston, is making a visit with Mr. Putney.

—Mr. G. H. Crafts from Atlanta, Ga., is at the old homestead again for a summer vacation, after an absence of eighteen months.

—Mr. C. P. Clark, Jr., and family have returned from their visit at Kennebunkport, Me., where his father has a summer residence.

—The Misses Craft are making extensive alterations and repairs on the house lately bought by them, corner of Bowdoin and Lincoln streets.

—We hear that a deed of the Thrasher land may be withheld from Mr. Sullivan, and that parties interested in the matter may obtain the deed of same.

—Hon. S. C. Cobb and lady, with two of their grandchildren, Miss Etta and Master Charlie Logan, have returned from their sojourn among the White Mountains.

—Mrs. Thrasher and her daughter Hattie are quite ill with malaria. The family are making preparations to remove to Portland, Me., their former place of residence, about the first of September.

—Rev. Wm. G. Poor, of Kansas, will preach at the Congregational church next Sabbath morning. Rev. Mr. Poor is president of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the State of Kansas, and in the evening will make an address in regard to the work of the societies throughout the country.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Rev. Mr. Peterson is at Sterling, Mass.

—Mrs. Beriah Billings is at Crescent Beach.

—The Elliot station is at last open to the public.

—We regret to record the illness of Mrs. H. C. Hoyt.

—Dr. J. H. Grant paid us a flying visit one day last week.

—Dr. Eben Thompson is off on a vacation to Harwich, Mass., where he will remain until September.

—Miss Pettee is at Wrentham, where she will remain until September.

—Mr. Hildreth and family are enjoying an outing at West Barnstable.

—Mr. C. S. Lovell has gone to his home at Kittery, Me., for a few days.

—Mr. George Wheeler of Dorchester is visiting at Mr. John T. Thomason's.

—Mrs. H. A. Sherman, Jr., is spending a few days with friends at Springfield.

—Mr. Amos L. Hale is painting and repairing his house and otherwise improving his property.

—The choir connected with St. Mary's church with their friends enjoyed Wednesday at the beach.

—Col. H. H. Easterbrook of Boston was in the place during the week, and called upon a number of his old friends.

—Mr. W. H. McIntosh is moving his lively stable from the Needham due to the stable recently occupied by Mr. F. B. Spear.

—Mr. Miner, the proprietor of the depot barge, has reduced the fare, giving now 16 rides for a dollar, which is certainly cheap enough.

—Business at the Pettee Machine Works is a little dull, thus forcing the management to temporarily discharge a number of the workmen.

—Mr. E. C. Hawes, for 23 years a conductor on the N. Y. & N. E. R. R. between Upper Falls and Boston, is with his wife visiting Mr. John A. Gould.

—The new rubber company, who have bought the new building which was erected by the Superior Wax Paper Company, are to commence operations at once.

—Rev. B. L. Whitman, who was to deliver an address before the Highlandville Society of Christian Endeavor, was prevented from so doing by illness.

—There was a very pleasant birthday party at Mr. Henry H. Fanning's on Tuesday, it being the fifth birthday of their daughter Emily. The day before, Miss Millie Smith celebrated her fifth birthday by a party of little folks, so that the week has seen a very enjoyable one for the little people.

—There was a runaway accident here a day or two ago. A loaded team was passing through Elliot street, when the horses became frightened and unmanageable, running the team with its contents up into the yard of Mr. Stockman, where the horses broke from the wagon and ran. There was, very fortunately, no great damage done.

—Miss Linda Nickerson, who has been selected to succeed Miss Everett, is a resident of Upper Falls, and it is a source of satisfaction to all that the school board has at last begun to give positions to graduates of our Newton schools, instead of importing all the teachers from other towns, where the schools are inferior.

—The storm of Tuesday night was very severe in this section. A large limb of a tree on the Wheeler estate was broken off and thrown into the street, but fortunately in falling it struck upon a post, thus saving the fence, which has recently been erected, and which has the reputation of being the most artistic and beautiful piece of work in this vicinity.

Special Reduction Sale of ready made boys' and children's clothing. To make room for fall goods White, Cross & Co., of 592 Washington street, Boston, offer at greatly reduced prices all their stock. This is a great opportunity to get school suits at a bargain. Their store is up one flight, and early visitors will find a fine assortment.

MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Continued from Page 1.

During my year's absence, no information concerning my present or prospective condition has been sought. But March 1st I received the following letter from the superintendent, to which I here call attention:

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT,
Newtonville, March 1, 1883.

DEAR MISS HAPGOOD: Shall we expect you to resume your work at the opening of the fall term in September? An early reply will oblige us, as we wish to make our arrangements for the coming year. Yours truly,

THOMAS EMERSON, Supt.

My reply was an immediate, unconditional affirmative. Nothing further was heard from the superintendent or committee until June 2, when the following communication was received:

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT,
Newtonville, June 1, 1883.

DEAR MISS HAPGOOD: At a meeting of the district committee of ward two, held on Wednesday, May 30, it was voted that in consideration of the state of your health during the past two years, a proper regard for the best interests of the Adams school makes it inexpedient to nominate you as an assistant teacher in that school for the ensuing year, and I am instructed to advise you of the decision of the committee in order that you may have an opportunity to present your resignation before further action is taken. I may add that this conclusion was reached with a good deal of reluctance, and careful consideration of the matter at two successive meetings of the committee. Truly yours,

THOMAS EMERSON,
Supt. of Schools.

As the reason assigned for this summary action of the local committee seemed insufficient to justify an action attended with such grave results to myself, I sought and obtained an interview with one of the district committee with a view to obtaining the real facts in the case. From him I learned that the reasons which formed the basis of the action of the committee were several, the leading one being undue severity in discipline and consequent dissatisfaction of the parents. "A standard so high," I quote the words of the committee, "that any attempts to bring the children up to it discouraged them and rendered them unhappy. I was, however, told that the dissatisfaction was not general and that with my results in teaching no fault was to be found. The names of the parents and the nature of their complaints were withheld.

This state of feeling I was told had existed for two years. During this time, no measure of my methods had been expressed either by the superintendent or the committee and consequently no opportunity given to modify them in accordance with the wishes of the committee. Moreover, the gentleman whom I am told opposed my reappointment as strongly as any one and who has specific charges in his possession, declined to accord me any answer whatever to a telegram asking for an interview, so that I am in the dark as to any except the general accusation of "too high" forth. This gentleman, as I am permitted to say, has never once entered my school room in session hours during my five years' service in the Adams school and can have, therefore, no personal acquaintance with my work. When, in my interview with the member of the committee to whom I have alluded, I objected that a judgment founded entirely upon outside information, with no knowledge of me personally, was unfair, I was met with the reply that the gentleman's opinion of a teacher given based upon outside information merely was of more value than that of many people whose opinion had been formed by actual observation of a teacher's methods while at her work. The third member of the committee, as I have been told, was not present at the meetings which decided my fate.

Although I have solicited no opinions, a recent visit to Newtonville has confirmed me in the belief that dissatisfaction, if it exists, is confined to a few parents who will be found, if trouble is taken to investigate the matter, to have assumed a similar attitude towards other teachers. Many expressions of opinion have come to me unsought from parents and children, and I have been surprised at my summary dismissal and of indignation at the charge which throws the responsibility of my dismissal upon the parents. I am quite willing to submit my case to the judgment of all the people who have been in the school and in care during the last two years, the time during which I am told I have not been in favor, leaving the result in their hands.

Another charge is lack of harmony with Mr. Spinney, the master of the Adams school. I have failed to furnish evidence to support this charge. I fancy doubts on this point exist in the minds of the committee. I am happy to be able to refer you to Mr. Spinney for the confirmation of my statement. My dismissal was accomplished without consulting him, who must necessarily be better informed concerning my methods and imperfections than any one else, and his surprise at my non-election was as great as my own. The points to which I would like to call your attention are briefly these: Ought not a teacher, the question of whose justice is under consideration, to be allowed the courtesy of the real reason of her discharge? Has she not a right to ask that she be furnished with all the reasons which have governed the committee in its action? Is it fair or right that she be dismissed without a word of warning or an opportunity of a single word in her defense, a privilege accorded to the very criminal? Ought she to be dismissed on the personal knowledge of two members of the local committee, only two out of the three members being present, and of these two, only one with the superintendent having any means of judging personally in the matter? Ought not the master with whom the teacher has worked for a number of years to be allowed to give his testimony as to her fitness or unfitness for her position? Should parents have any voice in the matter as to whom they shall entrust the training of their children, and should the sentiment of a small minority be considered above that of the majority?

I desire to acknowledge the consideration shown me, not always heretofore granted to teachers under similar circumstances, in giving me an opportunity to offer my resignation to the committee, but as, according to the superintendent's letter, I have no position to resign, such a course of procedure would seem to be an unnecessary formality.

I have been advised by the district committee to avoid the publicity of the action I now take. The situation is certainly an unpleasant one, but I should be false to my convictions of right and justice if I allowed so manifestly unfair a settlement of my case to go by without entering my protest.

Respectfully,

V. E. HAPGOOD.

ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alums or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

Sidney P. Clark,

—AGENT—
STATION STREET, - NEWTON CENTRE.
REAL ESTATE to sell and to rent. Farms Houses and Land in all parts of New England. Rents collected and Mortgages negotiated.
BOSTON OFFICE, 178 WASHINGTON ST.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS & IMPORTERS,

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

We have obtained the services of MR. J. W. KNOWLES, of Newtonville, a Cutter of high standing.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

Riverside School

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

A family school of excellent advantages for a limited number of girls. Instruction in German and French by native teachers. Principal's certificate admits to Wellesley College, Board and tuition, $400. Tuition without board, $100. Seventh year begins Oct. 4, 1883.

Miss Delia T. Smith,

[43-44] Principal.

Vacation Class. PAINTING & DRAWING

MISS IDA COLLINS

is ready to receive pupils for the summer.

Class commences July 16th.

Studio, Beacon Street, Waban.

Visitors Welcome.

P. O. Address, Newton Highlands.

MR. CUTLER'S

Preparatory School for Boys.

Second Year, 1883-89.

For terms and other information apply to or address MR. E. H. CUTLER, Washington street, Newton.

The next term begins Wednesday, Sept. 12

—THE—

Misses ALLEN

Vernon Street.

Will open their

Boarding & Day School

For girls and young ladies, Sept. 23th.

The common and higher English branches thoroughly taught. Special advantages in the study of Language, Literature, Music, Drawing and Painting. Students specially prepared for a collegiate course.

Circulars with full information sent on application.

WEST NEWTON

English and Classical School.

Thirty-sixth year begins Wednesday, September 19th, 1883. A Family and Day School for both sexes. Prepares for College, Scientific Schools, Business, and for an intelligent and honorable manhood and womanhood. Send for catalogues to

Nathaniel T. Allen,

West Newton.

Refers to any parent or guardian whose children have been in the school.

At home Tuesdays in August. 42

CHAS. A. FARLEY,

Piano & Organ Tuner.

The Ivers & Pond pianos for sale or exchange at the lowest prices on easy terms of payment.

Address P. O. Lock Box 22, Newton.

Residence, Washington St. 24 from Hovey.

Subscribe for the Graphic.

Pearmain AND Brooks,

Stock and Bond Brokers,

(Members Boston Stock Exchange.)

51 State St., Boston, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly executed. Correspondence solicited. Good bonds and mortgages on hand for immediate delivery. 25.3m

SUMNER B. PEARMAIN, L. LORING BROOKS.

No Other Line Does It!

SARATOGA.

FOUR EXPRESS TRAINS

Daily (Sundays excepted,) via

Hoosac Tunnel Route,

From Boston to Saratoga.

25 Miles Shorter than Any Other Line.

Through the

Lovely Deerfield Valley,

And around the Shores of

LAKE SARATOGA.

DAY EXPRESS. Elegant Parlor Cars attached. Leaves Boston 8.30 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 3.15 p. m. Stops at North Adams for lunch.

Fast Limited Express.

Palace Parlor Cars, Passenger Coaches, Smoking and Baggage Cars. Through without change. Leaves Boston 10.45 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 5.35 p. m. Stops at Athol for dinner.

EXPRESS. Palace Parlor Car attached. Leaves Boston 11.35 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 7.25 p. m.

NIGHT EXPRESS. Sleeping car to Troy. Leaves Boston 11.00 p. m.; arrives at Saratoga 9.50 a. m. Breakfast Troy or Saratoga.

For Tickets, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, apply at the Company's Office, 229 Washington street, or Ticket Office.

Fitchburg Railroad

Passenger Station, Causeway street, Boston.

J. R. WATSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

Private School.

Miss L. M. FRIEND and Miss E. M. COOK

Will open their private school on

Pelham St., Newton Centre,

Sept. 10, 1883.

TERMS: $15 a quarter. Languages extra. 38.3m

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATEROWN.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS DIRECTY

ROBERT BLAIR,

(Formerly with A. W. Snow.)

PRACTICAL PLUMBER.

Having had 16 years' experience in the business, satisfactory work is guaranteed. Estimates given.

Shop corner Centre and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands.

Residence, Station St., Newton Centre. 5-ly

VIRGINIA F. BRYANT, M. D.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

Office hours until 10 A. M., and after 5 P. M., at former residence of S. D. Whittemore, corner Centre and Chester streets. A few patients can be accommodated with board and rooms.

Boston Office, 102 Boylston Street; Hours 3 to 5 P. M.

To all Whom It May Concern.

The undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of Newton and Ward Six in particular that he has opened a custom boot and shoe shop at Basement, opposite Summer Street.

Where he is prepared to make to order on the shortest possible notice Ladies' and Gents' Boots and Shoes; also repairing of all kinds done first-class. His expenses are comparatively nothing and he intends to give the benefit to his customers. Here are some of his prices: haddock soles and heels, $1.00; Union Leather, $1.00; oak toe, $1.25. Patches at all prices; rubber work done at short notice. All work warranted to give perfect satisfaction or money returned.

T. FINNEGAN.

NEWTON CENTRE

Boot & Shoe Store.

Established 1874. All repairing done inside of ten hours.

G. E. BARROWS,

4 Farnham's Block, Newton Centre.

WM. G. SAUER,

CONTRACTOR.

For Mason Work, Cellars, Drains, Cesspools, Wells, and other like work. Call on or address at Newton Centre. 401

GARDEN HOSE.

If you want a good article buy

Atherton Rubber Co.'s

Warranted Hose.

For sale by dealers throughout Newton.

26 A Kingston Street, Boston. 42

Atheron Rubber Co.,

26 A Kingston Street, Boston. 42

DR. J. H. COOK,

Surgeon-Dentist.

45 TREMONT STREET.

ALL WALKS WATER ST. NEWTON CENTRE

NEWTON CENTRE DIRECTORY.

J. C. FARRAR,
BLACKSMITHING

—AND—CARRIAGE PAINTING

Beacon Street, Newton Centre. 3

Armstrong Brothers

Keep a Full Line of Men's, Women's and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES,

at prices which defy competition.

Repairing done in first-class fashion and at low rates. Extra inducements offered. Call early.

CENTRE STREET, NEWTON CENTRE.

Next door to Dr. Noble's.

Flour. Flour. Flour.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVI.—NO. 47.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1888.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

Republican Caucuses.

The Republicans, and other voters in Newton, who intend to support the Republican candidates, are invited to meet on Saturday Evening, Sept. 1st,

At 8 o'clock, in their respective wards, as follows:

- WARD 1, ARMORY LOWER HALL,
" 2, TREMONT HALL,
" 3, NICKERSON'S HALL,
" 4, AUBURN HALL,
" 5, OLD SCHOOL HOUSE, U. F.,
" 6, ASSOCIATES' HALL,
" 7, ELIOT LOWER HALL.

To choose in each Ward, two delegates to the State Convention, which is called to meet in TREMONT TEMPLE, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, at 11 o'clock, A. M., also, to choose two delegates to each of the following Conventions, viz: Congressional, Councillor, Senatorial and County.

Also, in Ward 4, to nominate a candidate for Common Councillor to fill vacancy. Also, to transact any other business necessary.

Per order of the Republican Ward and City Committee.

C. BOWDITCH COFFIN,

Chairman.

EDWARD W. BAILEY, Secretary.

Prohibitionists!!

The Prohibitionists of Newton are invited to meet in a city caucus at the Police Court Room, West Newton,

—ON—

Saturday Evening, September 1,

—AT—

8 O'clock, to transact the following business:

1st. The election of a Ward and City Committee for the ensuing year.
2d. To choose delegates to the State, Congressional, Councillor, County and Senatorial Conventions.
3d. To nominate two representatives from our city to the General Court, and to transact any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

The presence of every supporter of our cause is earnestly desired, that a full expression may be had at this meeting as to means and methods of carrying on an aggressive campaign in our city this fall. Per Order of the Ward and City Committee.

EDWIN F. KIMBALL, Chairman.

GEO. K. LITTLEFIELD, Secy.

MASS CAUCUS.

—THE—

DEMOCRATS

OF NEWTON, and all others who are in favor of the present National Administration are requested to meet in mass caucus at the

City Hall,

—ON—

Saturday, the First Day of September next, at 7 1-2 o'clock, P. M.,

For the purpose of choosing delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Springfield,

—ON—

Wednesday, Sept. 5th, proximo.

Also to elect Delegates to the Congressional, Senatorial, Councillor and County Conventions. The basis of representation shall be one delegate at large, and one delegate for every Ward of the City, and one additional Delegate for every one hundred votes or fractional part thereof cast at the last National Election of President and Vice-President of the United States. Per Order of the Democratic Ward and City Committee.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Chairman.

BERNARD EARLY, Secretary.

Number Your Houses

And so obtain the FREE POSTAL DELIVERY. If you do not know your number enclose a postal card, addressed with your name and street to the City Engineer, West Newton, who will return it with your correct number. You can get the best

Bronze Metal Nickled Plated

2 inch numbers at

BARBER BROS.

HARDWARE STORE.

No 415 Centre Street.

Don't delay as the inspector from Washington says it seems the only thing wanted.

Postively Closing Weeks

GRAND CYCLOPEDIA,

BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG,

541 Tremont St., Boston.

Don't fail to see this great battle scene at once.

A new subject now being painted will take its place in this building January 1st. 47 3/4

MISS SPEAR

Will be at her new schoolrooms,

Washington St.,

First house west of Cole's Block, after

September 3d. from 9 to 12 a.m., to make arrangements for the work of the coming year; and to receive application for special classes in Literature, Languages, Elocution and Gymnastics. The French department will be under the supervision of M. Loiseux, who will also form classes for pupils not otherwise connected with the school. The regular sessions of the school will begin Monday, September 10th, and any pupils not able to be present on that day, will please notify the principal, if they wish seats reserved for them. 47 3/4

Subscribe for the Graphic.

Subscribe for the Graphic.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC now has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST, a larger CIRCULATION, and a larger number of readers than any other Newton paper. Its circulation is constantly increasing, and it gives nearly double the amount of local news and reading matter furnished by any other Newton paper.

NEWTON.

—"Free Trade" prices on Shirts. See page 2

—Lion Brand collars and cuffs at Francis Murdock & Co's.

—Mrs. C. E. Fitch has returned from Kennebunkport.

—Dr. Fred Webber has returned from his trip to Augusta, Me.

—Mrs. William S. Gardner is at the Hesperus house, Magnolia.

—Rev. Dr. Shinn and family returned from Hubbardston this week.

—The Eliot Sunday School will resume its sessions on Sunday, at the usual hour.

—Mr. H. W. Crowell and family are at Martha's Vineyard for a month's vacation.

—Eliot Church will celebrate the Lord's Supper at the service next Sunday morning.

—Mr. Gardner S. Nichols of Sargent street is expected home from the West next week.

—Mrs. Hopkinson and daughter of New York are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fitch.

—Mr. B. L. Leeds and family have located at Breezy Point, N. H., he being a sufferer from hay fever.

—Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Hitchcock left on Thursday for a week's visit at No. Branch, New Hampshire.

—Mrs. J. O. Evans has gone to Alton Bay for a few days, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Aston.

—Rev. Dr. Calkins is expected to occupy his own pulpit next Sunday, and to administer the September communion.

—Mr. L. N. Peabody and family left this week for the Nantuxet House, Marblehead Neck, to remain during September.

—The family of Mr. W. E. Field of Waverly avenue will remain in Europe during the winter. Mr. Field arrived home this week.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook and family are expected home the latter part of next week from Bethel, Me., where they are now staying.

—Charles F. Rand has leased Miss Pope's house, corner of Waverly avenue and Tremont street, to Miss Grace W. Minn of Boston.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook was one of the clergymen who took part in the dedication of Channing Chapel at Winter Harbor last week.

—Prof. Andrews of Madison University, who has been a guest at the Hotel Hunnwell for the past several weeks, has returned home.

—Mrs. A. D. Sampson and the Misses Sampson have returned from Gorham, N. H., where they have been spending the summer.

—Union 275 of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, will turn out in the trades procession, on Labor Day, Monday next.

—The public schools of the city will reopen September 10th, and next month will probably see most of the summer absentees at home again.

—John Geddis, who has been a driver for Mr. F. E. Hamlin for the past two years, died on Thursday morning at Mr. Hamlin's residence.

—See announcement of Miss Spear's school. New rooms have been secured and the school will give greater advantages than ever to its pupils.

—There will probably be no river carnival in Waltham this year, as the committee find that the people are unwilling to contribute to the expenses.

—Rev. Edward F. Hayward of Chicopee, (date of South Boston), will preach at the Channing Church, next Sunday morning. Seats for strangers. All invited.

—Barber Brothers have numbers in bronze metal ready for putting up on houses. Those who wish free delivery should have the numbers put up at once.

—John Irving, the Pearl street florist, took the Faxon prize for the finest display of asters, at the show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in Boston, on Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Ruddock, who have been spending the summer at Mrs. Frankland's, returned this week to their home on Pembroke street, Boston.

—Mr. H. H. Cutler left for New York on Wednesday to attend the meeting of the national association of electric light companies, now being held at Hotel Brunswick.

—The auction sale of the second house in the Washington street block, by S. S. Gleason, called out a number of bidders, and the house was sold to Charles F. Rand for $2,210.

—Dr. J. F. Frisbie returned this week from his visit to St. Andrews, N. B. Frisbie also returned from the White Mountains, where she has been spending the summer.

—The first public meeting of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held at Tremont Hall, Newtonville, at 7:30, next Tuesday evening, and be addressed by Hon. Robert Treat Paine and others.

—Mrs. U. C. Crosby and daughter will return from Sutton Centre Sept. 8. Mr. Crosby and son Everett are visiting St. John and Halifax, and will return about the middle of September.

—The Waban Racquet Club will have a tournament on Labor Day with handsome prizes for singles, doubles, and mixed doubles, at their courts, corner of Galen and Morse street.

—Mr. A. A. Glines leaves Sunday night for Buffalo to attend the World's Cycling Tournament, to be held there next week. H. G. Crocker, of Newton, is entered for all the professional races.

—There will be a caucus meeting of Prohibitionists of Newton, Saturday evening, Sept. 1, at 8 o'clock, in the Police Court room, City Hall, West Newton, to choose delegates to State and other conventions.

—The residents of wards one and seven are anxious to get their houses numbered. The prospect of free delivery is an inducement which they feel must be met by every endeavor on their part in order to avail themselves of its advantages.

—Miss Bickford has removed the Cambridge laundry office and her Intelligence office, to Mrs. Thompson's millinery store, in Sumner's block, opposite the Newton National Bank. She will also keep copies of the GRAPHIC for sale.

—Hearing that Hodgson's nine, averaging 18 years (7), is anxious to arrange a game with the Newton Ideals for $10 a side on Labor Day morning, such a game may be arranged by addressing C. P. Harkins, captain of Newton Ideals.

—Through July and August the evening preaching service was suspended at the Methodist Church. It will be resumed next Sunday at 7:30. "Awakening" will be the subject of Mr. Nichols' sermon. The communion will be observed in the morning.

—The South Framingham National Bank, of which Mr. George C. Travis of this city is one of the directors, has voted to go into liquidation, the Framingham National Bank taking the lease of its building and succeeding to its business.

—On Labor Day the Riversides will play the Newtons on the Norfolk Trotting Park for a purse of $25. A crowd of home talent will go down to witness the game and barge arrangements are to be made for the accommodation of those who wish to see a good game of ball.

—While Mrs. William C. Emerson was enjoying her vacation at Provincetown, she lost a valuable gold watch. She was ascending the steps of the pier when her chain caught and pulled out the watch, the strain breaking a link and allowing the time-piece to fall into the water.

—Mr. Files, who resides on Washington, near School street, died Thursday afternoon after a lingering illness. The deceased was a carpenter by trade and a short time since went to Portland, hoping to benefit his health. He returned home only a few days ago and sank rapidly. A widow and five children survive him.

—Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Charles Thornton Davis, to Miss Frances Perley Anderson of Portland, Me. The ceremony will take place in St. Stephen's church, Portland, Wednesday, September 12 at 5 p. m. The newly-married couple will be "at home" at 19 West Cedar street, Boston, Monday, after October 15.

—Miss Francis L. Smallwood will reopen her kindergarten on Church street, Sept. 10. She has met with remarkable success with her school, and the work done is highly spoken of by the parents whose children have been under her pupils. Such a school is evidently filling a long felt want in Newton.

—A court martial for the consideration of the case of Private Warren C. Daggett of Co. C, for violation of military etiquette for making charges relative to the character of the members of his company, which he failed to sustain, and for disrespect shown to Capt. Kennedy, will be held in the Armory this (Friday) evening.

—Constable Laffie started from Goshen, Vt., on Monday, and drove to Newton, arriving here Wednesday night. The distance covered was 208 miles, and his horse never turned a hair and made the last part of the journey as briskly as the first. Mr. Laffie thinks that there are few horses in New England that could perform such a feat.

—Mr. John Sumner's house, Nonantum street, has been remodelled and improved. A handsome piazza and portico added greatly to the appearance of the exterior. Nonantum street now possesses many handsome residences, and notable improvements have been made by Mr. Walker and others, who have expended a large amount of money to enhance the value of property in that locality.

—Gen. Banks has been in Watertown conferring about his nomination to Congress. He says that he would take special pleasure in promoting an appropriation for dredging the Charles river as far as the Main street bridge, and that of course would be a great benefit to the city. The General would receive the support of Newton, as this city is interested in that matter.

—The floor space of the new Eliot church is very large, and the seating capacity in the main church alone will accommodate 1000 persons. The church proper is 23 1/2 ft. long, 90 feet across the transept and 68 feet across the nave. The chapel is 65 ft. long and 46 feet in width. The main walls will be 6 1/2 inches in height and the distance from the floor to the roof will be about 70 feet. The stone work is progressing rapidly and the main walls are nearly completed.

—A delightful lawn party at the Hotel Hunnwell, Thursday evening, was one of the social events of the summer season. The grounds were brightly illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and music was rendered by a cornet and string band. A series of social parties have been given during the summer, the plan originating with Dr. Bartlett, who has contributed greatly to their success. It has afforded great pleasure to the music-loving people of the city and many ladies and gentlemen from other parts of the city have driven over to see the illuminations and to listen to the music.

—Several gentlemen are asking us if the committee on sewerage has closed? Sewerage is a subject of great importance and necessary consideration, but plans for a system are so obscure that the future looks dark and dim for its accomplishment. The sewerage committee have not met this year and the people in the thickly settled portion of ward one and seven are becoming discouraged. A well known physician of this city says that "Newton will not need to pray for the disposal of sewage for a number of years," but there are many citizens who feel that plans for a proper system should be adopted and that means for the disposal of sewage is a necessity in thickly settled portions of the city.

—A gentleman in the suburbs was recently disturbed over the destruction of the pears in his garden. The depredators did not carry away the fruit, but made a hole in it to the core, and left it upon the ground. This puzzled him greatly, and he resolved to watch for what he supposed might be anarchists, who were bound to destroy, even if they did not reap any benefit from their work. He had not long to wait for presently he saw a bright-eyed squirrel in one of his trees, busily engaged gnawing into a pear, from which he extracted the seeds for his own special delectation, and dropped the juicy pulp as being of no use for the gratification of his dainty appetite. Thus a nutty, if not a knotty, problem was solved.

—Mr. Hugh Campbell of Ward One owns a hundred acres of land at Musquash, where so many Newton people are now visiting. He has the land from his grandfather, Sir Hugh Campbell, an officer under George III, the original charter of which he received from the king. It is a delightful region, adjacent to the territory about which borders on the ocean next to deep sea fishing, and when not foggy the East-point steamers and passengers there, so that he has inland and ocean attractions. He contemplates erecting cottages for himself and friends, and spending his future summers there.

Wanted.

Smokers of High Art Cigars, for sale by G. Wilkins Shaw.

Take Shaw's Cholera Mixture. It cures!

Public Library Bulletin.

The New Class Bulletin of the Free Library is ready for public distribution and copies can be obtained at the library for 20 cents each. The Bulletin gives the accessions to the library for the past two years, classified under their appropriate headings, and with an author's index at the end, which will make the book of great convenience to those who use the library.

A glance over the contents shows a list several pages long of new books under the history class, divided up under ancient history, North America, United States, New England and various foreign countries, the greater number relating to the United States, and classified under sub-headings, as those relating to the war of 1812, the rebellion, northern side, and southern side, etc.

Under Biography, Travels and Literature there is a very rich collection, in each class, and Fiction, Fine Arts, Natural Science, Social Science, Theology, etc., each contain the most important of the books issued during the last two years. The classification has been so admirably done that those who wish to consult the library on any special subject will have an easy task.

It is encouraging to note that the circulation of books shows a large increase over last year, and it is thought that the current month will show an increase of 600 over the same month in 1887.

Valuation of Newton.

According to the assessors' books, the total valuation of Newton is $32,278,642, and the total tax, $517,575.41. The total value of real estate is $24,132,630; personal estate, $9,146,012; total polls, 5,870; property owners, 4,631; houses, 4,018; horses, 1,800; cows, 1,025; dogs, 1,300; oxen, 6; acres, 9,557. Ward six leads in the value of personal estate, $2,416,321; ward seven has $2,128,749; ward two, $1,100,036; ward three, $1,078,810; ward four, $1,069,370; ward one, $989,855, and ward five, $416,871. Ward six has the largest total valuation. There are 3,928 persons who pay poll taxes only, $45 the largest number being in ward two. The largest number of houses, 754, are in ward two, while ward six has 654; ward three, 561; ward four, 558; ward one, 541; ward four, 542, and ward seven, 406. Ward six has 375 horses, with ward three second, 310, and ward four the fewest, 208. Ward five leads in cows, 255, with ward six next, 251, and ward seven the fewest, 65. Ward five has four of the six oxen in the city, and ward six the other two. Ward five has the largest number of acres, 3,322; ward six next with 2,659; ward four has 1,682; ward three, 1,066; ward two, 874; ward 7, 477, and ward one, 345. Ward two has 1,097 polls, the largest number, and ward seven the fewest, 617.

Captain Kennedy Endorsed.

The members of the Claffin Guards took advantage of Captain Kennedy's absence in the White Mountains, and held a meeting Monday evening, with Lieut. Scott in the chair. There was a full attendance, and Sergeants R. S. Cordingley, John S. Williams, Fred Fanning, Corporal A. D. Williams and Private J. A. Scott were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions, expressive of the company's sentiments in regard to Captain Kennedy. The following were reported and passed unanimously:

Resolved, That the management of this company's affairs by Captain J. C. Kennedy is fully endorsed, and that we hereby express our confidence in him as commander of this company, newspaper reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Also, resolved, that a copy of the above resolution be inserted in the Newton GRAPHIC, Newton Journal, Boston Herald and Boston Globe.

Newton Democratic Caucus.

The Newton Democratic ward and city committee met in the police court room, Monday evening, and organized by the choice of E. O. Childs, chairman, and Bernard Early, secretary and treasurer. The result of the election of chairman was reached at the conclusion of the 12th ballot, E. O. Childs receiving 10 and M. J. Duane, 9. Matters relating to the campaign were then discussed and plans formed for an active canvass. Mr. W. E. Plummer predicted a great Democratic victory in November and alluded to President Cleveland as one of the brightest men of the times. It was voted to call a mass caucus in the City Hall for Saturday evening, September 1, for the choice of delegates to the State, congressional, senatorial, county and councillor conventions.

Y. M. C. A.

The open air meetings held this summer on Dr. Hitchcock's grounds have been largely attended, sometimes as many as five hundred being present. The last one, held Sunday afternoon, was conducted by Rev. Mr. Armstrong of Boston. He spoke from Psalms 25:14. "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him." The speaker said Noah was a man of faith, and God revealed to him that the end of all flesh had come. So he built an ark and was saved. God revealed to Joseph the dream of Pharaoh and Joseph was exalted. Many secret things were revealed to God's men like Abraham, Isaac, Lot, Gideon, etc., and the speaker said it was wise for every one present to put their trust in God who knew all things. Next Sunday G. D. Gilman, Esq., will have charge of the meeting at Eliot Lower Hall.

Newton Co-operative Bank.

The first meeting for the sale of shares and money will be held next Tuesday, September 4th, at 7:30 p. m., in Tremont Hall, Newtonville. Subscribers to shares must make their first payment on or before the above time. Hon. Robert Treat Paine, one of the original promoters of the system of co-operative banking in Massachusetts, and now president of several of the most successful banks, will deliver an address explanatory of the workings of this method of saving and loaning. The public are cordially invited to be present. J. Cheever Fuller, secretary, may be found at the office in the Square at Newtonville, daily, and will gladly give any information that may be desired.

CLARKSON.

Patent Re-issued August 13, 1878.

HEIGHT OF FRONT Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.

HEIGHT OF BACK Above Button Hole 1 1/2 inch.

No. 929.

F. MURDOCK & Co.,

Newton - - Mass.

All the Latest Styles in Stock.

Lion Brand Linen Collars & Cuffs.

Special Midsummer Sale.

Prices for August to Close all Summer Goods.

Fine American Challies, new patterns, 8c. yd.
4-4 Batiste Cloths, worth 12 1-2, 8c. yd.
45 in. Embroidered Dress Robes, worth 2.25, now 59c. yd.
4-4 Fine Dress Lawns, former price 10, now 6 1-2c. yd.
All our fine Satens in choice patterns reduced to 10 1-2c.
Ladies Good Regular made Hose, new styles, only 12 1-2c.
Ladies Extra Fine Regular made Hose, solid collars, only 19c.
Childrens Seamless Black Hose, 5 1-2 to 8 1-2, 12 1-2c.
Ladies Fine Gauze Vests, worth 35, now 25c.
Ladies Fine Jersey Vests, good quality, 25c.
Gents Fine Balbriggan Vests, good quality, now 25c.
Childrens Fine Merino Vests, from 12 1-2 to 25c.
Large lot of Sample Fans, worth from 10 to 30c all at 10c. each.
The largest and finest All Linen Damask Towels for 25c ever sold in Newton.
Large All Linen Huck Towels, worth 20c. now two for 25c.
Large lot of Lace Tidies, 5 and 10c. each to close.
Our entire stock of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas at 25 per cent of our former prices.
Mens Straw Hats at cost or less to close them out.
These prices for this sale and for this month only.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & CO.,

Agents for American Steam Laundry Co.

Bacon's New Block.

E. A. W. HAMMATT,
Civil and Consulting Engineer,
Office 5 Pemberton Sq., Boston,
Room 29.

Surveys and Plans for the construction of Water Works and Sewerage Systems; House Drainage and Landscaping Work.

FREDERICK F. MOORE, M. D.

(Harvard Medical College, 1876.)

Specialty: Diseases of the Rectum

(Piles, Fistula, etc.)

Residence and Office: Thornton street, near Washington street, Newton. Hours, 8 to 9 a. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

Boston Office: 14 Mt. Vernon street, opposite Hancock St. Hours, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. 51yl

CLARA D. REED, M. D.

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Williams street, off Centre, NEWTON.

Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook.

BANKERS,

35 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.

HENRY E. COBB. ARTHUR L. SWEETSER.

CHARLES E. EDDY. C. H. WATSON.

ARTHUR F. ESTABROOK

C. E. WHITMORE. D. W. COOLIDGE.

C. E. WHITMORE & CO.

THE TAX LIST.

SOME OF THE PEOPLE WHO PAY OVER $200.

Following is a list of taxpayers in Wards Two, Three and Five, who pay a tax of $200 or over. The other wards will be given next week.

WARD TWO.

Avery, Chas. F.	$302.96
Bacon, Joseph N.	188.00
Bemis, Seth, heirs.	404.00
Brigham, Lucy	203.20
Brigham, Adelaide L.	176.32
Bryant, Nath H.	251.52
Byers, Mary A.	370.88
Carter, Timothy H.	190.60
Clarke, William	338.74
Clark, Theodore H.	281.68
Craig, Laura B.	214.32
Curtis, Alonzo P.	314.88
Curtis, Florence E. T.	182.40
Curtis, Alonzo P. (executor and trustee)	331.36
Cladun, William, Edmund T. Clark and Henry D. Dupper, trustees of the estate of M. H. Sanford	506.85
Dennison, Mary R.	270.56
Dickinson, John W.	174.80
Dewson, Martha J.	174.80
Eddy, Caleb F.	256.88
Edridge, Elizabeth T.	170.24
Field, Edwin W.	270.25
French, Marshall W.	252.80
French, Mrs. E. T.	280.00
Gould, George W.	200.68
Grant, Benjamin S.	281.68
Harkins, Cornelius P.	236.00
Hawley, William F.	257.60
Heath, Daniel C.	192.00
Higgins, Mrs. Lydia	273.60
Hunt, Otis E.	273.60
Kenne, Charles S.	273.60
Kimball, Ellen P.	260.20
Kimball, Matilda J.	281.20
Leavitt, Oliver B.	287.76
Lockett, John E.	192.00
Loring, Wm. (executor)	280.00
Lothrop, John F.	280.00
McAdams, William	243.68
Mitchell, Austin R., trustee for Newton Associates.	478.80
Mitchell, Austin R.	319.20
Mitchell, Louis S.	337.42
Morse, George W.	337.42
Morse, George W., and Austin R. Mitchell	173.28
Murphy, Ellen	702.24
Newton Electric Light & Power Co.	644.48
Page, Lydia M. (heirs)	182.40
Park, Amanda A.	182.40
Parker, Henrietta M., mortgagor	456.00
Parker, William C.	242.92
Pease, Annie and Albert	331.60
Phillips, Albert	331.60
Pulifer, Charles S.	362.24
Pulifer, Charles T.	296.00
Pulifer, Ella F., heirs.	296.00
Pulifer, Royal M.	424.08
Carter	152.00
Redpath, Ellis W.	304.48
Richards, James L.	304.48
Rollins, Fitzhugh S.	304.48
Rollins, Augusta L.	193.04
Ross, Henry F.	363.28
Ross, Claudia E.	363.28
Shaw, Laventia	600.40
Shannon, Eliza J.	242.92
Snodell, E. Garrie	132.40
Smith, Charlotte C.	304.00
Soden, Arthur H.	384.64
Stearns, Mary D.	384.64
Towne, Charlotte M.	313.12
Upton, Albert F.	230.76
Waterhouse, Francis A.	230.76
Wilson, Mrs. Maria B.	1520.00
Wiseval, Edmund T.	386.56
Worcester, Rev. John	226.08
Wilson, Carrie C.	220.40

WARD THREE.

Allen, James T.	$273.32
Bacon, Josiah E.	257.88
Bacon, Isabel	234.08
Baker, Henry A.	234.08
Billings, Charles E.	615.60
Bennett, Alaura W. Mrs.	231.04
Brackett, C. H. and Albert	180.00
Brown, Harry W.	291.56
Bullivant, Lillie P.	228.00
Burrage, Edward C.	180.00
Bush, Willet M.	192.00
Butler, John G.	183.52
Billings, Henry and Willard P.	304.00
Carpenter, Vernon E.	304.00
Carter, John W.	321.20
Carter, Carrie G.	182.40
Cladun, William	115.72
Clark, Mary J. W.	185.44
Cook, George	217.36
Davis, Mrs. Seth	831.88
Eddy, Caleb F.	762.48
Eld, John J.	230.72
Enger, John W.	281.68
Edridge, Elizabeth T.	205.20
Felton, Lester	284.00
Felton, Sarah P.	261.44
Felton, Laura B.	331.36
Field, George A.	273.60
Fitz, Sarah M.	273.60
Fleming, Edwin	508.96
Flew, M. Louise	222.40
Foster, Joseph E.	516.60
Freeman, Harriet M.	230.72
Frost, Louis O. R.	230.72
Frost, Abner	230.72
First National Bank, W. Newton	1097.44
Gane, Henry A.	1071.32
Garrison, Annie A.	243.20
Gilmore, Albert W.	215.56
Godfrey, Annie E.	243.20
Gould, Henry A.	190.60
Hall, Alice D.	190.60
Hasins, Jane M.	3.84
Homer, George W.	219.36
Homer, Oliver D.	219.36
Hosmer, Mary D.	291.84
Houghton, Henry A.	190.60
Houghton, Alvin	574.28
Howard, Helen M.	182.40
Howland, David (heirs)	232.92
Hunt, Henry H.	214.24
Hunter, Mary S. and Frank E.	307.04
Kendall, Matilda A.	556.04
Kilburn, Samuel S.	265.20
King, Florence H.	150.20
King, Henry F.	273.60
Lawrence, William (trustee)	273.60
Leatherbar, Harriet G.	272.08
Leonard, Lucy E.	191.52
Leona, d. Carrie L.	230.72
Lindsay, John W.	217.36
Lovett, Caroline A.	217.36
Magne, William H.	344.56
McDonald, Michael	214.80
McGuff, Albert	172.00
Morton, Marcus M.	172.00
Newton National Bank	157.32
Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co.	348.00
Nickerson, James H.	539.22
Plymouth, Clarissa M.	196.08
Potter, Eliza A.	227.68
Pratt, Lucius G.	139.84
Pulifer, Royal M.	220.40
Putnam, Mary E.	220.40
Robinson, Charles Jr.	828.50
Roffe, Albert H.	223.44
Secomb, Adella G.	292.32
Shattuck, Elizabeth M.	208.24
Smith, J. Upham	318.16
Stewart, Frances M.	267.28
Stone, Joseph L.	572.00
Stone, Eliza A.	206.00
Thayer, Timothy E.	229.44
Thayer, Margaret L.	215.84
Thayer, Lizzie S. George	240.16
Thayer, Rev. Francis	229.44
Tollman, Mary C.	261.20
Thayer, Peter and Stephen (trustees)	212.80
Upham, Edward	368.00
Waters, Edwin F.	306.26
Wilbur, George B.	264.48
Wood, Lauretta E.	241.68
Wood, Mary Ellen	410.88
Wood, Elijah W.	224.00
Whitmore, Geo. P. (executor)	224.00

WARD FIVE.

Appleton, Wm. S.	$44.16
Bacon, Horace	21.56
Bacon, Joseph N.	307.20
Billings, Henry (heirs)	276.16
Bryant, Geo. H.	266.24
Butters, Geo. W.	131.96
Cladun, Wm.	211.76

Childs and Thomas Weston, Jr.	145.92
Collins, Eunice L. (trustee)	356.68
Collins, Edward J. (heirs)	182.24
Cook, A. (heirs)	342.64
Crafts, Amasa	324.24
Crane, Moses G.	378.20
Crahan, Emeline H. Mrs.	349.00
Dresser, Wm. R.	198.08
Dresser, Mary A. D. Mrs.	154.28
Dunklee, Susan	199.12
Edmonds, Hannah B. Mrs.	606.48
Ellis, David (heirs)	212.80
Fletcher, H. R. and H. O. Billings executors Henry Billings estate	829.96
Gould, Alice R. Mrs.	236.12
Gould, Chas. H.	170.72
Harmon, Ivory	271.19
Hilton, Arthur S. C.	199.12
Jones, Francis	214.80
King, Noah S.	280.16
Low, Wm.	138.80
Low, Wm.	119.04
Marcy, William	144.40
Marcy, Elizabeth Mrs.	192.00
Newton National Bank	192.00
Pierce, Wm.	331.36
Petrie, John M. Mrs.	154.24
Petrie, Geo. W.	347.34
Petrie Machine Works	1878.72
Pewee, James M. heirs	247.76
Putney, Sarah B. Mrs.	296.40
Rand, Elizabeth H.	414.96
Stearns, John	314.24
Stearns, John	208.24
Sullivan R. T.	181.36
Warren, John W.	178.32
Wales Phebe G. Mrs.	190.76
Wiggin E. D.	211.76

NON-RESIDENTS.

Bigelow, Henry J.	519.32
Dickerman, Benjamin	278.16
Gordon, Dexter F.	335.60
Henshaw, F. H. and Chas. J. Page	238.76
Nickerson, Geo. A.	326.80
Newton Mills, Wm. F. Ryle	886.80
Stevens, Elizabeth W.	171.76
Temple, Gilbert A.	364.16
Watson, J. M.	326.80
Williams, John J.	275.12

Republican Free Whiskey vs. Prohibition Free Whiskey.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC.
Is there any difference? If so, what is it? I affirm, and I think every reasoning citizen must confirm this statement that there is a wide difference between the two.

The Prohibition party proposes the abolition of the tax on whiskey on pure moral grounds alone, while the Republican does so from economic and political motives alone. The Prohibition party on principle objects to receiving revenue from the sanction or recognition by law of crime. It claims that the liquor traffic is vicious and that it is immoral for our government to encourage vice by receiving a revenue therefrom without any condemnation of, or effort at its suppression. The Prohibition party declares "That the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages should be made public crimes and prohibited as such," and in conformity with this foundation principle, on moral grounds proposes not only the abolition of the tax on whiskey but the entire extinction of the infamous traffic in it.

Now the Republican party, starting from the purely selfish idea that a high protective tariff on sugar, wool and other necessities of the people is essential to the country's welfare, proposes the abolition of the tax on whiskey rather than reduce the protective tariff. The Republican party is not at all in favor of articles to an amount necessary to pay the running expenses of the government. Rather than lessen the prices of food, and wool, etc., it proposes to cheapen whiskey.

It is a wide difference of motives and just as wide a difference in results. The Prohibitionists would annihilate the tax and the traffic at one and the same time. The Republicans would abolish the tax but leave the whiskey and its traffic to forever demoralize the country at extremely popular prices.

This public sentiment is left to consider whiskey and its traffic as essential to the country's best interests and sumptuary in its results under Republican abolitionism, while the Prohibition abolitionism teaches that the traffic is criminal, vicious, and poisonous, and that the stuff deserves eternal banishment as an article of merchandise or trade. The Republicans would remove the tax but leave the whiskey, while the Prohibitionists would consign both tax and whiskey to oblivion. This difference, both in motive and result, appears to me as wide as is heaven from hell. Is it pure theory and therefore impracticable? Does not every intelligent citizen know that the Prohibitionists get strong enough to abolish the tax on whiskey for moral reasons, that they will surely be strong enough at the very same time to carry prohibition? It requires no more votes to accomplish the one than the other. With its President and Congress and a majority of the States, the liquor power would be crushed and the job soon finished. A national victory, carrying the presidential election and Congress, would break the back-bone of the liquor traffic and the traffic States would follow in good time and our National Constitution then so amended that the infamous, soul-destroying traffic would be outlawed and forever destroyed. The best of all is, that that good time is coming. The enthusiasm of the National Prohibition party is unbounded and it bids fair to marshal a mighty host this Fall, of honest, dead-in-earnest and undaunted voters that have come to stay. May God hasten the day.

W. H. P. National Prohibitionist.

LOG CABINS were, in the Harrison-Tilden campaign of 1840 erected in the large cities and villages, and used for holding political meetings. Barrels of hard cider were placed in front of the cabins, and the "Log Cabin hard cider" campaign of '40 has passed into history as the most enthusiastic of our political contests. Log Cabins have for this reason a permanent place in American history. Warner's Log Cabin Hops and Buchu Remedies and "Pippenance" tonic bitters have secured a permanent place because of their excellence.

Found Dead.

Last evening a person giving the name of G. R. Thompson registered at Hunt's Hotel, and desired to be called in season to take the 12 m. train for Chicago. Being unable to awaken him, the room was entered by means of the ventilator over the door, when the gentleman was found to be dead. He was advertising agent for Sulphur Bitters, which has an extensive sale. The coroner returned a verdict of death from heart disease. His body will be sent east immediately. -Cin. Commercial.

The Handsomest Lady in Newton

Remarked to a friend the other day that she knew Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when others had no effect whatever. She was so to prove this and convince you of its merit any druggist will give you a Sample Bottle Free. Large size 50c. and $1.

SUICIDE AT WEST NEWTON.

MRS. LUCY E. LEWIS ENDS HER LIFE BY HANGING HERSELF.

Mrs. Lucy E. Lewis, 34 years of age, wife of Horace Lewis, a driver in the employ of C. F. Eddy & Co., coal dealers, committed suicide about 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, by hanging herself in a closet opening from the hall in a tenement in Robinson's block, West Newton, where she lived with her husband and two children. She arose from her bed shortly after 7 o'clock and proceeded in a deliberate manner to put an end to her existence. Having secured a piece of tarred rope she placed the noose around her neck and attached the end of the rope to a staple that was fixed in the wall just above her head, which she reached by standing on a chair. After fastening the rope securely, she kicked the chair from under her, and died in a few moments from strangulation. Her husband was not at home at the time, having gone out to attend to his Sunday chores. Upon his return he went into the chamber occupied by his wife, and found that she had left the room. He searched through the house to find her, and upon opening the closet door saw her hanging from the wall, her feet nearly touching the floor. With the assistance of a neighbor he cut her down, and word was sent to Medical Examiner Julian A. Meade of Watertown, who viewed the remains.

The rash act was committed by the unfortunate woman while suffering from mental disorder. She has been subject to spells when her mind was deranged, and was at one time committed to the insane asylum at Worcester. For a few days previous to her death she had a return of one of her insane spells and became so violent that it was found necessary to take her two children away, and they were sent to the Newmarket, N. H., to the home of her parents until such time as she should recover her reason. The deceased was a member of the West Newton Baptist church and during her rational moments was kind to her children and considerate of those home comforts which are so much enjoyed by the husband and father. It is a particularly sad case, unfortunate indeed in its terrible termination. A great deal of sympathy is expressed for her husband who is a hard working man of excellent character.

NEWTON'S ENTERPRISE.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ST. ANDREW'S LAND CO.

The Bay Pilot of St. Andrews, N. B., of Aug. 23, gives the particulars of the annual meeting of the St. Andrews Land Co., and the Chamecock Water Co., in which so many Newton people are interested. It is the intention to make St. Andrews the leading summer resort on the eastern coast, for which it is admirably adapted by its many natural advantages. The Newton men on the board of directors are Robert S. Gardiner, D. B. Cladun and A. D. S. Bell, and Mr. Gardiner is vice-president. Mr. Eugene F. Fay of Brookline treasurer. Many plans were discussed for the improvement of the place, and the success of the company is beyond question. Mr. E. A. Hammett, whose card appears in the GRAPHIC, submitted sketches in detail for the proposed improvement of Indian Point Park, the company intending to lay out Indian Point with special reference to the topography of the place. The President of both companies is Sir Leonard Tilley, Lt. Governor of New Brunswick.

Mr. Isaacstein—"I sell you dot coat, my friend, for sayventeen tollar; you dake him along."

Customer—"I thought, Isaacstein, that you didn't do business on Saturday. Isn't this your Sunday?"

Mr. Isaacstein (in a low, reverent tone of voice)—"My friend, to sell a coat like dot for sayventeen tollar, vat no peesness, dot vat sayntine!" -[Time.]

My Wife Said
to me last night "How much do you suppose my friend, for sayventeen tollar; you dake him along."

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
MIDDLESEX, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To all persons interested in the estate under the will of Francis Skinner late of Newton, in said County deceased, testate, given in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Elizabeth Skinner.

Whereas, Caleb Wm. Loring and Augustus P. Loring the trustees under said will, have presented for allowance the fourth account of their trusteeship.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the first Tuesday of September next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said Trustees are ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once a week in the NEWTON GRAPHIC, a newspaper printed at Newton, three weeks successively, the last publication to be two days at least before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, the second day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

J. H. TYLER, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
MIDDLESEX, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the Heirs-at-Law, next of Kin, and all other Persons interested in the Estate of Seth Davis late of Newton in said County, deceased.

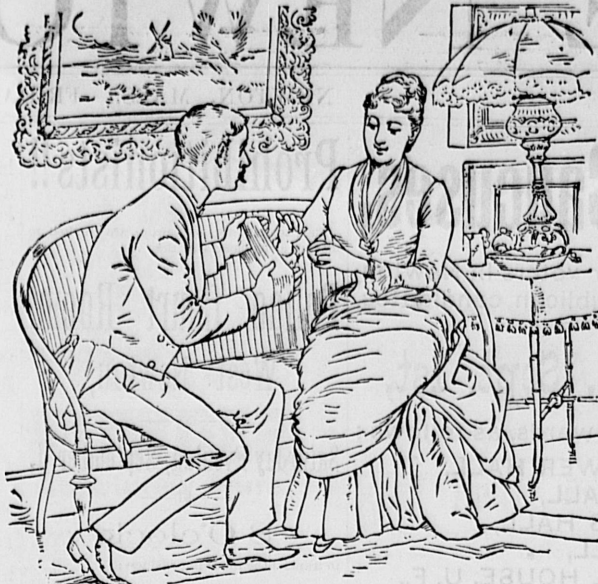

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Mary J. Davis who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, and that she may be exempt from giving a surety or securities on her bond pursuant to said will and statute.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of September next, at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the NEWTON GRAPHIC printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of August in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

J. H. TYLER, Register.

My Laura's hands are smooth and soft,
I love to feel their touch;
Yet how she keeps them so I oft
Have wondered very much.
"Tis Ivory Soap," she archly cried,
"I use no other spell."
And as I clean all else beside,
My hands improved as well."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'"; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

Copyright, 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

The Charms of Swan's Island.

ON BOARD YACHT METIS, OF Swan's Island, Maine.

We've made a discovery! A charming spot where one may be perfectly untrammelled by fashion's behests, and you, dear readers of the GRAPHIC, shall share our knowledge.

Swan's Island is one of the outer islands, and about six miles south-west of Mt. Desert Island. Old Harbor as the west side is called, is our's by right of discovery, as we are among the very first "rusticators" to descend upon this side. It is a primitive spot, Acaadian in many respects, and destined to become a favorite resort with those who enjoy nature more than fashion. There is not an hotel on the island, nor are there any poor people. The inhabitants are thrifty, well-to-do, intelligent, and most of them are fishermen. The land ascends gently from the shore, and rises to quite a height in the centre of the island, descending again at the east side, where is a second settlement, Atlantic, which is opposite, and about six or seven miles distant from Bass Harbor. The harbors, on both the east and west sides, are safe and beautiful, but Old Harbor has this decided advantage, that a ten or fifteen minutes' sail out the eastern way, brings one directly to the Atlantic. The sailing is the chief charm to us, there is no monotony about it, and each day discloses new beauties. On arrival, the good Yacht Metis was chartered, which all admit to be the staunchest and the fastest in the harbor, and her captain, we were assured, was the safest and most skillful here. "Capt. John," we heard an old man say, "will get more sail out of a boat than any man in these parts," and after several weeks' experience, we can fully endorse all that has been said of yacht and man. It does make one feel rather pleased to have other "rusticators" who have followed us to these shores, four from Newtonville arrived last week, congratulating us upon having secured the "best sailor and the best sailer." Every day, when not prevented by rain or fog, we sail away in queer array, for our yachting costumes are unique and would astonish Worth, but they are comfortable, and we independent, and surely if three women ever sacrificed beauty for comfort, we are the three, and claim to be entirely devoid of vanity.

Come sail with us to-day, and see if we are too enthusiastic in our praise. The sun shines brightly, lighting up the wooded hills on Swan's Island, as, with a smart southwest breeze, the Metis gaily bowls out of the harbor by the eastern way, soon reaching John's Island, where the captain, vigorously waving his cap, starts a colony of gulls from their peaceful roosts on trees and rocks, until the air is filled with them as they take wing and fly towards us, uttering their piercing cries. Five minutes later we are at John's Island ledge, where the surf is rolling in beautifully. This ledge, which is 400 feet long is literally covered with seals, who, alarmed by our presence, soon "flop" into the water, and much to our amusement are seen disporting themselves in the waves. The effect of yesterday's gale is seen in the long roll, and breakers which are dashing in so madly, many of them twenty feet high. The coloring is exquisite, the water "deeply, darkly, beautifully blue," save where the waves comb over before breaking, when it is a charming, translucent green, fringed by feathery foam. After leaving the ledge the Mt. Desert hills come more and more plainly into view, and the whole range is visible, the house on Green Mt. being very distinctly outlined against the clear blue sky. On the north, between us and Mt. Desert Island, from which we are now only a few miles distant, are Placentia, Black, Got's and Craberry Islands, to the northeast are Duck and Little Duck, and beyond them lifting its head against the horizon, Schoodic Mountain purples in the distance. On our homeward way we pass a lone fisherman in Placentia Bay, who hauls in a good sized halibut as we sail by. Skirting Long Island and passing through its harbor, we soon enter the harbor, reaching home with appetites whetted by our morning's run of twenty miles. At three o'clock, comforted by a substantial dinner, we again welcome you on board the Metis, and this time leave the harbor by the western way, passing Hockmuck Head, surmounted by the range of lights, and the loud proclamation "Someone has blundered." Since luring a vessel onto Black Ledge the lower light has been discontinued, and now serves only to make the approach to the harbor a little more picturesque. Heading S. S. W. we run for Han Island, where we startle another and smaller colony of gulls, and watch with fascinated eyes the surf roll in on the reef at the southern side. Our course takes us past Black Ledge, where again we see fine surf, and on until abreast, and within five or six miles of Isle Au Hunt. Now if you are not delighted with the scenery about you, you may only be because you have no appreciation of the beautiful. The hills on Isle Au Hunt, being densely wooded, rise darkly before us. To the north, Blue Hill is clearly seen; to the northwest, the Camden hills are lazily outlined, while off to the northeast the Mt. Desert hills tower grandly, turning our eyes in a southerly direction, we see naught but a broad expanse of ocean, the waves dancing and sparkling in the sunshine, and just where the blue of water and sky merge into the horizon, a dozen or more snowy sails are discerned. But the captain's eagle eye has read some sign to us unseen, and the fiat goes forth that we must change our course. We return by Marshall Island, which has a beautiful sand beach near its southern end, while there is a productive farm, at the northern, which, with the outbuildings, old-fashioned well sweeps, etc., makes a pleasing feature in the landscape. One of the most interesting things here is the Old Sheriff, a rock which is guarded by two gulls, who sit perched upon its top, and who fly about with distracting cries whenever a sail approaches. The rock itself is a study; as nearly as can be seen from the yacht the dip is southeast. Near the centre is a wide dike extending north and south, within which is a second dike extending in the same direction, while a third dike extends from these to the western end of the Sheriff, extending east and west, on exactly at right angles with the first two dikes. Will some member of the "N. N. H. S." rise and explain? Two members of the party have painted the Sheriff, anchoring the yacht for the purpose, and have succeeded admirably; while a third to-day scribbles as the Metis bounds over the waters, that you may have a pen portrait of these beautiful scenes. Leaving the Sheriff, we will next show you the pictured rocks on Harbor Island, where you may see three beautiful profiles on the face of one cliff, Aunt Dinah and a Medallion head on still others, that is, you will see them after we show them to you, for even our keen-eyed captain had never noticed them until we described them, and we exult accordingly. Opposite these rocks we see Serag Island, where we find more seals on the reef, and the surf breaking grandly, the waves here catching the reflection of the sun's setting rays, and soon we see the orb of day drop into the sea, apparently, and sky and ocean become a blaze of glory. The west is flaming with gorgeous orange tints, while the east is glowing with roseate hues, when lo! the moon is seen emerging from the water, and we sail home experiencing a decided embarrassment of riches, for whichever way the eyes are turned in beholding one beauty, we miss another. The hills of Mt. Desert, Camden, Isle Au Hunt, the many beautiful islands, the ledges where the surf rolls so grandly, with the varying effects produced by different atmospheric conditions and distance give us everchanging, always charming views of infinite variety, of which no lover of the sea and mountain can ever tire. Time and space forbid more than a mere mention of the whale we saw on one of our first sails, or the shark more recently encountered, or an account of the islands circumnavigated and explored, but it may be truly said of this region that "Every prospect pleases."

THE SAXONVILLE RAILROAD.

MAYOR KIMBALL AND CITY CLERK KINGSBURY MAKE SPEECHES.

At the celebration of the opening of the street railroad between Saxonville and Framingham, both Mayor Kimball and City Clerk Kingsbury were called on for speeches, which are given in the Framingham Gazette:

Mayor Kimball was introduced in a very complimentary manner, and said: I thank you, sir, for your very kind introduction, and for the compliment you have paid the city which I have the honor to represent. I assure you that the sentiments you have expressed are fully reciprocated and I am happy to present our congratulations to this beautiful town, and upon this occasion which celebrates an important event in its history and one which I have no doubt will materially add to its growth, as well as to the comfort of its people. I thank you for the privilege of being present and participating in the pleasures of this occasion. It is fair to assume that the establishment of this street railway will make large tracts of land available for building purposes, thereby accommodating more people and for the special reason that they can be carried a considerable distance in a short time and at a small expense. It furnishes also the advantages of intercommunication with different parts of the town, which naturally develops a better acquaintance, and consequently the people become more united in whatever concerns the welfare of the town, and more neighborly. I trust it must result in all the benefits you hoped for, and that it may be a means of adding to your prosperity. Apparently the gentlemen who have inaugurated this enterprise have made a good investment. I hope they have, and they are entitled to public thanks for the accommodation afforded to travel, and for other advantages arising from it. In the management of municipal affairs it is a difficult problem to furnish the improvements required by the citizens, and yet to keep within the moderate limit of expenditures. Apparently the only feasible plan to reduce the rate of taxation is by increasing the income, which must be derived from new property. This street railway will give an impetus in the right direction, the development of additional taxable property. To the already large population in your town, your enterprises and advantages for residences and for business purposes, will be the means of so largely adding to your residents and of developing your resources that you may consider it wise ere long to join the sisterhood of cities. It is remarkable what advances and improvements are going on and have taken place within a generation. It is within the memory of some present, I dare say when it took days to make a journey, and which was attended by some hardships too, that can now be accomplished in as many hours, with comfort and even luxury. When then it required weeks to communicate with different sections of the country, now it takes only a few moments. The inventive genius and enterprise of our age have overcome the limitations of time and distance and have furnished the systems of communication, and the commercial relations of the world. With them have come a greater intelligence, wider liberality, better governments and a securer peace.

Col. Kingsbury, the clerk of the "Garden City," expressed pleasure at being present on this auspicious occasion and referred to the splendidly as well as humorously to the time some years since when he appeared in the same hall in an official and military capacity and sang on the occasion of a Grand Army gathering held by the Framingham veterans. He spoke in favor of a city form of government, which Framingham might yet aspire to. This he thought preferable to the unwieldy town meeting.

OLD TIP

Log CANINES can hardly be considered handsome or elegant, but they were fit habitations for the rugged pioneers of America. Our ancestors were rugged specimens of noble manhood, complete in health, strength and endurance. Their wholesome remedies are reproduced to this later age, in Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla and Warner's "Tippecanoe."

New Music.

Messrs. White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington street, Boston, issue this week the following new music: "Down in Dixie," a polka by C. A. White, arr. by B. M. D.; "Heart's Delight," a schottische by Paul Keller; two comic songs, "The girls and the boys," by F. McGlenon, and "I'm a jolly little chap all around," by G. Martin; "Dear Heart," a song, words by G. C. Bingham, music by F. Mattie; and "Go when the morning shinneth," a sacred song for male quartet by Loud. The "Folio" appears this month with a likeness of Boyd Putnam for a frontispiece.

Hay Fever.

I have been afflicted with hay fever from early in August until frost. My eyes would run a stream of water and I sneezed continually. I was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like a charm and I can say I am entirely cured.—Mrs. Eline Johnson, Chester, Penn.

A Narrow Escape.

"Yes, I had a very narrow escape," said a prominent citizen to a friend. "I was confined to my bed for a year and my friends gave me up for a consumptive's grave, until I began using Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, and here I am, sound and hearty. You will find it directed by all druggists. Price 50c, and $1. Sample Bottle Free.

THE LARGEST & MOST SUCCESSFUL IN THE WORLD.

BRYANT & STRATTON

COMMERCIAL SCHOOL

REOPENS SEP. 4th 1888

608 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON.

THE COURSE OF STUDY is thorough, complete and practical. Pupils are fitted for the duties and work of every day life. THE FACULTY embraces a list of twenty teachers and assistants, elected with special reference to proficiency in each department. THE STUDENTS are young people of both sexes, full of Diligence and Zeal. THE DISCIPLINE is of the highest order and includes valuable business lessons. THE PATRONAGE is the largest of any COMMERCIAL SCHOOL in the world. THE REPUTATION of this school for Originality and Leadership and as THE STANDARD INSTITUTION of its kind is acknowledged. THE SCHOOL BUILDING is centrally located and purposely constructed. SPECIAL COURSE. Short Hand, Type Writing, Composition and Correspondence may be taken as a special course. SITUATIONS IN BUSINESS HOUSES furnished its pupils completes the varied inducements to attend this school. THE PRINCIPAL may be seen daily after Aug. 22nd, FROM 9 TILL 2 O'CLOCK, at the School Building; 608 Washington St., BOSTON. PROSPECTUS, post free.

The Prohibitionists.

The Prohibitionists will hold a mass caucus in the police court room tomorrow (Saturday) evening, for the purpose of planning the work of the campaign and for the election of delegates to the State, congressional, senatorial, county and councilor conventions. A ward and city committee will also be elected. The party leaders are earnest and enthusiastic and a vigorous campaign will be prosecuted. Already a number of flag raisings have been held and the arrangements are being completed for two more. A rally and ratification meeting will be held in the City Hall, West Newton, Saturday evening, Sept. 22, and another will be held in Eliot Hall, Newton, in October. At the latter meeting Mrs. Mary A. Livermore will deliver a temperance address. The local workers say that the Prohibition vote will not be decreased in the coming contest, and look forward to accessions from the ranks of the Republican and Democratic parties.

—YOUR—

SUMMER HOUSE!

Yes, and winter house too, will be all the more pleasant, with the addition of a few of the beautiful new artotype

ETCHINGS and ENGRAVINGS

Framed in the new styles of Ornamented Oak.

MOULDINGS

$3.00 to $8.00 each.

Call and see them.

A Special Feature

Of my Business is

Restoring Old Engravings

And other Pictures to their original perfection, and

Regilding Frames

No matter how badly stained by age they may be, and my prices are very low for the service—also by adding to, or taking from old frames, I can give them an entirely different appearance.

Do not discard Frames or Pictures that you think are gone by, but come in and see what I can do with them, and how little it will cost to make old Picture Frames New.

EBEN SMITH,

182 Lincoln Street, Boston.
Near Boston & Albany Depot.

Dress Cutting School.

The science of dress cutting, draping, and basting taught by the advanced system, by

Mrs. D. B. HODGDON,

Cor. Centre and Jefferson Sts., Newton.

TERMS—$12 for the system, and $1 a week for draping and basting. Each pupil can bring a suit of her own and have it properly made.
Linings cut and basted for 50 cents, and paper patterns cut for 25 cents.

GEO. W. BUSH, Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER,

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes.

And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

J. H. Nickerson,
West Newton, Mass.

- Clothing -

Is now prepared to furnish your Spring Suits from the Latest Styles of Goods, made to order or ready made as you may desire.

Some Special Choice Patterns for SPRING OVERCOATS.

Call and see us before purchasing. We shall be glad to show you our goods.

March 1888.

WALTHAM
STEAM LAUNDRY,
CORNER CRESCENT AND MOODY
WALTHAM

THORP & MARSH, PROPRIETORS

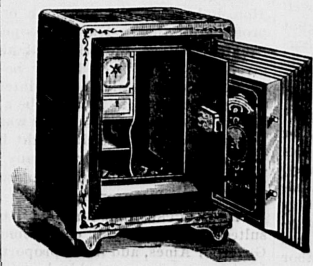

Goods left at Boynton & Marsh's, Newton; V. Sullivan's, Newtonville; A. L. Gordon or Lewis Rich, West Newton; Bird & Whall or J. W. Davis & Co., Auburndale; J. T. Thomason Upper Falls; E. M. Peck or H. S. Williams, Newton Centre, will be taken and returned promptly free of charge. Telephone No. 7679

E. C. MORRIS & CO'S

New Improved Round Corner Eight Flange Fire and Burglar Proof Safes.

(Formerly the Morris & Ireland Safe.)

Over 100,000 of these Safes now in use

For nearly 21 years these celebrated Safes have been used in this part of the country, and today there are more in use than any safe made, and in all cases they have preserved their contents, with the

Champion Record
In the Great
Chicago, Boston, Haverhill and
Eastport Fires,

and contain more improvements than any safe made—such as the Eight Flanges, Angle Fronts and Backs, Patent Inside Bolt Work, Inside Iron Lining, and Four Wheel Locks.

These Safes are the Best, Cheapest and most reliable made.
A large line of Second Hand Safes of all makes on hand and for sale Cheap.
Before giving your order for any other safe, send for our prices and sizes.

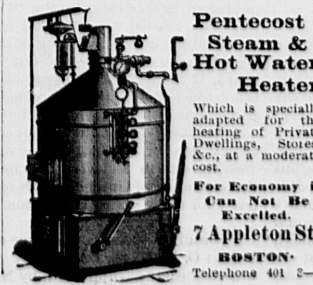

E. C. Morris & Co.,
64 Sudbury Street, Boston, Mts.

BOSWORTH & FRENCH,

PLUMBING

Steam and Hot Water Heating.

AGENTS FOR THE

Pentecost
Steam &
Hot Water
Heater

Which is specially adapted for the heating of Private Dwellings, Stores, &c., at a moderate cost.

For Economy it Can Not Be Excelled.
7 Appleton St.
BOSTON.
Telephone 401 2-8

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR.

5 Tremont Street, Boston.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, 471

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE.

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR - AT - LAW

(Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)

40 Bedford St., Boston.

Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY.

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.

Residence, Newton. 38-17

EDWARD W. CATE.

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

113 Devonshire St., Room 52.

Residence, Newton.

GEORGE W. MORSE,

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

28 State St., Room 45, Boston.

Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

SAMUEL L. POWERS,

Counsellor at Law and Master in Chancery.

Mason Building, 70 Kilby Street, Boston.

Residence, Newton. 14

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.

Residences, Newtonville.

Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,

NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection. 5-

MILLINERY.

Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and genera

assortment of

French and American Millinery

Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.

Crape always in stock and special attention given to orders for Mourning Goods.

"Old Crape made New by Shriver's patent process. Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS,

Eliot Block, Elmwood St.,

Newton.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

CEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 3

W. B. YOUNG,

REAL ESTATE and IN-

SURANCE AGENT.

NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES.

Land furnished and houses built to suit on easy terms.

Office, 25 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

ATWOOD & WELD,

Real Estate & Insurance Agents,

Appraisers and Auctioneers,

51 Sears Building, BOSTON. Telephone 1847.

689 Centre St., JAMAICA PLAIN. Telephone 887

Newtonville Office, Dexter Block.

LEWIS L. P. ATWOOD. A. SPALDING WELD.

CAMBRIDGE LAUNDRY.

NEWTON OFFICE:

3rd door from Post Office. Work done well and promptly. Work taken Monday to 2 p. m., and returned Thursday night. Received after Monday and up to Thursday, returned on Saturday.

Holland and lace curtains a specialty.

S. K. MacLEOD

Carpenter and Builder,

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty.

Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library

Residence, Boyd Street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 660, NEWTON, MASS.

F. G. BARNES & SON.

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.

AUCTIONEERS for REAL and PERSONAL

PROPERTY.

FOR SALE and FOR RENT

a large line of desirable property throughout

Newton and vicinity.

Offices: No. 27 State Street, Boston, and Brackett's Block, Newton.

E. P. BURNHAM,

DEALER IN

Bicycles & Tricycles

For Cash or on Installments.

Bicycles and Tricycles to lat. Boys' Tricycles a specialty. Second hand machines bought, sold or taken in exchange. Residence Park St., near Elmwood.

H. W. MARTIN,

TELEPHONE 1987.

Practical Upholsterer

LAND DEALER IN FURNITURE.

Upholstery work and repairs of all kinds neatly done. Hair Mattresses made over, Picture Frames to order, Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

H. W. MARTIN,

GARFIELD BLOCK, GALEN STREET, WAT-

ERTOWN, MASS. 671

M. C. HIGGINS,

PRACTICAL PLUMBER

- AND -

Sanitary Engineer.

(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Sumner's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES. Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed. 25-17

A. C. TUPPER,

Carpenter and Builder.

Estimates cheerfully given on building and all kinds of carpentry. Orders will be taken through the post office, Box 271, Newton, or at shop on Pearl Street, opposite Bacon. All orders will receive prompt attention.

J. J. JOHNSON,

FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES,

School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

Ornamental Trees,

Shrubs and Herbaceous Plants

For Sale.

A Large and Valuable Assortment at the Newton Cemetery Nurseries. Also a VERY LARGE

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 7909.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

ONE NEWTON TRANSCRIPT HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers who wish the address of their paper changed are requested to give the last address to which the paper was sent, as well as the new address. Any subscriber who fails to receive the GRAPHIC every week will receive the missing copy by sending a postal card to the office. Papers are sent out each week but through the vagaries of the postal service they sometimes fail to reach their destination.

ATTEND THE CAUCUSES.

Every one of the ward caucuses on Saturday night should take some means of expressing the sentiment of the voters in regard to the candidates for governor, congressman and councillor, if not in regard to all the candidates. The caucus is the only place the voter has to express his opinions, and that is the place to make his influence felt. It is not considered exactly courteous to the delegates to instruct them as to the way they shall vote, but a decided expression of opinion by a caucus amounts to the same thing. A delegate who cannot carry out the expressed wishes of a caucus is generally honest enough to say so, and give way to some delegate who can.

It is to be hoped that the caucuses will be largely attended, as the nominations to be made affect every voter more or less intimately. It is often said that to the majority of citizens it makes no difference who is president, as that official is so far removed that his influence is not felt. But the State officers and the congressman are nearer to the people, and they are more directly affected by the kind of men that are chosen. The complaint is often made that unfit men are chosen, but when the majority of the voters never attend the caucuses, and take no part in the nominations, it is fortunate that the candidates selected are as good as they are. The sentiment of Newton Republicans this year seems to be practically unanimous in favor of the re-nomination of Governor Ames, and of Hon. Levi C. Wade as a candidate for Congress, and if the caucuses are as well attended as they should be the delegates chosen will represent the sentiment of Newton.

MR. WADE NEWTON'S CHOICE.

A gentleman who has recently visited many of the towns in the Ninth District reports that the sentiment of the Republicans is in favor of the nomination of Hon. Levi C. Wade, if Newton shows that it desires it by sending a united delegation to the convention. The locality argument is in favor of Newton, as a Newton man has not held the office since Hon. William Claflin's term, while Brookline, which has just declared in favor of Mr. Candler, has had the office four out of the past eight years. The locality argument is not of much weight, however, as a district should send its ablest man, no matter where he comes from, and it is not disputed that Mr. Wade is at least one of the ablest men in the district. When Speaker of the House he was conceded to be one of its most brilliant members, and his duties since have been such as to broaden his capacity for usefulness, and make him one of the leaders of the National House. The party has too many men of narrow minds and petty politics in Congress, and as the Democrats are represented by the ablest men in that party, they have naturally had an advantage in all the political contests.

Complaint is made of the overshadowing influence which Southern men have in Congress, but the best talent of the South is in Congress, while in the North the best men too often refuse to engage in the scramble for office, and the nomination goes to the most adroit wire-puller, who has no other qualification for a national legislator. It is high time that this practice was changed and the Ninth District has an opportunity to set an example that will be worthy of imitation.

Mr. Wade has not sought the office, he has had no political workers pulling wires for him, but the men who have worked for his nomination are those who recognize his ability and fitness for the office, and who have no favors to ask if he is elected. They have proposed no trades or bargains, but have trusted to the merits of the case. If he is chosen it will be a great victory for honest methods in politics and the cause of good government.

His leading opponent is Mr. Candler of Brookline, who held the office one term and was so unsatisfactory a representative that he failed to receive a reelection. The only hope of electing him this year is because of the fact that it is presidential year, and his friends trust that he will float in with the ticket. The hope is, we believe, a fallacious one, as he will fail to receive the large independent vote which holds the balance of power in this district. Personally he may be an excellent gentleman but even his most devoted friends do not claim that he is the superior of Mr. Wade, who is strong in just those places where Mr. Candler is weak.

It is evident that with a united delegation from Newton Mr. Wade can be nominated, and there is every reason to believe that he will have it. Local pride, apart from all other considerations, can be depended on for that.

TEMPERANCE REPUBLICANS.

The address of the temperance Republicans is a very timely one, as it calls attention to the need of securing senators and representatives, who will stand by the excellent legislation of the past two sessions, and prevent its repeal. They say that there is an organized effort to elect men who favor the repeal of these laws, and prevent the submission of the prohibitory constitutional amendment to the people, and that therefore the caucuses of the Republican party, which are soon to be held, are of unusual importance to the cause of temperance in Massachusetts. The delegates then to be elected to the senatorial conventions may decide the fate of the constitutional amendment and of important temperance legislation.

The address heartily endorses Governor Ames, as a strong friend of temperance and an official who has shown that he can be depended upon, and all friends of temperance are urged to support the present republican administration. It says, "With a temperance governor at the helm, and with a strong majority in the House, our cause will move on to the greatest triumphs it has yet achieved. It seems to us that at a time so important to the cause as this, with our aims so nearly gained, all temperance men, without regard to past affiliations, ought to support the Republican party, especially as the liquor dealers and their friends are supporting its opponent, the Democratic party. There should now be no division of the temperance forces, and all temperance men who intend to vote the Republican ticket will be entitled to the vote in the Republican caucuses. With union and work success is easily within our grasp. Let us stand together and triumph."

This endorsement of Governor Ames is certainly well deserved and furnishes another reason why Governor Ames should be given a third term. His opinions are known, and he has proved that he can be trusted.

The address is signed by John D. Long as president and many of the leading Republicans of the state, among whom are Col. E. H. Haskell and William G. Bell of Newton.

IMMIGRATION STATISTICS.

The evidence presented before the Congressional Immigration Investigating Committee this week was of decided interest. It seems that some contract laborers imported through Boston as well as New York. Mr. Wrightington, agent of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity, stated that while the majority of the immigrants are of a better class than those of twenty-five years ago, yet a larger share of them would become public charges, "because the opportunity for self-support is not so good now as it was then." This is not political testimony, and its truth can not be doubted, although it is not exactly complimentary to the fiscal policy of the past twenty-five years. It is only natural that as this country grows older the avenues of labor will become more crowded, and the chances of making a living will be smaller. This would be true, however, whether we had protection of the Chinese variety or the freest kind of trade, as it is only a question of supply and demand.

The testimony of Col. Louis M. Montgomery, special agent of the treasury district embracing this State, in regard to the alien fishermen, was an amusing commentary on the Senate speeches in regard to the treaty and President Cleveland's message. According to this authority, seventy-five per cent of the men engaged in the American fisheries are aliens, and they are hired because they will work for less wages, and will work more continuously than Americans. The aliens have driven the Americans out of the fishery business, and it is rather mortifying to find that our "gallant fishermen," "the nursery of our navy" are mostly foreigners who go home during the winter. It would certainly hardly be worth while to go to war with Canada to protect our fishermen, when seventy-five per cent of them are already Canadian subjects. As the Boston Transcript says, the whole question has taken a decidedly "H. M. S. Pinafore" aspect.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

There is a rather lively fight over the county commissionership. Many are dissatisfied with Mr. Lunt, and think it would be for the best interest of the county to have a new man. Waltham will present the name of Representative Upham, who was a candidate in a previous campaign, and there are numerous others who are mentioned. Many people think that in view of the new county buildings a practical business man should be put up, one who will know enough about the work to be done to see that the interests of the county are closely looked after, and in looking over the field they have decided that Mr. Henry F. Ross of Newtonville would be just the man for the position. He is one of the largest builders in the county and his acquaintance in the surrounding towns is so extensive that he has received repeated invitations from outside the city to become a candidate. If a business man is wanted a more capable one than Mr. Ross could not be found, and it would be a great advance to inaugurate the custom of putting business men in county offices, instead of politicians. Such offices have nothing to do with politics, any more than any of the offices that come under the civil service rules. Mr. Ross would certainly have a hearty support from this section of the county.

SOME PLAIN FACTS.

We are glad to see that the Milford Journal is a faithful reader of the GRAPHIC, as is shown by its devoting a large share of its editorial space to us this week. The Journal is evidently in a bad temper over the collapse of the Draper boom, but it struggles valiantly to save Mr. Candler out of the wreck. We do not pretend to understand the Journal's devotion to Mr. Candler, as it is not yet certain that the Brookline delegates are for Gen. Draper, but it should learn to take events more philosophically. Even if Draper and Candler are both lost, the world will still go on, and the Journal will still continue to yield a handsome revenue and delight its readers with its able and vigorous editorials.

The Journal cries for Mr. Candler because he is a business man, but after the convention it will be easier for it to discover that the successful manager of a great railroad is a more valuable business man than a city merchant; that although Mr. Candler is a good common sense speaker, Mr. Wade is a better one; Mr. Candler may be a "conscientious" debater, but Mr. Wade is more so, and so on. We might add also, for the comfort of our Milford friend, that if Mr. Wade was elected because of his professed devotion to certain principles, he would stand by them when the occasion arrived, and not betray them at the command of any would-be party leader, or for other reasons. In this connection it will be proper to repeat the remark about "the folly of putting up a defeated candidate to meet probable defeat a second time," feeling sure that our acute Milford friend will appreciate the allusion. The Journal is too intelligent to make the assertion seriously that "the River and Harbor bill" was alone or even chiefly responsible for Mr. Candler's defeat.

THE COOPERATIVE BANK.

The establishment of the Newton Cooperative bank means a great deal for the workmen and others of Newton, as by means of it they will be enabled to own their own homes, instead of living in rented houses. What they have heretofore paid in rent they can now use in paying for their homes, and there is a great amount of moderate priced land in Newton, which is available for moderate priced houses.

The advantage to the city would also be a great one, as it would bring a very desirable class of people here, and men who own property in a city always feel that they have a personal interest in its welfare.

The first meeting will be held in Tremont Hall, Newtonville, next Tuesday evening, and it will be addressed by Hon. Robert Treat Paine, the original promoter of the system of cooperative banking. Other addresses will also be given, and the hall will hardly be large enough to contain all who are interested in the undertaking. It would be a good idea to hold meetings in every ward, so that the people of the city might have a better understanding of the many excellent features of cooperative banking.

THE CAUCUSES thus far held have resulted in a substantial endorsement of Governor Ames, and if the proportion is kept up, as seems probable, he will have a four-fifths vote in the nominating convention. This shows that the people appreciate fidelity and ability in public office. Every Republican governor since the party came into power in the Commonwealth has been given three terms of office, save Gov. Washburn, who was elected to the National Senate, and Gov. Talbot, who declined a reelection. Why there should be any break in this custom is something which the friends of Gen. Draper have not shown. Governor Ames deserves a third term and he seems certain to secure it.

HOLLISTON has elected delegates in favor of Hon. Levi C. Wade, while Brookline and Milford have elected Candler delegates. Mr. John W. Candler enjoys the distinction of having made the Ninth District Democratic, it having until his second nomination, a regular Republican majority of some 2,500. Since that time it has never given a Republican majority, although Mr. Ely was elected by means of a Democratic split. In view of this fact it can hardly be called good policy to put Mr. Candler up again. With such a candidate as Mr. Wade, the district can be redeemed.

MISS HAPGOOD's letter, which was published exclusively in the GRAPHIC last week, caused something of a sensation, and the general opinion is strongly against such methods in our school board, if the facts are as represented. It is not considered at all strange that an objection was made to having the letter read and that those concerned did not desire to have it published. The people of Ward Two are said to feel very strongly over the matter, and intend to preserve the letter for use at the next election.

CAMBRIDGE presents the name of Hon. Robert O. Fuller for Councillor, and he will be cordially supported by Newton, as Mr. Fuller is in every way qualified for the position, and well deserves the honor. He is not, perhaps, as much of a politician as Mr. McPherson, but a two years' term is a sufficient recognition of that gentleman's claims for party services. Mr. Fuller is highly endorsed by all who know him, among whom are a number of prominent citizens of Newton.

THE ASSESSMENT of federal officials for Democratic campaign expenses will hurt that party much more than the money realized will help it. This political assessment business is one of the worst phases of the spoils system, but it is such a convenient way of raising money that the politicians have always favored it.

THE Boston papers announce that "R. T. Sullivan, the well known wool merchant," will preside at Ben Butler's debut as a high protectionist at Tremont Temple, this evening. When Mr. Sullivan was a Democrat they used to call him a shoddy manufacturer and his mills are still engaged in the making of shoddy.

THE REPORT that Massachusetts' manufacturers will contribute half a million dollars for campaign expenses is incredible. Neither party has any business with such a corruption fund as that would prove.

AT THE Dedham Republican caucus, last night, delegates favoring Ex-Alderman Powers for congressman were elected by one vote, over those favoring Hon. Levi C. Wade.

BEN BUTLER denies the interview alleged to have been held with him in 1883, and asserts that he is an "incidental protectionist," whatever that may be.

MARRIED.

McKINNON-BRYSON—At West Newton, Aug. 12, by Rev. J. A. Barrett, John A. McKinnon of Waltham and Mary J. Bryson of Newton.

CORCORAN-WELSH—At Newton Upper Falls July 11, by Rev. N. J. Merritt, Daniel J. Corcoran and Mary H. Welsh, both of Newton.

DIED.

BARROWS—At Newton Centre, Aug. 24, Nellie F. wife of Geo. E. Barrows, aged 36 yrs.

HAGERTY—At Newton Upper Falls, Aug. 26, Margaret, widow of Daniel Hagerty, aged 80 yrs.

PLANT—At West Newton, Aug. 25, Harriet, widow of Wilmet Plant, aged 75 yrs, 4 mos, 21 days.

LEWIS—At West Newton, Aug. 26, Lucy E. wife of Horace F. Lewis, aged 31 yrs, 9 mos, 24 days.

LEMMER—At Newton Centre, Aug. 27, Josephine, wife of Charles Lemmer, aged 30 yrs, 14 days.

CONNELLY—At Nonantum, Aug. 27, Bridget, wife of Patrick Connelly, aged 31 yrs.

GEDDIS—At Newton, Aug. 30, John Geddis, aged 70 yrs.

KINGMAN—At West Newton, Aug. 30, Annie Lizzie, wife of E. A. Kingman, aged 35 yrs, 7 mos, 26 days.

FILES—In Newton, Aug. 30, James L. T. Files, formerly of Portland, Me. [Boston papers please copy.]

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO LET—A pleasant, furnished front chamber on Austin street, tenth house on left hand from Newtonville station. Meals can be obtained near by. Mrs. E. J. Johnson.

TO LET—October 1st, for six or eight months, in Newton near the railroad station, small furnished house with furnace, gas and bath room. For particulars address Box 454, Newton, Mass.

WANTED—A young man would like a situation in a private family. Can take care of horses and carriage and steam-heating boiler. Address "T. M." Graphic office.

TO LET—In West Newton, near depot, on the south side of the railroad, neat tenement of seven rooms, furnished or unfurnished. Terms reasonable. Reference required. Address C. F. Tuttle, P. O. Box 436, or 113 Devonshire street, Boston.

TO LET—A nice tenement in Newtonville. Rent $11 per month. Also a double house corner of Cabot and Clarendon streets; 8 rooms $15 per month. Apply to D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot street. Telephone #178.

LOST—Wednesday morning between Auburn and B. F. Cutter's, Weston, an account book containing a sum of money. Finder please notify or leave at B. F. Cutter's, Weston. Liberal reward.

TO LET SEPT. 1ST.—House on Pearl street. Five rooms; dry cellar, city water, gas, water in chambers, nice place for a small family. Three minutes' walk from station of Boston & Albany R. R. Inquire of Henry Fuller, Centre street.

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping with or board. Address P. O. Box 650, Newton.

FURNISHED ROOMS, with board, if desired, in house having modern conveniences, situated on Jefferson street, Ward 7. Address Mr. Goodwin, Box 375, Newton.

TO LET—In Webster Park, West Newton, a nice sunny house of nine rooms, possession given immediately. Inquire of Robert Bennett, West Newton.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Three medium sized houses, with nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, at very reasonable rates. Address P. O. Box 261, Newton.

KINDERGARTEN.

Miss Fannie L. Smallwood

Will re-open her Kindergarten on CHURCH STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

September 10th, 1888.

Terms, $12.50 a Quarter.

Mortgagee's Sale

BY virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Albert J. West to Hammond Reed, dated Nov. 14, 1887, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Lib. 1825 Fol. 526, will be sold at public auction on the second parcel hereinafter described (being Lot No. 2 on a plan hereinafter referred to), on Monday September 24th, 1888, at 3.45 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain parcel of land, situate in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being Lot No. 2 on a plan of lands of Atwood and Wells, in Newtonville, made by E. S. Sullivan, surveyor, dated July 24, 1886 and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Aug. 3, 1886; said Lot is bounded westerly by Harvard street, 75 feet, easterly by land now or late of Ross, 150 feet, easterly by lots 3 and 4 on said plan, 75 feet, and southerly by lot 2 on said plan 150 feet—containing 11,250 square feet.

Also a certain other parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Newton, being lot No. 2 on said plan and is bounded westerly by Harvard street, 60 feet, northerly by lot No. 1 on said plan, 120 feet, and easterly by lot 7 and 8 on said plan 60 feet and southerly by lot No. 3, on said plan, 150 feet—containing 9,000 square feet.

Also a certain other parcel of land, situated in said Newton, comprising lots No. 5, 6 and 7 on said plan, said parcel is bounded southerly by Cabot street, 120 feet, easterly by Clarendon street, 173 and 150 feet, northerly by lot No. 8 on said plan, 120 feet, and westerly by lot No. 2, 2, 3, and 4 on said plan, 170 and 22-100 feet—containing 20,974 square feet of land.

All of the above described premises will be sold subject to the restrictions contained in the deed of Dustin Lancy to Marcus F. Heywood, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Lib. 1092, Fol. 228, also subject to prior mortgages, if any.

Particulars at time and place of sale.

HAMMOND REED, Mortgagee.

Lesington, August 29, 1888.

GEO. H. REED, ATT'Y.

113 Devonshire Street, Boston.

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.

SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages. Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

CHARLES F. RAND, AUCTIONEER.

REAL ESTATE.

MORTGAGES.

INSURANCE.

Office, No. 417 Centre st., Newton.

Opposite Public Library.

OPEN FROM 7 O'CLOCK A. M., TO 7 P. M.

Properties in Newton and Allston a Specialty.

At Boston office, No. 113 Devonshire street, Room 23, (Minot's Building), from 10.30 to 11.45 on Tuesdays and Fridays only—through July and August.

Estates for Sale.

Houses to Rent.

MONEY TO LOAN.

Storage of Furniture

I have 20 rooms in Cole's Block, also 10 rooms in Brackett's New Block, opposite the Public Library, fitted up with lock and one key only to each room, which is held by the occupant. These rooms are to rent at all prices from $1.50 to $5.00 per month; no better places for Storage in this City.

If in want of rooms to store Pianos, Organs or furniture of any kind call and examine them.

CHARLES F. RAND, Real Estate Office.

Charles F. Rand.

BUTTER.

WELLINGTON HOWES

Offers Newton people the choice of the two most famous creameries in the country.

-Otter Brook- CREAMERY

butter comes from Lancaster, N. H., fresh every week, packed in five pound boxes and nothing better can be had.

Maple City CREAMERY

butter comes in 20 lb. tubs, and is the genuine high-grade article. Other good brands of CREAMERY and DAIRY BUTTER can also be found at

Newton City MARKET,

Centre St., Opp. Public Library, Newton.

Evergreen Trees.

For August planting. A large stock of choice kinds, not excelled in the country in extent, quality and cheapness.

From Aug. 20 to Sept. 20

I will contract to plant and warrant to live. Send for a Catalogue.

WABAN, NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

W. C. Strong.

The offer open to both New and Old Subscribers who send $5, and is only made for a short time.

1852 ESTABLISHED 1887

HUBBARD & PROCTER, PHARMACISTS,

Successors to

Chas. F. Rogers, BRACKETT'S BLOCK, NEWTON, MASS.

Branch Store, Nonantum,

A. J. Macomber, WATCHMAKER, JEWELER and OPTICIAN.

Watertown St., near the Post Office.

Everything usually repaired in a place of the kind will receive prompt attention at low prices

PLUMBING.

REMOVAL.

Timothy J. Hartnett,

has removed to

Brackett's New Block,

Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton,

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others.

The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.

Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision.

Contractor for gas piping.

35 1y

An Unusual Offer!

—THE—

FORUM

—AND THE—

NEWTON GRAPHIC,

$5 a Year.

The Leading Monthly Review and the Leading Newton Paper.

The offer open to both New and Old Subscribers who send $5, and is only made for a short time.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miss S. Alice Worcester is at Gloucester.

—Lion brand collars and cuffs at J. V. Sullivan's.

—Mr. A. P. C. Griffin has returned from Rangley Lakes.

—Miss Luella Wadsworth has returned from Duxbury.

—Mr. E. C. Eastman has rented the Mills house on Austin street.

—Miss Carrie Blodgett is at West Brookfield for a few weeks.

—Mr. J. F. Curtis and family returned from Nantasket, Monday.

—Mr. T. J. Hartshorn and family are at the Mountain House, Princeton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harris have returned from their trip to Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. Ellis W. Redpath has returned from Mt. Wachusett, Princeton.

—Mr. George T. Hill and family have returned from Bar Harbor, Me.

—Mr. Charles Newell and family have returned from Kennebunkport, Me.

—Mr. O. L. Perkins of Hyde Park has moved into a new house on Clyde street.

—People from Auburndale and Waltham come here for Paine's ice cream soda.

—Mr. George M. Bridges is spending his vacation at Fort Point, with Mr. A. H. Soden.

—Harry Wandless started Monday on his vacation. He will be absent for about two weeks.

—Officer Clay is doing day duty at Newtonville during the absence of Officer Bosworth.

—Rev. Pleasant Hunter and family have returned from the Hunkerock house, Sea View, Mass.

—Mr. George Meade and family have returned from their summer residence at Hodge, N. H.

—Mr. A. P. C. Griffin and family of Highland avenue have returned from Kennebunkport, Me.

—Rev. Dr. S. R. Dennen preached an interesting sermon at the Congregational church last Sunday morning.

—Mr. Edward Page and family arrived home this week. They have been stopping at the Hunkerock, Sea View.

—Mr. James Richards and family arrived home this week from the White Mountains, after a delightful season.

—Mr. Luke Ashley has returned from Gloucester. His family, however, will remain there for a short time longer.

—Mrs. H. P. Dearborn is expected home from Provincetown to-day, where she has been enjoying the summer season.

—Mr. Decatur and family of Otis street, have returned from Exeter, N. H., where they have been spending the summer.

—Dr. and Mrs. Otis E. Hunt arrived home this week from Moosehead Lake, where they have been enjoying the summer season.

—The regular services at the Universalist church will be resumed on Sunday morning, at 10.35. Sunday school will be held as usual.

—Mrs. H. S. Allen, formerly of this city, and late of Worcester, has taken a house here and will open a dress making establishment.

—Mr. Al. Vose, who has been here on a visit to his parents, returned to St. Paul this week, where he is engaged in business.

—Mrs. E. H. Pierce and Misses Blanche and Hattie Pierce, arrived home Tuesday from Old Orchard, Me., where they have been spending their vacation.

—Mrs. Underhill of the high school corps of teachers has returned from Canaan, N. H., where she has been spending her summer vacation.

—The communication of Miss V. E. Hapgood to the school board, which caused a great deal of trouble last week, caused a great demand for papers in this vicinity.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Sylvester have returned from their wedding tour. They visited New York City and passed a few days at Cape Cod during their absence.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estey will move from Newtonville next week. They will reside in that pretty portion of Hyde Park known as Hazlewood.

—There was a small gathering at the meeting of the Newton Oyster Club, Monday evening, and no important business was transacted.

—Mrs. H. C. Wiggin, Mr. George Crocker and family, and Mr. C. E. Roberts are among vacationists who have returned this week.

—The headquarters of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be located in this ward. Apartments and offices will probably be fitted up over Mrs. Williams' drug store.

—Mr. J. T. Hills, proprietor of the Central stables, has just put on a handsome new depot carriage. It is a pretty, modern vehicle, handsomely upholstered and neatly fitted up.

—Quite a party of ladies and gentlemen from Newtonville attended the wedding of Miss Lizzie W. Everett and Mr. George H. Hicks at Newton Upper Falls, Monday evening.

—Master Roland B. and Miss Jessie J. Gilnes return this week from their two months' vacation at Lake Memphremagog, where they have been visiting their grandparents.

—Mr. J. T. Pulsifer has returned from Poland Springs, Me. He has been enjoying a trip through Maine and visited Paris, Sumner, Auburn, Hebron and other places of interest.

—There was quite a large attendance at the services in the Methodist church, last Sunday. Excellent music was rendered by Prof. Bemis, organist of St. John's Episcopal church, South Boston.

—J. Q. Bird and family are at his summer residence in Stow. Last Saturday night he gave the neighbors an elegant display of fireworks from the well known factory of Masten & Wells of Boston, which was greatly appreciated.

—The children at Hunkerock Beach participated in a bean bag contest at the hotel last week, and presents were awarded to a number of the little folks. Miss Annie Page and Master Murray Page of Newtonville took prizes, the former first and the latter third prize.

—Ex-Gov. Claflin is the heaviest tax payer in this ward, his contribution to the city treasury amounting to $3,387.01. The Newton Warded Mills pay $2,940.00; Johnathan W. Bemis, $2,033.80; Silver Lake Co., $1,892.40; Elizabeth T. Eldridge, $1,763.20; Austin R. Mitchell, $1,294.32; Mrs. M. B. Wilson, $1,320.00.

—Messrs. Fuller & French have let the Carter house, Park Place, to Mr. J. J. Downey of Boston. Mrs. Park's house, Clyde street, to Mrs. Perkins; the Troffert house, to Mrs. Everett of Norwood; the Claflin house in Walnut Terrace, to Mrs. Allen of Worcester; J. J. Smith's house, Watertown street, to Mr. Eppler of Boston.

—The installation of the newly elected officers of Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., occurs on Thursday evening, Sept. 13. The resignation of Mr. Austin R. Sylvester as commander is regretted by many members, and took an earnest interest in the welfare and prosperity of the post. The twentieth anniversary of the post will be observed Thursday evening, Sept. 6th.

—The reunion of the 30th Mass. Regt., takes place at Taunton, Sept. 6th. Among the survivors are a few Newton men, who are looking forward to a hearty hand clasp and greeting from their old comrades. Mr. E. Bradshaw will deliver one of the addresses upon the occasion of the reunion, presenting a humorous sketch of Co. H., and recalling incidents from its early days to the end of the civil struggle. The 30th's first engagement was at Mine Run, and subsequently the regiment participated in all the battles of the Wilderness and the closing scenes at Appomattox Court House, 19 battles and 35 engagements completing its record.

WEST NEWTON.

—Miss Ida Stacy is at Haverhill for two weeks.

—Miss Agnes Chase is visiting friends in Lyme, N. H.

—Miss Lizzie Langley has returned from Rye Beach, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Putnam are summering at Cottage City.

—Sergt. Huestis is enjoying a brief rest from his official duties.

—Mr. Lawrence Bond returns from his California trip this week.

—Miss Jennie Allen will spend next week at Kennebunkport.

—Miss Ellen and Miss Mary Bond have returned from the mountains.

—Mr. Fred Chestnut is spending his vacation at Fredericktown, N. B.

—Mr. W. E. Field and family are guests at the Hotel Hunnewell this week.

—Miss Nina Moore is at St. Paul, Minn., on a visit to Rev. Francis Tiffany and family.

—Services will be resumed in the Unitarian church next Sunday. Preaching by the pastor.

—Mr. J. H. Potter will remove to Chicago Sept. 1st, and the house he now occupies will be for rent.

—Dr. H. E. Johnson will be away at the mountains from Saturday until Wednesday of next week.

—Miss Clara Munger, Boston's popular music teacher, is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Jaynes for a few weeks.

—Miss Emma Nickerson was in West Newton a few days this week, but has now returned to Provincetown.

—Commander Lucas of Charles Ward Post 62 has just received his back pay, quite a good sum, and has also been granted a pension.

—The clock faces on the Congregational church have been regilded, the work being done in a satisfactory manner by J. W. Conroy & Son.

—Mr. Patrick Brennan has started a block of wooden houses on Margin street. The excavation has been made and the workmen are engaged in building the cellar.

—As City Hall was engaged previously for the Democratic mass caucus, the Ward 3 Republican caucus will be held in Nickerson's hall, Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.

—The grand rally of the prohibitionists will be held in Tremont Temple, Boston, in September. Gen. Clinton B. Fiske, the national candidate, will address the meeting.

—The first public meeting of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held at Tremont Hall, Newtonville, at 7.30, next Tuesday evening, and be addressed by Hon. Robert Treat Faine and others.

—Wm. O. Taylor, formerly of the 7th U. S. Cavalry, and one of the survivors of the Custer massacre, was here on a flying visit to his old comrade, Officer John Ryan. Mr. Taylor is a resident of Sherburn Falls, Vt.

—Mr. C. A. Potter, who is now making an extended trip through Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France on business for Houghton & Dutton, is expected home the last of September.

—At the prohibition caucus in the police court room, Saturday evening, two candidates will be nominated for representatives to the general court, and delegates chosen for the several conventions.

—There are a number of heavy tax-payers in this ward. Mr. Geo. B. Wilbur pays $3000.36; Mr. Lucius G. Pratt, $2257.68; First National Bank, $1097.44; Henry A. Gane, $1071.32; Vernon E. Carpenter, $1036.39.

—The Old Dominion Base Ball club defeated the Seaside in an interesting game, Thursday, by a score of 12 to 6. The work of the Old Dominion battery was quite effective, and the Seaside were unable to bunt the hits.

—Rev. H. J. Patrick will resume his duties at the Congregational church on Sunday morning. There will be a communion service at 3 p.m., and a missionary service at 7 p.m. The service preparatory to communion will be held this (Friday) evening at 7.45.

—The funeral of Mrs. Lucy P. Lewis, who committed suicide Sunday morning, last, took place from her late residence in Robinson block, Wednesday, Rev. Julian C. Jaynes officiating. The remains were taken to Newmarket, N. H., for interment.

—The St. Paul Baptist Church Sewing Circle of Boston met at the home of Thomas Johnson, Prospect street, Tuesday evening, and enjoyed a pleasant social hour. Music, singing and speaking were among the features, and refreshments were served during the evening.

—There were 18 cases before the police court the past week, 2 for assault and battery, 1 for assault with a dangerous weapon, 4 for disturbing the peace, 2 for violating city ordinances, 3 for violating the liquor laws, and four for drunkenness. The fines ranged from $100 and 3 months in prison, to 30 days and $50 and costs.

—The death of Mrs. E. A. Kingman at her late residence, River street, removes an excellent aid from the midst. The deceased has been failing for the past four years and passed away Thursday morning. Many friends in this community will sincerely mourn her loss. Services were held at her late residence this morning, and the remains were taken to Portland, Me., for interment.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Allen and a number of pupils of the Allen School are at Cliff Cottage, Linekin, East Boothbay, their usual summer resort for the past sixteen years. Linekin is one of the most beautiful bays in Maine, in full view of Squirrel Island, Ocean Point and Spruce Point, which last is being developed by a Boston company. Mr. Allen writes that the menhaden have returned to the Maine coast for the first time in eight years, much to the joy of the fishermen.

—Last week Mr. Thomas B. Fitz was given a reception at the Parker House, at which were present Hon. P. A. Collins, Messrs. John Boyle O'Reilly, Dominick Toy, Dr. P. J. Timmins, Thomas McLaughlin, Thomas Flattery, James B. Hand, J. T. Murphy, P. A. McVicker, P. A. Murray, Eneas Smith and Hugh Mullen. After Mr. Fitz had shaken hands all around, the company retired to one of the banquet halls, where an excellent feast was spread. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers. The center-piece was a representation of an Irish round tower, of white and purple chrysanthemums, resting on a floral bank. At the dinner Gen. Collins did the honors. Mr. Fitz entertained the company with an account of his visit, and brief speeches of a patriotic character were made by other gentlemen.

—The wages of an ordinary laborer in China are only two cents per day. It may be seen from this that the boasted fragility of the Chinese people is simply another sample of the force of habit, or rather the habit of force. (—Lowell Citizen.

AUBURNDALE.

—H. H. Haskell is in Minneapolis for September.

—G. S. Stewart has returned from Newport, Vermont.

—Mrs. Mary A. Whall and daughter left this week for Philadelphia.

—Miss Soule and Miss Emma Soule are staying with friends in Portland.

—Mrs. E. M. Bunker will return from Bangor the last week in September.

—Dr. Bellows sails from Liverpool on the 5th of September, not the 20th.

—Miss Woodward of St. Louis is the guest of the Misses Coffin of Central street.

—Mr. E. E. Staples of the Woodland Park Hotel, has returned from his vacation.

—Mrs. George Smith is staying for a few weeks with Mrs. M. A. Noyes on Hancock street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Pemberton have been visiting at Narragansett Pier and Newport.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Cutler were in town Sunday, and have gone to Hatfield, Mass., where Mr. Cutler is to teach.

—Mrs. C. B. Kendall returns to her house next week. Mr. Kendall is in Baltimore, and intends soon to go to California.

—F. M. E. Whiting of the Boston Herald was thrown from his carriage Saturday evening, but escaped with some severe bruises.

—Miss Julia Cole will return to Atlanta, Ga., the 27th of Sept., to take charge of the Greek in the collegiate department in Atlanta University.

—Miss Harriet M. Farnsworth, daughter of Dr. W. A. Farnsworth of Casarea, Turkey, is appointed assistant teacher in Lawrence Academy, Groton, Mass.

—Mr. Willis Hadlock, who has been in business for the past year in St. Louis, is in town, and will remain for the present here as an assistant to W. F. Soule.

—The Registrars made nine voters at their meeting last Saturday evening, who will be able to vote at the special election for councilmen next Tuesday.

—The closed shutters of Miss Helen Childs' popular establishment gave rise to many inquiries as to her health. She was quite ill for three days but is now convalescent.

—Among those who listened to the two excellent sermons of Mr. Dean A. Walker on Sunday last were some who remember him from his boyhood. Auburndale has many sons of whom she is justly proud.

—The first public meeting of the Newton Co-operative bank will be held at Tremont Hall, Newtonville, at 7.30 next Tuesday evening, and be addressed by Hon. Robert Treat Faine and others.

—Owners of gardens rejoice in the long continued favorable weather, and in the narrow escape from frost on Tuesday night. Everything is as fresh as in the early summer, though the summer is gone.

—There is hardly a more desirable location in our lovely village than that of Mr. J. W. Davis' new house. The view toward the south-west resembles an Italian landscape, so say people who have seen such landscapes.

—The estate on Auburn street lately owned by Mrs. J. B. Parker has been sold to Mr. Richardson of Waltham. The house has been thoroughly repaired and refurnished. Mr. Richardson will not live in the house at present, but will rent it.

—Rev. J. W. Bashford, D. D., recently of the Methodist church in Auburndale, but now of Maine, recently challenged the Hon. Jas. G. Blaine to six public discussions in the cities of Maine on the prohibition issue. Dr. Bashford still waits a reply.

—The music in the Congregational church Sunday, promises to be unusually interesting. The male quartet, Messrs. W. T. Rice, first tenor; J. W. Davis, first bass; Clarence B. Ashenden, second bass, will render appropriate selections.

—The cyclists who participate in the union meet at Cambridge and vicinity Labor Day, will dine at the Woodland Park Hotel. The affair promises to be a great success, and riders from numerous cities and towns will participate in the events of the day.

—There is much satisfaction in the return of Mr. J. W. Davis to the charge of the Congregational church. The male quartet, composed of Messrs. Davis, Rice and the Ashenden brothers, has already won golden opinions. They sang in Rutland on Sunday last.

—A welcome addition to the reading facilities of Auburndale is the new circulating library of 250 volumes, opened by Mrs. Markham in her store. It is a move in the right direction, characteristic of this enterprising lady. Two cents a day is the rate.

—We noticed that one or two arrests had been made in Newton Centre for the overhauling and rough handling of the horses belonging to the markets and grocery stores, by the boy employees. We think one or two such arrests might be made in Auburndale, for the good of the dumb creatures, and the benefit of their owners, who would not permit such usage if they knew it. At least, these boys ought to know that Auburndale has some representatives of the society with the long name.

NONANTUM.

—Mr. Thomas Farley has assumed charge of the Bemis estate.

—James M. Blue leaves for Williams College on Monday next.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ballantyne are vacationing at Niagara Falls.

—Next Sunday evening Holy communion will be administered at the North church.

—Granite curb stones are being put around the Jackson School.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heyward are visiting in the mountains of New Hampshire.

—The new firm is Hauser & Moriarty and they are doing a good business in their line.

—Mr. John Avery of Halifax, N. S., and his sister Sophia have been visiting friends here the past week.

—Persons having fruit on their trees make considerable complaint that the boys and girls call too often.

—There was a slight fire in one of the tenement houses on DuBois street Sunday, but it was extinguished without ringing in an alarm.

—Preparations are being made for the building of the stone bridge at Etta Mills; six car loads of granite have already arrived.

—The worsted business at Nonantum Mills is booming; a large number of new hands have been employed recently.

—The officers made a friendly call on several of the Silver Lake rum sellers on Saturday night, and invited them to ride as far as West Newton.

—The Eagles of this village will play a game of day at two o'clock on the Parker House grounds.

—In the police court F. Sullivan of Watertown and costs, and sentence of three months in the house of correction, for maintaining a liquor house, and secured bonds for the superior court.

—The Sunday school concert at the North church last Sunday evening was a very interesting one, the subject being "Life." It was well handled and the one or two exhortations were perfect. Some thirty scholars took part and did their parts well.

Mr. A. R. Coe presided but introduced Mr. Hudson, assistant superintendent, who took charge of the exercises which were arranged by him. The singing was purely congregational. After the exercise Rev. Mr. Lamb addressed the audience, and Miss Augusta Lamb gave a French recitation.

City Marshal Richardson and Officers Holmes and Quilly, raided the place of Jeremiah Meany, West St., Nonantum, Saturday evening, and secured a small quantity of lager beer and whiskey. The marshal took a position at the front entrance and the officers effected an entrance through the back door. Mrs. Meany rushed and emptied part of a bottle of whiskey into the hands of the marshal. The bottle with its remaining contents was seized and also a full bottle of lager which she held in one hand. Subsequently, Mrs. Meany declared that it was not she who met the officers at the front door, but some other woman. This did not go down, however, as she had been fully recognized by the officers. At C. F. Sullivan's, Watertown street, Officers C. O. Davis, Baker and Conroy seized 55 bottles of lager beer, three quarts of ale and a small quantity of whiskey were captured. The raids were both conducted under the supervision of City Marshal Richardson.

A MODEL SUMMER RESORT.

WHICH IS A FAVORITE WITH MANY NEWTON PEOPLE.

RUTLAND, MASS., AUG. 27, 1888.
To the Editor of the Newton Graphic.]

When something is discovered which is pleasant, profitable and of good report, it would seem to be the manifest duty of the discoverers to lay the matter before the public. What surer, better way is there to reach this public than through the columns of the paper which "has the largest circulation?" I therefore present, through the courtesy of this paper some facts, which being new to us, are substantially by us discovered. In these progressive days when nothing stands still, and when in the general onward movement everything is thrown from its original and sometimes well-earned position; when Columbus did not discover America; when Shakespeare did not write Shakespeare's plays, when it cannot be proven that Paul did not write Esop's fables, and when Esop may have written the famous Epistle to the Romans, why may not we, who for the first time have seen a thing, or become acquainted with a fact, claim to be discoverers or inventors, and substantially owners and monarchs of all we for the first time survey? This assured, we proceed to claim to have discovered a place not very remote from Newton and its suburbs, Boston, Cambridge, etc., which combines so many advantages that it cannot long remain in concealment. We are therefore anxious to put in our claim at once, that we may thus become distinguished. I say "we," not "I," in a strictly editorial sense, since something more than a score of our townsfolk are our co-discoverers, and are already in the enjoyment of the fruits thereof on the hill of hills, on the bosom of which reposes the town of Rutland and on the top of which stand the Hotel and the Hotel Museum, with its wide covered piazzas on the four sides; its spacious halls, its airy, roomy rooms, and all the rest of the appointments of a summer home. Driving up, up over the upness that must be overcome before we can stand so near those golden gates that are supposed to be somewhere in the aboveverness of space, we are greeted by the most affable and hospitable of hosts, made comfortable on the softest and most immaculate of beds, in the cleanest of rooms, and we immediately begin to congratulate ourselves that the air we are breathing must be pure and fresh, since it cannot have been passed through bog, or morass, but must have come right out of the expanse of heaven, impregnated with no odors but those compounded by the gods. Nor is there any lack of this pure air, for it whizzes through space at such a rate of speed, that it is almost insupportable, contains from which all may draw with no fear of reducing the quantity.

Then there is the fun and the frolic of the young people, and the sober, sociable, innocent gossiping of the older, all so easy-going and familiar that one can hardly realize absence from home and the family circle.

All who read these pages are familiar with the noted "Amphion Quartet" of Auburndale, and can therefore realize the joyous greeting they would be likely to receive anywhere, where they were known. To make the home seem more homelike to the Newtonians, cannot have tette gave on Saturday evening, some of their most charming melodies, and were in turn entertained by the Rutland band, by piano solos, recitation, etc., by the guests of the house. On Sunday evening, also, a sacred concert, led by the quartette, and participated in by the guests and some of the townspeople, "made the welkin ring" and "woke the echoes" among the hills ascending at its close, all who listened, as well as all who participated, to their numbers, with hearts attuned to melody and sweet dreams. As so many of the guests were ladies, each bringing the same invigorating air, the same home comfort, the full variety of enjoyment and entertainment.

Now have we not made a valuable discovery? Will it not be as much a discovery to many as it was to us, "when first we were acquainted?" Will not these many thank us for having thus laid before the public these, the results of our explorations?

A. M. BEECHER.

A. B. ALLISON

Will resume piano-forte lessons with pupils on and after September 17th.

SUMMER

READING.

The latest novels can be found in

TAINTER'S

Circulating

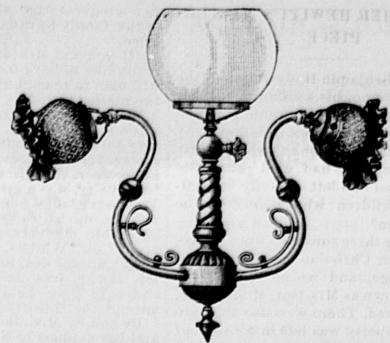

Library!!

Also a full assortment of base ball and other sporting goods at

C. H. TAINTER'S,

(Successor to E. S. COLTON.)

Newtonville News Depot

RESIDENCES WIRED

FOR THE

Electric Incandescent Light.

By our methods the Wires are concealed from view without injury to Walls, Ceilings or Decorations

ELECTRIC LAMPS ATTACHED TO GAS FIXTURES

now in use, so that either or both may be lighted when desired.

Electric House Work of Every Kind, Annunciators, Bells, Gas Lighting, Speaking Tubes

Neat and Gentlemanly Workmen, and the Best Materials.

Blodgett Brothers & Co.,

383 Federal Street, near Kneeland street, Boston.

Lion Brand Linen

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

LATEST STYLES.

J. V. Sullivan, Newtonville.

VARCOE.

WIDTH OF FRONT 2 INCH. WIDTH OF BACK 1 1/2 INCH. No. 780.

NEWTONVILLE DIRECTORY

GEORGE H. TALBOT, M. D.

Office and residence, 306 Walnut Street.

Office Hours: 10 A. M., 4 to 6, and 7 to 8 P. M.

Newtonville, - Mass.

DR. J. J. COXETER,

DENTIST.

Room 1, Central Block,

NEWTONVILLE.

"New Perfection"

REFRIGERATORS.

Dry Air, Charcoal filled, constructed upon scientific principles, and the air is kept dry and pure by the patent perfected system of circulation.

Conceded to be the best refrigerator in the market.

For Sale By

O. B. Leavitt,

Newtonville, - Mass.

Bradshaw's "Home Candy" is unsophisticated, and therefore harmless to infancy, and innocuous to age.

Washington St., near Square, Newtonville.

JENNIE S. CLAPP, M. D.,

Physician, Surgeon,

—AND—

Scientific Electrician.

Office, Washington street, near Central avenue, Newtonville. Office hours till 9 a. m., 1 to 3 and 8 to 10 p. m.

Dr. Clapp cordially invites ladies to her office, for practical talks, the second and last Friday of each month from 4 to 4 p. m.

A. A. SAVAGE,

GROCER.

Has on hand a choice lot of flour at Boston prices. The stock consists of the best brands only, including CRISP'S BROWN ROLLER, PILLSBURY'S BEST, BRIDAL VEIL, CORRUATED, &c.

Every brand is warranted and is delivered free. Patrons buying their flour in Boston will save money by giving me a call. Choice Vermont butter a specialty.

Associates' Block, Newtonville.

A First Class Investment

I have for sale FIRST Mortgages on Improved farms in Central Kansas, in sums of $400 to $1200 each, bearing 7 and 8 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest guaranteed by the BUCHANAN MORTGAGE CO., of Ottawa, Kas.

I am personally acquainted with the men who compose this company, and also with the country, having resided there for several years. The farms are worth from three to five times the amount loaned, and rapidly increasing in value. Correspondence solicited.

D. B. NEEDHAM, Dexter Block Newtonville.

JOHN F. PAYNE,

Associates' Block, - Newtonville.

REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

SUNDAY HOURS—8 to 10:35 a. m., 12 to 2 and 4 to 9 p. m.

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

DENTISTRY.

H. E. Johnson, D.D.S.

(Office formerly occupied by Dr. Sanderson.)

WEST NEWTON.

References: Wm. B. Denison, Newtonville; A. F. Winslow, Auburndale; F. J. Macfarlane, D. S. Boston; H. C. Ballard, M. D., H. S. Kilby, M. D. Dand prominent citizens of North Attleboro.

Office Hours: 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

A. L. GORDON.

SPRING and SUMMER Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, etc.

Low Shoes, Slippers and Tennis Goods for the season.

Fine Boot and Shoe Repairing a SPECIALTY.

Agency for Troy Laundry.

2 & 3 Robinson's Block,

WEST NEWTON.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton,"

Best Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

The Choicest Butter at Lowest Rates

F. M. DUTCH,

PROVISION DEALER.

Washington, Cor of Chestnut.

WEST NEWTON.

The Oldest Market in town.

S. F. CATE,

Furnishing Undertaker,

WASHINGTON STREET,

WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 5119.

U. H. DYER,

Retail Dealer in

Fresh Fish, Oysters and Clams

Also, Choice lot of Fruits and Vegetables

Pork, Lard, Butter and Eggs.

Corner Washington and Walnut streets, Newtonville.

Fresh Fish a Specialty.

H. P. DEARBORN,

Meats, Fruits & Vegetables,

Choice Cuts a Specialty.

CENTRAL MARKET,

Newtonville Sq., Newtonville.

White, Cross & Co.,

Successors to</

GRANDFATHER HEWITT'S MASTER-PIECE.

When old Benjamin Hewitt died at the age of eighty-two, his sons and daughter felt that species of resignation common in cases where such a loss is followed by a considerable accession of property. He had had a long life, had died peacefully in his bed, and had left a goodly inheritance to his children; what more could be asked for him?

There were three sons who were always called by their Christian names throughout the village, and whose wives were severally known as Mrs. Ben, Mrs. George, and Mrs. Alfred. There was also a daughter. The property was left in convenient shape to handle, and there was but one thing to trouble the heirs. That was Miss Louise Harris. This young lady had not the appearance of being a trouble to any one. Indeed, she was an especially pretty and pleasing young person with a decided talent for making friends.

Seventeen years before, when she was a little girl of three years, she had been informally adopted by Benjamin Hewitt and his wife, who, having seen their children one by one comfortably established in homes of their own, felt a desire still to see a child about the house. "It was so lonesome-like having the house all the time so still you could hear the clock tick," the good old man had said.

The sons and the daughter, as might be surmised, were not especially pleased with the introduction of a stranger into the family; but as the old gentleman had a mind of his own and was given to using it, no one volunteered an objection to the arrangement. So the old couple and the child lived together until Louise was seventeen, when Mrs. Hewitt died. Then Benjamin, Jr., was invited to bring his family to the homestead. Mrs. Ben had always looked upon Louise as an interloper, regarding each pleasant trait of the girl as a direct menace to the welfare of her children. "For who knows," said she in the course of a few remarks made to her husband in private, "but the old dotard may take every cent away from his own flesh and blood and give it to that awful little jade?"

Now Benjamin, Jr., had an idea that only the want of a little capital prevented him from being a Rothschild among his townpeople, so, being also quite awake to the advantages of "the bird in hand," he suggested investment for a few thousands if he could only have them to invest.

"Now, look'e here, my boy," the old man had said sturdily, "the first hundred dollars I had to invest I scraped together dime by dime, and you can do the same. I knew enough to get what I've got, and I know enough to do my own investing."

Although the young man tried to conceal his chagrin at this instance of his father's inconvenient strength of mind, and Mrs. Ben treated Louise with all due kindness, the disagreeable undercurrent often made itself felt.

"I can teach a country school, I know," said the girl to herself, "and that will be better than this life."

But when she suggested it the old gentleman objected to her plan.

"Stay here, Louise," said he, "stay here. I should miss ye. I'll do well by ye. I'll do well by ye."

So Louise read the paper to "Grandfather," as all the family called him, and looked after his linen, and took her turn with Mrs. Ben and her daughter in doing the general housework, until there came a day when it was said from house to house, "old Mr. Hewitt is dead."

When Mr. Ben called on old Mr. Mendall to inquire if he had in his possession any papers relating to his father's estate, the lawyer explained that owing to a "difference" between Mr. Hewitt and himself, the former had for some years intrusted his business to one or another of the younger attorneys. A thorough search among Mr. Hewitt's papers brought to light almost every kind of a document except a will, and it seemed that a very comfortable property had been left for the heirs-at-law to divide amicably or to quarrel over, as they might see fit to do. Then it was that Louise became more than ever an eyesore to the Hewitts, male and female. Between their desire to secure all the property to themselves and their children on the one hand, and their respect for the "speech of people" on the other, they found the road to the settlement of the estate a hard one.

"Louise wants to teach," said Mrs. Ben to her husband one morning a few weeks after the old man's death. "I suppose if your father were alive he would not let her do it, but I don't see why she shouldn't. She's had a good bringing up, and that is all she ought to expect from folks that are no kin to her."

Mr. Ben puffed away at his pipe with a Grayace.

"I think she'd better keep right on her own," said he; "while we're in mourning for father, at any rate."

"You see," continued Mrs. Ben, "it costs something to educate three boys like ours. And there's Sadie. I'm sure she ought to have things now if she ever does. Look at Alfred's girls. And just see how George and Lizzie dress that saucy little Blanche!"

"We ought to give her something out of the estate, I really think," pursued Mr. Ben. "If everything hadn't been so sudden, most likely it would have been shared and shared alike, she with the rest of us."

Mrs. Ben sighed. "It isn't for us to question the ways of Providence," said she. "I think just as I said before, that when a girl without a cent on a relation in the known world gets as good a bringing up as she has had, she ought to be content."

"I'll talk with her myself," said Mr. Ben. "And I want things to go on just as usual the rest of this year. After that she can go or stay as she pleases."

When Louise heard herself unprovided for at the old man's death, she was somewhat surprised but not at all disheartened. "I wish I had been better taught," thought she—Mr. Hewitt's ideas on the subject of female education had been most conservative—"but there's work enough." And with the hopefulness of youth she longed to begin her struggle with the world.

She was a large, well-formed young woman with fine gray eyes and fair complexion, and a pleasant manner that made one forget to wonder whether she were pretty or not. She received Mr.

Ben's request that she should continue in the family as usual with a little surprise.

"If you and Mrs. Ben wish it—would really like to have me stay," said she, "I will plan to remain until spring," and so the matter rested.

Meanwhile, a physician had come to settle in the village. Leopold was in a very salubrious district, and there were several resident doctors already; but the new-comer, though seldom needed professionally, was a great success socially. The young ladies admired his good looks, and the old ladies were charmed by his agreeable manners. And then he was Mrs. Col. White's nephew, and that meant a great deal in Leopold. So young Dr. Loring was made much of, and in course of time he formed the acquaintance of the Hewitts.

By and by Mrs. Ben invited Mrs. White and her nephew to tea, on which occasion Miss Sadie, a pretty girl of eighteen, appeared to great advantage. This was very pleasing to Mrs. Ben, who, coming of a family of mechanics, felt a peculiar reverence for professional men. Sadie's gown was most becoming and her vivacity charming, and Mrs. Ben regarded her with the utmost complacency. As for Louise, she was present, but Mrs. Ben hardly thought of her.

One dismal March afternoon, Louise stood looking out at the dull sky and the snow-covered earth, thinking how long had seemed the time since Grandfather Hewitt died. Upstairs Sadie and one or two of her girl friends were chattering and laughing. Louise knew what it was about, for she had just left them. There was to be a musical party at Col. White's, and the girls were anticipating "just the loveliest time" possible.

Louise had thought a great deal about it herself, and so had Mrs. Ben. Sadie had a beautiful new dress made for the occasion. Louise remembered how pretty her pink cheeks and blue eyes looked when set off by blue silk and white laces, and thought how delightful it must be to have a mother always planning to have one's dresses becoming. Her own dress was good enough—I am getting envious," said she, and laughed a little to think how odd it would seem for Mrs. Ben to be studying her form and figure with a view to inventing a becoming costume for her.

Then she began to consider something of more practical importance. On the first day of May she was to enter upon her duties as a milliner's assistant in a neighboring town. It was the best opening that presented itself, and she was resolved to make herself independent of the Hewitts if possible. Of late Dr. Loring had called frequently, and had paid the young ladies many trifling attentions, of which Sadie generally appropriated the lion's share. Louise always felt herself in the way on these occasions. Mrs. Ben possessed the convenient faculty of making people feel extremely uncomfortable without allowing her hand to appear in the matter; so it often seemed to Louise as if she were at odds with all the world, when she had no tangible cause for it.

As she stood at the window thinking all this and very much more, a sleigh stopped at the door. The driver alighted and handed out a poorly old lady possessed of various satchels and parcels.

"It's Aunt Huldy," said Mrs. Ben in a tone of consternation as she hurried from the sitting-room.

"Well, how do you do, Abbie?" sounded in the entry in a moment later, as Mrs. Ben opened the door.

"Surprised to see me, ain't you? Lucindy said I ought to be, you know I was comin'; but I says to her, 'if I can't visit at my own nephew's without sendin' word and bein' made company of, I'll stay away.'—Miss; just set that little box on the seat inside here and parcels."

"And how do you do?" said Mrs. Ben. By this time she had reached the sitting-room, and Mrs. Ben was reporting the state of health of the family individually and collectively. Louise drew a low chair and a foot-rest to the fire for the old lady, and helped her to remove her wraps, while Mrs. Ben went out to hasten the preparations for tea.

Aunt Huldy's visits were unlike those of angels in that they were frequent and of long duration. Having no settled home she descended upon one or another of her numerous relations and connections, as the feeling of the moment might dictate. She was always ready to lead a kind in the housework, and was acknowledged to be "good company," being of a very sprightly turn, and she paid off herself on being "plain-spoken," and never spoiled a joke for relation's sake, her presence in a family was seldom long desired. Mrs. Ben had a wholesome dread of her approach, well knowing that no detail of her household management would be exempt from her scrutiny.

"La, sakes!" the old lady would say as she picked a half-eaten apple out of the willow pail; "seems to me you think too much of your pigs here. And poor Benjamin—a-buysing these apples, too! Brother Jim's wife used to manage just because she wanted to see the neighbors used to get up a pound party to help 'em through the winter."

And despite all objections the economical soul would wash, pare and eat the subject of her remarks to prevent its being wasted.

As Mrs. Ben left the room she was met by Sadie who asked:

"For pity's sake, mother, who has come now?"

"It's—it's Aunt Huldy," replied Mrs. Ben helplessly.

"Dear!" said Sadie pettishly, "if we had a few more relations who'd have one with us all the time. I shan't stay home with her to-morrow. So?"

"It is dreadful inconvenient," sighed Mrs. Ben. "If your father and the boys hadn't taken this week for their visit to your grandma, they would have been company for her. Mrs. White made me promise to come to meet her sister from Illinois. We used to be such friends when we were girls."

"Let Louise stay," was Sadie's suggestion. "She will, if you ask her."

"I hate to ask a favor of her," said Mrs. Ben, frowning. "And then your father has such queer notions."

"Well, you can't stay, and I won't stay, so I don't see but Louise has got to," and having summed up the matter thus Sadie waived away to greet her newly-arrived relative.

"Louise," said Mrs. Ben, sweetly, next morning after breakfast, "do you mind staying with Aunt Huldy this evening? I know it is a great deal to ask, but Mrs. White particularly wished me to be here, and then you have such a knack for pleasing old people."

In her surprise and disappointment, she felt the hot blood rushing into her cheeks, but she said quietly:

"Certainly, if you wish it I will stay."

"You are very kind," said Mrs. Ben. "Aunt Huldy is a good old soul. She will appreciate it in you, I know."

So the grand preparations went forward, and Louise was made useful in many ways, till Mrs. Ben, matronly in her heavy brown silk, a delicate head of blue silk, silver stars and white mull, had departed to state in the sleigh which Mr. Alfred had sent to convey them to the scene of the evening's festivities. It had been arranged that they should go in the afternoon, that Mrs. Ben might enjoy a quiet chat with her old friend before the other guests should arrive, so it was hardly sunset when Louise found herself alone with Aunt Huldy.

"Here are some late papers, Aunt," she said, drawing a small table to the fire, "and while you are reading them, I'll see what I can find good for supper."

She was moving briskly away, thinking what a delightful sense of freedom there was in Mrs. Ben was not, when the old lady who had been fumbling about in a satchel, broke out with—

"I declare if I ain't forgot my glasses! I can't read a word without 'em. Won't you look 'round, Louise, and see if there ain't a pair about the house. Brother Benjamin's now, would just about fit me."

"I will go and see. I think there are some in his room," said Louise.

So she ran lightly up the stairs to the room which Grandfather Hewitt had occupied, but which now was used as a guest chamber. It was a large, well-lighted room, furnished like a sitting-room, save for the bed, which stood in one corner, and the toilet conveniences. The most noteworthy article of furniture was a large writing desk of polished oak that stood near the door. Old Benjamin Hewitt had learned the cabinet-maker's trade in his youth, and long after the necessity for daily labor no longer existed, he continued his work from pure love of it, and in his leisure hours had made many a handsome piece of furniture for use in his own house.

This desk, with its multitude of drawers and closets, and its curious carvings, had been the darling of his heart. Louise remembered how she had played about the shop while he was making it, and how carefully he had finished each part, and how, in his leisure hours, he would point to it with such an air of pride, and say there was not money enough in the town to buy it. As she passed it now she laid her hand upon it with a gesture of affection, it seemed so nearly related to the kind old man she had loved.

On the opposite side of the room was an alcove lined with book-shelves, and having a window at the end; and beside the window hung the leather case which held the glasses that Grandfather Hewitt had used. As she turned from the window and looked toward the door, there came to her a strange consciousness of having stood in the same place long ago—ages ago, it seemed to her now—and what had she seen? And then it flashed upon her mind that she had come here to dust the room, and that, as she stood in the shadow of the book-shelves reading, when the old gentleman came in with a packet of papers in his hand. He stood at the desk a moment, and the papers disappeared; and now it occurred to her that he had neither raised the lid nor opened any of the numerous receptacles which he usually kept his papers. Taking the glasses, she approached the desk and passed her hand lightly over the lid and the sides. A host of possibilities suggested themselves to her mind, and she was about to make a more careful examination, when Aunt Huldy's shrill voice interrupted her.

"Well, now, Louise," it said, "if you mean to start up a spectacle factory and turn me out a pair 'o' glasses, why hadn't you told me so?"

"I beg your pardon, Aunt," she said, humbly opening the door, and she reached the stairs, at the foot of which Aunt Huldy was standing; "I am really sorry to have kept you waiting."

"Oh, I'm used to waiting," returned Aunt Huldy. "I declare I'm spryer now than ever I was. (She opened her eyes and winked.) I was spending the day at cousin John's and Ellen and the girls, three women folks of 'em, worked all the forenoon making a little stew for dinner and a pie; and we'd like not to have got a bit of anything till it was forever too late."

"All the rest of the evening, while Aunt Huldy told stories and joked, and bewailed the laziness and wastefulness of the present generation of housewives, as exemplified in the career of her nieces and nephews, Louise was weaving room and round about the desk till she was in a fever of excitement.

Late in the evening, came a pull at the bell, then a rush of frosty air, and Dr. Loring, tall, handsome and smiling, stood in the doorway.

"You disappointed us greatly, Miss Hewitt," he presently began, and he himself before the fire. "We counted on having you help with the charades. Since I was obliged to leave early, I thought I'd just look in to ask you, you treated my Aunt White so shabbily."

"I was me, I suppose," said Aunt Huldy, grinning. "Old folks are always in the way, somehow or other."

"Oh, no, no, indeed! I really didn't care—that is, I have enjoyed the evening, and I think Mrs. White will excuse me," as she blushed for her clumsy exaltation through anger at having blushed before.

"Lay not this flattering mention to thy soul," said the young man, with great gravity. "I think it will take the two of us to patch up a peace with the injured lady. I'll give you a week, my dear, in a day or two, I'll use my best endeavors in your behalf."

"Louise," said Aunt Huldy, after the doctor had withdrawn his cheery presence, "is that the young man that they say is the best in the village?"

"Why, really," returned Louise, confused, "I cannot tell you about that. I know very little about Sadie's affairs."

"I'm returned Aunt Huldy, with an expressive sniff, and requested to be shown to her room.

Her own chamber, her mind might be likened to a kaleidoscope, so many and various were the images formed in it; and they were all regular and pleasing. How, indeed, could it be otherwise when the brightness of youth and health, noble ambitions, and a delightful, half-consciousness of being beloved, were present in every combination.

So she fell asleep, and presently a strange thing happened. Again she stood in the shadow of the book-shelves, and looking up, saw Grandfather Hewitt at his desk, with the packet of papers in his hand. And now they mind in the sleeping body reproduced, what it had failed to show when all her senses were awake; for his hand plainly passed along the corner of the desk, and there it was that the papers disappeared. Louise awoke with a start.

"Well, I might have expected it," said she to herself; "my mind was full of that old desk when I fell asleep." But she could not reason away the excitement into which this dream had plunged her, and she amused herself with the wildest speculations until daybreak.

Breakfast was late that morning. Sadie failed to appear. Mrs. Ben was somewhat fractious, and Aunt Huldy seemed to catch the infection.

After Louise had glanced at the vacant place opposite her at the table, "I knew you were just making a whip for your own back, bringing that girl up to be such a baby, and I've told you so before now. I don't want to hurt your feelings, Abbie, but you can't never expect her to be nobody or nothin' unless you make her depend on herself somehow."

To this discourse Mrs. Ben wisely forbore to reply, and the meal proceeded in silence. Never did a morning seem so long, nor the routine of housework so slow and tedious as they seemed to Louise on this day. At last there came a few minutes when nothing seemed to be expected of her; so, leaving the room with a great assumption of carelessness, she hastily ran up stairs to "Grandfather's room," and having entered, softly closed the door.

With both hands she examined the nail-work, pressed this way and that upon it, but with no effect.

"What an idiot I was to expect anything different!" she thought, in the midst of her disappointment. Then she turned to the desk again. Her hand was steady, and she would try once more. Carefully she examined every nail-head, and presently a small panel slid down revealing a shallow aperture in which lay a long envelope. Louise took the paper, which was sealed and superscribed, "Benjamin Hewitt, Esq.," in bold characters, and replacing the panel, went to her own room.

What should she do with it? She felt like a thief while she held it. The quiet antagonism between herself and Mrs. Ben prevented her confiding her discovery to that lady. "It belongs to them all alike," she thought at last, "I will take it to Mr. Mendall."

As she went down stairs, dressed for the street, Mrs. Ben came into the hall. "There, Louise," said she, "I was just coming to see if you would do an errand for me. Would you mind going to Dr. Warren's and getting an ounce of his best snuff? Aunt Huldy forgot her snuff-box, and she is perfectly unbearable when she has to go without it."

Louise assented, placed the proffered coin in her purse, and went on her way. This was her visit to a lawyer's office, and after climbing the dirty stairs, she paused a moment to recover her breath, then entered, heartily wishing she were going away instead. The lawyer was alone and at leisure. He took the paper, made some inquiries as to how it came into her possession, and carefully considered it, then he immediately upon Mr. Ben's return.

"Now for the snuff," thought the young lady as she reached the street. As she entered the drugist's, Dr. Loring kept her up from the prescription he was having compounded to bid her good morning.

"An ounce of—? I beg your pardon," said the elderly man.

"Snuff—best snuff," she said, desperately.

"Oh! Ah! in one moment." And he bustled away to the scales.

"How is our aged friend this morning?" asked Dr. Loring, with a smile. "I shall call to-morrow, and hope to find you at home and at leisure."

All the way home Louise wondered what might be contained in that envelope, which had been so carefully concealed, reminding herself very frequently that it might not concern her in the least. Mr. Ben was not expected until the next day, so she took up her usual work, and was so light-hearted that Aunt Huldy looked over her shoulder with a knowing air, and remarked that some folks would go a walk to the apothecary's as good as a tonic.

It is hardly necessary to state that Louise wore her most becoming gown next day. When Dr. Loring arrived, he suggested that she should take advantage of the fine afternoon to make her excuses to his Aunt White. So they rode merrily away, leaving Mrs. Ben looking after them with a somewhat discontented air.

A likely-looking young couple they made, don't they?" queried Aunt Huldy. "Sadie will be sorry she was out," was Mrs. Ben's response. "Mrs. White has taken such a fancy to her."

"Oh! not for the world she would allow any girl to escape them," said Mrs. Ben. "Sadie will be sorry she was out," was Mrs. Ben's response. "Mrs. White has taken such a fancy to her."

"Oh! not for the world she would allow any girl to escape them," said Mrs. Ben. "Sadie will be sorry she was out," was Mrs. Ben's response. "Mrs. White has taken such a fancy to her."

Meanwhile Louise and her cavalier made the way short with laugh and jest and pleasant talk. The road stretched white and glistening toward them, though the April sky was blue above and promise of spring was in the air. And after the excuses were made and Mrs. White had graciously exacted a promise that Louise would often come to see her, and they were on their way home, the doctor fell to talking about himself and his prospects. Now, with such a fair, attentive listener, this was a most dangerous topic; and so it somehow came about that before they reached Mrs. Ben's door, he had invited her to become a life-partner in his joys and sorrows, profits and losses.

Louise drew down her veil and brushed away the tears that would be shed partly because she was so happy, and partly "to the memory of her loneliness," as she explained, with a tremulous smile.

Aunt Huldy sat at the window when the sleigh stopped. "That young man thinks a good deal of Louise now, you say," she said to Mrs. Ben; "and I do believe, unless appearances are more deceitful than common, that she's as good a girl as ever trod shoe-leather."

In all her life before, Louise had never felt the loneliness of her situation as she did when she sat down in the sleigh, and thought of the new joy that had come to her. There was not a person in the world who would feel more than a friendly interest in her prospects, not a friend who seemed to have any special claim to her confidence. Great joys and great sorrows are alike in this, that they bring home to the soul its full burden of isolation and unworthiness.

"The boys and Julia and Mendall are coming over this evening, Abbie," said Mr. Ben at the dinner-table next day. "There's some new business about father's estate. Mendall said he'd be waiting for me to get back before he appointed a meeting. Beats all how much red tape there is when you come to talk about property." And Mr. Ben applied himself to the large piece of pie before him as if his experience with "red tape" had not at all been of a nature to interfere with his appetite.

Louise could not help wondering what they would think if they knew by what means the "new business" had been brought to light. After tea, the elder members of the family solemnly retired to the parlour to await the arrival of the other persons interested; while Louise, Sadie and the three boys, just returned from a visit to their maternal grand parents, remained in the dining-room.

The ladies were in the midst of a most interesting conversation regarding the latest style of mourning dress, and the brothers were deep in the discussion of local politics when a loud ringing announced the arrival of Mr. Mendall. After a few general remarks, the old gentleman drew a long envelope from his pocket, asked if they were prepared to listen, and solemnly broke his seal.

Clearing his throat, he glanced over the document, and then remarked:

"If Miss Harris is at home, it would be well to have her present."

Accordingly Louise was summoned, and when she had taken her seat the lawyer said:

"If the late Mr. Hewitt had entrusted his whole business to any one attorney, the paper which brings me here to night would have been found and acted upon long ago. It is, as you see, a will, drawn up, signed and witnessed in due form. It was drawn by the young lawyer John Ray, who, you will remember, left here some two years ago to try his fortune in the West. Had he remained here, it would have been produced at the proper time. As it happened, however, its existence was unknown to me until three days ago."

Although this account of the finding of the will was not remarkably definite, no one made any inquiries concerning it. The fact that a will had been found, and that Louise Harris was presumably an interested person—else why had Mr. Mendall desired her presence?—had caused some serious apprehensions among the audience.

Presently, after another portentous clearing of his voice, the old lawyer read the full text of the will, in which, for we will not follow it at length, he (Benjamin Hewitt) did will and bequeath to the within-named heirs of his body all the property, real and personal, of which he should be possessed at the time of his decease, excepting only the enclosed banknotes, amounting to the sum of two thousand dollars. These he did will and bequeath to Louise Harris, in token of his affection and esteem for her.

"Miss Harris, I congratulate you on your improved prospects," said the lawyer, with a smile, as he folded the document.

"Well, I'm glad of it, for one, Louise," said Mr. Ben, heartily. "I've felt mighty mean about the whole business."

"And, of course, we rejoice with you, Louise," put in Mrs. Ben, softly, and with her most engaging smile.

"Well, Louise," was Aunt Huldy's comment. "I don't suppose you'll look a mite better to that young doctor of yours than you did before all this happened; but when a girl begins to think of getting married, she feels a good deal better if she's got a few dollars put by."

Then each of the others said something, and Louise tried to feel composed, and to answer them all properly, though as yet she could hardly realize her good fortune.

Then the gentlemen, with one accord, began to wonder why the old gentleman had kept that amount of money "idle," when he might have been "turning it over and over, and making more of it," as his custom was, but his reason therefor remains unexplained to this day.

Almost the first thing Louise did was to purchase of Mr. Ben the oak desk which had been so important a factor in the events of the last few days, and which she had determined must have a place in her new home.

When May opened she found herself obliged to resign the position as milliner's assistant—upon which she had not yet entered—in deference to the wishes of Dr. Loring, who had decided to go abroad for the summer, and who represented that if she refused to accompany him he should be obliged to take with him a private secretary and several other functionaries.

"So they were married!" and let us hope that fifty years hence it may be said that "they lived happy ever after."

—H. B. in Portland Transcript.

the document, and then remarked:

"If Miss Harris is at home, it would be well to have her present."

Accordingly Louise was summoned, and when she had taken her seat the lawyer said:

"If the late Mr. Hewitt had entrusted his whole business to any one attorney, the paper which brings me here to night would have been found and acted upon long ago. It is, as you see, a will, drawn up, signed and witnessed in due form. It was drawn by the young lawyer John Ray, who, you will remember, left here some two years ago to try his fortune in the West. Had he remained here, it would have been produced at the proper time. As it happened, however, its existence was unknown to me until three days ago."

Although this account of the finding of the will was not remarkably definite, no one made any inquiries concerning it. The fact that a will had been found, and that Louise Harris was presumably an interested person—else why had Mr. Mendall desired her presence?—had caused some serious apprehensions among the audience.

Presently, after another portentous clearing of his voice, the old lawyer read the full text of the will, in which, for we will not follow it at length, he (Benjamin Hewitt) did will and bequeath to the within-named heirs of his body all the property, real and personal, of which he should be possessed at the time of his decease, excepting only the enclosed banknotes, amounting to the sum of two thousand dollars. These he did will and bequeath to Louise Harris, in token of his affection and esteem for her.

"Miss Harris, I congratulate you on your improved prospects," said the lawyer, with a smile, as he folded the document.

"Well, I'm glad of it, for one, Louise," said Mr. Ben, heartily. "I've felt mighty mean about the whole business."

"And, of course, we rejoice with you, Louise," put in Mrs. Ben, softly, and with her most engaging smile.

"Well, Louise," was Aunt Huldy's comment. "I don't suppose you'll look a mite better to that young doctor of yours than you did before all this happened; but when a girl begins to think of getting married, she feels a good deal better if she's got a few dollars put by."

Then each of the others said something, and Louise tried to feel composed, and to answer them all properly, though as yet she could hardly realize her good fortune.

Then the gentlemen, with one accord, began to wonder why the old gentleman had kept that amount of money "idle," when he might have been "turning it over and over, and making more of it," as his custom was, but his reason therefor remains unexplained to this day.

Almost the first thing Louise did was to purchase of Mr. Ben the oak desk which had been so important a factor in the events of the last few days, and which she had determined must have a place in her new home.

When May opened she found herself obliged to resign the position as milliner's assistant—upon which she had not yet entered—in deference to the wishes of Dr. Loring, who had decided to go abroad for the summer, and who represented that if she refused to accompany him he should be obliged to take with him a private secretary and several other functionaries.

"So they were married!" and let us hope that fifty years hence it may be said that "they lived happy ever after."

—H. B. in Portland Transcript.

Putting One's Foot In It.

"I never opened my mouth but I put my foot in it," was the curious complaint of some unlucky wight, who might have received

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, is agent for the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Mr. Joseph C. Hartshorn and wife are at Bradford, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. James D. Greene are at the Crawford House.

—Mr. U. W. Sherman has started a livery stable on Lyman street.

—Hon. L. C. Wade and family are at Edgartown for a few days.

—Rev. Mr. Ferguson preached in the Baptist church last Sunday.

—President and Mrs. Hovey came home yesterday from their short trip.

—Mrs. Norah Woodman of Institute avenue has moved to Portland, Me.

—Services will be resumed in the Unitarian church next Sunday at 10.45.

—Mrs. Alden Spear and Miss Spear are at Chatham, N. Y., this week.

—Mr. Naham B. Onthank, the artist, has moved to Boston with his family.

—Mrs. Thurston and Miss Thurston have returned this week from their stay at the shore.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warren and Master Harry Warren are at Hyannis for a short time.

—Mr. Leon Conwell of Washington, D. C., is visiting his uncle, Mr. John Sanborn of Chase street.

—A Mr. Pope of Needham is building a house on Ridge avenue, next to Mr. Benjamin Hammond's.

—The Rev. Horace L. Wheeler has returned from his pleasant vacation among the White Mountains.

—Miss Mary Stevens, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jeremiah Kittredge, left for her home this week.

—Mrs. Alfred Langley of Newport is in town for a day or two. She came here to attend Miss Newell's wedding.

—Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes and wife have returned this week from Jackson, N. H., where they have been staying.

—The house of Delia Sullivan, corner of Beacon and Walnut streets, was raided the other night, but no liquor was found.

—Mr. Benjamin Hammond and family of Ridge avenue have returned from Chatham, Mass., where they have been spending a few weeks.

—Mr. Edward Hamblin of Crescent avenue, with his wife and son, are visiting Mr. Hamblin's father in the western part of the State.

—The house in which Mr. J. J. Peck lives, on Paul street, was sold at auction on Monday. It was bid in by Mr. Blanchard of Newtonville.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Melcher and Master Arthur Melcher have returned from the Iron Mountain House, Jackson, New Hampshire.

—Dr. Furber preached again at Wellesley Hills last Sunday. He has apparently quite recovered from the accident and his ill health of a year or more ago.

—Ward 6 will give Hon. Levi C. Wade a unanimous support at Saturday evening's caucus, and it is nearly certain that he will be the next congressman from the district.

—Mr. George F. Richardson and family have taken a cottage at Great Head for a few weeks. Mr. Richardson returning each day for a few hours to look after his business.

—Master Chas. Howard of Centre street, has returned from Great Chebeague Island in Portland Harbor, where he has been staying with his aunt, Mrs. Gould of this place.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alden Chester and daughter left on Monday for their home in Albany, N. Y. They have been spending a few weeks with Mr. Dwight Chester of Crescent street.

—Mrs. Candee and her two daughters from Bridgeport, Conn., are visiting Mr. S. F. Smith. Mr. Candee, who is lately deceased, was well known as the editor of the Bridgeport Standard.

—Miss Kitty and Miss Lucy Davis of Pelham street returned on Monday from Pigeon Cove and left to-day for Lancaster, N. H., where they will spend the month of September with friends.

—Miss Minnie Chester and Miss Grace Hovey returned on Tuesday from their visit to Mrs. Robert Van Kirk of Fall River. Mr. and Mrs. Van Kirk were formerly residents of this village.

—Mr. Wallace Leonard of Paul street has accepted a position as instructor in the Royal Institution for the Blind, London, and will sail for England in about a month, entering upon his duties the present term.

—The Kearsarge House base ball team, of which Harry Bates was captain, disbanded last Monday, after having beaten every team it faced. The North Conway people were very enthusiastic over the team and its captain.

—Mr. Henry Williams is to occupy the whole of the lower story of Coolidge's block. This will make a store three times as large as his present one, and will give him a chance to enlarge his stock, as he has long wished to do.

—In the Beverly yacht race last Saturday afternoon the yacht Ramona, owned by Mr. Melien N. Bray, took the second prize among the second-class yachts. The boat is thirty-four feet ten inches, and made the run in four hours, sixteen minutes and forty seconds.

—Miss Carrie Newell, daughter of Deacon Newell of Church street, was united in marriage, Thursday, with Rev. H. H. Ferguson. The wedding was at the bride's father's residence, the Rev. L. C. Barnes performing the ceremony. A few friends only were present. Rev. and Mrs. Ferguson leave soon for Burnham, where they are to be missionaries.

—The heaviest tax-payer in Ward 6 is Mr. Thomas Nickerson, who pays $2,250.56. The second is Mr. Nathaniel L. Francis, who pays $2,094.08. Mrs. M. F. Goddard pays $2,094.32; Mr. Alden Spear, $2,385.36; Mrs. Lucy E. Prescott, $2,080.24, and all others are under $2,000. The list of Ward 6 tax-payers will be published next week.

—In Monday's "Globe" was a long account of an interview with Mr. Elisha Bassett of this village, clerk of the U. S. District Court. In it Mr. Bassett gives some account of the great lawyers he has been so fortunate as to hear, having practised before his court Rufus Choate, Webster, Richard H. Dana, Jr., Kaintoul and others he has often heard.

—The news of the sudden death of Mrs. Geo. E. Barrows of Ridge avenue on Friday noon was a painful surprise to her friends and neighbors. On Saturday at 4 p.m. a service was held at her late residence; Prof. Stearns offered a prayer and made a few remarks. The rooms were filled with friends. On Monday Mr. Barrows left for Auburn, Me., his wife's home, where there will be a funeral service. Mr. Barrows has the sympathy of all in his deep affliction.

Quill—"Do you know, Penne, your style sometimes forcibly suggests Thackeray's to me?"

Penne—"Indeed! I am highly gratified."

Quill—"Yes; it's so totally different."

Time.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding have a daughter.

—Mrs. E. Moulton has returned from her visit to Enfield, Mass.

—The good wife of the rector has presented him with a daughter.

—E. R. Tarbell and wife returned this week from Goffstown, N. H.

—Miss Helen and Mary May have returned from Provincetown.

—Miss Sadie Thompson is spending a week among friends at Medway.

—Hon. J. F. C. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde are staying at The Moosilauke House, Me.

—Miss Dr. Bryant has with her during the summer, her sister and two nieces from Texas.

—Mr. F. W. Dorr and family, who have been at Wayland, Mass., for a few weeks are at home.

—Mrs. Walter Allen and two children of New Haven have been visiting at Mr. S. N. Woodward's.

—Rev. Mr. Phipps and wife have returned from Waterville, N. H., where they have spent their vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Whittemore and family have returned from their sojourn at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

—Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family of Waltham, who have been making a visit to her father, Capt. Chatfield, have returned home.

—Mr. G. W. Gleason and family have returned from their Washington visit, where they have been the guests of Mr. G. D. Eldridge.

—Mr. Hilton and family have returned from Martha's Vineyard, where they have been spending several weeks. Also Miss Gertrude Nelson who accompanied them.

—Mr. Chas. Ogden has commenced the erection of a house for his own occupancy on the lately purchased by him of Mr. Crane, on a new street running from Walnut to Dunelee.

—Mr. A. O. Sweet and family returned this week from Madison, N. H., where they have been for the summer. We are pleased to learn that his daughter, Mrs. Mosner, has improved in health during her absence.

—Home Lodge of Odd Fellows initiated one candidate at their meeting this week. This lodge has largely increased in its membership since its removal from Upper Falls to the Highlands about one year ago, and without doubt will greatly increase in membership the coming year.

—The work of building the cellar walls for the new block which has been rapidly pushed forward by Mr. T. D. Sullivan, the contractor, are so nearly completed, that the old block has been removed westward to its new position, and the erection of the new brick block will soon be commenced.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Mr. James Wood is about to remove to Lowell.

—Mr. C. H. Hale has been in the place during the week.

—Mr. James Morton has moved to his new house at Elliot.

—Mr. J. A. Gould, Jr., has returned from his visit to Chester, N. H.

—Mrs. C. W. Randall is home again after her visit at Chester, N. H.

—Mr. Joseph Jones and family are enjoying themselves at Revere Beach.

—Mrs. L. Sabin of Pennsylvania has been spending a few days at Mr. J. A. Gould's.

—Mr. Horace Bacon is moving his barn and otherwise improving his place on Boylston street.

—Mr. Albert Temperley has broken ground for a new house to be located on Chestnut street.

—Miss L. T. Wilder, formerly a teacher in the Prospect school, is visiting at Mr. Frank Manning's.

—Mr. Thompson and wife have been the guest of Judge Forsyth of Sumner, N. H., during the past week.

—Many from our village visited Revere Beach on Tuesday to witness the grand illumination along the shore.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Billings have been enjoying the hospitality of friends at Beverly Farms during the week.

—The Newtons defeated the Riversides of Hyde Park at a game of ball to be played day last at Newton Highlands by a score of 13 to 11.

—The Newtons are to play a game of ball on Labor Day with the Riversides of Hyde Park, at Redville, for a purse of $50. May the best club win.

—There was a large and beautiful specimen of night-blooming cereus at the residence of Mr. W. L. Cargill on Monday evening, which was greatly admired by a number of friends and neighbors.

—Rev. Mr. Whitman, who tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church a short time ago, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last. He is to remove to New England Village, having accepted an offer to preach in that locality.

—Phipps & Train, spinners of spun silk yarns, report a brisk demand for their specialties, consisting of silk warps for dress and upholstery goods, flannels and plushes, fast-dyed silks for hosiery and woolen manufacturers, noils and noil yarns.

—Special revival services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday and will continue through the week. Seats are free and all will be welcomed. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Peterson, will be assisted by Miss Mary C. Woodbury, the lady evangelist from Worcester.

—On Saturday of last week there was quite a serious accident in the place. As Mr. John Proctor was driving a horse belonging to Wm. Dyson, a part of the harness broke, which allowed the load to strike against the horse's heels. He became frightened and ran, at the same time violently kicking to free himself from the wagon. A little son of Mr. Threlfall was in the wagon and received a violent kick from the unmanageable animal, resulting in a broken leg. He was taken to his home on Elliot street, and is now doing as well as could be expected. Mr. Proctor was severely injured, but no bones broken, and he has been confined to his home ever since. It is hoped that his injuries will not be as serious as were at first feared, and that he will soon be able to attend to his duties in the market where he is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Threlfall have the sympathy of the whole village in their distress, and the wish is expressed that their little boy may speedily recover.

—The social event of the week has been the marriage of Miss Lizzie W. Everett and Mr. George H. Hicks of Allston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Peterson, at the residence of the bride's parents on High street, only the immediate relatives of the happy couple being present. They were married at 8.30 o'clock on Monday and went at once to Boston for the night, and on Tuesday morning resumed their wedding journey. They are to be gone about a week when they will return to their home at Allston, where they are to permanently reside. Miss Everett has been one of us for so long a time that it seems like parting with a member of our own family to have her go from us. She has always taken a lively interest in the various enterprises of the village and will be missed when those occasions are repeated. For the last ten years she has been a teacher in our public school and enjoyed her work. It is needless to say that we sever these long cemented associations with regret, and yet are happy in the thought that she will enjoy the new relation which she has assumed. It is also needless and yet appropriate to say that we wish her many happy years of wedded life.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. Frank Eaton is here on a visit from Philadelphia.

—Mr. George Shattuck is spending his vacation at the Cape.

—Levi Wales and family are enjoying their vacation at Old Orchard Beach.

—Mr. James Clatworthy of Washington is spending his vacation with his parents.

—L. E. Leland and family have returned from a vacation which they have been enjoying in New York.

—The new pipe organ which is being put into St. John's Catholic Church this week, is said to be one of the finest in Newton.

—A decided improvement has already taken place on our streets since Councilman Moody has been placed on the highway committee.

—Rev. Mr. Wells took part in the services attending the laying of the corner stone of the new St. James church, Cambridge, Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Goodsoe and two of their sons have returned from a six weeks' visit to New Brunswick. Miss Goodsoe is visiting in New Hampshire.

The Councilorship.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC.

The mention of Hon. Robert O. Fuller of Cambridge for the Councilorship is one that is heartily endorsed by the citizens of Newton. Mr. McPherson of East Boston has held the office for two years, which is as long as the majority of councilors have held the office, and his claim to another year will hardly be recognized outside of East Boston. There are sixteen other cities and towns in the district which should be considered.

The city of Cambridge very properly claims the right to name the next councilor, and as its citizens appear to be unanimous in presenting the name of R. O. Fuller there seems to be little if any doubt of his nomination. Mr. Fuller is well known throughout the State, especially among Baptists, having been a liberal contributor for years to missions and other church work. He is the head of the well-known house of Fuller, Dana & Fitz, iron merchants, Boston. He has served the city in both branches of the Legislature and is in every way qualified for the office of councilor. F. V. W.

Miss Haggood's Treatment.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC.

"Something is rotten in the state of Denmark." If the school committee persist in doing in the future as they have done in the past, the time will soon come when it will be hard work to obtain teachers for our schools in Newton, who have any regard for themselves.

Is the school committee or the superintendent and one of the board running that part of our city government? If one of our pastors were to send a letter to the officers of the church with which he was connected and it received the same treatment that Miss Haggood's letter did at the hands of that august body, the school committee, how would he appreciate his position? Is the school committee ready to say that they would be delighted to have their sister or daughter receive treatment like that they have given to Miss Haggood? COURTESY.

A Great Painting.

The Battle of Gettysburg is a subject that interests everybody, a fact proven by the continued and full attendance on the platform at the cyclorama building, 541 Tremont street, Boston. Every figure on the canvas is full of life and action, and fire seems to flash from the eyes of the artillery horses as they madly rush into the hottest of the fight to release the disabled cannon at the front. Few realize that this year closes this great epoch in our history, but it is a new subject equal in every respect to the present one will take its place at the close of the season. Those who fail to improve this last opportunity to see the greatest of all American battles will have something to regret all their lives; but they will all see it if possible.

ALL FOR AMES.

ESPECIALLY IN ESSEX COUNTY.

It is said that Ames cannot carry the party vote for Governor; and that Draper can. That's bosh. How many votes would Draper get in Essex Co.? We believe that if he should be nominated—which is not likely—Essex Co., which gave Ames a large portion of his majority, would stand a fair show of going Democratic. Gen. Draper is a divisionist. His head bugler is the man who was counsel for the Beverly Farms people, and whose connection therewith has not enhanced his reputation hereabouts. Essex county is not ready to vote for such a man.—[Peabody Press.

A CHANGE NOT WANTED.

The Republican party of Massachusetts cannot do a wiser thing than to nominate our present excellent governor for re-election at the coming convention. Other men there are of his party who are able and capable, but a change at present is not desirable, not called for nor needed, and we hope it will not be attempted.

[Haverhill Bulletin.]

HAS COMMON SENSE.

Gov. Ames is a wealthy man but it is well known that he has worked his way up from the forge where he was one among many grimy workmen. He has always been approachable and democratic in his habits and possessed of good common sense.—[Framingham Tribune.

MADE FEW MISTAKES.

Gov. Ames has made a few mistakes as chief executive as any of his predecessors, his appointments have evinced his discretion and keen judgment of men and measures, and when he has been called upon to address public assemblies his clear-cut sentences and business way of putting things has been fully as effective and pleasing as the more rhetorical efforts of his immediate predecessors, to whom public speaking seems to be a special gift. Nothing that Gov. Ames or his associate has done or failed to do furnishes a shadow of reason why the customary third term should be denied.—[Abington Advocate.

I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds. I have found nothing that can compare with Ely's Cream Balm. I would not be without it for any consideration. It is simply wonderful in its effect upon the nasal organs.—S. A. Burt, Wilmington, N. C.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

Sidney P. Clark,

—AGENT—
STATION STREET, - NEWTON CENTRE.

REAL ESTATE to sell and to rent. Farms Houses and Land in all parts of New England. Rents collected and Mortgages negotiated.

BOSTON OFFICE, 178 WASHINGTON ST.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS & IMPORTERS,

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

We have obtained the services of MR. J. W. KNOWLES, of Newtonville, a Cutter of high standing.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

Riverside School

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

A family school of excellent advantages for a limited number of girls, instruction in German and French by native teachers. Principal's certificate admits to Wellesley College. Board and tuition, $400. Tuition without board, $100. Seventh year begins Oct. 4, 1888.

Miss Delia T. Smith,

Principal.

Vacation Class.

PAINTING & DRAWING

MISS IDA COLLINS

is ready to receive pupils for the summer.

Class commences July 16th.

Studio, Beacon Street, Waban.

Visitors Welcome.

P. O. Address, Newton Highlands.

MR. CUTLER'S

Preparatory School for Boys.

Second Year, 1888-89.

For terms and other information apply to or address Mr. E. H. CUTLER, Washington street, Newton.

The next term begins Wednesday, Sept. 12

Misses ALLEN

Vernon Street.

Will open their

Boarding & Day School

For girls and young ladies, Sept. 25th.

The common and higher English branches thoroughly taught. Special advantages in the study of Language, Literature, Music, Drawing and Painting. Students specially prepared for a collegiate course.

Circulars with full information sent on application.

WEST NEWTON

English and Classical School.

Thirty-sixth year begins Wednesday, September 19th, 1888. A Family and Day School for both sexes. Prepares for College, Scientific Schools, Business, and for an intelligent and honorable manhood and womanhood.

Send for catalogues to

Nathaniel T. Allen,

West Newton.

Refers to any parent or guardian whose children have been in the school.

CHAS. A. FARLEY,

Piano & Organ Tuner.

The Ivers & Pond pianos for sale or exchange at the lowest prices on easy terms of payment.

Address P. O. Lock Box 22, Newton.

Residence, Washington St. 2d from Hovey.

Subscribe for the Graphic.

Pearmain AND Brooks,

Stock and Bond Brokers,

(Members Boston Stock Exchange.)

51 State St., Boston, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly executed. Correspondence solicited. Good bonds and mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.

SUMNER B. PEARMAIN, L. LORING BROOKS.

No Other Line Does It!

SARATOGA.

FOUR EXPRESS TRAINS

Daily (Sundays excepted,) via

Hoosac Tunnel Route,

From Boston to Saratoga.

25 Miles Shorter than Any Other Line.

Through the

Lovely Deerfield Valley,

And around the Shores of

LAKE SARATOGA.

DAY EXPRESS. Elegant Parlor Cars attached. Leaves Boston 8.30 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 3.15 p. m. Stops at North Adams for Lunch.

Fast Limited Express.

Palace Parlor Cars, Passenger Coaches, Smoking and Baggage Cars, Through without change. Leaves Boston 10.45 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 5.35 p. m. Stops at Athol for dinner.

EXPRESS. Palace Parlor Car attached. Leaves Boston 11.35 a. m.; arrives at Saratoga 7.25 p. m.

NIGHT EXPRESS. Sleeping car to Troy. Leaves Boston 11.00 p. m.; arrives at Saratoga 9.50 a. m. Breakfast Troy or Saratoga.

For Tickets, Parlor and Sleeping Car accommodations, apply at the Company's Office, 250 Washington street, or Ticket Office.

Fitchburg Railroad

Passenger Station, Causeway street, Boston.

J. R. WATSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

Private School.

Miss L. M. FRIEND and Miss E.